

A DESIRE TO KNOW

THE DUKE OF DURHAM CIGARETTES

What Consumers Had to Say About

Prompted us to go in person to see a few of the retailers in the different portions of the city, and we let them tell the story in their own way:

A. H. GLADSTONE, corner Douglas and 13th streets: "I think I'm a judge of good cigarettes, and I think they are the best on the market. Just got them late yesterday, and they are going very fast. They will soon be the leader."

T. C. BRUNNER, corner 16th and Capitol avenue: "There is no better cigarette manufactured."

W. GENTLEMAN, corner 16th and Cass streets: "Just got them, and am well pleased."

JULIUS RICH, 107 Fifteenth street: "The Duke of Durham cigarettes has a finer Tobacco than any other brand in the market. Have only had them a few days, but find they go nicely."

W. J. WHITEHOUSE, 605 Sixteenth street: "They are giving universal satisfaction."

Want of space crowds out several others. We find them in nearly every store, and as a rule, they are taking the lead. Of course there are a few who have not gotten them yet, and a few consumers say they are rather kinder than they like, but the great majority are pleased, and speak well of them. The retail trade supplied by any of the following well known jobbers:

A Bad Man.

National Associated Press.

KEENINGTON, Ill., December 23.—A man named Arri De Young entered the school house and began to abuse Miss Rye Brennan, the school teacher, in a shameful manner for keeping a couple of children of his after school for not knowing their lessons. He then beat her in an outrageous manner. Her outcries brought the other teachers, a young man, from another room, but De Young knocked him down, and would have stabbed him had he not fled. The teachers and scholars then ran for their lives. The officers found De Young; he made a violent resistance to arrest, but was safely lodged in jail.

The Ohio Public Works Thief.

National Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, December 23.—The investigation by the state board of public works to-night discovered another forgery perpetrated by Assistant Secretary Newburg. The amount is $3,680 and the voucher purports to be in favor of A. D. Leitch, superintendent of the Locking reservoir division of canals. One of the former checks thought to have been merely raised to $1,500 from $500 is now thought to be an entire forgery. The board will resume the investigation on Tuesday. The total forgeries may reach many thousands, as the prisoner has been the incumbent for years.

Kansas Prohibition.

National Associated Press.

CHICAGO, December 23.—A special from Wichita, Kansas, says that Gov. St. John's recent proclamation offering a reward for the arrest and conviction of violators of the temperance law has encouraged the prohibitionists to a wonderful extent, but in spite of all precautions the liquor traffic in the state has increased for months. A Kansas City house reports selling more liquors in the state than for years past.

Reduction of Grain Rates.

National Associated Press.

CHICAGO, December 23.—In consequence of the open reduction to 124 per 100 pounds on grain and provisions to New York by the Vanderbilt line, the Pennsylvania road has decided upon a like reduction to New York to take effect next Tuesday. At the same time the Baltimore & Ohio will reduce the rate to Baltimore to 9 1/2 cents.

Arrival at Panama of the United States Commission.

Affairs in the Vanquished Country Assuming a Despicable Condition.

Caused by Local Dissensions and Jealousies Among the Would-be Leaders.

Minister Hurlbut's Remarkable Proclamation and Other Matters.

National Associated Press.

PANAMA, December 15.—The steamer Colon, with the special commissioners from the United States, with their secretaries, arrived at Aspinwall on Sunday, the 11th inst. A special train conveyed the distinguished men to Panama, where they arrived in the afternoon of the same day, and embarked on the United States steamer Lackawanna, which was in port awaiting them. These gentlemen arrived in good health and spirits, and appear to have little doubt as to the success of their important mission. They sailed in the Lackawanna for their destination on the 13th.

Beyond advertising for tenders for cleaning some ten miles on the line of the canal and for building two houses, nothing has been done for the past weeks of any importance to chronicle. Some 1,200 laborers have arrived from the interior of the republic, and as many as 2,000 more are expected early in January. It is said that as soon as the dry season has fairly set in, quite a rush will be made on the line of the road, as the machinery and other requisites have arrived at Colon to commence operations.

News from Lima are to the 30th of November. Affairs in Peru seem to have assumed a most appalling condition. Piorola's most intimate and trustful friend, Gen. Caceres, has also forsaken him and declared himself superior general and political and military chief of the departments of the Centre in a proclamation on the 24th of November. In this proclamation Gen. Caceres states his action in assuming the office was guided solely by the desire to promote that union in the country which he considered necessary for its success and to destroy the power of Piorola, which had become an element of discord. As a matter of course, Caceres is actuated solely by personal motives. He is disgusted at the success of his former subordinates in the south who have seized command in more habitable and profitable regions than those Piorola had allotted him, and he is now distinguished to surrender Montero. From the southern departments there is nothing new, although they are all in a ferment. Mas holds Yca, and will not desert Piorola finally, he will have to proclaim himself now that all have deserted his beloved chief. Suarez and Laporre had left Arequipa for Ayacucho with troops to capture any Piorolistas there might be in Ayacucho. Neither of the two leaders nor San Ramon, prefect of Arequipa, will obey either Caceres or Montero, nor will those latter obey the former, so there are really three different powers serving the interior.

