HANDS UP.

Hassall's Horde of Hoodlums Marching on the City Treasury Several Thousand Strong.

The city campaign is at its close. The greatest activity prevails in the lower wards of the city, among the hoodlums, roustabouts and bummers, who are all solid for Hassall, as the man to whom they look for a grand dividend of spoils. Hassall was down at Turner Hall Sunday night, shaking hands all round, and his henchmen are everywhere laboring with a zeal to bring over men who are engaged in jobs and expect to reap a rich harvest from city improvements during the coming year.

Grading contracts are promised on all hands. The keepers of the low doggeries are optimistic for Hassall, because he makes such great promises, and because B. W. has in his opinion, not been willing to commit himself sufficiently to their view of the liquor question. Smythe is working very hard for Hassall. Two thousand dollars a year for city attorney is a very nice sugar plum. It is currently reported that one of the Norton boys is to be marshal and they are working for Hassall. Mike Mansey is to be chief of the sewer district, with Gen. O'Brien as his principal backer. Frank Walters will have the boarding of city prisoners, but this has also been promised to several other boarding house keepers in the neighborhood of the court house. The call published yesterday in this paper by the international and communist committees is said to be another move in the interest of Hassall, who now represents himself as the principal champion of the laboring men. It is safe to say that such a move will be left unturned anywhere by the hoodlum brigade.

As an auxiliary the old Holly crew are quietly working for Hassall and against Boyd, and they expect to turn a good many democrats. The Holly folks had been singing quite low for the past few months, but now in every nook and corner of the city they are popping up and manifesting a good deal of interest again. Hassall would be a splendid card to play against the present water company, to compel them to buy up the old pipe and to settle the suits now pending in the courts, in which it is claimed that the Holly folks had spent $30,000 in Omaha last year. Of course to make the company itself not complete their work by the 1st of July, which is very probable on account of the severe winter and the heavy rise in the price of pipe. It is possible that the old Holly crowd, could give the company quite a black eye unless they came down and settled the demands of these water sharks.

The Campaign. There is a general misunderstanding about the election of councilmen-at-large and members of the school board. The Republican party insists in printing the candidates for these offices by wards, where a water boundary is not taken into consideration. In the selection every voter will cast his vote for six councilmen-at-large, no matter where they may be located. It is his privilege to vote for three men in one ward if he see fit. The choice of each voter is left untrammelled, with a view to allowing him to select the best men, regardless of location. There is also to be elected one councilman from each ward, whose residence must be in the ward where the voter resides. The Board of Education under the new charter is composed of six members, all elected at large on a separate ticket from the other city officials, which will be deposited in a separate ballot box. Republicans may wish to know that their votes for a non-partisan school board ticket. The majority of making the election at large is to secure a board made up of the very best material, regardless of their place of residence. The following named persons are candidates at large on the respective tickets:

A PENDING FLOOD.

The Gorge Above Sioux City Broken—A Four-Foot Rise Coming Down.

THE GORGE BROKEN. A dispatch was received by Mr. James K. Boyd at three o'clock yesterday, announcing that everything had broken loose at Sioux City and the river was rushing down at a rate of four and a half feet. It will be remembered a gorge seventy-five miles long had formed between Yankton and Sioux City and it is this that has started. Sioux City must be in great peril, and as nothing has been heard since Mr. Boyd received his dispatch it is thought the whole region about the city is swept by the flood. This additional flood will reach here early this morning.

THE TERROR. Yesterday the water was running through the smelting works. Everything is in a state of preparation for disaster. The smelting department is still going, but the refining department has shut down. The rise is still progressing, though the water is somewhat high in the works.

INSOLET TRAINMEN. OVERLAND TRAIN, Columbia Sleeper, April 1st, 1881.

To the Editor of the Bee: Through the columns of your paper permit me to call attention to the rude bearing of railway employees towards passengers. Scowling their eyes upon me, not only allowed but encouraged in their low attitude to subject passengers to all kinds of petty insolence, especially over the C. P. and U. P. railroads. None but gentlemen should have charge of passenger trains. This is not the case on the overland train. As an illustration, it is only necessary to assert that the conductors of these trains do not only permit their train men to take seats at the same eating tables with passengers without removing their hats and caps, but also encourage the insolent staff by setting the example. Under no circumstances should a gentleman offer such insolence to a lady. Yet, these railroad men not only subject ladies and gentlemen to such treatment, but if their attention be called to the set, they immediately hurl the vilest abuse they can think of at the person. Report the shameful staff to the landlord, and, strange as it may seem, he tells you in these words: "My dear sir, it is an outrage, but we are helpless." Call the attention of the station agent to the matter, and that official at once refers you to the general superintendent. And, so you see, we simply pay our money and are treated by men whom we support.
