

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

The County Supervisors Hold an Interesting Meeting.

Captain C. W. Hight Elected County Attorney by One Majority.

Trumble Gets Out of His Trouble About a Black-Eyed Girl.

An Ogden House Bell Boy Gets Away With $75 and a Coat.

Miscellaneous Mention and Pleasant Personalities.

The county board of supervisors were engaged Thursday fixing the salaries of the county officers and electing a county attorney.

The salary of the county treasurer was fixed at $1,500 and fees of office, with $2,000 extra for clerk hire; auditor at $3,000 including clerk hire, and fees of office; clerk of courts at $3,000 without fees; sheriff at $200 and fees of office; janitor at $300 and guard at $240.

The interest of Thursday's session centered upon the election of county attorney. Captain B. W. Hight appeared before the board backed by Uncle John Phillips, and of course was prepared to put the present incumbent Sims to his metal if he retained the office from which he ousted the captain.

Hight adjusted his eye glasses and rubbed his hands as the voting went on and smiled when it was announced, Hight 3, Sims 2, the following members voting for the former: Phillips, Dye and the democratic member Underwood. Eli Clayton and Frum voted for Sims.

B. W. Hight, the successful candidate, is the junior member of the law firm of Scott & Hight. For several years he held the office to which he has just been returned, and so far as we have been able to discover gave satisfaction. The office suited him, and since retiring from the same he has held himself in readiness to again serve his county if requested.

Uncle John Phillips asked him if he would accept the office if tendered him. Mr. Hight, blushing a little, replied: "Well, well, really—I don't know but that I would. It is a subject that I hadn't thought of. But, really, if the board insists upon it I will accept."

"Very well," replied Uncle John. This settled the question, and Hight knew that he was the coming man. Mr. Sims has held the office for two or three years and has given entire satisfaction so far as we have been able to learn. The change is simply a turn of the political wheel, which stopped at Hight's number.

NO AGREEMENT IN THE PLUMBER TRIAL. The jury in the case of the State of Iowa vs. the Plumber boys, came into court yesterday noon, after being out about twenty-four hours. As to the charge against Andrew, the younger, they returned a verdict of not guilty, and announced to the court that it was impossible for them to agree upon a verdict in the case against the older.

This case grew out of an altercation between these boys and a German by the name of Shoening, last summer, at Kiel's hotel, in which Shoening received a broken limb. The boys were indicted during the present term of the district court for an assault with intent to commit mayhem.

IN CONSIDERABLE TROUBLE. The black-eyed beauty who gave R. S. Cole & Co. so much trouble has been at it again. Some time ago she took rooms with a respectable and virtuous girl on lower Main street, claiming to be the purest of the pure. A young man by the name of Robert Trumble, who has the reputation of being a respectable and orderly citizen, having watched her movements, thought the other evening he would go in and have a quiet chat with the "gay brunette." He knocked gently "on do our side gate," and finding no response, he pushed his foot against the bottom and some of the screws inside gave way, and he found himself in a room with two women in their night apparel. The black-eyed woman taking advantage of the state of affairs, rushed to the window and cried, "Police! police!" The result was Trumble was arrested and lodged in the calaboose. The following day the case came on for trial, and there not being sufficient testimony developed on the part of the state, Judge Burke dismissed the same.

The dark-eyed woman not feeling satisfied, trumped up another charge against Trumble, had him arrested and put under $500 bonds for his appearance yesterday. He was on the ground when court convened and called the case, but the dark-eyed beauty failed to put in an appearance, and the case against Trumble was dismissed.

A COLLISION. A man by the name of Stephen Dunn carelessly ran into a team which was driven by the Hon. R. C. Scott yesterday and caused considerable damage.

AN ABLE ARTICLE. The able article signed E. D. Garr which recently appeared in the Chicago Tribune and in which the constitutional question regarding the official character of a vice president succeeding to the office of president on the death of the latter is discussed, was written by Edgar Scott, one of our city teachers and son of Hon. C. R. Scott.

LEMEN'S LECTURE TO BE REPEATED. All interested should remember that on Sunday evening next Rev. J. G. Lemen will repeat his lecture on "Crime in our City" at the Methodist church. The church will, no doubt, be crowded, and we advise those who wish to secure a seat to go early.

A GOOD CAUSE. Don't forget the grand ball to be given by the Rescue boys on the evening of January 11th. Their cause is a noble one.

THE UNION PRAYER MEETING on Thursday evening was well attended. Rev. Thomas H. Cleland delivered an excellent discourse, which had the effect to stir up some members of the church, and every moment after his remarks was taken up either with a short prayer or exhortation.

