

CAMPAIGN LESSONS.

Monopoly and Machine Rule Rebuked Everywhere.

A Revolt of the People at the Polls Spicy Extracts from State Papers.

THE RING REVEALED.

Wayne County Review: The battle is over, and the independent-republican ticket got through with good majorities. The result goes to show that it was not the candidates that the people were fighting, so much as the attempt to bulldoze and whip in the people to the support of a certain ring. And the ring is "busted."

A STRUGGLE FOR MEN.

Republican Valley Echo: In the political struggle which has just ended political affiliations were almost lost sight of. The "straight ticket" dodge did not work. The party lash was cracked in vain, and scores of the strongest and straightest republicans in the county, business men, and farmers declared that they had shut their eyes and voted the straight ticket as long as they could stand it, hence the result. It was a struggle for men, and not for party. And we trust those who have been thus favored by their peers will never give cause for their supporters to regret their action.

HOLT COUNTY REDEEMED.

The Frontier: Considered in any light it is a grand, a glorious victory—a Waterloo for the democracy—a defeat so overwhelming that the party will never recover. The democracy canvassed the county thoroughly, worked up every argument, and caused the most shameful, obscene and scandalous articles to be printed and scattered broadcast over the county, but was of no avail. The more of the slang used only made votes for the republicans, as the result shows. It may be said that the democrats died game, but were compelled to do just the same.

THE LESSON IN THAYER.

Hebron Journal: The republican party in Thayer county has been defeated, but this does not signify in the least that it has lost its power. With a full ticket of good names, and properly managed, it can conquer any opposition. This leads to the observation that no party, no matter how good its principles, can win with objectionable and unpopular men on its ticket. If this defect shall teach the party to nominate next fall, for representatives, only strong, clear-headed men—men who will vote for the people, and against monopoly extortion, it will prove a useful, though a costly lesson.

The management of the party must be put in the hands of upright and non-scheming men, and this result can be accomplished, if the people will take half as much interest in the matter before the primaries as they do before the election.

"SADLY DEFEATED."

Franklin County Guard: The election is over, and, although we have no official figures, yet enough is known to make it pretty certain that the entire republican county ticket, except the endorsements, is sadly defeated by republican votes.

THE ALLIANCE IS MIGHTY.

Fairmont Bulletin: The fight was a hot one and at times most bitter, and although the regular republican nominees were able and deserving men, the combination of alliance farmers defeated them badly.

A SCRAMBLE FOR OFFICE.

North Platte Republican: The election which took place in this county on Tuesday last was wholly devoid of political feeling or interest. Men selected their candidates without any view to party, many irrespective of the principles of right or wrong, and the struggle degenerated into a scramble, in which personal feuds dominated, in which wounds inflicted years past were torn fresh agape, and from them flowed a stream of rancor and hate which time had but soothed and embittered in their pent up receptacles. What wonder then that men when party ties should have cemented in strong union, were found at angry variance, and that results the most unlooked for should have been brought about. It is true there was a proportion of our citizens who recognized the duty they owed to the community and sincerely sought to perform it. Straight tickets were almost unknown, it happening in the majority of cases that two or more men who were fighting each other to the death were voted for by one and the same party.

VALENTINE'S HOME RUN.

West Point Republican: As shown by the returns, published elsewhere, the democrats have won a sweeping victory, electing the entire county ticket, with the exception of sheriff. Now the query arises how did this happen in this republican county? We maintain that it is a republican county. The question is easily answered. Because of factional strife in the party, and a general disregard of party ties and obligations. The lesson taught by Tuesday's defeat is a severe one, but we believe it to be not without its good results.

We are confident a large majority of the republicans who this fall scratched their tickets, sincerely regret having done so. When they consented to do it through feigning of misgiving or personal friendship, they did not dream of the dire disaster that was to result therefrom. It seems a trivial thing for one man to scratch a ticket, and so it is, taken alone, but when hundreds do the same thing it is impossible to conceive of the mischief it is liable to do.

DON'T BROWN.

Norfolk Journal: The republican party in this county, as The Journal has repeatedly asserted, owes nothing but defeat to Brown and his like. Every time they have attempted to take Brown into their confidence they have been betrayed. Their conventions have been stampered—their plans frustrated and the better elements of the party disgusted. The election two years ago suggested this fact very forcibly and the one just past fully confirms it.

GOOD MEN ON BOTH SIDES.

