THREE BALLS.

Thanksgiving Welcomed by Pleasant Dancing Parties. -Pioneer Hooks, the Land League and the Iron Molders. -Thanksgiving eve was celebrated last evening by three pleasant dancing parties. The Pioneer Hooks, Land League and Iron Molders gave balls respectively in Masonic, Standard and Clark's halls. All were well attended and thoroughly enjoyed. The Knights of Pythias also held a pleasant reception in their lodge rooms. -PIIONEER HOOKS DANCE. -The annual ball of the Pioneer Hook and Ladder company, No. 1, was held at Masonic hall. The hall was handsomely decorated with festoons of green and the walls were hung with the many fine pictures belonging to the company, among which was a large frame containing the photographs of all the members, recently presented by one of their number. Nearly two hundred couples were present, and kept the floor filled during all of the thirty numbers on the well arranged programme. Among the dances were six selected respectively to the Council Bluffs department, Durant Home company No. 1, Omaha No. 1, Fire King No. 2, Nebraska No. 3, and Pioneer Hooks. -The following were the officers of the ball: Master of ceremonies, Chas. Fisher, floor managers, Louis Stemm, J. B. Koester, George Schmidt, Gus Williams; reception committee, J. Rotholz, Phillip Dore, Louis Krotzsch, Peter Besen; committee of arrangements, D. S. Mitchell, George Schmidt, Louis Stemm, J. B. Koester, Gus Williams. -LAND LEAGUE BALL. -The Omaha Land League societies gave a ball in Standard hall. Here, as at the Masonic hall, about 200 couples were in attendance. The flags of the leagues were hung in appropriate places, and the hall was handsomely illuminated. Thirty numbers constituted the programme, interspersed with refreshments, which were provided by the ladies of the league in the rooms adjoining the dancing hall. The Musical Union furnished excellent music. The following are the names of the committee and floor managers: -Committee of Arrangements -Miss Stacia Crowley, Miss Sara E. Brennan, Miss Anna Nichol, Miss Beretta McDonald, Michael Lee, Michael Leahy, James Brennan. -Reception committee -F. W. Gray, John Rush, Michael Donovan, James Hennigan, Thomas Tallon. -Floor managers -Charles McDonald, Charles Hanley, Richard Pierce, J. I. Nichol, John Reagan. -THE IRON MOLDERS. -There has been no pleasanter ball in the city for a long time than was that at Central hall last night, given under the auspices of Iron Molders No. 190, of Omaha. It is an annual affair in which they take great pride, and the occasion is always graced by a large turnout of the fair sex and a corresponding quota of gentlemen. Central Hall is excellent fitted for dancing purposes and the floor was last night occupied by as many as thirty-five sets at one time, and its highly waxed surface was not allowed to remain idle very long from the beginning to the end of the order of dancing, which included thirty numbers. The music furnished by Hoffman's orchestra was of the highest order, and Mr. Jacob Swineburne filled the office of prompter acceptably to all. There were at least 175 couples present, the hall being comfortably crowded with as merry a throng as ever danced to good music. The committees were distinguished by handsome badges, the ladies wore the elegant fan shaped programme at the waist and the gentlemen's coat lapels were decorated with pink favors. The committees were as follows: Master of ceremonies -Robert Kaiser; committee of arrangements -Robert Kaiser, Jas. Dunnigan, John Colbath; reception committee -J. Madden, Hugo Forsyth, J. Strangstedt, S. Haug; floor manager -J. C. Colbath, G. H. Muckey, Chas. Adams, J. Carroll; floor committee -J. Knight, R. Pierce, Jas. Dunnigan, Chas. Forster, Jas. McLoughlin, J. Jacobs; introductory committee -Jas. Robinson, P. Carroll, Thos. Boland, R. Peckham, J. Hannou, B. Carou. The company broke up at an early hour this morning to the strains of "Home, Sweet Home." -"BLACK-DRAUGHT" makes chills impossible. -Dr. Amelia Burroughs, Withnell Hall, Tuesday and Fridays, 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. -WANTED. -A few more good active reliable purchasing agents to sell the light running Domestic sewing machine. For terms address, W. D. Wonack, general traveling agent, Omaha, Nebraska. -N1f. -Flour, Ground Feed, Corn, Oats, and Baled Hay for sale by Poland & Gwyer, 1413 Dodge. -n18-6t. -Save money; trade at Kurtz's. -nov21-2t. -Omaha Iron and Metal Yard. Office yard east side Tenth, between Harney and Howard streets, next to Jim Stephenson's old ivory stable, H. Berthold, proprietor. The highest cash prices paid for any kind of Old Iron and Metals. Country Produce also handled on small commission. -n18-f-m-f. -Why should persons suffer indigestion when the remedy is so near at hand in the "Conrad's Budweiser Beer." Try it and be convinced. -Trimmed Hats, 50 cents, worth $1.50, at the "Boston Store." -It pays to trade at Kurtz's. -nov21-2t. -For nice fresh poultry, fresh from the farmers, go to Bullitt's.

