FATALY SHOT.

Harry McGee Sends George Washington Into Eternity.

A quarrel between two colored waiters in Council Bluffs, originating in their love for the same woman, had a fatal termination Tuesday. The two parties to the misunderstanding were Harry McGee, head waiter at the Pacific House, and George Washington, employed in a subordinate capacity at the Ogden. As far as can be ascertained they have not been on very pleasant terms for some time. Last Monday the bad feeling terminated in a scuffle, in which Washington was knocked down and rather severely handled otherwise by McGee. Washington had his assailant arrested, and upon being tried in the police court he was called upon to pay a fine. Of course this did not tend to smooth out matters any, and the breach that before existed was only widened. McGee apparently felt himself a much abused man, and brooded over the affair until Tuesday. In the afternoon he met Washington in the corridor near the Ogden House dining room, and words at once ensued. In a very short time the report of two pistol shots were heard and upon the employes rushing to the spot, they found Washington lying on the floor bleeding profusely from the head and body. His death must have been instantaneous, for life had fled when assistance arrived. McGee was standing near the head of the body, but little excited, and still holding the revolver in his hand. He was at once placed in custody and marched to the station. Upon examination it was found that Washington had been shot in the temple and chest, either of which wounds would have been necessarily mortal. A colored man named Ferguson, who claims to have been an eye witness to the occurrence, says the Washington first opened the affair by drawing a revolver upon McGee. The latter at once snatched the weapon from his hands and immediately fired two shots. This story is not generally believed. The most generally accepted statement is that after a few words had passed between the men McGee pulled his revolver. Washington at once began to retreat but McGee relentlessly followed him up, firing as he went. McGee is a low-browed, bad-looking colored man and if appearances are an indication is capable of such a deed. As reports go he killed his man before while living in St. Joe and for that offense served a term in the Missouri state penitentiary at Jefferson City. The affair caused a great deal of excitement at the Bluffs and Washington's body was viewed by a large number of people.

COUNCIL TOPICS.

Velocipede Riding To Be Stopped on Certain Streets.

There Can Be No Dictation in the Selection of Fences. Council was called to order by President Daily Tuesday evening. All the members were present except Messrs. Dunham and Herman. A communication was received from Mrs. Nancy McNight, asking restitution for property damaged by altering the grade of Fifteenth street. It was referred to the judiciary committee. City Engineer Rosewater presented a profile of the grades on Farnham and Idaho streets, which was filed. He has also accepted the grading of Spruce street, as per contract of Peter Sorenson. A communication from nine residents of Fifteenth street, consenting to the change of the grade was read and referred to the committee on streets and grades. A communication from Thos. Swift, offering to rent the old fire engine at $1 per day, was referred to the committee on fire with power to act. A communication from James Neville, was protesting against changing the grade of Farnham street, west of Twentieth, was referred to the committee on streets and grades. A petition from citizens doing business on Farnham street, asking that the street be sprinkled, was referred to the committee on streets and grades. The report of the city engineer on the contract for gutting and curbing Farnham street, from Fifteenth to Eighteenth streets, was referred to the committee on streets and grades. A communication from the city engineer, announcing his acceptance of the grading of Cass street, according to the contract of Duffy Brothers, was accepted. A communication from the city physician, P. S. Leisenring, calling attention to the condition of certain lots between Cass and California streets, and a pool of water at Twentieth and Farnham streets, was referred to the judiciary committee. A petition from citizens, asking for street lamps at the corner of Eleventh and Pacific streets, and at the corner of Eleventh and Pierce streets, was read and granted. A petition from citizens, asking that Douglas street be sprinkled from Twelfth to Sixteenth streets, was granted. A petition asking for the enforcement of the ordinance against allowing animals to run at large was referred to the judiciary committee. A resolution was adopted that the city should enter into a contract with the Omaha & Northern Nebraska railroad to grade Capitol Avenue to its full width. A resolution that the street commissioner be instructed to divide the city into two districts, and to place in each a supply of teams and laborers competent to put all crossings and bridges in good repair, was adopted. A resolution directing the street commissioner to renew the planking on the bridge over the North Omaha creek and Twenty-third street, was adopted. A resolution directing that the city marshal notify the Waterworks company to immediately abate the nuisance in the shape of a pool of stagnant water on Fourteenth street between Webster and California streets, was adopted. The city marshal was instructed to report to the council the number of prisoners in the city jail and the number of days they are worked on the streets. It was decided to enforce an ordinance to prohibit velocipede riding on the driving streets. The city clerk was directed to advertise for sealed proposals for curbing and guttering Sixteenth street, north of Douglas to the bridge. The city engineer was instructed to make the necessary surveys on Pierce street from 16th to 13th so as to establish the grade. The city engineer was instructed to ascertain if the Water works company are setting the hydrants to comply with the resolution adopted by the council. The same officer was instructed to report to next meeting, how far east Dodge street is graded, and how much it will cost to grade it from 12th to 14th. A resolution was adopted ordering sidewalks on the west side of 18th street between St. Mary's avenue and 17th street. The committee on claims allowed Christian Saxen $10 for saving a platform belonging to the city. John S. Wood was allowed $9 as registrar at the bond election. The judiciary committee reported unfavorably upon the petition of St. A. D. Balcombe, and also that council cannot control the kind of fence which the people may build upon their lots. The same committee ordered the taxes of the Christian church to be cancelled. They also refused to allow D. P. Shepherd's claim for damages for injuries sustained in falling through a bad sidewalk, and accepted $70 in full payment of taxes claimed from Abbey Hill. The following gentlemen were elected by ballot as directors of the public library: Judge J. W. Savage, Jno. W. Bell and Wm. A. L. Gibbon. The meeting was adjourned for one week. Take "BLACK-DRAUGHT" and you will never be bilious. A. C. F. Goodman's. Selling Bogus Rings. Richard Carroll was arrested for selling bogus jewelry and tried in the police court yesterday. It was established that he sold rings costing about $1.25 a dozen for from $2.50 to $10 apiece. He was fined $20 and costs, and in default was sent to jail.

