The rear end of the district court house has been adorned with a new porch and fair of steps. Prof. W. J. Anders Dancing School begins October 4. See advertisement in another column. Most elegant new styles of Hats, at the Omaha Purrier, Henry G. Richter, 15th street, opp. postoffice. To the farmers don't forget to call and see Doane's fine lot of hats and caps at 218, 14th street. Nindel & Krells, Practical Hatters. We sell hats and caps cheaper than anybody else. You will find it to your advantage to give us a call. sept13-14 The front of Boyd's opera house was being thoroughly cleaned yesterday, and the mortar in the space between the bricks painted black. Doane, the reliable hatter wants to see you all to-day, giving away hats and caps at Doane's, remember 218, 14th street. I. G. Parker, who was so badly injured by a fall from a three story house, striking on a paling fence a few weeks since, is now so far recovered as to be able to walk about in his room. Fifteen hundred and twenty-five cars of the stock have passed over the U. P. railway from various points in Montana, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska from the 1st to the 20th of this month. Frank J. Range has issued his fall and winter fashion plate, the subject being Garfield and his cabinet. The photograph which is a beautiful work of art possesses a sad significance, and will doubtless be treasured as a memento. The trial of the liquor cases in the county court has been postponed for thirty days. All of the evening trains from the east arrived on time last night, except the Rock Island, which was three hours late. The friends of Pat Hickey, a jolly son of Erin, are congratulating him. It is a boncer and weighs eleven pounds. McCormick is remodeling his building. When completed it will have a plate-glass front. It is one of the oldest, if not the oldest brick building in Omaha. Mayor Boyd says he has looked up the law on the subject and finds that the council committee on fire and fire apparatus really have no control whatever over the fire department. That portion of Twelfth street familiarly known as the "half acre," is enjoying a period of unwonted quiet. No fight has disturbed its peace for several nights. The west bound U. P. train was three hours late in leaving yesterday, owing to a like delay in the C., B. & Q. train from Chicago. The "Q" started from Chicago with fourteen cars, on all of which had been placed the automatic brakes instead of air brakes. Through lack of knowledge of the brakes they became set on one of the special cars which had to come through and it required some time to loosen them. "The Revere House Council Bluffs is the best second-class hotel in the west." aug17-1m Stealing Lumber. For some time past Foster & Gray have been missing lumber from their yards on the bottoms. The thefts were so numerous that a trap was set to catch the depredators. This resulted in the arrest of a man named William Rebel, who was taken before Judge Bencke yesterday. Rebel pleaded guilty to the charge, but it was proven that he was a poor man with a large family, who had been but a short time in the country. He had seen other people carry away the lumber and thought it was no harm for him to do the same. He was sentenced to make restitution in double the amount, and to pay a fine of $10 and cost. A Lady Hurt. A singular accident happened yesterday a few miles west of Omaha. Mrs. Kestener, who lives about six miles from town, was coming towards the city in a buggy. A steer in a lot adjoining the roadside came rushing against the fence, forcing his way through and made for the buggy. The horse, frightened by the steer, stopped and reared, allowing the brute to upset the wagon. Mrs. Kestener was thrown from it and struck on her head, rendering her unconscious. The steer, as though satisfied with what it had done, walked leisurely back to the field. A gentleman driving past seized the horse and prevented its running away. The lady was supposed to be seriously injured and was taken into a house near by and a message sent for a physician. Before his arrival she recovered consciousness and it was found that she was only slightly bruised. The buggy was straightened up and the lady drove home. In all seriousness we advise the apostles of temperance to advocate the use of "Conrad's Budweiser." Ask your physician. Hubermann for watch work.

RAILROAD MAGNATES.

