New Lumber Line: The probabilities are that before the end of the year Omaha will have a valuable lumber line at her doors. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road are constructing it from Lake Superior, via Eau Claire and the Menomonee branch. It will pass the mills on the Chippewa at Eau Claire and Porterville, run to Wabasha, where it will cross the Mississippi, thence on the narrow guage which is to have a third rail, or be broadened, to Hammon; thence to Rochester, constructing sixteen miles, and connecting with the Iowa & Minne sots division; thence to Austin and Mason City; thence to Fort Dodge; thence to a connection with the Cedar Rapids & Omaha division. From Fort Dodge to Belmont the road bed is already graded, leaving but thirty eight miles to be graded to reach Mason City. The company in making its Omaha extension only asks of the also adopted: towns where they locate stations the depot grounds and right of way thereon. They ask no tax aid.

THE STATE FAIR.

Proceedings of the Meeting of the Board of Managers.

The Grounds and Buildings Will be Lighted with Electricity.

The board of managers of the State Board of Agriculture held a meeting at the Withnell hotel, in this city, last evening. The meeting was largely attended and unusually enthusiastic. There were present Hon, J. T. Clarkson, president, Gen. J. C. McBride, at the fair. secretary; Hon. Christian Hartman, treasurer; Prof. A. D. Williams, Ex-Governor Furnas, Judge Kinney, Hon. Mark Dunham and Hon. G. W. E. Dorsey; also, upon invitation, Mayor Boyd, D. T. Mount, Major Chambers, Richard Kitchen and oth-were read and approved. Prof. Williams stated that militia company of Sutton had reconsidered their former action and were willing to loan their tent for the use of the militia company engaged as police at the coming fair.

Representatives of the Omaha jockay club stated that the grounds would be cleaned and put in proper condition for the occasion.

Mr. Walker, who was present in be half of the committee of the First M E. church society was given a hearing in which he stated the grievance of that society, and asked an explanation why their bid for the booth privileges at the state fair was not accepted. The treasurer, Mr. Hartman, to whom was committed the awarding of the contract, explained that the condition expressed in the bid of the M. E. society rendered it inferior to those presented by others.

After much discussion upon the matter and expressions of regret that there should be any misunderstanding in the matter, the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, Under the law, the letting of the booth privileges for the state fair is placed under the control of the president of the state board of managers has nothing to do with it, but as we are called upon to pass judgment upon the action of the letting the same to E. P. Davis, out of which some controversy has arisen, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the opinion of the board the booth privileges were properly let to Mr. Davis; first, because his bid was unconditional, and second because the bid of the M. E. church society with its conditions was not as good as that of Mr. Davis.

The secretary stated that negotiations were completed for the agricultural society to join the Great West- the subject of his adventures. No bill has yet been collectexpressing a desire to join the circuit.

After due discussion upon the subject the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the board of managers of the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture is in favor of joining the Great We stern fair circuit, and also of the addition of the Montgomery county agricultural society to close the circuit, the circuit then to include the state fair at Des Moines, the state fair at Omaha, the inter-state fair at Hamburg, and the county fair at Red

The following resolution was

Resolved, That the the Nebraska state fair governed by the national rules with the following proviso: Any record of any horse at any meeting prior to the Nebraska state fair meeting, shall not constitute a record so as to exclude any horse from any class at the Ne-braska state fair, that such horse was eligible to trot in at such prior meeting, provided that such horse is ento trot in the races at the Nebraska state fair prior to making such

The secretary was directed to ob tain suitable badges for the fair to that number and cost which he deemed proper.

The secretary read communications from Francis R. Blitz, of Chicago; Silbent's Aeronautical Bureau, of Chicago, and Mesars. Bright & Stark, of Mt. Ayer, Iowa, relative to baloon ascensions at the fair. Upon motion he was directed to make such arrangements as he deemed advisable with Messrs. Bright & Stark for two or of general resort, he will, however, mere ascensions, the expense of which not to exceed $300.

Upon motion the secretary was instructed to procure a suitable desk for his official use.

Mr. Hartman stated that he ha advertised for bids for the warm meal and dining hall privileges, but had received only one bid, and that from Mr. D. T. Mount, of this city, offering $50, two hundred meals per day W. E. Annin, associate editor of THE gratis, and agreeing to charge but fifty cents per meal, with a deduction of twenty-five cents to stock men, the board of directors and the militia, also that his seating capacity shall ac-comodate 400 at a time. Mr. Mount gave a bond of $500 for the fulfillment

> Gen. McBride stated that while re cently in Chicago he saw as many of the prominent horsemen as possible, and endeavored to secure an exhibition of the speed of Maud S. at the fair, but as yet had no definite reply as to whether or not she would be rought here. The secretary reported that the contracts for the chariot races to be had on the track at the fair were all com-pleted and signed.

with electricity during the fair. Mr. Clarkson reported that he had seen some of the officials of the railroads leading into the city and had been informed that the Union Pacific would give the same rates for passen ger transportation as last year, but that they were afraid that the Doan law would interfere, and prevent the granting of special rates on freight and goods for exhibit at the fair. Also that the B. & M. railway company would give the same passenger rates as last year, and run special trains from Beatrice, Tecumseh, Sew ard, Hastings, etc., arriving here at 11 o'clock a. m., and leaving at 9 p. m., but they also thought the Doane law would prevent any reduction of

A PLAUSIBLE CUSTOMER.

And How He Succeeds in Getting Free Board.

A grim visaged man, with a meek eye and a plausible exterior, sauntered into the office of one of the hotels of the city a few days ago and transfixing the proprietor with a beaming glance, registered his name. The paricular details of dress that are considered necessary by some men were overlooked in his case and in fact there was general disregard to the mode in his make-up that was quite refreshing. The man had neglected to bring a Saratoga or even an unpretensious gripsack, which facts were looked upon as suspicious, notwithstanding his blissful assurance. Before the landlord assigned him to a room he looked up with the intention of saving something about cash in advance, but the fellow met him with such a look of crystalized honesty that his heart failed him. The thing run on for several days longer and finally the landlord called the man to him. agriculture, and hence the board of He explained that the invariable rule of the house to strangers without baggage was cash in advance. The president-through the treasurer-in stranger explained that his intention was to remain in Omaha for some considerable time and he had consequently sent on a letter ordering his trunk to be shipped to him. This trunk, he claimed, was quite a valuable institution, containing as it did curiosities picked various parts of the world. Then he glibly launched into an account of his als and really became eloqu observed of all observers and the story teller par excellence. From his eloquence it is shrewdly suspected that he once either expatiated on the merits of deceased mackerel or sung the praises of boa constrictors in front of a side-show. But the fact still remains that he is getting his board for nothing. He is such a good-natured, unobtrusive knave that the kind-hearted landlord will not hurt his feelings by referring to the bill. Answers to Correspondents

The preliminary examination

George Morris, the man charged with snatching a pocketbook from David Finch Hatton at the union depot on Monday evening, was up before Judge Beneke for a preliminary examination yesterday. On the advice of North Main street will soon be ready his counsel, Col. Smythe, Morris waived a hearing, stating as a reason that there was considerable evidence bearing upon the case that could not be produced just then. The question of the amount of bail then came up and both Col. Smythe and District Attorney Burnham had something to say. Judge Beneke settled the matter by fixing the cost at $10.00. Hatton was discharged on his own recognizance in $200 to appear at the next term of the district court to prosecute the case. The name on the certificates in Morris' possession is Geo. B. Henderson, which is claimed to be merely an alias. Mrs. Walker is prepared to identify Morris' accomplice, and as the police know where he is he will be arrested. The case now goes over to the next session of the district
