

COUNCIL BLUFFS. Importance of the Work of the Board of Trade. A Neatly Played and Successful Confidence Game. Interesting Police News and Personal Mention.

Although the Council Bluffs board of trade is in its infancy it is being felt all over the country. The vast number who congregated recently in mass convention at St. Louis, representing nearly the entire union, was the outgrowth of the convention which assembled in this city last June in the interest of the improvement of the great national highway, the Missouri river, and the idea of calling a large line convention here originated with our board of trade.

The old familiar game that three can play at was played again in this city Tuesday evening. A man who lives somewhere near Creston on the C., B. & Q. road, who came to this city last Tuesday, was the victim of the old worn out confidence game. A well dressed gentleman who claimed to be traveling agent for one of our wholesale houses boarded the train and took a seat beside his victim. They conversed together freely. The young man seeming to be well acquainted with all the leading wholesale houses in this city.

George F. Wright, Thomas Bowman and M. F. Rober, three well known citizens are about to start a storage and general commission business in the large room recently vacated by the Melvra wagon company on Pearl street. They left the saloon and started down towards the Reverse House when at the corner of Broadway and Pearl street they met a creditor of the young man who was very anxious to be paid twelve dollars that young man Nor I had borrowed when he started out on his last trip.

Colonel W. F. Sapp left Council Bluffs for Washington yesterday morning. He has it that his mission is to assist Kasson to the speakership of the house of representatives. Judge W. C. James, one of our wealthy and honored citizens, leaves this morning on an extended western trip. It is his intention to go into winter quarters at Tucson, Pima county, the capital of Arizona territory, where they usually have a very mild winter. The judge hopes to return in the spring in time to assist in getting a mayor for our first class city.

There was quite a disturbance down at the California house Tuesday, and about midnight somebody went out of doors pretty lively. David Martinson, about fifteen years old, son of Peter Martinson, who had recently got employment on the railroad at Weston, while in a wrestling match, got his arm broken. This is doubly sad, as the Martinson family are not in a condition to spare what little pecuniary assistance they derive from this source. The father of the lad it will be remembered about a year ago was run over by the Rock Island, receiving such an injury to one of his limbs as to necessitate amputation. Since then he has been obliged to be helped some by the county.

There was an unusually "big injun" arrived in our city yesterday with quite a number of little "injuns." They took the centre of the street, ignoring altogether such improvements as sidewalks. They marched in true Indian style, each one carrying well filled snaks lashed to their backs. Where they were going or what their special mission was we failed to learn, as they refused to be interviewed.

It is rumored on our streets that there was a grand "shirt-tail" dance at one of our saloons last Saturday night, in which one of our city officers figured quite conspicuously. For further particulars we refer to the man who fingered the instrument which furnished the music.

There was a smash-up on our streets yesterday, and a couple of buggies got pretty badly crippled. The two men arrested by Officer Sterling on suspicion that they had been in some way connected with stealing a pair of pants, have been discharged, there being no evidence against them.

Major Lyman, who has recently returned from Chicago, says that one day during his sojourn in the western metropolis was the most disagreeable he ever experienced. There it was stormy, and the wind blowing in off Lake Michigan made him wish he was at home in the Bluffs.

The center of attraction at the Baptist sociable the other evening was a diminutive figure of Mayor Vaughan sitting into a Herdic coach. After this specimen of Council Bluffs enterprise had been exhibited to the party present, W. M. Bushnell purchased the mayor and herdic for $5.

Judge Burke's court was engaged yesterday in disposing of the effects left in custody of the court as security for non-paid fines. The proceeds will first be applied in paying off the officers and the balance turned into the city treasury.

There has been some complaint recently about the non-delivery of mail matter at our postoffice. Anyone not getting their mail from any neglect of the clerks will confer a favor on Mrs. Baldwin by reporting the same directly to her.

There was a very true one and all that attended the concert given by the Joseffy company was a very true one and all that attended enjoyed a very rich treat. The next time they appear here, if they ever do, they will have a packed house, no doubt.
