CONNECTICUT mourns because the cabinet is incomplete without her Jewell.

SAM CARY is leading revival meetings in the south. Sam has become practically unfitted for democratic stump oratory.

SECRETARY SHERMAN'S record as a debt reducer, exhibited a balance in his favor of a little over $200,000,000.

HARPERS' Weekly publishes a biography and portrait of Senator Van Wyck. The biography is nearer the truth than the portrait.

THE Chicago Tribune hits the nail on the head when it speaks of Secretary Blaine as "an Eastern man with a Western temperament."

MR. ALBERT FINK thinks the people are exhibiting a dangerous temper towards the rrilroads. Mr. Fink will find that there is a point where forbearance ceases to be be a virtue.

"GATH" has formed a favorable opinion of Jay Gould. "Gath" only needs Eli Perkins endorsement to confirm the public in its opinion that Jay is the impersonation of all evil.

GAGE COUNTY will rejoice that the bill for the sale of the remainder of the Otoe reservation has passed both houses of congress. The land will be offered for sale at the Beatrice land office.

SECRETARY of the Treasury Windom is one of the strongest advocates of the anti-monopoly movement in the country. Seven years ago, when United States senator, his voice rang out clearly on this subject in congress.

POSTMASTER GENERAL JAMES should at once devote his attention to the western mail service. There are a number of totally inefficient postoffices in the larger cities which need a thorough overhauling.

AVON, Ill., has passed an ordinance prohibiting profanity under a penalty of three dollars. Since a school board election, in which there were nineteen unsuccessful candidates, the town is Avon a hard time to enforce the provisions of the law.

THE railroads are boasting that the farmers will be sick of railroad regulation if the provisions of the new railroad bill are strictly enforced. And the farmers will make the railroads even sicker if the provisions against rebates and discriminations are put into active operation. When it comes to a conflict between a corporation and an indignant people, there is no doubt as to which will be forced to the wall.

THE United States doubles its population on an average every twenty-five years. During the last ten years we increased from 36,000,000 to 50,000,000, an average increase of 1,500,000 a year. It is not unreasonable to estimate that in 1890 we will have a population of 70,000,000, and between 90,000,000 and 100,000,000 at the close of the century.

A CORRESPONDENT in the Republican, signing himself "Common Sense" and who from his lack of that article must be either Alphabet Allen or Jim Kyner, expresses the opinion that the anti-monopolists have been "experimenting with the farmers" in attempting to secure the passage of laws regulating freight and passenger tariff on the railroads. This is uncommon nonsense and the writer ought to get a clerkship in the U. P. immediately on the strength of such a production.

THE theory that the spoils of a political victory belong to the victor is carried to a greater extreme in Spain than in our own country. Each new minister makes a clean sweep from top to bottom. The new administration, which has just come in, starts out by over 200 changes about the palace, and the entire administrative staff of the kingdom, from the governors of provinces, 43 in number, down, is to be removed and replaced by the friends of the new ministry. The judges, 2500 in number, go with the rest. Spain is evidently the country for running "the machine."

THE west is nothing if not ambitious and the rapid growth of her industrial enterprises shows that her people in the near future may rival the Atlantic seaboard as consumer of material. THE NEW CABINET.

President Garfield's cabinet has been received with as much general satisfaction as his inaugural address. On the whole it consists of an able, intelligent and experienced body of men, whose knowledge of national affairs and whose previous service in positions of honor and trust are sufficient guarantee of their qualifications for the offices which they have been called upon to occupy.

In selecting Senator Blaine for the highly important position of secretary of state, President Garfield is only following the example of Abraham Lincoln in calling to the head of his administration the most popular and efficient statesman of the republican party. No selection could have given equal satisfaction to the public who have long recognized in the new secretary a man of remarkable executive ability, bold and pronounced views upon questions of national and foreign policy and uncompromising energy in carrying those views into active effect. On many accounts Mr. Blaine is peculiarly fitted for the position. With the troublesome question of the fisheries he has long been familiar, and for years past he has taken an active part in every debate in the house, where the foreign relations of the country were under discussion.

In Senator Windom, of Mennesota, the country will find a secretary of the treasury peculiarly fitted to succeed Senator Sherman and carry into effect the uncompleted plans of his predecessor. Senator Windom has had a large experience in dealing with financial questions and is generally regarded by his former colleagues in the senate as a man of sound sense, enlarged views and unswerving integrity.

Thomas L. James is known throughout the country as the efficient postmaster of New York city where he has long been favorite with the merchants for his remarkable knowledge of the needs of the community and his admirable executive ability in administering the business of the largest postoffice in the United States. Many of the reforms inaugurated during the past eight years in our postal service had their origin in the brain of Postmaster-General James, and President Garfield has done the nation good service in calling to the cabinet a man in every way so eminently fitted for the position.

In Senator Kirkwood, of Iowa, the Interior department will secure a chief who by reason of his western residence and senatorial experience, will make a worthy successor to Carl Schurz. Robert Lincoln, of Illinois, who will fill the office of Secretary of War, is perhaps the least known of any of his colleagues. His appointment gratifies the sentimental part of General Garfield's nature by connecting his administration with that of the first Republican President. It satisfies the claims of Illinois, and at the same time gives the country a public official of scrupulous integrity and more than ordinary ability. Wayne McVeagh, of Pennsylvania, is to-day the ablest attorney in his state, and is in every way fitted for the attorney generalship. Judge Hunt will bring to the navy portfolio the fruits of his experience in the court of claims of which he has for some time been an honored and efficient member.

