The largest plow factory in the world is that of Deere & Co., of Moline, Illinois.

For a time prior to 1847 Mr. Deere was making plows at Grand DeTour, Ill., where he started a shop since that time known as the Grand DeTour Plow Works.

At this time the Deere shops at Moline are giving employment to no less than 1,200 men and use annually 2,000 tons of steel, 4,000 tons of wrought iron, 1,500 tons of cast iron and 400 tons of Malleable iron with 2,500,000 feet of ash and oak lumber.

Their goods are so well known throughout the country by the trade and farmers, that it is hardly necessary to mention them here, but for the benefit of the few who may not be posted it may be stated that they consist of old ground plows adapted to any and all soils.

The Gilpin Sulky Plow, an implement which has met with an unprecedented sale.

The Deere Spring Cultivator, acknowledged in all localities of the country where corn is raised, to stand at the head of goods of its class.

The Matchless Riding Cultivator, an improved machine for 1882.

The Prairie Queen Breaker, which, for lightness of draft and steadiness of run, cannot be equaled.

The Deere Gang Plow, used by those carrying on farming operations on a large scale.

Lasting Plows, combined Listers and Drills, and in fact anything that may be needed in the plow line.

One shop is devoted entirely to the manufacture of Corn Planters, Check Rows and Stalk Cutters, and although this part of the business was commenced only three years since, the Deere Planter is the leader in the trade.

The product of these shops amounts to no less than the enormous sum of $2,500,000 annually.

In order to be the better enabled to accommodate their customers and handle the increasing trade of the west, their factory has established a house at Council Bluffs, Iowa, which will be under the charge and management of Lucius Wells, long connected with the factory.

They have purchased the warehouse of W. K. Hoagland & Co. on Main street, and are now just completing a brick addition thereto, three stories and a basement, which will be fitted up with every convenience for handling machinery.

Besides goods of their own manufacture, they will handle such others as may be required to make a full line of implements.

They are western agents for the Moline Wagon Co., which now has one of the largest shops of the kind in the whole country and one acknowledged by those who have examined it to be the best arranged and most convenient.

This company was organized only twelve years since and has reached its present position owing to the superiority of its goods.

Its product consists of farm and spring wagons.

Another Moline factory which has met with a remarkable success and which is represented by this house is the Moline Pump Co.

Its product consists of wood and iron pumps. Here may also be found the goods of the FERRISSE REAPER COMPANY, consisting of reapers for all work, and iron and rear cut mowers. They are claimed to be the most durable, substantial and lightest draft machines in the market.

WHEEL & SEEDER CO., OF FOND DU LAC. These are also represented here. Their goods are seeders and drills, known as the Fountain City. They have all features required to make a perfect working machine.

Deere & Co. are also agents for the JOLIET MANUFACTURING CO.'S

Eureka power sheller, which are made under Shreffler's patents. And the WHITMAN AGRICULTURAL COMPANY'S Double Cylinder Power Shellers. These shellers, unlike the single cylinder shellers, will not break and grind the cobs.

They are the western representatives of

A. C. FISH, RACINE, WISCONSIN, who has attained a reputation as manufacturer of buggies and carriages that are first class.

They handle the ADVANCE HAY RAKE, which seems to be the favorite wherever introduced. It will rake hay or cornstalks perfectly, and is so simple that any boy can handle and keep it in repair.

The above named lines are specialties, but in addition to those there may be found other articles, too numerous to mention, but that are required to make a complete stock.

Everything seems to have been selected with a view of getting the very best goods of their class in the market.

To-night closes the engagement of Miss Grace Cartland at the Opera House, when she will appear in the character of the French Spy. To say that Miss Cartland is a fine actress would not be doing justice to the young star, who has been nightly delighting the large and enthusiastic audiences before whom she has appeared. No young lady who ever appeared on the boards in this city was her equal in some of the classic roles she assumes.

Particularly Cavellie, Miss C. has been upon the boards but a short season having made her debut about five years ago in the city of Ellsworth, Maine. She was born in Bangor in the same state. When but a child her father came west, where they lived until the memorable fire of 1872. After that event they returned east, visiting Providence, Rhode Island.

She attended the theatre, and it was there the young lady fully determined to carry out the desire of her heart and become an actress. She applied for a position as member of the company playing there and immediately went with them to Ellsworth, where she first appeared in a minor part, as stated above. Miss Cartland's whole soul seems wrapped in her work. A modest, sympathetic lady, she has only one desire, and that is, by studious application, to master her chosen profession.

BOLD ROBBERY.

A bold robbery of a horse and buggy was made in this city yesterday, the victim of the theft being Mr. D. J. Rockwell of the city transfer line. Mr. Rockwell drove up in his buggy to a point on Pearl street, near the Globe office, and hitched his horse while he attended to some business with the business houses on that street.

Between 3 and 5 o'clock some thief deliberately unhitched the horse and drove off.

