CONSTITUTIONAL.

Supreme Court Decision on the Slocumb Law.

Termination of the Great Plueler Test Case.

The Liquor Dealers Defeated in Their Fight.

A special telegram to THE BEE from Lincoln states that the supreme court yesterday affirmed the judgment of Judge Savage in the Slocumb liquor case. The decision was unanimous, all the judges concurring. This is the first decision from the superior court of the state on the constitutionality of the Slocumb liquor law, and has been looked forward to with considerable interest by people in all portions of the state, but more especially those residing in Omaha.
The test case was one against Andrew Plueler, of this city. There was considerable doubt expressed as to whether the Slocumb liquor law was constitutional or not, and to decide the matter Plueler and half a dozen others were arrested for an infringement of the law. Backed by the other liquor dealers of the city, Plueler's case was made a test case. It came up for trial at the last session of the district court before Judge Savage. There were two principal questions involved. First, as to whether the law was constitutional, and second, whether an unexpired license under the old law did not protect him from prosecution. Judge Savage decided both of these questions adversely to Plueler's cause and the jury returned a verdict accordingly. As a matter of form a motion for a new trial was made by Gen. Cowin and overruled by Judge Savage in order that the case might get immediately into the supreme court. The matter was argued before the supreme body this week, Judge Wakeley and Gen. Cowin appearing for the plaintiff in error, and Gen. Eastabrook and Hon. Geo. W. Ambrose, against. Judge Wakeley endeavored to establish three propositions: First, that the exaction of $500 and $1000 was a tax upon the business of liquor selling; second, that such were required to be uniform, and third, that this was not uniform under the constitution. Mr. Ambrose said that the two mile limit had been urged against the bill; that it had been called unconstitutional by reason of the power granted to the judiciary to review the discretion of the board as to license; by reason of the rule of evidence laid down in suits for damages resulting to persons upon whom devolves the support of families; by reason of the power conferred upon the magistrate to remit portions of the penalty upon the prisoner giving information; because the license fees a tax, and not being uniform is inhibited by section one, article nine of the constitution. As to the first four propositions none of them were before the court, he said. And if they were, and each and all of them considered unconstitutional, still the question of the power of the legislature to regulate the sale of liquor, and the exacting of a license fee would remain untouched. It is a familiar rule that even parts of a section may be inhibited and still the remainder be good. Gen. Cowin summed up for Plueler, combing the positions of Mr. Ambrose and Gen. Eastabrook. The decision will be received with considerable surprise. It affects a large interest and was not generally expected.

North Nebraska Items.

Dixon county claims to be the best county for dairying purposes in Nebraska. Dixon county has two creameries and one cheese factory. Omaha takes the butter from one of its creameries. Ponce, the county seat of Dixon county, has three groceries, six stores of general merchandise, three hardware stores, one dry goods store, four hotels, three saloons, two restaurants, one flouring mill, two newspapers, two cabinet shops, two drug stores, eight lawyers, three doctors, three churches, and has a good market for all farm produce, but has no lumber yard. There are many persons, especially "new-comers," as they are termed, who are going into raising stock, some of them, especially in Wayne county and the southern part of Dixon county, very extensively. Sheep husbandry is also growing into favor in this part of the state. Miss Ella Torrance solicits sewing by the day or week. Call or address her, 4th street, cor. Worth, Council Bluffs. meff
The Union Pacific Band Excursion and Basket Picnic will take place at Wahoo on the 13th of August, 1881. Tickets on dollar for the round trip. Children half fare. There will be string music in attendance for dancing. The street cars will run down to Ninth street depot in the morning to accommodate those living in the north part of the city, who, wishing to attend the U. P. band excursion and basket picnic at Wahoo, and they will be on hand in the evening on its return.

The New City Directory.

soon to be issued will be the most thorough and complete of any directory ever issued for Omaha. People who have recently come to the city, or those who have recently changed their residence or boarding place, should send their new address at once to J. M. Wolfe, 129 S. Fourteenth street, corner Douglas, so that their names will appear in the new directory correct when issued. jy28-31

Indiscriminate Slaughter.

For some time past the farmers living in the suburbs have suffered great deal from a certain class of sportsmen, who without their permission have been butchering their game, killing them by the hundreds, not for legitimate sport but merely out of wantonness. The farmers have now determined to take effective measures to stop this in the future and they are putting up notices that all persons found trespassing on their lands for the purpose of shooting their game will be prosecuted to the utmost rigor of the law.

DELINQUENT TAXES.

The County Treasurer Determined to Collect Them. The delinquent taxes are quite a serious matter to the county treasurer and Mr. Haize is making special efforts to secure collections. There is much difficulty met in collecting back taxes from men who are perfectly able to pay up while it is much less so with the poorer class of property owners. The law makes the collection of delinquent taxes a personal matter with the county treasurer, out of whose salary the amount comes unless he testifies under oath that the delinquent has no personal property upon which to make a levy. The law gives the treasurer considerable leverage in this matter, and he will be forced to use it in some cases. He has notified all delinquents that he will proceed to business inside of ten days after notification.

