Arraignment of Five Councilmen on Charge of Malfeasance.

TO BE REMEMBERED.

The article was put in that out of the way place, supposing that some folks here wouldn't observe it, and that other papers in the district would see and copy this article. It of course sounds ludicrous to the friends of Col. Sapp and Eli Clayton, as every school boy in the district knows that the colonel did all in his power for Mr. Clayton, even going into the court into the court into the colonel did all in his power for Mr. Clayton, even going idently fishing for something.

The case of the "Big Four" was called promptly at 2 o'clock in Judge Reed's court yesterday afternoon. OUGHT TO BE LOOKED AFTER. It seems to us as if the firm of S. I. & S. J. Hopkins, who left Omaha and established their business are deserving of some little consideration at the hands of our street supervisor. Their shop is located on Tenth street off of Broadway and there is a mud hole in the street directly in front of them so large and deep that they are almost compelled to suspend business, some teams should be put to work immediately filling up this quagmire.
The travel upon the street at the present time is obliged to take the sidewalk, and teams running over a brick or atone or even a wooden walk will in a short time damage it more than the cost of filling up a mud hole.

SERIOUS ALTERCATION. There was an altercation between A. J. and F. H. Plumer and Henry Schoening Tuesday evening, in Max Mohn's hotel, on South Fifteenth street, resulting in quite a serious in-jury to one of the participants, Henry Schoening, one of the Plumers in the melee having kicked his leg and broken it above the ankle. The trouble began between A. J. Plumer and Schoening, and grew out of an old feud between the father of the Plumer boys and Schoening. The Plumers were arrested and held in $500 for their Abbott for an assault made on Schoening with intent to commit great bodily injury. The hearing is set for Wednesday, November 9. Henry Schoening, who had his leg broken in a fight with the Plumer boys Tuesday, is confined at Max Mohn's hotel, on South Fifteenth street. Dr. Pinney is attending him.

PERSONAL AND MISCELLANEOUS. Professor Edwin Southwick, of the deaf and dumb asylum, has purchased of P. J. Hennesey three lots on the corner of Seventh street and Seventh avenue upon which he intends to erect a large brick residence.

The dramatic society will meet this evening in Justice Abbott's office on Broadway, over the Central Billiard hall. All interested in the drama are requested to attend.

The Congregational society sociable will be entertained at the residence of A. B. Walker, on the corner of Marcy and Ramsey streets. A general invitation is extended. A stalwart was asked the other day