A THEIVING BELL BOY. W. S. Smith, chief porter at the Ogden hotel, was the victim of a theft perpetrated by one of his bell boys, Henry LeForest, Thursday night. The thief broke open the cash box connected with the cigar stand, situated at the east end of the office, and took therefrom its contents, amounting to about $75. He also stole an overcoat belonging to one of the guests. Thus far the officers have been unable to catch the rogue. He hails from New York city and before coming here was at work at the Withnell hotel in Omaha.

GOLD WATCH STOLEN. Emma Davis, who resides on lower Broadway, was robbed of a gold watch yesterday. Officers Sterling and Cusic arrested a man on suspicion, but there not being sufficient testimony to hold him, he was discharged.

PLEASANT PERSONALITIES. Attorney Stewart, of Harlan, one of Shelby's rising young men, was in Iowa's western metropolis yesterday on business before the district court.

R. H. Robie, engineer of the "old reliable," and for some time in charge of engine No. 79, called at The Bee office yesterday.

Vic Keller has an addition to his family, in the shape of a bouncing baby. He is very proud of the accession, as it did not cost but a trifle and will not be very expensive. He held the lucky ticket in the doll business at Crookwell's.

W. A. Sealey, stock agent for the extensive stock dealers, Swift Bros., Chicago, was at the Revere yesterday on his way to Nebraska.

On motion of Colonel D. B. Dailey, E. H. Burko was admitted to the bar in Judge Reed's court yesterday. Mr. Burko is a son of Judge Finley A. Burko, also brother of T. A. Burko, jr., of Sioux county, Iowa.

W. H. Dodd, prominently connected with the order of K. of P., and editor of the "Sword and Helmet," at Fort Madison, Iowa, was in the city yesterday.

W. A. Wheeler, the popular proprietor of the Revere house will erect several tenement houses next spring.

A CARD. The Nonpareil of this city, finds abundant room in its columns for a policeman's explanation, which charges a citizen with having misrepresented the facts in a certain transaction, in which the policeman was an active party, but can find no room for a citizen to explain away the false assertions of a policeman by stating the facts in the case as they appear on the court records.

Verily, Mr. Chapman in Chicago and it is important that the publications of his paper during his absence should be consistent with each other, and to be consistent they must be in opposition to Rev. Lemen, and hence, in opposition to any fair explanation or defense a citizen may desire to set up for himself. The policeman now offers to cover up any improper conduct on his part by stating to the public that he is a "faithful and well-tried police officer," that he has lived here for a number of years, and his honesty has never been questioned by those who know him best, that "there was no writ issued against Officer Cusic or any other official."

In reply to the first two of these statements we simply say to Mr. Cusic that the rule governing in such cases, is substantially this, that though a culprit may have gone a long time without being detected or punished, that fact is not a sufficient plea in his defense, and, though he were as spotless as an angel yesterday, which we are satisfied Cusic was not, this circumstance is no palliation or excuse for the crime he commits today, neither is the assertion coming from the mouth of the man himself that he is a "faithful and well-tried police officer." A satisfactory explanation to the public, of the position of the facts in the transaction put him in, is not enough to enlighten those anxious to suppress "crime in Council Bluffs" and understand the true status of the police corps of the city in relation to the suppression of it. The docket in Justice Abbott's office is of itself a sufficient and conclusive reply to the third statement he offers for the purpose of covering up the appearance of "crookedness" created by the transaction, making that statement, as we know it to be, an absolute falsehood and one which must have been known to Cusic at the time he uttered it. That docket shows that January 2, 1882, a search warrant and writ of replevin was issued against Cusic for the recovery of certain stolen property believed to be in his possession. The pawnbroker's dates show this state of facts to exist. On November 25 the property was placed in the shop as security for a loan of money. November 27 Chief Field and Cusic went to the shop and examined the property, and on November 29 Cusic came to the pawnshop and redeemed the property, paid just what had been loaned on and no more. His own oath before Abbott is sufficient to convince an ordinary mind that he could not have bought the ring, for he swears that the time for which the loan was made had not expired, hence he could have obtained the property in no other way but by redeeming it. We assert then that these facts indicate conclusively that the redeemed stolen property from a pawnbroker, on checks he had taken from a man he arrested on suspicion of being implicated in theft, and that too within four days from the time he took them, without giving any notice of having discovered them, that the owner might come and claim them. Now will Mr. Cusic or Chief Field, who is not ashamed to put his name to what he writes, and sufficiently anxious for advertisement and public notoriety to put his name to anything likely to be printed in a paper, explain by what authority any officer or officers of the police force, proceeded to take pawn checks from the pockets of a suspected thief, and within four days from the time the thief took them, without a word of notice to the public, or any one else, redeem the property described by the checks and appropriate it to their own use?

