Court Case.

The case of A. J. Crittenden. Council Bluffs, against R. W. Hyer, sheriff of Cass county, T. W. Barheit, of Burlington, and E. A. and J. C. Nowell, of Greenwood, Cass county, a suit in replevin to recover a general stock of merchandise worth about $3,000, was on trial in the United States court yesterday.

F. B. Harte, of Council Bluffs, represented the plaintiff. On the part of the defense Judge Doane, of this city, and E. J. Morrison, of Plattsmouth, appeared for Barheit; Allen Beeson for Nowells, and Harwood & Ames, of Lincoln, for the sheriff.

M. Vaughan showed the light of his countenance before Judge Beneke yesterday. He had been drunk and spent a night in the calaboose. When asked what he had to say in regard to the matter he replied that he had simply taken a glass of beer. "And did one beer set you drunk?" aked the Court. "Oh, no," said Vaughn, "I had several on the train as I came into town. You see I had no place to sleep and I took a beer to brace me up." Judge Beneke braced him up further with a $10 fine.

A man named John Doyle was arrested under the tramp law. He claimed that he had lived in the city for six months past, was a printer by trade, but a little unfortunate for the past week. He was let go.

A pair of eyes set in neat mosaic work ornamented the countenance of Victor Lindhausen, as he stepped before the bar. He readily admitted that he had been intoxicated, and even conceded that he had become excited when the police attempted to arrest him. They said he made an attempt to clean out the Hudson River House, but this he denied, saying with considerable force that there was too many boarders there. The police charged that it had taken the united efforts of four men to bring Lindhausen to the station, and Judge Beneke fined him $1 and sent him to the county jail for ten days.

Nebraska Emigrants

About 35 German emigrants passed through on the U. P. train yesterday. They were bound for Columbia Norfolk and Fremont, in this state. At the depot here they were met by a party of their friends residing in Omaha. For a time there was the liveliest kind of hugging and handshaking, and altogether a happier looking lot of re-united freinds is seldom seen.
