LOCAL BREVIETIES.

An adjourned meeting of the Union Catholic Library association will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock sharp.

The Union Catholic Library association will give the first entertainment of the new year next Monday evening.

Fresh Vaccine Virus with full directions for using, just received at KENNARD Brothers.

Complaint was entered before Judge BENKE, Thursday charging KENNARD & SWAN with running baggage wagons without license.

The Beckman case has once more been continued, Monday next, at 2 o'clock, being now set for trial. The complaint has been changed from petit to grand larceny.

ADMISSION SALE.—Of Hats, Caps, Safe, Stove and Store Fixtures, etc., at the "New York Hat Store," 113 Farnham street, January 21, at 10 a.m. and 1 and 7 p.m., and at 1 and 7 p.m. each day thereafter, until the entire stock is sold.

The stereopticon entertainments for the benefit of the First M. E. Sunday school will be resumed shortly. The managers, who have the entertainments in hand, have sent to New York for a stronger light, as the one they now have has proved too weak. The next exhibition will wind up the journey through France.

A daughter of ex-Secretary EVERT made herself a favorite in Washington society, not alone by her snowy complexion, gray-blue eyes and golden hair, but as well by her cups of chocolate. The Mexican minister said to say that in his own land no beverage was so delicious. It was made of the best already sweetened chocolate, broken and placed in a warm spot to melt. When afterwards put in a farina kettle, boiling milk was poured upon it, and from the moment when the first drop of milk touched it until it was done it was stirred. It was allowed to boil for several minutes, and when it was served in delicate cups it was thick and almost jelly like, and was capped with whipped cream. This is the way that Baker's vanilla chocolate should always be prepared.

Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

More Light.

From oxy-calcium to oxy-hydrogen! Our enterprising musical friend and artist, Will Stevens, has shipped back to New York the oxy-calcium apparatus which he has been using in his illustrated entertainment at the First M. E. church, and has ordered a full and complete set for the oxy-hydrogen light. This is the most powerful light known, exceeding in intensity by many degrees the most brilliant electric light. As soon as the object views, chemicals, gas rotors, etc., arrives an evening will be announced, and an entertainment given to the public. There has been no expense spared to make the new exhibition worthy of the liberal patronage.

Union Marriage Association.

The validity and financial promptness of this association is fairly established by the following certificate:

ELKHORN, IND., Jan. 14, 1882.

To the Directors of the Union Marriage Association:

GENTLEMEN:—I wish to acknowledge the receipt of a check from you for the full face value of my Certificate in the Marriage Department of your Association, I have found your promises to me faithfully performed in particular. I would heartily recommend your Association to the public as safe and reliable.

Yours respectfully,

SIMON A. GEMERLING.

The officers are in themselves a sufficient guarantee concerning all things connected with this association. J. P. Devore, of this city, general western manager, has reported from Omaha over one third of a million dollars in risks the past few days.

The following from The Leadville Democrat will be news to the friends of Mr. Steele:

Mr. John Steele, the first city coryat of The Democrat, and for nearly a year past the agent of the Northwestern Life Insurance company in Leadville, leaves this morning with his family for Omaha, his old home, where he intends to reside permanently. Mr. Steele's numerous friends in this city will take leave of him with sincere regret. A genial gentleman, earnest, energetic and successful in whatever he undertakes, he has approved himself a man in all the relations of life, and the Democrat heartily commends him to the people of Omaha. Good luck to you, John, and don't forget your old friends in the great silver camp.

WORTHY OF PRAISE.

As a rule we do not recommend patent medicines, but when we know of one that really is a public benefactor, and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric bitters are truly the most valuable medicines, and will surely cure Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend to all.—[Ex. Sold at 50 cents a bottle. Ish & McMahon.]

PARNEY'S WRATH.

The Ex-Alderman of the Second Ward on His Muscle.

He Charges Street Commissioner Pat Ford with a Serious Offense.

About half-past 11 o'clock yesterday Barney Shannon, the well known ex-alderman from the Second ward, appeared at the police court and preferred a charge against Street Commissioner Patrick Ford of insulting and attempting to basely assault Shannon's wife Thursday about 12 o'clock. The complainant had blood in his eye and was very much excited. Upon making the complaint he asked for a warrant for Ford's arrest and swore to the charge preferred.