For this crime in Council Bluffs has been perpetrated, and tramps, vagabonds and gamblers will be expelled and our streets be rid of lawless trespassers, the temple of government, which permits these things to exist and from which they obtain recognition and, perhaps encouragement, must be purified or overthrown, and in this direction I invite the attention of Rev. Lemen.

W. H. W. KIDNEY COMPLAINT CURED. R. Turner, Rochester, N. Y., writes: "I have been for over a year subject to serious disorder of the kidneys, and often unable to attend to business. I procured your Borden's Kidney Pills and was relieved before a half a bottle was used. I intend to continue, as I feel confident that they will entirely cure me." Price $1, trial size 10 cents.

EXCITEMENT IN ROCHESTER. The Commotion Caused by the Statement of a Physician. An unusual article from the Rochester, N. Y., Democrat and Chronicle, was republished in this paper yesterday, and was a subject of much conversation in this city during the day, both in professional circles and on the street. Apparently it caused even more commotion in Rochester, as the following from the same paper shows:

Dr. J. B. Henion, who is well known not only in Rochester, but in nearly every part of America, sent an extended article to this paper a few days since, which was duly published, detailing his remarkable experience and rescue from what seemed to be certain death. It would be impossible to enumerate the personal inquiries which have been made at our office as to the validity of the article, but they have been so numerous that further investigation of the subject was deemed an editorial necessity.

With this end in view a representative of this paper called on Dr. Henion, at his residence on St. Paul street, when the following interview occurred: "That article of yours, Doctor, has created quite a whirlwind. Are the statements about the terrible condition you were in, and the way you were rescued such as you can sustain?"

"Every one of them and many additional ones. For some time I got so near the grave as I did and then, return, and I am not surprised that the public think it marvelous. It was marvelous."

"How in the world did you, a physician, come to be brought so low?" "By neglecting the first and most simple symptoms. I did not think I was sick. It is true I had frequent headaches; felt tired most of the time; could not get any rest; my appetite was gone; my stomach was out of order, but I did not think it meant anything serious."

"But these are common ailments anything to do with the fearful Bright's disease which took so firm a hold on you?" "Anything? Why, they are the sure indications of the first stages of that dreadful malady. The fact is, few people know or realize what ails them, and I am sorry to say that too few physicians do either."

"That is a strange statement, Doctor." "But it is a true one. The medical profession have been treating symptoms instead of diseases for years, and it is high time it ceased. We doctors have been clipping off the twigs when we should strike at the root. The symptoms we have just mentioned of the water channels indicate the approach of Bright's disease even more than a cough announces the coming of consumption. We do not treat the cough, but try to help the lungs. We should not waste our time trying to relieve the headache, stomach, pains about the body or other symptoms, but go directly to the kidneys, the source of most of these ailments."

"This, then, is what you meant when you said that more than one-half the deaths which occur arise from Bright's disease, is it doctor?" "Precisely. Thousands of so-called diseases are torturing people to-day, when in reality it is Bright's disease in some one of its many forms. It is a Hydra-headed monster, and the slightest symptoms should strike terror to every one who has them. I can look back and recall hundreds of deaths which physicians declared at the time were caused by paralysis, apoplexy, heart disease, pneumonia, malarial fever and other common complaints which I see now were caused by Bright's disease."

"And did all these cases have simple symptoms at first?" "Every one of them, and they might have been cured as I was by the timely use of the same remedy. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. I am getting my eyes thoroughly opened in this matter, and think I am helping others to see the facts and their possible dangers also. Why, there are no end of truths bearing on this subject. If you want to know more about it go and see Mr. Warner himself. He was sick the same as I, and is the best evidence of its curability. He has made a study of this subject and can give you more facts than I can. Go, too, and see Dr. Lattimore, the chemist, at the university. If you want facts there are any quantity of them showing the alarming increase of Bright's disease, its simple and alarming symptoms, and that there is but one way by which it can be cured."

Fully satisfied of the truth and force of the doctor's words, the reporter bade him good day and called on Mr. Warner at his establishment on Exchange street. At first Mr. Warner was inclined to be reticent, but learning that the information desired was about the alarming increase of Bright's disease, his manner changed instantly and he spoke very earnestly:

"It is true that Bright's disease has increased wonderfully, and we find, by reliable statistics, that in the past ten years its growth has been 250 per cent. Look at the prominent men it has carried off: Everett, Sumner, Chase, Wilson, Carpenter, Bishop Haven and others. This is terrible and shows a greater growth than that of any other known complaint. It must be plain to every one that something must be done to check this increase or there is no knowing where it may end."

