The Entries Grow to a Creditable Figure.

Arrangements of County Exhibitions and Fine Display.

New Engines for the Electric Lights Machinery.

The Three Minute Trot and Mile Dash.

The second day of the state fair like the first, opened under a cloudless sky and with the air cool and bracing. Early in the day the grounds were the scene of bustling activity. The officers of the state board and the managers who did not remain, all night arrived early and each one went to work with his coat off. For there was much to be done during the day. Many exhibits from the counties that had not been given places and the committees having them in charge were clamoring loudly for places. Some of the arrangements entered into to weeks ago "failed to connect," and others had to be made.

A LARGE TENT commodious enough for a traveling circus was stretched on the ground west of the Union Pacific building and the exhibits of the counties, which could not be assigned other places, were arranged on long tables under the tent's ample canopy. The heavy machinery, agricultural and otherwise, arrived during the entire day as fast as it could be carted from the depots, and filled up the gaps in the staked off spaces west of power hall. Two windmills were put up during the night and early morning of all shapes and patterns.

TWO MORE ENGINES were brought from the city during the forenoon to assist in propelling the machinery in power hall, and that sturdy but attractive machine, the electric engine.

A number of additional booths and tents shown sprung up soon after daylight, and one of the "colossal and unrivaled aggregations" produced a brass band to attract the passing crowd.

THE ATTENDANCE of many county people was one of the noticeable features of the forenoon. Nearly every train that arrived in the city brought heavy loads of passengers, who sought the grounds. About two hundred wagons from the neighboring rural districts were also admitted at the gates and each had its full quota of people. The passenger lines from the city drove a thriving business all day and as the business increased the vehicles grew in number until they made a long line in front of the gate. The police regulations were made more stringent during the day and the two companies of militia were carefully detailed. They obeyed their instructions to the letter, and preserved perfect order over the entire grounds. The behavior of these two companies has been very creditable and their bearing and discipline like that of veterans.

It is reported that, certain instructions having been given to keep an entrance closed, two privates were detailed to its guard. Presently one of the members of the state board came up and essayed to go through. He was stopped. Not knowing the instructions to keep the place closed had been given to the guards, he protested and stated who he was. "He didn't make any difference, sir," respectfully said one of the men, "we must obey our instructions, and you can't go through." And he didn't.

THE ATTENDANCE by noon increased to about 2,000, only a few of whom were from the city to see the afternoon races. This number was visibly swelled before 2 o'clock by those from the city, so that when the races began the number on the grounds was estimated at 3,000.

THE RACES, as announced in yesterday morning's BEE, consisted of a trot for horses never having made a better record than three minutes, and a running mile dash contest. Nine entries had been made in the trotting race, but only six horses started for the start. They were McMahon, b. a., owned by A. S. Halladay, of Brownville; Robby Dunbar, b. s., owned by M. C. Robinson, of Oakland; Dexter D. b. g., owned by M. O. Reilly, of Nebraska City; Mila C. s. m., owned by C. Nevis, of Omaha; Maxie Cobb, b. s., owned by E. Pyle, of Lincoln, Neb.; and Golden Rule, b. m., owned by A. H. Campbell, of Dallas, Texas.

In the first heat of the three-minute trot, the horses scored several times before getting the send off. When they finally did go McMahon had the pole, with Golden Rule next to him. At the quarter McMahon was still leading, with Maxie Cobb and Golden Rule hugging him close, and all three horses trotting in good shape. Before reaching the half mile McMahon went in the air, and was passed like a shot by Cobb and Golden Rule, who maintained the lead. There was a pretty brush for third place on the back stretch between Mila C. and Dexter D., and they also made it very interesting for the two leaders, so that on the finish the four horses came down the home stretch almost abreast, and passed under the wire in fine shape, Maxie Cobb leading Golden Rule by a half length; Mila C. third, and Dexter D. fourth, with Robby Dunbar barely saving his distance. Time, 2:42.

THE SECOND HEAT was trotted after an intermission of about twenty minutes, during which the Nebraska City band played two selections. The band appeared remarkably well in their new uniforms. After several attempts the horses went away in a good shape and kept together remarkably well until the quarter pole was reached. There the stallion and bay mare again pushed to the front and held their lead, as in the previous heat. It became evident, however, that Golden Rule was being "pulled" to save making a record, and could doubtless pass the stallion if permitted to do so. The heat was devoid of interest, except at one point, where the driver of McMahon drove across the course of Mila C. and barely missed a collision. Maxie Cobb took the heat in 2:38 1/2, Golden Rule second, Dexter D. third, and Mila C. fourth.

THE THIRD HEAT was held until after the running race. At the start Dexter D. made a vigorous push for second place, but was soon overhauled by Golden Rule, who could evidently take what position she wanted. The heat was finished with the horses in the same order except as to third place as in the preceding heat, in the time of 2:39. On the homestretch Mila C. and Dexter D. became mixed up, and the driver of the latter claimed a foul, which the judges allowed. The purses were awarded as follows: Maxie Cobb, $150; Golden Rule, $75; Dexter D., $45; Mila C., $30. The driver of the latter horse entered a protest against the decision, which will be considered to-day.

