He confessed and said he killed the man with two or three blows of an axe, and had made no attempt to escape, but was still in the neighborhood.

CONFLICT OF AUTHORITY

Over Special Agent Gibson's Right to His Title.

The Legacy MacVeagh Left to His Successor in the Department of Justice.

Burdensome, Voluminous Correspondence Over a Trivial Matter.

WASHINGTON, November 27.—The question of authority in the case of A. M. Gibson, who claims to be a special attorney of the department of justice in the star route cases, still excites much comment. The following correspondence on the subject was made public last night:

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, November 25.

DEAR SIR:—I have received from the chief clerk of the department of justice a communication of this date in which he states that some one left upon his table yesterday a printed report purporting to be addressed to the attorney general. It does not appear from anything in the chief clerk's communication that he writes by authority, and I presume he has acted without instructions. However, I deem it proper to address you on this subject, and to state I do not know who left upon the chief clerk's desk yesterday any printed report purporting to be addressed to the attorney general. I made a report, a copy of which was transmitted on Wednesday, 23rd inst., to yourself. The communication was sealed and addressed to "The Honorable Acting Attorney General, Department of Justice." I am assured the same was delivered at 2:30 p. m., day and date above mentioned, to a colored messenger, who stated you were in your room and that he would hand it to you.

REPORT was submitted to the late attorney general and approved by him, and by his direction and the suggestion of Colonel George Bliss, a copy was transmitted to you as acting attorney general. In accordance with the instructions of your predecessor, I submit some of the results of the investigation which at his request I have made. I was appointed at the request of Colonel George Bliss, who stated he had seen you in regard to this matter and at your request communicated with me on the subject. The chief clerk says that there is nothing on record in the department of justice to authorize the title applied to my signature to the report of "Special Assistant Attorney of the United States." I have to state that on April 22, 1881, I was employed by the attorney general as a special assistant attorney to represent the department of justice, and to assist in the investigations and prosecutions of the star route cases. It is proper for me to state that this employment was unsolicited by myself. The first interview I ever had with the attorney general or postmaster general on the subject of the investigation of the star route frauds was at the residence of the attorney general on the night of April 1st, 1881. There were present the postmaster general, Gen. Woodward, and the attorney general. The latter informed me that my services as representative of the department of justice were desired in the prosecution of the star route cases; that Woodward and the postmaster general had recommended my employment to the attorney general, and as his request had caused me to be telegraphed at New York, asking me to come here. I told the attorney general if my appointment was sanctioned by the president and I could be retained as special attorney I would accept. The next day at the request of the attorney general I called at the office of the attorney general, and was informed by him that he desired a formal communication to be addressed to me. Upon inquiring he ascertained this had not been done and thereupon he addressed me a note dated October 22, 1881, in which he says: "I certainly supposed it had been done on the date of the request of Mr. Woodward and the postmaster general, and I send you this note to certify that you were accordingly employed in these matters of that date." From that date, April 22, I have acted in the capacity in which I was retained as a representative of the department of justice. In obedience to the instruction of the attorney general I have at previous times reported to him in writing. I have from the date of my employment by the attorney general, as special assistant attorney, been recognized as such by him and by all other officers connected with the star route cases. A copy of the report which I transmitted on the 23rd was placed in type by order of the postmaster general, to whom a copy of the same was given at his request, and who stated that the attorney general had informed him that such a report had been made. The attorney general on Monday, November 14th, 1881, directed me to submit the report to the postmaster general. The postmaster general gave me directions to have the report printed as part of the annual report, and designated where the same was to appear, immediately after the report of the second assistant postmaster general. On my return from New York last Saturday, Colonel George Bliss, who was fully aware that I had prepared a report, and to whom one

PARIS, November 26.—Announcement has been made in the lobby of the chamber of deputies that the French government has decided to withdraw the decree against American pork. The late minister, M. Tirard, threatens interpolation on the subject. It is well known that the decree in question was due more to Tirard's hatred for America and Americans than to his anxiety for public health.

LANE LEAGUE CAUSE IN PARIS. NEW YORK, November 26.—A Paris cablegram says an attempt to revive the anti-English agitation in Paris is being made by Mr. Egan, the land league treasurer, who has secured journalistic assistance from Ireland for that purpose. Extracts from Irish papers are to be translated and sent regularly to French papers to correct (as Mr. Egan puts it) the impression made by the calumnious statement of English papers and news agencies.