FARMERS MEETING.

The fifth annual meeting of the Farmers' Protective association of Douglas county will be held at Millard on Friday, the 23rd day of December, at 4 o'clock p. m. A full attendance is desirable. Every member is requested to be present, as the officers are to be elected and to take action upon a proposition from a similar society organized at Humboldt, to co-operate against horse stealing. This meeting is in direct interest of every man who owns a horse, whether he is a member or not. The effect of this organization may be observed in the fact that during the five years of its existence this county has been singularly exempt from this species of theft. There will be the usual annual ball given in the evening. Music by the Omaha band. By order of the executive officers.

UNITED STATES COURT.

Trial of an Interesting Case from Saline County.

The United States district court has been occupied for two days in the trial of an interesting suit, which had its origin in and especially relates to Saline county. This case has since before came before the United States court, the jury failing to agree. The action is entitled Cahn vs. Van Dorn et al., the other defendants being Meiers, Wehn and Castor, of Wilber, Saline county. Wm. is editor of The Opposition, published at Wilber, while Castor is a prominent democrat. The suit was brought to recover $900 on a mortgage and note, which were alleged by Cahn to be fictitious. The mortgage and notes are claimed to have been signed by a man named Gretzel, who bought a farm from Wehn, who has since disappeared. Van Dorn, who figures as the chief defendant, was clerk of the district court in Saline county at the time the notes and mortgage are alleged to have been given by the missing Gretzel in payment for the farm, while Castor was a notary public who claimed to have witnessed the signing of the mortgage. After passing from Wehn into other hands, the plaintiff finally obtained possession of the mortgage and notes, and then brought suit against Van Dorn, the clerk; Wehn, the original owner of the farm, and Castor, the notary, claiming that these men had conspired to issue the securities with fictitious signatures, and divided the proceeds of the money obtained from their sale. This involved both the reputation of the defendants, as well as the value of the mortgage and notes, and they consequently made a vigorous fight on it. The plaintiff alleged as his reason for commencing the action that the property claimed to be conveyed to the missing Gretzel is not worth the face of the mortgage, to say nothing of the notes. In the former trial of the suit the value of the farm was variously put at $1,000 to $2,000. In the present trial both sides have been represented by Barr & Webster, of Lincoln, for the plaintiff, and Hastings & McGintie, of Saline county, for the defendants. The jury will return a sealed verdict to night if they are able to agree.

The Philomathean Programme.

Following is the programme for the second concert of the Philomathean club's series, to be given at Max Meyer's hall this evening: PROGRAMME. Quartet, No. 2, Die Muhle, K. Hoffmann. Romanze, F. major, Op. 10, Beethoven. Divertissement, Franz, Paraphrase. Etude, violin, solo, Grieg. Sonata - Piano and violin, Grieg. Allegro, a. allegro, violin, solo, Schumann. Sostento assai. B. memento.

A Trial Package of "BLACK-DRAUGHT" free of charge.

We dropped into the parlor of our enterprising young friend Dr. And P. Johnson the dentist to-day. He is a young man, 29, and in Jacob's Block which he has been fixing up in elaborate style. The operating room is furnished with all the modern appliances which make dentistry a fine art. The parlor shows exquisite taste in all its arrangements and decorations and beside the usual fine furniture, mirrors, etc., he has placed there a very fine piano and a choice selection of music. It seems that such a place much of the childhood dream of each pulling would be driven away, and when you add to the above the gentlemanly operator, the pain becomes a pleasure, "almost," but he says there is no pain. Science has introduced nitrous oxide gas, and the doctor has used it very successfully for several years. We saw some beautiful sets of artificial teeth made perfect as teeth can be, and they were warranted not to fall into your soup, or into the middle of a fine speech; in fact they will stay where they are put, and not irritate or chafe the mouth in any way, and should you meet Dame Nature while wearing them, she will blush to see herself outdone. Give him a call if you need any work in this line, and we are sure you will be more than satisfied. -Trimmed Hats 50c, worth $1.50 at the "Boston Store." -Gold and silver watches at Whipple & McMillan's. -n23-2t. -Choice Onions and Rutabaga Turnips at Wm. Gentlemen's. -n21-3t. -One Hundred and Seventy (170) Barrels of Selected York State Apples just received at J. B. French & Co. It is a well known fact that New York Apples keep better than Western fruit. -nov23-3t.

WHAT IS IT?