The above appeared in our morning contemporary yesterday, and everybody was startled with the announcement. The facts are these: Dr. Montgomery, who was called to attend to the horse and buggy, was left hitched to the post at the foot of the stairs leading to his office on Pearl street. Before the team from the stable came Mr. D. J. Rockwell drove his horse up and hitched him to Montgomery's post. At 4 o'clock, when ready Dr. Montgomery came down, jumped into the Rockwell buggy supposing it was the one that Dr. Patton sent, and drove off. This will settle one of the cases of horse and buggy "stealing."

OFFICIAL TO THE PUBLIC. I do hereby officially notify the people that there is not a single case of small-pox, or varioloid in the city of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

W. R. VAUGHAN, Mayor.

We do hereby concur with Mayor Vaughan in the above official certificate.

DONALD MACREA, M. D. A. B. McKUNE, M. D. W. D. STELLMAN, M. D. A. COOK, M. D. C. H. PINNEY, M. D. C. DETMERS, M. D. H. W. HART, M. D. J. NO. GREEN, M. D. P. J. MONTGOMERY, M. D.

We have another physician who will supplement the above with a sworn affidavit that in his opinion there is not a genuine case of small-pox in Council Bluffs this fall.

A PRETTY GIRL.

If you wish to see just the prettiest little girl that ever visited this city, call and take a look at Miss Marion Mueller, who has charge of the toy department at Mueller's, on North Main street. Don't be offended if she does not speak to you, but be content with one of her sweet smiles. To own a share of such a pure, chaste little lady is worth untold money. Yet you can take a chance with the rest by purchasing only one dollar's worth of her toys.

THE FIREMAN DEAD.

John McAvan, the unfortunate fireman who was injured by the bursting of a boiler in the Union Pacific yards, Thursday, while extinguishing a fire that had caught the lagging on top of the same, died at the residence of Mr. John Dalton, where he was conveyed after the accident, about 10 o'clock Thursday night. It is believed that he never regained consciousness from the time he was struck. On examination it was found that his eyes were burned out of his head.

A GALLANT MAN.

One of H. H. Gudson's young lady clerks was engaged sweeping the sidewalk in front of the store on Broadway yesterday afternoon, while a young man sat on a stool inside scraping the dirt off his shoes with a hair pin.

CONFIDENCE GAMES.

It is reported that there are some quite low looking young men about the city who will enter houses pretending to be agents for sewing machines. It is supposed they are getting the lay of the house and if they think it profitable to break and enter. Look out for them.

THE COLORED ROBBER.

Louis Chris, the young colored man arrested for assaulting and robbing the woman in front of the Revere house on Thursday evening, and who escaped, was caught by Chief Field and brought before Judge Burke yesterday. He pleaded "not guilty" and asked for time to prepare for defence, until next Wednesday, at two o'clock which was granted, at which time the case will no doubt be tried.

PETTY THEIVING.

Peter McGouldrick, who was arrested by Officer Sterling, charged with robbing the clothes-line of Mrs. Booth, near the Bryant house, and also stealing provisions from the same hotel, was discharged, the testimony pointing the fact that all the part he had in the taking was, that the man who stole the articles paid him twenty-five cents for helping him to carry the basket, which was found by the authorities in the alley.

STOLEN PROPERTY FOUND.

The buggy stolen from Mr. Rice on Thursday evening has been found. It seems that some parties took it while Mr. R. was engaged in his office, just to take a short drive.

CONVALESCENT.

Irta Smith, clerk at the Ogden, who it was supposed had the small-pox, is getting along finely out at his country residence.

PERSONAL.

Council Bluffs needs a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals. Hardly a day passes that some poor creature isn't abused for its inability to pull through with an over-loaded wagon.

Francis W. Croin, a very wealthy citizen of St. Louis, who came here a short time since to make a visit among his friends, was obliged to return to his home yesterday on account of a severe attack of rheumatism.

Eben Newell, of stove polish fame, who recently returned from quite an extended trip to Europe, through the south, is confined to his residence by sickness. He will be all right in a few days.

W. G. Griffin was chosen one of the vice-presidents of the grand international land league convention in session at Chicago.

All the delegates to the Missouri river improvement convention have returned home from St. Joe and the good time they had is shown by every expression of their contentment when they open their mouths to speak. They are all mad to think that they must return to duty and the same old fodder.

Charles J. Beckman is happy. The street supervisor has begun grading Seventh avenue.

Miss Clara Barker, one of our efficient teachers in the Fourth ward school building, has been confined at the residence of Col. D. B. Dailey, on First avenue.

The Nunn Brothers' silver cornet band discoursed some very excellent music on our streets yesterday afternoon.

Charles Hass is making extensive repairs to his residence on Sixth street.

Vincent Batlin is erecting a fine two-story frame dwelling house on Seventh street.

Mrs. Dr. Osborn's new brick residence on First avenue is nearly completed.

Mrs. S. J. Hanna, of Leadville, Colorado, is in Council Bluffs, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Turley.

Satisfactory.

Mrs. Wallace, B. Hale, N. Y., writes: "I have used Burdick Blood Bitters for nervous and bilious conditions, and have recommended them to my friends. I believe them superior to any other medicine I have used, and can recommend them to any one requiring a cure for biliousness." Price 21 cents. Trial size 10 cents.