Investigating Fires. A special committee, appointed by the city council, of which Mayor Boyd is chairman, met in the city clerk's office last evening for the purpose of hearing any charges that might be made against Chief Galligan of the fire department. The only gentleman who appeared before the committee was Hon. C. K. Countant, who gave a brief account of several recent fires and expressed the opinion that the city was to blame for not having completely extinguished the remaining members so that no other fires might be started by them. There were no charges of any kind brought against Chief Galligan on account of his action at the recent fires. The committee decided to take no steps and instructed the city clerk to advertise the fact that another meeting will be held for the same purpose on Wednesday evening. MEMORIAL SERVICES. Arrangements Made for Them By the Citizen's Committee. A meeting of the committee of citizens appointed to perfect arrangements for a public demonstration in this city on the occasion of President Garfield's funeral, met last evening in General Manderson's office. There were present, General Manderson, the chairman, Judge Savage, A. N. Ferguson, C. E. Yost, Hon. J. I. Redick, P. P. Shelby, Col. C. S. Chase, Judge Cowin and J. H. Millard were absent. The services of the Musical Union orchestra were tendered for the occasion by Julius Meyer, and of the Omaha Glee Club by John R. Manchester. Both were accepted, after which the following program was decided upon: ORDER FOR THE DAY. From 1 to 2 p. m., tolling of all church and fire bells in the city, and gathering of the people at the Academy of Music exercises as follows: 1. Dirge by Musical Union Orchestra. 2. Reading of Governor's proclamation. 3. General address. 4. Invocation by Rev. A. F. Sherrill. 5. Hymn by Omaha Glee Club. 6. Prayer by Rev. J. W. Harris. 7. Music by Musical Union Orchestra. 8. Address by Rev. R. H. Clarkson. 9. Hymn by Omaha Glee Club. 10. Address by Rev. J. W. Ingram. 11. Music (not reviewed). 12. Address by Rev. W. J. Harsh. 13. Address by Rev. W. E. Copeland. 14. Hymn by Omaha Glee Club. 15. Benediction by Rev. J. B. Maxwell. 16. Funeral March by Musical Union Orchestra, during which the audience will disperse. On recommendation of Col. C. S. Chase the following was adopted: The committee call special attention to the governor's proclamation in regard to closing places of business on the day set apart for the public observance of President Garfield, and respectfully request that all business houses be closed at least from the time the bells began to toll until the memorial services have concluded. The committee adjourned after deciding that Gen. Manderson and Mr. Ferguson make all further preliminary preparations. The Wabash Disaster Victims. A gentleman from Shenandoah, Ia., near which place the accident on the Wabash road occurred two weeks ago, which killed one person and injured twenty-eight, stated that four or five of the wounded persons are liable to die. Among those who are in a critical condition are three members of the Foley family, from Missouri; Miss Kearns, a lady from the northern part of Ireland, who was on route to California to meet her brother; and Miss Mack, who has a brother in the employ of the C. B. & Q. road at Hastings. A SUIT In Which Side Issues Were Most Entertaining. There was quite an entertaining suit tried yesterday afternoon before Justice Brandes. It appears that Barney Shannon owns a house near the corner of Eleventh and Davenport streets. This house has been occupied for some time by Will H. Riley. During the past two months it is claimed by Shannon that Riley has paid no rent, and he therefore brought suit to cover the amount due him. The attorney for Riley began to chaff Shannon, who retaliated by giving as good as he received. Riley joined in and a triangular war of words was begun, in which the parties to the suit made some disagreeable observations about each other. Shannon at length applied a very ugly epithet to Riley, who retorted that he had kept Shannon from going to jail a few years ago. Shannon replied that Riley inverted the truth, and while the justice took the case under advisement the audience adjourned to the sidewalk to listen to the two men swap compliments. The personal contest was finally settled before the parties came to blows. Slight Fire. A few minutes after noon to-day a small flame kitchen in the rear of an unoccupied frame house near the corner of Fourteenth and Harney streets was discovered to be on fire. The department were on the scene in a jiffy and for the first time attached their hose to the fire hydrants. Two fire streams were thus secured, and notwithstanding that the building was a perfect tinder-box, the fire was doused out of existence in no time. The building belongs to Tom Murray, and is adjacent to the old curio shop. The damage to the building is a great deal less than nominal for the entire structure is a worthless affair. Chief of police of Philadelphia, Pa., Samuel H. Given, Esq., says he used St. Jacobs Oil in his family for various painful ailments, with excellent results. He has also heard from many who have used it for rheumatism, that it alone of all remedies did them good.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