Grand Island Times: The republican ticket in Hall county this year is elected throughout by majorities ranging from sixty-nine to over 1,000.

The men elected are good men, as are some of those who were defeated. The administration of our county affairs will be in good hands during the next two years, as they have been in the past, and our march onward to prosperity will not be impeded in any particular.

MILLERISM IN DAKOTA.

North Nebraska Eagle: The victory of Tuesday was not gained by republicans, but all over the county, and particularly in the eastern and southern section of it, good democrats and true helped to kuffe the men who had been forced upon them by an overbearing and domineering faction. Nor were the slaughtered candidates, all of them, deserving of such fate, as among them were some of our best men and leading citizens, who, had they been chosen to the places for which they were named, would have served the people usefully and well. But the action of the party killed the ticket, and just so long in future as the faction that controlled in the last convention is allowed to rule, just so long will democratic candidates in Dakota county be elected—to stay at home.

FORTUNE'S FOOL.

Seward Reporter: Saline county gives the democratic ticket a majority of 215. That speaks bad for the republican leadership of our friend Hon. James A. Dawes, chairman of the republicans as central committee.

A WARNING TO MONOPOLY BOSSES.

Central City Courier: The result of last Tuesday's election is a warning which the managers of the republican party in Merrick county cannot afford to ignore. For a number of years past the number of votes cast for the republican officers of the county were upon the most direct issues and with no personal or factional fights to contend against them, has fallen a good ways short of the full party strength given to the state ticket, and at the last election the republican ticket of the county received but a slight endorsement. The fact that the alliance ticket, put up by a convention representing only one class of individuals, has almost gained the endorsement of the county against the ticket of a party representing all classes, and claiming three-fourths of the voters of the county, is expressive of something wrong in the republican ranks. The fact that republicans have not more fully stood by their ticket indicates that the transactions done in their name have not been entirely of their creation or endorsement. The Courier speaks to those whose professions of party loyalty are disinterested and sincere. The result of the election in its promotion of caution on the part of our political managers and vigilance on the part of the voter will be salutary.

PACKING THE CAUCUSES.

Aurora Republican: The democrats, greenbackers and a few sore heads with the assistance of the so-called alliance, combined with the timorousness in the republican party by a few that would rule or ruin and the loose manner in which our caucuses and conventions were conducted accounts for the defeat. In the first place our caucuses were packed by men who did not intend to vote the republican ticket and in some instances by men who never have voted it. They were there with no good purpose to the republican party, but with the avowed intent of defeating it.

OVERLOADED.

Seward Reporter: "Boss"ism is too heavy a load for the republican party of Seward county to carry successfully.

POOR ATTRACTIONS.

Ashland Gazette: The Gazette deplors the defeat of three of the republican candidates, clerk, sheriff and judge. The result among other causes, was owing to the fact that the republicans failed to turn out.

KEEP UP THE LIGHT.

York Tribune: The Tribune now calls upon all anti-monopolists to organize for the next campaign. Keep the issues before the people. Show to your neighbor the necessity of united action. Our battle has but just begun. The advance guards have attacked the enemy in its strongholds, and the enemy is whipped. The people have captured the commissary department and cut off their supplies. Stand firm and fight hard. We hold the enemy at bay and every vote gained strengthens them and weakens them.

CROWDED TO THE WALL.

York Times: Farmers and friends of anti-monopoly, we have accomplished what seemed almost an impossibility, and nothing but the justice of our cause could ever have brought to us the surprising and unexpected strength that we have so soon developed. Instead of being discouraged by the result of this election we have every reason to be encouraged. Our enemies are more than surprised at the result; they are struck with consternation. So strong has the monopoly influence been in this county, and so strongly entrenched are the railroad companies here that they had confidently expected from 400 to 700 majority for their entire ticket, and to see us elect part of our ticket and crowd them so very closely on the rear has taught them what they are loth to believe, that their power is broken and they must soon succumb. Stand together, farmers and friends, stand firm, and we will compel them to give us what we demand or stop aside, and make room for men who will.

THE HORSES REBUKED.

