L. T. Longprey, the enterprising longgy and wagon maker, that has twice been burned out this year, has again got to work in his new building on the corner Sixteenth and Cass streets. He shows the right spirit.

A good deal of stock from various points in Nebraska and Wyoming is passing through Omaha almost daily for the Chicago market. The facilities of the railroads a short time hence will hardly be adequate for the demand made upon them.

That portion of Capitol avenue recently graded and cleaned by the city, is again being rapidly filled up with filth and garbage, by persons living in the vicinity. An immediate stop should be put to the further using of a public street for cesspool purposes.

Officer Buckley was taken suddenly ill with bilious fever last night on his beat.

Accepts the Call.

Rev. G. L. Stelling, of Dayton, Ohio, has written to the effect that he will accept the call to the pastorate of the Emanuel Lutheran church of this city. It will be remembered that Dr. Stelling was in Omaha a short time since when he preached a couple of discourses that at once stamped him as a profound theologian and logical reasoner. The entire congregation were so well pleased with him that they tendered him a call to the vacant pastorate. Dr. Stelling said he could arrive at no definite conclusion until he had consulted his friends.
This he has done with the result mentioned. Dr. Stelling succeeds the late Dr. Baugher, as pastor of the Lutheran church, and comes to Omaha with a well-earned reputation as a public speaker. Until their new edifice at Fifteenth and Harney streets is completed the congregation will probably worship in either Boyd's opera house or Masonic hall. Dr. Stelling will arrive here in October with his family.

A QUEER FAMILY.

Which Live in Tents on the River Bottom.

The Mother Nearly Brained by the Daughter.

Upon the river bottom a short distance north of the U. P. bridge there stand two canvas tents made of very light material. These two tents contain a good deal of misery and moral depravity. Previous to Monday of this week one tent held the whole family, which consists of the father and mother, one married daughter and three small children, two girls and a boy.

The family in question is the Davis outfit, the elder members of which have figured conspicuously in Omaha police circles for some time past.
Formerly they lived in North Omaha, but about a week ago they were ejected from the premises they occupied, since which time they have had their abode upon the river bottom. Last Monday the married daughter, being under the influence of drink, began upbraiding her mother on various family matters, among which was the fact that she, the daughter, had furnished a living for the entire family for a long time by means not altogether honorable, and that she was tired of it. The mother replied in equally vigorous language, and the daughter, maddened by drink and what she considered her wrongs, picked up a flat iron lying in the tent and struck her mother upon the forehead with it. Then began a fight, doubly disgraceful on account of the relationship of the combatants, which lasted until they were separated by the head of the family. At the conclusion of the row the daughter made a demand for a division of the tent and what few household articles they owned. She claimed that she had made all the property and was bound to have some of it. After a good deal of wrangling the tent was cut in two and the goods divided and a separate home started by the daughter. The old folks do not work and it is a mystery how they live. It can only be explained by the fact that the young children are upon the refuse and garbage, such as rotten meat and decayed vegetables and fruit, which are dumped on the bottoms. Of the children, one is a fourteen-year-old girl of a very pleasing face, but by her training and association is on the sure road to ruin if she is not taken in hand by some one very soon. Yesterday a gentleman doing business in that neighborhood had occasion to visit the bottoms, and he was assailed by the girl with the vilest language.

Mr. Peet Heard From.

Geo. T. Howser, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of this city, has received the following note from W. W.
Peet, now on his way to Turkey.

It is dated at Boston, August 29th, and reads: "I am as well as needs be, Farewell meeting on Wednesday. We sail Friday. Enjoyed our trip very much and had a pleasant time. Miss Brooks is well. I will write you again more fully. My address will be Constantinople, care Bible house." It will be seen that the missionaries sail from Boston to-morrow.

What the U. P. Men Think.