A Sorrowful Journey.

Thomas Swan, of Cheyenne, passed through Omaha yesterday with the remains of his partner, B. A. Smith, who accidentally shot himself a Rawlins, on Monday of the present week. He, with several other men, was sitting in a room where a shot gun was lying on a bed. By some accident the gun was struck on the hammer and it went off, shooting him in the breast, killing him almost instantly.

Citizens Meeting.

There will be a meeting this evening at Goodman's grove for the purpose of considering the feasibility of erecting a new building instead of the old Hoskold school. A large attendance of citizens is expected.

TRINITY.

The Cathedral to be Roofed by November.

The superstructure of the Trinity cathedral, on the corner of Eighteenth and Capitol avenue, is progressing very satisfactorily. The building will be roofed over by the 1st of November next, and will doubtless be completed and ready for dedication by the bishop early next year. It will be, beyond all question, the handsomest church edifice west of Chicago. It is a matter of great congratulation on the part of the parishioners that the plans were so changed that the walls are of stone, rather than of brick as it was originally intended to have it. It is now hoped that the basement, which will be finished first, will be far enough advanced towards completion that services may be held in it this fall.

Fall In!

S. J. Alexander, adjutant-general of the National Guard, has issued the following orders:

- I. Pursuant to the provisions of sections 43 and 44 of an act to establish a military code—approved February 28th, A. D., 1881, an encampment of the first regiment of the National Guard of Nebraska, together with the Blue Springs Light Artillery, is hereby ordered for four successive days, between the 5th and 10th days of September, 1881.
II. The commanding officer of the first regiment having designated the City of Lincoln as the place at which the encampment will be held, the same is hereby approved and is so ordered.
III. Transportation and commutation of railroads will be furnished by the state.
IV. The Blue Springs Light Artillery is hereby attached to the first regiment, N. G. N.
V. The several companies composing the first regiment, and the Blue Springs Light Artillery company, will report with only such men as are fully uniformed.

TIVOLI GARDENS.

R. S. King will give a grand and novel street parade of the wild Rocky mountain lions, accompanied by a band. The parade will start from Tivoli Gardens at six o'clock this evening. King will also enter the lion's den at 8 o'clock on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, and perform some wonderful feats of daring. Admission to the grand concert 15 cents. The above lion performance will be free. Don't miss this opportunity of seeing one of the most daring performances ever witnessed. For three nights only. For nice fresh meat go to GUILD, Meats Market on Tenth street, near the U. P. depot. 11

BUSY METROPOLIS.

Things Attracting Notice in the Bluffs Nowadays.

Change of Grade Working a Hardship.

Larceny Become One of the Exact Sciences.

A Variety of Topics of General Interest.

A HARDSHIP WHICH MAY PROBABLY BE INDUCED BY BUSINESS NECESSITIES.

Nineteen years ago the 4th of last July our honored fellow citizen J. M. Phillips selected a site in what is now the central portion of the city upon which to erect a dwelling, the first, we understand, erected in that locality, to make for himself a home. That it has been from that date a true home those living in that locality will bear testimony. Here he has lived nearly the whole of his business life and more than half his wedded life. The spot to him has become dear and sacred. With his own hand he planted the trees that surround his premises. It was here that he raised his family, and here it was that he caught the last lingering whisper of a dying wife and mother. It is not to be wondered that he has some feelings in the matter of cutting down his grade as the council propose to do. For he tells us as sure as it is done he shall abandon the home that he loves and around which all the sacred associations of wife and children linger. THE BEE believes in improvements in Council Bluffs. The streets should be put in a condition that is favorable to business. Finer houses and more costly buildings should and will in the future be erected. We should tear down the old and build up the new. But in doing so we believe the interest and convenience of the individual citizen should be represented. It seems to us rapid development of the business interests demands that the immediate grading of Bluffs street in order to open up direct communication with Willow avenue, and the southeastern part of the city and Pierce street, and the northeastern part of the city. In order to accomplish this it seems that Mr. Phillips and Mr. W. W. Wallace must have the front of their premises cut down to a grade. This, no doubt, is just and right. The business of the city demands it, and the legal axiom "Salus populi suprema est lex," should be respected, and we believe that Mr. Phillips having the best interests and welfare of our city at heart, is willing to share a large amount of damages to his home, that the interests of the city may be subserved. But the city council should use reason in the premises and not send the knife in too deep. John M. Phillips has been a citizen of Council Bluffs for twenty-three years, when the members of the present city council were school boys. His hair has grown white in the service. Let him be treated considerately, and not in the declining years of old age, honored and active business life abandon a home around which cluster so many pleasant memories.

LARCENY.