"Do you think people are afflicted with it to-day who do not realize it, Mr. Warner?" "Hundreds of thousands. I have a striking example of this truth which has just come to my notice. A prominent professor in a New Orleans medical college was lecturing before his class on the subject of Bright's disease. He had various fluids under microscopic analysis and was showing the students what the indications of this terrible malady were. In order to draw the contrast between healthy and unhealthy fluids he had provided a vial the contents of which were drawn from his own person. 'And now, gentlemen,' he said, 'as we have seen the unhealthy indications, I will show you how it appears in a state of perfect health,' and he submitted his own fluid to the usual test. As he watched the results his countenance suddenly changed—his color and command both left him, and in a trembling voice he said: 'Gentlemen, I have made a painful discovery; I have Bright's disease of the kidneys, and in less than a year he was dead.'

"You believe then that it has no symptoms of its own and is frequently unknown even by the person who is afflicted with it?" "It has no symptoms of its own and is frequently unknown even by the person who is afflicted with it. Usually no two people have the same symptoms, and frequently death is the first symptom. The slightest indications of any kidney difficulty should be enough to strike terror to any one. I know what I am talking about for I have been through all the stages of kidney disease."

"You know of Dr. Henion's case?" "Yes, I have both read and heard of it."

"It is very wonderful is it not?" "A very prominent case but no more so than a great many others that have come to my notice as having been cured by the same means."

"You believe then, that Bright's disease can be cured?" "I know it can. I know it from the experience of hundreds of prominent persons who were given up to die by both their physicians and friends."

"You speak of your own experience; what was it?" "A fearful one. I had felt languid and unfit for business for years. But I did not know what ailed me. When, however, I found it was kidney difficulty, I thought there was little hope, as I did not know of it. I have since learned that one of the physicians of this city pointed me out on the street one day, saying: 'There goes a man who will be dead within a year.' I believe his words would have proven true if I had not fortunately secured and used the remedy now known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure."

"And this caused you to manufacture it?" "It caused me to investigate. I went to the principal city with Dr. Craig, the discoverer, and saw the physicians prescribing and using it, and saw that Dr. Craig was unable with his facilities to supply the medicine to thousands who wanted it. I therefore determined, as a duty I owed humanity and the suffering, to bring it within their reach, and now it is known in every part of America, and is giving universal satisfaction. Fair minded physicians now recommend it as a positive cure."

The reporter left Mr. Warner, much impressed with the earnestness and sincerity of his statements and next paid a visit to Dr. S. A. Lattimore at his residence on Prince Street. Dr. Lattimore, although busily engaged upon some matters connected with the State Board of Health, of which he is one of the analysts, courteously answered the questions that were propounded him.

"Did you make a chemical analysis of the case of Mr. H. H. Warner some three years ago, Doctor?" "Yes, sir."

"What did this analysis show you?" "The presence of albumen and tubercles in great abundance."

"And what did the symptoms indicate?" "A serious disease of the kidneys."

"Did you think Mr. Warner could recover?" "No, sir. I did not think it possible. It was seldom, indeed, that so pronounced a case had, up to that time, ever been cured."

"Do you know anything about the remedy which cured him?" "Yes, I have chemically analyzed it, and upon critical examination, find it entirely free from any poisonous or deleterious substances. We publish the foregoing statements in view of the commotion which the publicity of Dr. Henion's article has caused and to meet the protestations which have been made. The standing of Dr. Henion, Mr. Warner and Lattimore in the community is beyond question and the statements they make cannot for a moment be doubted. They conclusively show that Bright's disease of the kidneys is one of the most deceptive and dangerous of all diseases, that it is exceedingly common, alarmingly increasing and that it can be cured."

SEE HERE. You are sick, well, there is just one remedy that will cure you beyond possibility of doubt. If it's Liver or Kidney trouble, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Debility, "Well's Health Renewer" is your hope. $1. Druggist Depot, C. F. Goodman, Omaha.

The Antiquarian's Warning. Do not trust him, gentle reader. Though his shelves look trim and neat, Do not heed the plate glass windows, Gilded backing on the volumes. Soon will fade and be forgot; Gilded signs are oft deceiving— Gentle reader, trust him not.

Reader, once there lived a student, Who long sought for learning rare, And he met him on the sidewalk, And he falsely led him there. And he talked to him of TRADE SALES, POTTER'S books and SCHUCKER'S lore; And I met him plodding homeward With a bundle in his door.

Gentle reader, I have waited,— Nightly I have walked the street, Lingered for him on the corner, And this happy hour we meet! Raise your eye to yonder window, Where our student, in the night, With a page of SCHUCKER'S history, Rises up his pipe to light.

Reader, turn not from me coldly, The truth only he is told, I would as a thief from the book stores, Where the customers are "sold." I would shield these from all danger, 'Till these from the plate glass square;—Shun, O, him the gilded corners; I have warned thee—NOW BEWARE!