THE RUNNING RACE had four entries: Sal, b. m., F. Stewart, Bellevue, Neb.; owner, Boston on the Table, b. g., J. D. Phelps, Mo.; owner, Governess, a. m., J. W. Jacobs, Moberly, Mo.; Barney King, ch. s., W. C. Ross, Shenandoah, Iowa. It required a number of trials to get the horses off in any sort of shape, and the start was at last a poor one. Boston on the Table showed his legs to the others on the first half mile, but on the three-quarters Governoress did some splendid running, and both came flying down the home stretch neck and neck. It was impossible to tell which would win. As they went under the wire each horse was cheered as the victor by its friends. The judges were unable to decide, and declared it a dead heat. One of the horses suffered a slight injury in making a turn, and it was therefore decided to divide the first and second purses between them, Barney King taking third money, and Sal fourth.

THE SPEED OFFICERS are Col. W. C. Royal, superintendent; Col. J. J. Snodgrass, Iowa; J. S. McCleary, of Norfolk, Neb.; D. H. Wheeler, judges; Dr. J. P. Peck, Capt. Thomas, timers.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT, for which additional power was provided during the afternoon, about 7 o'clock flashed into a brilliant reality. The six lamps on the tall mast became a body of scintillating rays, and a hearty cheer came up from a thousand throats as the expectant lookers realized the full success of this great undertaking. To describe the light is unnecessary, and it needs to be seen to be appreciated. Suffice it to say that everything on the grounds became brightly visible.

The central lantern in power hall and in merchant hall were lighted. All three illuminated everything within their rays as light a day. The electric machine was found, upon inquiry, to be running from power furnished by twelve horse power J. I. Case engine, from Wisconsin, which is in exhibition on the grounds. This fact demonstrates the ineffectiveness of the engine used to propel the machinery in power hall, for which twenty horse power is claimed, and shows that, with the power asked for, fourteen horses the light can fulfill all that is claimed for it. To-day another engine will be attached, and there will be no further trouble. If there is a well satisfied man in the band, it is Secretary McBride, and he certainly should be. All that the electric light needs now is appreciation.

The races announced for last evening were postponed on account of the concert by the Glee club, who were present to sing, was also deferred till to-night. Now that the light is an assured and demonstrated success, no one need miss the rare attractions to be presented beneath its sunlike rays.

TWO THOUSAND ENTRIES. The prediction of THE BEE Monday morning that the entries by Tuesday noon would reach 2,000 was nearly verified. They came in very fast during the forenoon and when the books closed showed the creditable number of 1,934. As some of the entries were lumped together, as it were, and a number of a class made as one, the real number will doubtless exceed the two thousand predicted. The following are the total entries by classes:

Fair Notes. The board are considering the feasibility of opening another free-for-all class for both trotters and pacers to take place Thursday evening.

A dispute between the guards at the gate and one of the hackdrivers about six o'clock last evening resulted in the driver, named Marcus Cornish, being arrested. In the tussle Cornish received a severe cut on the head from a cane in the hands of one of the guards. Cornish resides at Caldwell and King streets. No definite information is regarded to be claimed that the guard was needlessly severe.

Mr. Jacobs, manager of Mrs. Burke, concluded an arrangement with the board yesterday, and Omaha's favorite equestrienne, the champion of the United States, will appear on Thursday afternoon and Saturday evening. She will ride on Thursday to beat her record of 22:30 for ten miles, and on Saturday evening to beat the time made Thursday. The purse in each instance will be $1,000. In offering $2,000 to secure Mrs. Burke for these two exhibitions the state board both show their appreciation of Nebraska talent, and will without doubt make a good investment. Mrs. Burke has achieved so many feats in this line of late, that she is the biggest kind of a card.

Rebuilding the Burned District. The residences that were burned down by the fire of two weeks ago on Thirteenth street will probably all be replaced by brick business buildings. Mrs. Hilliger is already having a foundation excavated for a three-story brick building. Mr. Hollman has purchased the property on Thirteenth and Dodge streets, formerly owned by Edward Ainsworth. He will build brick stores on the site as well as on the adjoining lot on Dodge street. J. G. Chapman intends to erect brick store buildings in place of those destroyed, but will not commence on them until late in the season.

Corlies Engine Co., Providence, R. I. Mr. Jeremiah Miller, foreman of this vast enterprise, writes as follows: I suffered for a long time with severe pains in the knee, at times being scarcely able to move. I tried medicines of all kinds but nothing would benefit me. Happening to think of St. Jacobs Oil, I used it with faint hope, however, that it would benefit me. What was my surprise to find, after a few applications, that the pain had ceased; and in a few days I was entirely cured.
