For the accommodation of our up-town patrons arrangements have been made with Edholm & Erickson, jewelers, opposite the post office, where advertisements and orders for the city delivery of The Bee will be received. Advertisements for the evening must be handed in before 1:30 p. m., for the morning edition before 8:30 p. m.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

- Patterson sells coal. - Frederick Leading Hatter. - Doane, Reliable Hatter. - Fine pocket knives at Kuhn's. - Gloves at the 40 cent store. - Ladies Hand Bags at the 99 cent store. - Night School at the Business College. - Owl Cigars at Kuhn's Drug Store. - The streets are drying up very rapidly. - Wild game of all kinds surfeits the market. - The brick basement under the Corzans house is being rapidly constructed. - All those nob's Hats and Bonnets come from Atkinson & Co. - The Zither Club concert at Boyd's will occur Nov. 3d. - There will be a game of base ball on Saturday next, weather permitting. - The club hunt of the O. W. S. club will probably come off this week. - The Lion continues to roar for Moore's Harnes and Saddlery. - For Fine Commercial Job Printing, call at THE BEE Job Rooms. - Short Hand taught at Business College. - County court for October closed Monday. - Oysters on half shell at Richards Restaurant. - Go to Atkinson & Co.'s for Opera Hats, Bonnets and Kid Gloves. An immense stock to select from. - The mail box at the corner of Jackson and 12th street was broken open and robbed Monday night. - A heavy fog, followed by a deep blue haze, enveloped the city all forenoon yesterday. - Six new members united with the 18th street M. E. church at their quarterly meeting on Sunday. - The thermometer at Max Meyer & Bros. stood marked 60 at noon yesterday, the highest temperature since the 11th, with a single exception. - A workman at the new Union elevator, named Peterson, caught one of his hands between two pulleys Monday. The hand was badly crushed, but amputation was not necessary. - Max Meyer's illuminated clock can be appreciated by those whose duties keep them on the streets during the long night hours as well as by the belated pedestrian. It is good company when no one else is around. - The Western Newspaper Union, which was burned out some time since, is now on its legs again. It is in the new brick block, corner 12th and Howard streets, and patrons can now be supplied directly from the home office. - The railroad boys are after Jerry Quinn, the good-natured conductor of the K. C. St. Joe & C. B. road, on the subject of his recent alleged address in St. Joe in the Land League hall. They claim that Jerry was the victim of a cruel joke, and after preparing an elaborate address on the wrong of Ireland, he was treated to the "cold shake" in the city mentioned. - Wm. Hagelorn has at his stable in the rear of the Palace Market, on 15th street, a fine pair of elk, male and female, aged four and three years respectively. The latter is as tame as a horse and loves to be petted. Mr. H. does not know whether he will kill or sell the pair, but will try hard to do the latter so as to save the life of the tame beast, which he cannot bear to take. - The public will recall the death of Hesperia Cory, which occurred under suspicious circumstances some months ago. The post mortem failed to develop anything but stomach gas and with the residue of the medicine given her during her fatal illness was yesterday expressed by her father to Walter S. Haines, M. D., of Rush medical college, at Chicago, for analysis. - The Withnell Bros. have at present about 900,000 to 1,000,000 brick on hand the most of which is contracted for. They calculate that this will be sufficient to keep them going until the new brick burning season next spring, and will burn no more this season. If the other brick contractors have not a larger margin to go on it is possible that there may be a scarcity of brick for building purposes before spring. - One hundred and fifty-nine beautiful residence lots, located on Hamilton street, half way between the turn table of the ed street car line and the waterworks reservoir and addition, and just west of the convent of the Sisters Poor Claire in Shinn's addition. Prices range from $75 to $110 each, and will be sold on easy terms to those who will improve. Bemis real estate agency, Fifteenth and Douglas streets.

THE FOUR COURTS.

The Western Detective Agency Gets in Its Work Again.

Found Guilty of Forgery and Held for Perjury.

The United States Jurors for the November Term.

The County Court Docket Closed.

