And suddenly dropped into what seemed like whole Where wonder of wonders they found a new land, or alle fairy-like bolines appeared on each hand, here were mountains like ours, with more

While flowers of exquisite fragrance were ground.

ing around.

Not long were they left to wonder in doub.

A being soon came they had heard much about,
Twas Seata Claus' solf and this they all say,
Is leoked like the pictures' esseevery day.

He draws up a team that looked very queen.

Twas a team of grashoppers instead of reindeer He rode in a shell instead of a sleigh, But he took them on towed and grove them away.

He showed them all over his won arful realm,
And factories making goeds for women and men
Furriess were working on hats great and small.
To Bunce's they said they were sending them all.
Kris Hingle, the Glove Saker, told them at once,
All our Glove, we are sending to Bunce,
Santa showed them suspenders and many things more.

Saying I also took these to friend Bunce's store.
Santa Chans then whispered a secret he'd tell,
As in Omaha every one knew Bunce well,
Be therefore should send his goods to his care.
Knewing his friends will get their fall share.
Now committer ye dwellers in Omaha town,
All who want presents to Bunce's go round,
For abirta, collars, or gloves great and small,
Send your slater or annt one and all.

Las Vegas Optic. Raton City is certainly a hard place for doctors. Somehow or other their constitutions are too frail for the climate, and they wither like the gerapium and leave an edor behind. t was not more than four months ago that Dr. C leman, of Newton, Ks. or theresbouts, started west and brought up at Raton City, where he opered a drug shop. The bad blood of the citizens had not cooled off after hanging the bad Washington before the new doctor put in an appearance, and they were juclined to look upon him with suspicion. They watched that new physician as a cat watches a mouse, and when they caught him in a flagrant proximity to a certain carpenter's wife the spirit of the wind ecame much troubled, and the hear's of the good people of the burg stood still while they waited for the bolt they knew would break out overhead. An indignation meetwas held, resulting in its daty, and so completely carried D. 1881. out the designs of the citizens that m.29 6t Coleman asked for twonty-tour t urs only in which to leave town. They were willing to grant six hours, but no more. When the train arrived from the cast Coleman was at the depot and boarded the care like a little man. To a fellow-passenger on the way down Coleman stated that Raton didn't bid fare to become much of a place, and he had thought it expedient to go into the lower country and start in anew. He cleverly incealed the main prompter upon which he was acting, and showed a disposition to give no light as to where he would locate. Raton City stands in need of a physician, one who can behave himself, and who has such a clearness of conscience that the thought of hemp ropes will not hamp-er his desire to carry on a legitimate

"It am de belief of a man who has put in sixty-two y'ars of life on dis planet dat it am wass to be too good dan it am to be too wicced. De law will seen get hold of de too wicked, but de too good can't be cotched. My sort of a goed man am one who respects de church, but am not car'd away wid it, who will give dollars to his poor nayburs, but not a cent to the heathen, who neber sees de need of reform widout reformin' his own habits to begin wid, who borrows money in a business way an' lends money on de same plan, who speaks well of religion, but who hates de hypocrits. Giu me a man who pays his debts, speaks de truf' in his dealins', lets whicky alone, uses his family right an' takes de side of de old an' poo' an' da young an' weak, in de battle of life, an' I dean keer what his religious faith am, or whether he has any at all.