The following letter of Minister Hurlbut is causing quite a sensation in Peru:

"To Notables of Lima:—At your request, I make the following declaration:—

"Firstly.—The United States of America is firmly in favor of the cessation of hostilities between Chili and Peru, and the prompt re-establishment of peace.

"Secondly.—The United States of America has decided to oppose all dismemberment of Peru, except with the free and full consent of the nation.

"Thirdly.—They are of the opinion that Chili has acquired as the result of the war the right to war indemnity, and that Peru cannot refuse such payment. The government of Chili knows that these are the ideas of the United States, but divisions which exist in Peru paralyze the good offices of the United States, and give a pretext to Chili to clude the action of the United States in conformity with our desires, and to prolong the state of military occupation of Peru. Chili says: 'We also desire peace, but there is no one here competent to arrange it.' This declaration is unfortunately true. For this state of affairs the only remedy is to defend in Peru itself the union under whose cover may be elected, which will destroy the pretext of Chili, and give to the United States the advantage which it requires, and of which it will know how to take advantage. In my opinion nothing else will save the country from military occupation by Chili. Peru must save itself by a sacrifice of personal ambitions on the altar of the redemption of the country.

"I remain, gentlemen, yours very truly,

S. A. HURLBUT."

Rumors are to the effect that the Chileans intend sending an army into Arequipa from Mollendo, commanded by Gen. Lagos, and another from Lima through the interior to the same city under command of Gen. Lynch, whose successor in the command of the forces in Lima (Col. Guana) has already arrived.

On the 1st of December the Chilean civil tribunals were to be installed in Lima and Callao. A number of Peruvians have been appointed justices of the peace.

Several young men of good standing in Lima have been arrested for complicity in the burglary of the house of Senor Lonza Fureyros, consul general of Brazil, and which resulted in that gentleman's dying from the wounds then received.

THE IRISH SITUATION.

National Associated Press.

DUBLIN, December 23.—At a meeting of the municipality of Cork to-day, it was stated that a resolution calling upon the government to release the suspects held under the coercion act, adopted by the corporation of Cork and forwarded to over three hundred public bodies, had been adopted and returned by only seven out of that number. This was taken to be an indication that the conservative element in Ireland was altogether on the side of the government, and opposed to the illegal and denounced policy adopted by the land leagues. The Cork corporation is composed almost wholly of men who were advocates of the former policy of the land leagues, but even they now begin to distrust the "no rent" policy advocated by Parnell and his co-leaders, and denounced by the hierarchy and the greater portion of the clergy in Ireland, as well as by conservative leaders of all other denominations.

A LADY JAILER.

Mrs. Reynolds, one of the leaders of the ladies' land league in this city, was charged in the petty session court with inciting a tenant not to pay his rent and was ordered by the court to secure bail to keep the peace. She refused to do, whereupon the justice sentenced her to prison for six months. This is the opening of a general war on the ladies' land league movement and is the first case wherein one of its members has been sentenced by a court to imprisonment.

Miss Parnell has sent a circular letter to all branches of the ladies' land league to suspend the home league returns of all tenants paying rents or applying to the land courts.

THE WEEK'S FAILURES.

NEW YORK, December 23.—There were 152 failures throughout the United States and Canada, reported to Bradstreet's during the past week, a decrease of twenty-eight as compared with the preceding week. The decrease is most marked in the New England states, in which the failures were less than for any one week of this year. In the western states there was a slight increase. The clothing trade had many failures, the result, no doubt, of the unseasonable weather. In the middle states there were 39 failures, New England 9, southern states 37, western states 49, Canada and the provinces 7.

Particulars of One of the Best Dog Fights on Record.

NEW YORK, December 23.—The owner, in this city, of a brindle bull terrier three years old, named Jack, recently offered to match him against any dog, and a Newburg dog fancier matched against him the five year old yellow terrier, Samuel J. Tilden, imported from England a year ago. His father was a celebrated fighter. The dogs were to fight at 200 pounds each for $250 a side. The fight took place last night, and Jack was the favorite at $100 to $40, but during the first half hour Tilden showed such gameness and cleverness that the betting became even. However, it became apparent that Jack was the stronger fighter. He stopped Tilden's rushes at every point, catching him by the ear, throat and nose, and dashing him on the floor of the pit. Although Tilden was a game dog he had no chance. Finally Jack caught Tilden's jaw in his mouth and crushed it. Tilden howling with pain and anger. Jack got a hold on Tilden's throat and dragged him around the pit. When Tilden got on his feet it was evident that his spine was injured. An hour and a quarter had passed. Tilden was trying to stand up in the bloody pit, while Jack was trying to get a hold, snapping at his legs and paws. Finally he caught Tilden again by the throat, and Tilden whimpered with pain, and looked as if Tilden was dying, and the crowd became clamorous that he should be taken out of the pit, when suddenly the old dog snapped at Jack's nose and clinching her teeth held on for fully fifteen minutes while Jack struggled desperately to get away. As soon as he got loose Jack sprang at Tilden and dragged him about the pit. At the end of one hour and forty minutes the dogs were parted and spoiled. It was Tilden's time to come to the scratch. He tried to get across the pit, but reaching the middle fell, showing that he was game but weak from the loss of blood and severe pain and punishment. The referee then decided that Jack had won the fight. Thus, two hours and thirty minutes, Good judges consider this one of the best contested dog fights that ever took place in this country. It is expected that Tilden will die.