Taken as a whole, General Garfield's cabinet is a strong one. It is well balanced, composed of men of experience, of recognized ability and whose past records entitle them to public confidence. In it all factions of the republican party are represented by men who will rise above factionalism for the benefit of a common country.

BOONE county farmers in expelling George W. Brown from their political ranks have set a exam[illegible] to other sections of the state which is worthy of all commendation. Every representative who sold out his constituents, violated his solemn pledges and played the role of capper and tool to the railroad lobby should be branded too deeply to ever again disgrace Nebraska politics.

Edgar Review: Mr. Kyner, of Omaha says that the net earnings of the U. P. railroad last year was only $5,000,000,000 which was barely 5 per cent on the stock owned by the company. We would like to ask Mr. Kyner if the U. P. company actually has $100,000,000 invested in the U. P. railroad? If the road cost them $100,000 per mile, or if it is worth that now, why grumble at paying taxes on a paltry $10,000 per mile? Is it not a fact that both the B. & M., main line, and the U. P. railroads through the state of Nebraska owe their existence to the general government. In Clay county we have some 24 miles of the B & M; to assist in building this and to idemnify the company for actual losses in operating said road for the first few years, the general government gave the company, of choice lands in this county alone, about 102,000 acres, which at the very low valuation of $3 per acre, would give $306,000 or nearly $13,000 per mile, and yet no account is made of this when computing the percent or profits on the business of the road, for the past 7 years. The U. P. Co., received more than doubly the amount of solid comfort in the way of land donations from the government, than did the B. & M.

NEXT TIME.

Plattsmouth Enterprise: As The Enterprise has predicted, no railroad legislation of note was transacted by the legislature. One of the principal reasons no doubt being that the members were not backed, and not fully cognizant of the feelings of the people on the subject. This important question gone for this session can be brought up at the next, and carried, if the sentiment of the people is properly shaped and exerted.

—Miss Cora Bly, aged 13, died suddenly last week at her parents home in York. She turned blind and expired in a fit. It was known that one Dr. King, of that place, had been cohabiting with the child several months, to the knowledge of her parents. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from cerebral hemorrhage. The stomach was retained for examination, in the supposition that the doctor drugged the poor girl to prevent exposure.

Farmers' Alliance at Work.

Pursuant to a call, the farmers of Chicago precinct, Douglas county, met at the Iron Bluffs school house, on the 26th ult., and organized a Farmers Alliance, by electing the following officers for one year:

President—Loviet Worein.

Vice President—Wm. Hopper.

Secretary—Albert Donahoe.

Treasurer—Wm. Connelly

After a lengthy discussion on the good of the order, Alliance No. 112 passed the following preamble and resolution unanimously:

WHEREAS, The management of the railroad system in this state is in such a deplorable condition of iniquity and injustice, as a whole the charges are so exhorbitant as to almost amount to confiscation of our property and earning. The practice of unjust discriminations against persons and places are to such an extent as to insure bankruptcy and reduce to poverty localities and individuals who are its victims, while it raises to active prosperity and wealth persons and places who are its pets. These wrongs are practiced to such an extent as to render insecure and uncertain all business transactions that are nearly or related to these corporations carriers in the sudden and charges in freight and without sufficient notice for whom these

The new directory of Des Moines shows an increase of 1200 families since the last was issued, about a year ago.

The Osceola creamery is making an average of 3000 pounds of butter per week this winter, notwithstanding the severe weather.

A new railroad company is being organized at Charlton to build the Wabash on west or northwest as soon as it is completed there.

Some thieves recently stole pulpit chairs from the Methodist Episcopal church in Fulton and sold them to a second-hand dealer in Clinton.

Des Moines is agitated over the question of paving her streets. Many plans have been suggested, but as yet no decision has been reached.

The Opera house boom at Burlington has reached its fruition, and the erection of a suitable building is assured, $40,000 having been subscribed for the purpose.

A movement is on foot at Muscatine to erect a new opera house, with a fair show of success. The A. O. U. W. have the project in hand, but the subscription books will be thrown open to the public.

During the recent blockade, fuel was so scarce in some parts of the state that large quantities of corn were consumed and in some places fences, telegraph poles and railroad ties were used.

The loss of live stock in the northern part of the state has been quite heavy this winter, although no more so than could have been expected considering the extreme severity of the weather.

A man was found dead in the timber lying east of Earlham, Madison county, recently. He had been chopping a tree when a large limb fell and crushed the back part of his head, apparently killing him instantly.

A den of thieves has recently been discovered at Dubuque. The gang, consisting mostly of boys, were managed by an old criminal who took charge of the stolen goods. Considerable property was recovered and the thieves are being put through to the extent of the law.

The creameries of Monticello, Jones county, Iowa, shipped from that station last year, 1,082,450 pounds of butter, for which they realized $300,000. From the same station were shipped 4,046,008 pounds of hogs, for which they realized $175,000.

The butchers of Dubuque are strongly opposed to paying a special tax, and three were arrested the other day for conducting their business without special licenses. They protest against the ordinance as an imposition, claiming that they are the victims of an unjust discrimination.

Keokuk, according to The Gate City, contains many business women. One is in the insurance business; another in the real estate and loan business; a widow, who is at the head of a large grocery establishment; another who manages an extensive clothing and furnishing house; to say nothing of the independent women of business in millinery, dress-making and other lines.

Never experiment too much; but use the right means and thus secure the best results. Mr. F. Luchterhand, 145 O street, Boston, Foreman of P. Lally & Co.'s Machine Works, S. Boston, did in this wise, and writes: I had severe pains in my shoulder but after using St. Jacobs Oil, I was quickly cured and am now entirely well.