An Barbby Formation That Kills Dakota County Horses. -One Man Also Dies From Drinking the Poisoned Water. -J. C. Gibble, a well known farmer of Dakota county, arrived in the city yesterday. He tells a remarkable story regarding a poisonous mineral substance which exudes from the earth in certain portions of that county, and which is death to men and horses if taken within the stomach. This substance Mr. Gibble describes as resembling alkali, but materially differing from it in taste and poisonous effects. The existence of this material in the soil has been known for sometime, but it has only been within the past year that its effects on men and horses has become known, the many deaths among the equines being ascribed to other causes. During the past season Mr. Gibble has lost several good horses from this cause. When the second horse was taken sick, he ascribed the trouble to bots or worms and used remedies for those troubles. Instead of improving, however, the horse continued to suffer from some internal trouble, which baffled the skill of veterinary physicians, and it finally refused food altogether and died. To satisfy himself Mr. Gibble opened the body of the animal and found but four bots or worms, but still the stomach was almost entirely eaten away. He was still at a loss to determine the cause of this, as, together with others, he had never considered the snowy incrustations appearing in places upon the ground other than a kind of harmless alkali. One day he was passing a new cut bluff from which this substance is pared in considerable quantities, when curiosity prompted him to taste it. He only touched his tongue, and found it rather sweet in taste and at first apparently harmless. In an hour or two, however, his tongue began to swell and burn, and this inflammation continued two or three days, resisting all soothing applications. Finally the inflammation subsided, almost as quickly as it came, and his tongue and mouth gradually healed. A few weeks previous to this, James Westcott, a farmer living four miles west of Dakota City, was attacked with a peculiar internal ailment. He was ill two or three days and then suffered intense pain for a week, when he died. All possible efforts were made to relieve him, but none of the remedies used seemed to affect anything. A post mortem examination disclosed his stomach to be much inflamed and eaten away in places. The surgeons pronounced it a case of poisoning, but by what particular poison they were unable to discover. Mr. Gibble says that he is satisfied, as are the members of Westcott's family and his friends, that the unfortunate man had been drinking water from a slough, where the poisonous formation existed. A rather strange fact connected with this poisonous excretion is that cattle like it, and lick it up, without being injured. Gibble thinks that the poisonous properties are taken into the stomach of the horses in water forming in pools on the ground where this material appears, during wet weather; as all of the animals he has lost have been taken sick during or after heavy falls of rain. At such times a number of animals throughout that section of the county always are laid up and many die, despite the most strenuous precautions. As yet no remedy has been found. A successful blessing for the farmers and a bonanza for his discoverer.

THE SIGNAL SERVICE.

Annual Report of an Important Branch of the War Department. -A copy of Gen. Hazen's first annual report as chief signal officer to the Secretary of War has been received at The Bee office and is a document of too important a character to be disposed of in an ordinary review were it never so exhaustive. No public department has ever served a greater variety of interests, or served them more successfully than the signal service as now managed. This section of the country shows the benefits of many practical improvements introduced by the new chief signal officer during the past year, among which we mention the publication of special weather bulletins; the forecast of "norther" for the interior plateau; the arrangements for increase of river service, and wider publication of warnings of floods or ice gorges; the increased information added to the farmers' and to the railway bulletins. In point of scientific research the signal service has been untiring. Two expeditions have been organized and equipped for meteorological observations in the Arctic regions of America, and an extensive system of stations of observation established in Alaska. Prizes for essays of great merit on meteorological subjects have been offered, and the most creditable display made at the electrical exposition at Paris. A series of experiments with sun flashes has led to the selection of an improved form of heliograph to be adopted for the general use of the army. During the past year stations of observation on the habits and ravages of the Rocky Mountain locusts or grasshoppers were established in those sections where the experience of past years has shown to be most exposed to the ravages of these pests. The stations were at Omaha, Grand Island, North Platte and Sidney, Neb.; Cheyenne, W. T.; Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, Col., and other more remote places. It is gratifying to state that not a single report of the ravages of locusts has been received, and their presence has been announced only at Grand Island, Nebraska, Forts Supply and Elliott, but in no instance has any danger been reported. While continually increasing the labor and usefulness of the signal service, General Hazen has yet succeeded in materially reducing the expenses of his bureau, expecting to effect a saving of $75,000 below the cost of the past current year. Combining economy with efficiency, science with discipline, progress with system, the signal service under its present chief is surely destined to become a representative institution of this country, of which all will feel proud. -The Bound Unloosed. -Charles Thompson, Franklin street, Buffalo, says: "I have sniffed off for a long time with constipation, and tried almost every purgative advertised, but only resulting in temporary relief, and after 'constipation still more aggravated.' I was told about your SPRING BLOSSOM and tried it.