Colorado Politicians. DENVER, Col., November 27.—Congressman Belford has left for Washington, feeling confident of the speakership. Senator Chaffee's chances for a position in the cabinet are considered slim in this city. Congressman Belford will help Rountt for the postmaster-generalship. It is the belief here that Senator Hill, of this state, is playing Rountt against Chaffee to kill both.

Miscellaneous News of Unimportance From Washington.

GENERAL CAPITAL NEWS. THE MESSAGE.

WASHINGTON, November 27.—President Arthur's private secretary stated to-day that the executive edict in laying no copies of his message to congress printed was to remove temptation from the press. Copies will be furnished to both associated presses only.

THE CABINET. Now that the president has this off his mind, it is stated that he will give his attention to preparing a cabinet slate. Those in good position as yet to know, say Lincoln will stay, Frothingham will succeed Blaine, and an ex-senator will succeed James. As to whether Hunt will remain is a question. Some southern man will be given his place if he goes. The president has written a reply to a letter from Colonel Jack Brown, of Georgia, in which he says he shall be glad to consult with a committee of one republican from each southern state on cabinet formation. Such committee will wait on him this week.

WHAT GUITEAU EXPECTS. WASHINGTON, November 27.—The jail was visited by many people to-day, but no reporters were allowed to see Giteau, because he was engaged nearly all day with his defense. Three gentlemen have been watching him very closely and one of them stated to-night they unanimously agreed he was insane and further claim several government experts agree with them. A conference of experts of both sides was held on the subject to-night.

The examination of Mrs. Scoville will be suspended to-morrow to allow some witnesses from a distance to be heard. After Mrs. Scoville, the prisoner will be put on the stand. He said to-day he confidently expects to be acquitted because he was sure of convincing the jury he was inspired by God.

ANOTHER CRANK. A well dressed gentleman registered at the Arlington hotel this morning as Albert Lyman, of New York, and left an overcoat and papers. To-night he appeared at the Elbail, and asked for three rooms. One was assigned him, but having no baggage, a special officer was dispatched for, who arrested him. He claimed to have come here to save the world, and said he was to a certain extent Giteau, and could solve the moral of President Garfield's taking off.

CONGRESSMEN ASSEMBLING. WASHINGTON, November 27.—The city is fast filling up with politicians. There are now here twenty-three senators and sixty-seven members of the house, the number being about equally divided between the two parties.

Filling an Engagement Under Difficulties. The Omaha bard reached Nebraska City Thanksgiving under difficulties. When they arrived at Plattsmouth, Mr. Meyers was told he could not cross the river here, and he immediately telegraphed to Lincoln to hold the passenger train until the Plattsmouth train arrived, and if this could not be done, to send him rates for a special from Plattsmouth to Nebraska City. The "Jollities" combination were also on the same train, bound for Nebraska City, having left Atchison at 1 o'clock a. m., and gone to Plattsmouth. The B & M. officials kindly held the Nebraska City train two hours and a half and the band and "Jollities" made the connection. Judge Meyers has the thanks of many young people and others for his visit and kind remarks reaching Nebraska City under so many difficulties.—Nebraska City Press.

THE COURTEOUS THANKS. OF CHAS. McDONALD for generous patronage is hereby tendered to a discriminating public, and attention invited to the following announcement: Having made extensive preparations for large invoices of goods to arrive we are compelled to clear our counters at any cost for lack of space. THE MAKING NEWS. COMMENCED AT ONCE, and we will slaughter our Fall Importations of Tonics, Dolmans, Fur-lined Wraps, Embroidered Flannel Shirts, Dressing Scaques, Shawls, and Costumes, and all the novelties and varieties included in our stock. The quality of goods speak for themselves, and we will make the prices satisfactory at any cost. An opportunity is now offered to secure a fine imported garment at prices 25 per cent. less than any other house in the state. Note who study economy will fail to take advantage of the occasion. I offer no price list, but kindly invite one and all to call and examine for themselves. We must have room by the 1st of January, even if it is necessary to hold an auction sale. Very respectfully, CHAS. McDONALD, Emporium of Fashion, 1408 Farnham street.