IT IS GOTTEN DOWN TO A FINE ART. A most singular verdict was rendered in Justice Franey's court on Thursday evening. The case grew out of a dispute between a man by the name of Hessel, doing business on Main street, and a man from the county named Osborn. It seems that Hessel rented a building of Mr. Osborn on upper Broadway, with the right to put an addition to the same. As Hessel claimed, at the expiration of his lease he was to have the right to take the addition away. Mr. Osborn insisted that all improvements that were made were to belong to him. He said he rented the building for five months at a nominal sum, for the reason that it was understood that the addition should hang to him at the close of Mr. Hessel's term. Be this as it may, the ground upon which the building was situated not long since was sold, and Mr. Hessel took down the addition with the intention of taking it away, whereupon Mr. Osborn removed it for him but instead of delivering it to Hessel he delivered it to Osborn. Mr. Hessel at once entered a complaint before Justice Franey, charging Osborn with larceny. A warrant was issued, Osborn arrested and brought before the court a jury of six as intelligent men as is generally picked up on the streets were selected. The case was heard, the jury retired and brought in a verdict convicting Osborn of larceny for taking property that he claimed belonged to him. Shades of the immortal Blackstone! John Lindt, who is a power before a jury in a justice court, appeared in behalf of our great commonwealth, and Col. Daley for the defendant. We understand that Justice Franey refuses to record the verdict rendered.

SOCIABLE GIVEN BY THE LADIES OF THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

The beautiful church edifice belonging to the First Baptist society of this city, situated on the corner of First avenue and Sixth street, was brilliantly lighted at an early hour last evening, it being the occasion of a social sociable by the ladies of the church. The church was thrown open from the kitchen to the spacious parlors. Quiet a large number outside of the immediate church circle were in attendance, notwithstanding the heat of the day had made the evening air very oppressive. The entertainment consisted of music and readings, which were all well rendered, and heartily appreciated by all present. Rev. Mr. Lemen seems to have a faculty for getting up entertainments of the kind rarely seen in the pastor of a church. He is considered by all who have listened to him not only a splendid and interesting speaker, but an exceptionally fine reader. Although he has been in charge of the society only six months, fifteen new members have united with the church. Great improvements have also been added to the church, such as new black walnut book racks, and new books to fill them, costing $150. He has fitted up the church parlor, and furnished it handsomely at a cost of $120 more, and when the spire is completed, an improvement very much needed, the church edifice will be one of the finest in the northwest. THE BLUFFS IN BRIEF.

Miss Lilian Berger has returned home from her visit near Jefferson City, Mo., ready for her work in connection with the city schools.

R. S. Cole & Co. are putting the finishing touches on the new Bloomer school building by erecting lightning rods of the most improved plan. They say if any the pupils attending there get struck it will not be by lightning.

A little boy named Hessel, living on Main street, did a commendable act while the funeral of Mr. Charles Beck was in progress. Seeing the firemen standing on the street and thinking they would like some water he procured ice water and made several trips to the boys and passed the fluid all round. The boy is only eight years old.

A splendid platform for the accommodation of the public has been erected at the Second street entrance of the Ogden hotel.

Max Mohr prides himself with having the only building in the city with a granite front foundation to cornice. The granite was taken from the quarries at Sagetown, Ill.

J. M. Smith went to the U. P. transfer on Tuesday with his team to carry Miss Lizzie Parks and Miss Emily Orvis, two young ladies who were going on a visit to Chicago. Mr. Smith stood his horse near the track and was assisting the young ladies in when a train starting up frightened the horse. He ran several blocks, when he was stopped. No damage was done except the cutting of the horse's legs quite severely.

AN UGLY CASE.

Being Made Out Against Chas. Neistrom.

Who is Accused of Beating Peterson to Death.

Yesterday the examination of Chas. Neistrom, on the charge of murder in the first degree in having beaten John Peterson to death, was begun before Judge Beneke. On this occasion a very important witness to the quarrel, William Corsgren, who had been absent from the city during the holding of the coroner's inquest, put in an appearance and was submitted to a thorough examination by District Attorney Burham. Much additional light was thrown upon the case by his testimony. Corsgren swore that Neistrom struck Peterson five or six times and that he kicked him on both sides of the throat and in the right breast. He then turned around and with the back of his heel struck him another blow in the chest. Peterson was lying on his left side at this time, and Dr. Leisenring testified that under these circumstances the injuries developed at the post mortem examination could have been inflicted. A few hours after the beating Peterson made an effort to eat something, but found it impossible to do so. He was even unable to swallow a mouthful of broth. According to Corsgren Neistrom had said that even if he killed Peterson the fellow wasn't worth any money and he, Neistrom, could get off with little bother. Neistrom wasn't drunk according to Corsgren. The case was continued in the afternoon and testimony of such the same character as that given at the inquest was developed. It was concluded by Judge Beneke holding Neistrom in $1,000 to answer the charge of murder in the second degree at the next term of the district court.

Worthy of Praise.

As a rule we do not recommend patent medicines, but when we know of one that really is a public benefactor, and does positively cure, than we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints, even when all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend to all.—Ex. Sold at 50 cents a bottle. Ish & McMahon. (4)