CONVENTION IN BRIEF.

Routine of Business Transacted at Yesterday's Meeting.

The barge convention met yesterday morning in Dohoney's opera house at the Bluffs. Yesterday Hon. Clinton Briggs, of Omaha, president of the convention, called the meeting to order. A telegram from the president and secretary of the St. Joseph, Mo., board of trade, was read, stating their regret at not being able to attend owing to a severe storm. A letter from Mayor Boyd, of Omaha, was read in which he expressed great regret that he could not attend the convention and stated that he thoroughly sympathized with them. He invited the delegation to visit Omaha where he would be pleased to see them. Hon. John Hogan, of St. Louis, moved that Senator Van Wyck should address the meeting, which he did, and delivered a lengthy speech, which was received with much enthusiasm and approbation. A letter was then read from W. B. Allison, of Dubuque, Iowa, expressing regret at his inability to attend and sympathy with the cause. Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, made an elaborate oration, and his remarks were much applauded. Col. Sapp, of Iowa, was then called for and spoke at some length on this subject in a very eloquent and effective manner. His speech was thoroughly practical. Col. Chase, of Omaha, being called for, responded and delivered one of his stirring harangues. Mr. Hogan, of St. Louis, proposed some amendments to the resolutions which were adopted nem. con. Mr. Hogan proposed the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted. RESOLVED, That this convention elect an executive committee of five persons to carry on the work of this convention. After a considerable debate upon the question of which would bring the most pleasure and profit, a mass meeting in some hall in the city, or a picnic, a decision was rendered in favor of a picnic, with time and place to be decided upon. DRAWING THE LINE. The Mayor is a Temperate Man But Not a Temperance Man. In response to a request that he preside at a meeting of the Temperance Bee Hive Mayor Boyd Tuesday indited a communication to that body in which he says that he favors temperance and wished that all were temperate in the meaning of the word as defined by Webster, viz: "Restrained or moderate indulgence." He further remarks that he is not a prohibitionist nor does he think it becoming in him as mayor of the city to preside at either a temperance or an anti-temperance meeting. He quotes the opinion of the city attorney to the effect that local legislation is necessary to make the Slocumb law operative, and then concludes: "At the first meeting of the city council after the law took effect, I transmitted to them the opinion of the city attorney, with the request that an ordinance as contemplated and required should be passed, but the council have not yet acted in the matter, though I am in hopes that they will do so at an early day. In the meantime, if any person, feels aggrieved, complaint can be made to the proper officers, who will, as far as in their power, enforce the law."

NEW MEDICAL COLLEGE.

It is Incorporated Under The Laws of the State.

Letters of incorporation have been filed in the county clerk's office for the establishment of the Omaha Medical College. The incorporators are Dr. Robert R. Livingstone, Dr. S. D. Mercer, Dr. Richard C. Moore, Dr. J. C. Denise, Dr. V. H. Coffman and Dr. W. S. Gibbs. The capital stock of the new college is placed at $5,000 divided into shares of $100 each. The amount may, however, be increased to $50,000 by a two-thirds vote of the stockholders. The officers who will manage the affairs of the institution will consist of nine trustees. These are Drs. Samuel D. Mercer, Richard C. Moore, Victor H. Coffman, Jacob S. Denise, P. S. Leisenring, Geo. B. Ayres and W. S. Gibbs of this city, Robert R. Livingstone, of Plattsmouth, and G. H. Peebles of David City. The subject of an Omaha Medical College has been under consideration for some time. The ground for the erection of the building has already been secured. Narrow Escape from Death. John Christopherson, the postal clerk, who lives on Seventh street near Pacific, made a narrow escape from death with his wife and Miss Hiller, a visitor, through eating smoked tongue. A brother of Mr. Christopherson, who has just come from Germany, and the servant, did not partake and consequently escaped all bad effects. Mr. Christopherson and his wife were in a bad way for a time and it was only through the prompt medical attention from Dr. Jensen that they escaped death. As they were suffering tortures for nearly half a night Miss Hiller, however, felt the worst effects from the meal and for a time it seemed doubtful if she should recover. All danger is now passed but she is still very weak as indeed is Mrs. Christopherson. The tongue was obtained from a neighboring butcher and a critical examination of what was left of it will probably be made. Under the microscope it is very probable that it will show the presence of trichina. Married Twenty Years. Last Monday evening was one long to be remembered by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Daughton of this city. On that evening occurred the twentieth anniversary of their marriage, and a number of their friends surprised them with a present of a handsome china tea set. Councilman Dailey made the presentation speech, which was gracefully acknowledged by Mr. Daughton. Refreshments and dancing were the order of the evening until a late hour. Body Found. The drowned body of a man was discovered yesterday morning by Mr. Ripple on the banks of the Missouri at Plattsmouth. It is supposed to be the body of the man drowned in the Platte river at Louisville a few days ago. Satisfactory. Mrs. Wallace, Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I have used BRADDOCK BLOOD PURIFIER for nervous and bilious headaches, and have recommended them to my friends; I believe them superior to any other medicine I have used, and can recommend them to anyone requiring a cure for biliousness."
