There was comparatively a short session of the cabinet yesterday. The question of an extra session was talked over, without reaching final action.

Secretary Blaine received a cable dispatch from Minister Noyes yesterday stating that the French government had agreed that all pork loaded upon ships before the passage of the French decree concerning pork im-ported from the United States, should be admitted into France subject to in-apection, and with as little delay as such examination permits.

GIGANTIC LAND SWINDLE. Officials of the general land office o operations recently unearthed at St.
Louis the greatest ever perpetrated on the government. Its inception dates back to 1854. Many of the men who organized the swindle are now living. It is believed at the land office that government officials must have been n collusion with the swindlers. In vestigation that led to the exposure of he gigantic swindles was instituted by Secretary Schurz over a year ago, who assigned Special Agent Terrill to the work. The story of their adventures sounds like a romance. Ramifications of the awindles extend to Pittsburg, Cleveland and other cities. A number of persons have already been arrested in these cities, and oth-ers will be. The awindlers obtained fraudulent letters to more than a million acres, a portion of which they sold to innocent settlers. The question to be referred to the attorney general is whether civil suits can be lands. It is safe to say that whatever i done will be as easy for the settlers at the government can possibly make it. Congress could confirm all titles, and will probably be appealed to.