P. H. Garrigan, who was convicted last week of embezzling funds belonging to the Omaha office of the Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine company, was on trial Monday on the charge of forgery, the facts, according to the testimony elicited by the state being as follows: In June last Garrigan sold to one Ernest Reinke, a sewing machine, for the sum of $35, a portion of the money being paid at the time and Reinke signing a release on the machine as security for the remainder, which was to be paid in monthly instalments. Garrigan, however, reported this sale to the Omaha agent of the company, Sidney Smith, Esq., as having been made at $29 instead of $35, and turned over to him a lease duly filled out on one of the company's blanks and showing the $29 to have been the amount, to which lease the name of E. Reinke was affixed. Mr. Smith testified that he objected at the time to the machine having been sold for so small a sum, and Garrigan having left the country some two weeks later, taking with him, as Smith alleged, considerable money belonging to the company, the suspicion of Smith as to the truthfulness of Garrigan's statements regarding the sale to Reinke were aroused and he visited the latter to ascertain the facts and was then informed that Garrigan had received $36 for the machine—including the deferred payments, all of which were met, as they became due, Garrigan thus pocketing the difference of $6, according to the testimony for the state. The lease, purporting to be a forgery was shown to Reinke on the witness stand and he testified positively that that was not his signature, and that he had never authorized any one to sign his name to the paper. Garrigan's defense was that the machine was sold for $29 on account of its being an inferior one and that he had been directed by Reinke to sign his name to the lease by reason of the latter being engaged at the time the lease was presented for his signature, in waiting upon the table at a restaurant of which he is proprietor. The jury, after remaining out all night, yesterday morning brought in a sealed verdict of "guilty." The defendant's counsel at once gave notice that they would demand a new trial. The penalty of forgery is not less than one year's imprisonment and a fine not exceeding $500.

The state was assisted in this prosecution by C. J. Greene, Esq., in a most effective and satisfactory manner, the defendant being ably represented by Smythe and Stull. There was probably never a case in the district court in which the defendants made a harder fight than in these two cases, contesting every point to the last, only to be met everywhere by the prosecution equally ready to answer their defense. The Sewing Machine Company has prosecuted the accused with unusual vigor and determination and the work done by the western detective association has been highly creditable to the Superintendent, J. J. Neligh, and his force, the result of whose efficient services has been a conviction in both cases against the principal while one witness is bound over to answer to the charges of perjury, and others will, we understand, be indicted before the chain is complete. Max Reese was arraigned on an indictment for robbing a man named Thos. Kendall, some time ago. The testimony for the State was all in yesterday morning and the defense presenting its testimony. The jury went out about an hour and returned a verdict of not guilty.

The trial of Al. Stitts, charged with stabbing his brother H. Stitts, on the 10th of June last, was commenced yesterday afternoon. The injured man Henry Stitts, was in court and was the first witness sworn. He was unable to testify as to who struck him with the knife. POLICE COURT. In the police court yesterday morning three plain drunks were assessed $10 and costs each. A female who became boisterous from too much budget and was landed in the calaboose Monday evening paid her fine and went away rejoicing. Thos. P. Stitts was also before Judge Benke on a charge of perjury; the alleged offense having been committed on the trial of P. H. Garrigan for embezzlement, last week. Scott had testified that on a certain occasion he was present at the Omaha office of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company, and saw Garrigan pay to Smith, the agent, $25 in money, which he had collected that day in Papillon on account of money due the company from Mr. Knapp, the U. P. agent at Papillon. It was claimed that Scott was not present at the time referred to, and he was arrested on a complaint of forgery before he had completed his testimony in the district court. The hearing of this case was set for a. m. yesterday in the police court, but at that hour the prisoner waived examination and was bound over to the next term of the district court. The case against Ferd. Schroeder, the barber who has been bucking the Sunday closing committee, came up before Judge Benke Monday afternoon. Much difficulty was experienced in getting a jury, five of the six summoned on the venire responding to the question if they could give the prisoner a fair and impartial trial. "Yes, I will find him not guilty." Eighteen men were summoned before the jury of six could be filled. The prosecution made the mistake of recalling one of their witnesses when about half through, and the defense taking advantage of this, which compels the side so acting