Commandary of Arthur.

National Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, December 23.—In conversation with a representative of the National Associated Press, a prominent western republican, a former member of congress and a warm supporter of Garfield, took occasion to commend the manner in which President Arthur, as he termed it, has administered upon the estate of the late president. Not an appointment, said he, where he was satisfied it had been promised by President Garfield had been refused, although some of the individuals were personally obnoxious. Every wish of his predecessor has been fulfilled, and his treatment of John Sherman, continued the speaker, has been most magnanimous, notwithstanding he was removed from the collectorship by Sherman and even efforts made to smirch his character to accomplish that end. Recent acts and utterances of President Arthur which have come to my knowledge convince me that he recognizes Sherman as a single republican senator from the great republican state. Surely a man who can so govern his own feelings is fit to govern a nation.

THE GUTTAU TRIAL.

National Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, December 23.—Guttau opened the session with a characteristic speech, praising Scotts for doing the best he could and stating that Charles H. Reed, of Chicago, would henceforth assist him.

Scotts asked that Reed be admitted as counsel, and after some slight objection by the prosecution the court ruled as desired by Scotts.

Wm. A. Edwards, a Brooklyn clerk, corroborated Shaw's testimony as to Guttau saying ten years ago that he would imitate Wilkes Booth.

Dr. T. H. Talbot, superintendent of the state homeopathic insane asylum at Middletown, N. Y., was examined and cross examined at length, and the substance of his evidence was that Guttau was sane—now and at the time of the shooting.

H. P. Stearns, superintendent of the Retreat for the Insane at Hartford, Conn., was the next witness, and his testimony did not differ from that of Dr. Edwards.

Several times during the day there was loud applause by the spectators, noticeably when Dr. Edwards gave his emphatic opinion of the prisoner's sanity.

DE GROOT SENTENCED.

The closing up of business in the United States and districts courts yesterday was uneventful. In the former the suit of A. McAdam & Co. against the city was finished, and a verdict of $14,000 was returned for the plaintiffs. This case involved her contest over the South Omaha sewer.

DE GROOT GETS TWO YEARS.

In the district court a number of motions were heard. In the afternoon Charles De Groot was brought up for sentence, the motion for a new trial being denied. The judge made a few remarks, and then sent De Groot to the workhouse at hard labor. The prisoner took his sentence very quietly.

Prevailing sentence Judge Savage made the usual remark if the prisoner had anything to say as to why sentence should not be imposed upon him.

De Groot replied that he did not set fire to the building; that he did not hire any one to set fire to the building; and that such a idea had never entered his head.

The judge replied that personally he would like to have given the prisoner a new trial but that the review of the case had not justified him in so doing. He did not feel either that he could put the sentence on the lowest term provided, but he would make it hard on De Groot. In view of the nature of the case, he then sentenced him to two years in the state prison at hard labor.

LOST BOY.

A Little Fellow Found Very Sick Near Bauman's Brewery.

This morning a man appeared at the police court room and reported the loss of a little boy named William H. Pierce, of 84 years of age, of Irish and hard eyes. He left his home near the fair grounds on Wednesday and said to have been seen last at the Union Pacific depot. It was supposed he had run away, and an anxious search was made for him this morning.

A few moments after, Officer Sullivan reported that a boy answering the description had been found near Bauman's brewery, in North Omaha, that he was very sick and that he was being cared for by a family out there. It was probably the same boy reported lost, but it appears singular, to say the least, that he should be lost on Wednesday and nothing heard of the matter until Friday morning.

Death Record.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Kennedy will be sympathetic with them in their deep bereavement, which came upon them yesterday. At 10 o'clock yesterday their infant daughter, Mary Grace, passed from earth to that kingdom where little ones are very sick and that he was being cared for by a family out there. It was probably the same boy reported lost, but it appears singular, to say the least, that he should be lost on Wednesday and nothing heard of the matter until Friday morning.

Appealed.

R. M. Bennett, Esq., has taken an appeal in the case of Michael Mooney, who was found guilty of the murder of Joel Hinkley. He will therefore not be hung on January 26th as was expected. The case now goes to the supreme court, which meets in St. Louis on 1st. It will be remembered that in the trial of this case the jury were empaneled on one day but no evidence was taken. The next morning when court convened Mr. Bennett informed the court that he had come to his knowledge, during the adjournment, that one of the jurors, Mr. Williams, was somewhat hard of hearing, Mr. Williams was examined by the court and excused. The defense then secured one other juror, the precept jury challenges on either side not having been exhausted. Mr. Bennett also furnished copies of charges to the jury, which were read. On these grounds a motion was made for a new trial, but was denied. If the supreme court re-decides the case back for the new term will take place at the next term in May. Should the decision of the court be sustained a day will be set for Mooney to be hung.