A Former Omaha Man in a Western Jail. News comes from Wyoming territory that Peter Ashley, a former employe of the Union Pacific railroad and a resident of this city, has been arrested on charge of shooting a man fatally in a melee. Before Ashley left this city he was charged, through the columns of the papers, with complicity in the death of a woman who he represented as his wife, who died under peculiar circumstances. A girl was taken to a hotel on Tenth street by Ashley and introduced as his sister. She procured work there, Ashley boarding at the same place. During her stay there she received a number of letters addressed to Miss Annie Ashley. Her services not proving adequate she was discharged, and Ashley left at almost the same time. The next heard from them was that Ashley and she were living, as brother and sister still, in a house on Fourth street. As their relations there excited some comment, the owner of the house, Mr. Riley, requested them to leave, and they did so, moving into a few rooms in a house on the corner of Tenth street and Capital avenue, nearly opposite where the girl had first found work. Here Ashley and she lived as man and wife, and he told, in explanation of this new relation, that his wife had left her people in Indiana without their consent and that she took his name as his sister, to cover up her identity. He afterwards said that she came from Missouri and related an entirely different story. In June last the woman died under suspicious circumstances. Before her death she admitted to a friend that she had attempted malpractice upon herself, and when asked as to Ashley's knowledge of the matter, said that he was on 14, and was not to blame. These facts induced a reporter to publish the affair, making an inference as to Ashley's connection with the crime, and asking the question regarding the relationship between the two. No investigation was entered into, and the woman was buried. Ashley at the time threatened to make it warm for the newspaper giving publicity to the affair, but instead disappeared, and had not been heard of until the report that he had become involved in a fatal encounter. Sowing and Reaping. When a young lady hears handkerchiefs for a rich bachelor, she says that she may reap. When seeds of disease are planted through over-indulgence, you can prevent the use of a better kind of seed by using Spring Blossom. Price 50 cents; retail bottles 10 cents. sept10-14 PERSONAL Mrs. Sigel and Mrs. Springer, of Baltimore, are registered at the Withnell. D. H. Boughton, 3d U. S. cavalry, is in town. C. E. Hoar, from San Buenaventura, Cal., is visiting in Omaha for a few days. F. M. Linehan and wife left yesterday for Clarion, Iowa. Gideon Baxter, traveling agent for the Vandalla, is in the city. Mrs. M. C. Hamilton and Mrs. Fred Davis returned home from the east yesterday. Geo. F. Linehan, for some time past, an operator in the Telephone Exchange, left yesterday for Ackley, Iowa. Hon. L. B. McCormick, of Wausau, Minn., is in the city, staying at the Withnell. John A. Creighton and wife returned last evening from an extended trip throughout the western country. N. J. Edholm and wife, and Mrs. J. R. House left for St. Louis last evening over the Wabash. Senator Saunders and wife left yesterday for Cleveland, O., where they will meet the presidential funeral cortege and attend the ceremonies. Mrs. Saunders is an especial friend of Mrs. Garfield. H. E. Barnard, attorney for the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance company, is in the city reviewing the claims which have been presented against that company in this state. Several important suits have arisen, which will be tried at the next session of the United States court, Nov. 14. Jesse Blackburn, of Lincoln, is at the Creighton. W. Hayden and wife, of Chicago, are staying at the Withnell. George Berry, of O'Neil City, a stage route contractor, is in town. Col. Martin, of General Crook's staff, arrived from the west yesterday. Will Connelly, an artist, of Shenandoah, Ia., is in Omaha, visiting his brother, P. Connelly. Senator Saunders and wife left for Cleveland yesterday afternoon to attend President Garfield's funeral. "A quiet wedding at West Point, Neb., brought two guests to the Creighton house to-day, H. D. Calland and wife. Mrs. M. Donovan has been lying seriously ill for some time past at the Creighton house. The lady is now in a fair way to recover. Sir Samuel Baker, the renowned African explorer, was on board the arriving overland train yesterday. He was accompanied by his wife, with whom he has been making an extended western tour. The following are registered at the Withnell: Mrs. J. T. Tkoelke, of Sidney; Lieut. O. H. Boughton, of the United States army; G. A. Seairight, of Cheyenne; W. S. Smith, wife and son, of Oakdale; J. H. Allen, of Denver. W. E. Phelps and wife, Mrs. J. P. Vincent and daughter May, and Miss Harrisworth, all of Sioux City, are at the Creighton house. Vincent & Phelps are the contractors for the railroad work in progress between this city and Blair. The following are registered at the Metropolitan: F. W. Dick, of North Platte; P. C. Carpenter, of Des Moines; L. H. Cooley, of Farmington; Thos. Price, of Lincoln; and Rev. R. Cook, of Jessup, Ia. The latter gentleman is a commercial traveler, and at the same time a preacher of some note.

HOSPITAL ADDITION.