To the Editor of THE BEE.
OMAHA, September 1.—I regret very much that some ill-advised member of the B. & M. base ball club should have allowed his spleen to get the better of what little judgment the Creator seems to have endowed him with, and permitted himself to talk in so incoherent a manner to your reporter. I have no desire to relate because I do not believe that in his alleged interview he reflected the sentiments of the club he assumed to speak for. I merely wish to say that the U. P. base ball club have too much self-respect and too much regard for the majority of the B. & M. boys to make any misstatements in reference to the composition or character of either club, but it is due to both clubs that I should say that the statements of the B. & M. boy in the alleged interview have no foundation in truth, and I think his club will not endorse his silly twaddle.

C. V. GALLAGHER,
Pres. U. P. B. B. C.

STATE FAIR MATTERS.

Visit to the Grounds—Everything in a Booming Condition.

A hurried trip to the state fair grounds reveals a very busy state of affairs. About fifty workmen are employed and more will be put on tomorrow. The tower for the electric light is reaching toward the heavens and will be completed by to-morrow night.

The immense boiler and engine of Messrs. Godfrey & Davis is already on the ground and will be set to-day.

The 2040 building for the board of managers is being constructed by John Gwin.

MAX MEYER & BRO.'s new exposition building is assuming good form, whilst the Union Pacific building is almost completed. The great dining hall of D. T. Mount, 200 feet long by 60 feet wide, is almost ready for the roof, and the 60x40 foot kitchen is also approaching completion.

Sythes, mowers and hoes are busy on the grass and weeds and a general clean up is being indulged in.

In the matter of entries the state board are happy in the belief that the coming fair is to exceed all others.
Yesterday's mails brought a large number of stock entries, including the herds of Theron Nye and Geo. W. E.
Dorsey, of Fremont. A large number of small entries were also made.

Secretary McBride will move up from Lincoln on Monday and open an office at the Withnell house, where he will be joined by the full board, when all will put themselves into the harness for a full two weeks' job. The coming fair promises to be a magnificent success.

Another New Wholesale House.

Paxton and Gallagher have purchased a lot 132 feet square on the site of the present Slaven house near the railroad track. Their intention is to erect a fine three-story wholesale house and it will be, as Mr. Gallagher says, a model establishment. When the building is completed the present structure at Fifteenth and Farnham street will be vacated. If the labor and material can be secured on satisfactory terms the work will commence this fall; if they cannot it will not begin before spring. The strictly wholesale houses are drifting rapidly south of Farnham street and nearer the depot. Farnham street will soon be left practically a retail thoroughfare.

Ministerial Association.

The ministerial association will meet this morning at 9 o'clock in Rev. J. B. Maxfield's study. The laymen from the different churches, who are interested in the enforcement of the Sunday law, are earnestly requested to meet with the ministers.
Let every pastor and church be represented.

REV. A. F. SHERRELL, Pres't.
REV. W. K. BEANS, Sec'y.

No head-ache or back-ache for ladies who drink "WINE OF CARDU."

At C. F. Goodman.

Overcome by Heat.

Yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock a man named Bedell, employed as pile driver by the U. P. railroad, was pro-trated by heat. He lay unconscious for three hours and it was thought that the attack would be fatal. About 5 o'clock he partially recovered and he was removed to his home, corner of Sixteenth and Burt streets. The doctor in attendance said that the great weakness noticeable to-night was unquestionably due to the fact that he also suffered from malaria.

He will probably recover.

Prominently referred to by the Norfolk Virginians is the case of a venerable lady, a relative of Capt. J. W.
McLean. She was smitten with the system should be cleansed, blood purified, stomach and bowels relieved, and prevent and cure diseases arising from spring malaria. This salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case or money refunded. Price, 25¢ per box. For sale by ISH & McMAHON, Omaha.

Small Comfort.

When you are continually coughing, annoying even your bedfellow, sleeping, it will go away of its own accord, you are running saloons without licenses, the united had nothing to do with them.

At this juncture of the proceedings one of the liquor men asked a gentleman present if he was a BEE reporter.

The gentleman acknowledged that he was, when he was told that it was a private meeting and invited him to skip. He skipped accordingly.

Nothing definite has been decided upon.
