A Heroic Tailor Attempts to Rescue an Ice-Lodged Crew of a Chicago Yag.

Venor's Snow Storm of Saturday Proves the Worst of the Season.

Chicago Socialists Denounce Blaine for His Message of Sympathy for Russia.

A Brave Sailor's Exploit.

Chicago, March 21.—A m.—Great apprehension was felt here Sunday night by the crew of the "Green," and her crew of six men. She attempted to reach the crib, two miles out in the lake, Saturday noon. Toward night she was overtaken by Capt. McKee, keeper of the crib, stuck fast in a solid field of ice, drifting with its southward. It was feared she would be cut to pieces, and her sister tug, the "Mother," started to her relief, but could not get out of the harbor for the ice. She made a second effort at 8 o'clock Sunday morning, against a head wind, and this last attempt the "Mother," after several hours battling with the ice, reached a point off Trinity-street street, from which she endeavored to carry her way. The "Mother" could go no further. One of her crew, known as "Dutch Fritz," volunteered to carry supplies to the "Green," as it was feared she had none, and would be stuck in the ice several days. Fritz took two baskets of provisions, a small boat, and started dragging it over the fields of ice and paddling through the open spaces of water. He made about half a mile an hour. About 5 o'clock a blinding snow squall came on and continued until dark, both the tug and the "Green" being lost to the sight of those on the "Mother," which has not since been heard of. It is thought that the tug and the "Green" are still on board last.

Chicago Socialists Denounce Blaine.

Chicago, March 21.—A m.—The socialists of Chicago met Sunday afternoon and adopted the following resolutions: Resolved, That the socialists of Chicago, American citizens, earnestly protest against the action of James G. Blaine, secretary of state, in constituting a committee to investigate the American people, and also in their name, in an official dispatch to the chiefs of inhuman tyrannies who surround the Russian throne, expressed regrets and condolence for execution of the czar; and

Chicago, March 21.—A m.—The socialists of Chicago met Sunday afternoon and adopted the following resolutions: Resolved, That notwithstanding the fact that the orthodox members of the American people believe in free speech, free press, and the inherent rights of the people, so they set forth in the Declaration of Independence, we respectfully suggest to J. V. Blaine that it would be in perfect accord with his recent dispatch of condolence for the execution of the czar, if he would, in the name of the American people, official messages of approval, and pledges of active support to every brutal tyrant in the civilized world, and to every tyrant who attempts to oppress and crush out every principle and sentiment that makes such a declaration of independence possible to any nation; and

Chicago, March 21.—A m.—The socialists of Chicago met Sunday afternoon and adopted the following resolutions: Resolved, That we condemn the repeated expressions, official and otherwise, of the friendship of the American people for the execution of the czar, and the support of the American people for the execution of the czar, and the support of the American people for the execution of the czar; and