Committee appointed to solicit subscriptions for the addition to St. Joseph's hospital met at Judge Woodworth's office last night. They had been waiting to learn how much the different railroads would contribute before appealing to the people. The sum required is $10,000. They decided last night to begin at once and solicit subscriptions. Over $2,000 was contributed by the members of the committee, speaking for themselves and for others who had authorized them. The following gentlemen were present at the meeting: Judge Woodworth, Frank Murphy, W. A. L. Gibson, J. P. English, Webster Snyder, Vincent Burkley, E. B. Chandler, Wm. Bushman, John McCrea and J. L. Webster. GOOD-BYE MY LOVER. Good-Bye, Fang Mrs. Louis Lewis, as She Left Him Behind. On Wednesday morning a man rushed into one of the stores on South Tenth street, and excitedly hauled off his coat. The proprietor of the place went down under the counter for a revolver, thinking that it meant fight. "How much'll you give me on this?" asked the excited individual. He was referred to a pawnshop and there he "put it in" for $2, and, in his shirt sleeves rushed for the outgoing B. & M. train. This somewhat remarkable action might have arisen from an ordinary cause, but in this instance it didn't. Enquiry revealed the fact that the individual with the coat to sell was a deserted husband, or a fooled lothario, it being impossible to tell which. It appears that he went to the Germania house two or three days ago with a woman, registering as Louis Lewis and wife. He was seen to give an amount of money to his companion on Tuesday, after which he disappeared, she remaining at the hotel. Both had been drinking, and Lewis became hopelessly bewildered when he was out of his sight, so that he was taken in by the police. During his absence in the afternoon the woman formed the acquaintance of a young fellow staying at the house, and it soon evidently became a case in which she thought: "How happy could I be with either. Were I either dearer away." Night came Lewis didn't show up. By morning he hadn't yet put in an appearance. Then it was that his better self arose, realizing that what he had done was a desperate business, concluded to accept the underpayments of the other chap, and fly with him. Accordingly the woman paid her bill and the pair left, taking the 8:35 B. & M. train. There is no telling what may happen when Lewis meets the couple. OMAHA MEDICAL COLLEGE. Full session begins Oct. 10, 1881. Address, G. B. AYRES, M. D., Sec. TERRIBLY OVERWORKED. The Hospital Sisters Who Can Take no Rest. There are 27 patients at St. Joseph's Hospital, and every day there are several applications for beds, which owing to the lack of room, have to be refused. The Sisters in charge have been working night and day. Dr. Paul Grossman informed THE BEE reporter that a short time since not one of the sisters dressed for nine days. Overtaxed nature has at last rebelled. The sister in charge of the drug department is sick with the typhus fever, and Mrs. Schroter, of Schroter & Becht, now visits the hospital each day and puts up the prescriptions for them. One other sister, who is a very efficient nurse, is also sick with the same fever, and the brother of the Sister Superior is also down with the same complaint. A few days since a telegram was sent to Lafayette, Indiana, asking that if possible two sisters be sent here. An answer was received to-day saying that they would leave immediately and would reach here as soon as possible. One of the sisters will take charge of the drug department. It would not be out of place here to say that the physicians having charge of the hospital speak very highly of the sisters and give them credit for very excellent work. By all the patients they are regarded with great affection. GLORY ENOUGH. THE WHITE SEWING MACHINE AGAIN VICTORIOUS. No diplomas or premiums awarded, but the universal verdict of the people is that the White is the best machine on exhibition. The work done and the samples shown were wonderful, and to hear the exclamations of hundreds of ladies, "I have a White and would not exchange it for any machine made," was very gratifying to the exhibitors. The White has the largest sale, gives the best satisfaction, and is the easiest selling machine made. We cordially invite everybody to examine the White before buying, as guarantee perfect satisfaction in all cases. Soliciting a large share of your patronage and thanking you for past favors, I am Respectfully yours, JOHN ZIEHRING, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in White Machines, Omaha, Neb. Hunt at the Cathedral. At 8 o'clock yesterday while the workmen engaged on Trinity cathedral were raising one of the large window frames on the north front of the building into position on the wall, the derrick broke and the frame was hurled vertically against the scaffold on which three carpenters were working. The timber struck a workman on the forehead knocking him down and bruising him severely but not dangerously on the head. A trial package of "BLACK-DRAUGHT" free of charge.

TRAVELING IN SPECIAL CARS BOTH EAST AND WEST.

