What Was His Creed? He left a loaf of anthracite in front of a poor widow's door.

His charity was like the snow, soft, white and silken in its fall. Not like the noisy wind that sweeps deep from shivering trees the leaves, a pall.

He had great faith in leaves of bread for hungry people, and he said: "And hope-inspiring words he said: To him he sheltered from the cold."

He put his trust in Heaven, and worked Ever along with his hands and head; And what he gave in charity Sweetened his life and daily bread.