Hasting-Gazette-Journal: In some respects the local campaign just closed was peculiar. While the office of county commissioner is by far the most important of the county offices it attracts comparatively little attention. Mr. Edgerton was agreed upon by all parties as the man for the place and there was no contest for the honors of that office. But with the treasurer'ship and some of the other offices that are well paid the case was quite different. The republicans placed a ticket in the field in the usual manner. There were many who did not approve the ticket, hence the Farmers' Alliance was encouraged to place a ticket in the field, which they did on the day following the republican county convention. The ticket was made up of men who had the confidence of the public, owing to their upright character and superior intelligence. This later ticket received the endorsement of all who were opposed to the republican ticket, which besides the democracy includes many who are republicans upon the main questions, but who for various causes saw fit to oppose a portion of the republican ticket. This combination was too strong, as the returns show, for some of the republican nominees.

QUEEN OF THE "SLOPE."

Missouri Valleyans Growing Fat and Prosperous on the Sunny Side of the Bluffs.

Record of the Season's Improvements—A Dead Tramp

Correspondence of THE BEE. MISSOURI VALLEY, November 14.—In our first letter to THE BEE it might not be improper to inform your readers where, who and what we are, how many there are of us and what we are doing.

Missouri Valley is situated upon a slightly sloping hillside overlooking the valleys of the Missouri and Boyer rivers. To the north bluffs rise abruptly and stretch off in long lines of high ridges and deep ravines covered with woods, affording ample grazing area for our cattle; to the east a gently rolling farming country greets the vision, while the level sweep of the valley upon the south and west spreads out its beauty in attractive lines that holds the eye of the gazer in admiration upon its bosom and causes him to exclaim, "This, indeed, must be the garden of the world!" To the west from our view, on the hill back of the city, the silver like thread of the Missouri river may be seen here and there shining through its barricade of foliage, while far away to the south the smoke from Omaha's many furnaces hangs heavily on the air.

The Chicago & Northwestern, the S. C. & P. and the Nebraska division of the latter complete our railroad facilities which connect us with the cities in every quarter of the great west. We have the Sioux City & Pacific railway shops and general offices. Also new stock and feed yards are under contract, being built by this enterprising company. They are 380x280, having sixteen yards and five streets for loading. They are leased to our popular stock men, Jno. P. Lehman. These yards, when complete, will cost $20,000. We have the finest schools in the county, under the management of Prof. Coleman.

Our population at present is 1,500 and constantly increasing; our many advantages offering inducements to settlers are unequalled by any other county; our builders have erected some thirty dwelling houses during the last season, and yet the demand for tenements far exceeds the supply, with rents climbing higher up the ladder of the outrageous than was ever fondly anticipated by the greedy landlord in his most delirious dreams of dollars. The buildings for the near future are an extensive addition to Cheney Bros. depot hotel, and a two-story implement house, 25x50, by Carlisle Bros., hardware merchants; also a very complete establishment on a large scale for grease refining, by L. J. Goodrich.

Our farmers are busy employing every moment of available weather to husk their corn, and despite the floods of last spring and the unfavorable summer, the bottoms will yield a fair crop of this necessary article.

Our merchants find trade lively and are running off their immense fall stocks at a rate that at least meets their fondest expectations.

The incoming express from Sioux City on last Friday morning found a man lying upon the track covered with snow. Upon examination he proved to be dead, having been killed, it is supposed, by some outgoing train the night before. He was a tramp.

A Case for Charity.

Detroit Free Press. One of Detroit's millionaires was walking homeward yesterday when he encountered a lame man with a greasy paper in his hand. As the pair came to a halt the lame man asked: "Will you do me the favor to read this paper?"

"Can't do it—it left my eye-glasses home," was the reply.

"Then I will state the contents to you."

"No use—no use. I'm so deaf that I couldn't catch more than one word out of three."

"I'm a poor man with a wooden leg, sir."

"Yes I see—I see. Lots of poor men have no wooden legs. You are lucky, sir, and I congratulate you. Must have cost you fifty dollars, and I presume it is a nice leg."

"If you had any clothes, sir."

"Yes, but I haven't."

"Or old boots."

"I'm wearing my old boots, you see. You are just six months too early to get 'em."

"I haven't had a meal since yesterday."

"Nor I, either. We are cleaning house, and for the last three days I've had to eat a cold lunch off the plate."

"Then you couldn't spare a nickel?"

"How can I? Ain't I walking home because I haven't money to ride on the car?"

"Is that so? Then we're both hard up."

"Of course we are."

"And being you're the worst off here's a cold sausage I got at the house below, and here's a nickel to ride on the car. I tell you, sir, you poor folks has got to have more pity for the rich and do better by 'em or we'll all go to the poor house."