President Villard of the Northern Pacific and a Distinguished Party. Yesterday was a big one in the way of special coaches and railroad magnates. Attached to the C., B. & Q. express train from Chicago, which arrived at 2 o'clock p. m., were two special coaches—Pullman's private drawing room and hotel car, and the "Belgie," a dining car. As may be surmised, these cars held some distinguished occupants. At the head of the party was HENRY VILLARD, president of the Northern Pacific road, and recently elected president of the Oregon Transcontinental Transportation company. This latter company has been formed through Mr. Villard's efforts and has for its object the construction and connection of a through line from New York to Portland, Oregon, and thence by steamer to various points all further west. THE PARTY. The other members of the party were: Capt. H. H. Goringe, the man who brought the obelisk from Egypt for Wm. H. Vanderhill; Privy Councilor and Secretary of State Herzog, of Berlin—the dignitary second only to Bismarck in the German empire; Herr Enthausen, a wealthy Calcutta merchant; Julius Henri Browne, the famous correspondent and writer; H. J. Wisner, late consul of the United States at Coburg, Germany; William Lloyd Garrison, son of the lamented anti-slavery leader, N. P. Halliwell and Charles Fairchild, of Boston; S. G. Reed, of Portland, Oregon; H. H. Tyndale, J. C. Henderson, C. F. McKim and Gen. H. L. Burnett, capitalists of New York; A. L. Stokes and Wm. W. Bates, of Chicago, and C. H. Spofford, President Villard's private secretary. THE PARTY CONTINUED. The party came directly from New York city, where the foreign gentlemen arrived about two weeks ago. Their tour is one of observation, which has as its purpose the construction of first, the Northern Pacific road through to the coast; and second, the building of numerous branch lines. President Villard was very brusque when approached by the reporter of THE BEE and, as was expected, gave little information regarding the great enterprise, of which he is the head. He is a large man, with military mustache, and is somewhat inclined to corpulence. He has risen to the presidency of the Northern Pacific road from a humble start, having been at one time AN OBSCURE REPORTER, on a still more obscure paper. The war found him correspondent at the front, after which he commenced a dabble in Wall street affairs and rapidly rose to financial power. It was learned, in a brief interview, that the new Transcontinental company, of which many of the gentlemen of the party were stockholders, proposed to build a thousand miles of branch roads from the main line within the next year. The total amount of road in operation now, including 207 miles of coast branches, is 1,005 miles. The main line is to be extended to Portland as soon as possible. This will give a through connection from New York. The estimated earnings of the whole are placed by the vice-president of the road, T. D. Oates, at $14,725,000 annually. GOING EASTWARD attached to the overland train from Ogden yesterday afternoon was the special car "California," from the Central Pacific road. It contained the San Francisco millionaire, D. O. Mills, president of the Bank of California. He is also one of the directors of the Chicago & North Western road. Mr. Mills was accompanied by his family, with whom he will spend the winter in New York city. Resolution of Regret. At the regular meeting of the land league last night the following was passed: Our chief is dead, stricken down in the prime of life, and in the meridian of his usefulness. The nation mourns its chief magistrate, President James A. Garfield. Therefore, RESOLVED, That the Irish National Land League of Omaha, feels the universal sorrow which pervades the land. The dark cloud of the nation's grief hangs over us. Standing in spirit before the bier of our distinguished and beloved president, we grieve for the irreparable loss sustained by this great nation. RESOLVED, That while we offer our sympathy to the aged mother, and relatives of the distinguished dead, we also feel ourselves indebted to that mother who gave such a son to the republic, great in the forum; great in the field and great as chief magistrate, he has at last earned a martyr's crown. A Big Job. Sergeant Day, and his assistant, Mr. D. B. Nason, have a big contract on their hands. From the establishment of the signal service station in this city in 1871 to 1880 the data which had been sent on to Washington was imperfect and insufficient. It now becomes necessary that the whole work for that time be reviewed and a corrected data be obtained. It will occupy the time of the gentlemen in the office, six hours daily, nineteen months to complete the review. A Mangled Leg. A man was brought to St. Joseph's hospital yesterday suffering from an injury sustained by being run over by a car. He was walking on the railroad track and on the approach of a train attempted to step to one side. His foot catching in the ties he fell, one leg lying on the track from the ankle to the knee. The car passed over it crushing it horribly. There is a faint chance of his recovering the use of his leg. "BLACK-DRAUGHT" cures constiveness and Sick-Headache. At C. F. Goodman. Hubermann for watch work.