The warrant was accordingly issued. Upon being questioned concerning the matter, Shannon made the following statement: "Tuesday my wife attended a party and socialized at the residence of Michael Burd, on Harvey street, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets. She was accompanied by my daughter, a girl about 12 years old, and my little son. They left Burd's at 12 o'clock, and started for home. On Tenth street, about two hundred feet north of the corner of Farnham, they were accosted by three men, of whom Ford was one. The men ran against those, and then my wife says that Ford grabbed her about the neck and partially threw her down on the walk trying to drag her into the alley near by. She resisted and the little girl screamed for help, but no one was around to assist them. The other two men stood off at a little distance. My wife succeeded in getting away from her assailant and started to run, when he made a move to catch her a second time, and then one of the other men interferred and held him until my wife got away.

"Mrs. Shannon and the children came home and told me about it. I went and got my revolver to shoot the villain, but found that neither of them would fire as they were rusted, and so I waited until morning, when my wife prevailed on me to not attempt any violence and make this complaint instead. My wife has lived here twenty-one years without a word against her character, and I can't stand such an insult from a man I first put on the police force and gave him his start."

STREET COMMISSIONER FORD

was seen by a BEE reporter a short time after the complaint was filed in the police court, and expressed the most decided surprise and consternation at the information which the reporter gave him. He denied in to everything connected with the charge made by Shannon, and said: "There day, between 11 and 12 o'clock, in company with two friends, I left the house to go around the corner to get something to eat. Along by the B. & M. building, on Tenth street, we met two or three women whom we did not recognize, and accidentally pushed against them as we passed. I thought they were some of 'the girls' living on the north end of this street, and as we went by I made some joking remark about there being a collision, but said nothing improper, or which of itself would offend any lady. This complaint by Shannon is an unpleasant hoax, for the cause of it is some creation of his crazy mind, and has no foundation in fact. I have no differences with Barney, except such as arose last spring during the election and I don't cherish any feeling against him, but I expect he don't like me. Mrs. Shannon is a lady I very highly respect and any one who knows me knows that I wouldn't insult a dog, much less a woman. The whole thing is a lie and won't hold water for a minute in court."

JAMES DUGAN, one of Ford's boarders, who was with the latter when they met the women, stated to the reporter that the charges made by Shannon were entirely false, and he knew that no one either contemplated or attempted an insult.

CHANGE OF BASE

Yesterday afternoon Shannon went to the police court and charged his charge against Ford to that of assault and battery, without any reference to the alleged evil intentions charged in the first complaint.

PROOF POSITIVE.

We have the most positive and convincing proof that THOMAS' ELECTIC OIL is a most effective specific for bodily pain. In cases of rheumatism and neuralgia it gives instant relief.

MR. H. C. REYNOLDS.

The officers are in themselves a sufficient guarantee concerning all things connected with this association. J. P. Devore, of this city, general western manager, has reported from Omaha over one third of a million dollars in risks the past few days.

The following from The Leadville Democrat will be news to the friends of Mr. Steele:

AN ARTISTIC JOB.

In the residence of Mr. Clark Woodman of this city, there has recently been erected an elegant fireplace and mantel, the same being a combination of marbled slate, terra cotta and granite.

It is designed in the office of the well known architect, Messrs. Dufrane & Mendelsohn, and erected by Mr. Henry Dibblee, 200 and 208 Walbach avenue, Chicago.

This is probably the first thing of the kind ever introduced into this city, and in originality of design and beauty and perfectness of construction, it is truly a marvel and does credit to the designer and as well to the manufacturer. Mr. Dibblee has two somewhat similar ones in process of construction for Mr. S. A. Brown, designed by the same architect. To parties who are wanting anything in the line of slate mantels, grates, tile hearths, vestaries, etc., in brass goods, iron fencing, creating stable fittings, in fact, anything in iron or tile work, for buildings of every description, it would certainly be worth while to correspond with Mr. Dibblee or pay a visit to his fine ware rooms at the above number.

LAYING UP TREASURES.

The Work of the City Mission on Tenth Street for 1881.

The following is the secretary's annual report for the year ending January 1, 1882, showing the work accomplished by the Omaha city mission:

The mission was organized October 28, 1873, under the name of "The Christian Workers' Association," the object being, as the constitution says, "to advance the interests of the Christian religion by active Christian work."

Many of our citizens are familiar with the life and work of this mission, its conception and foundation by its first superintendent, Mr. C. F. Brewster, its early struggles for an existence, its moves from pillar to post, until its present building was found and owned.

SECRET OF ITS SUCCESS!

Benevolent persons like to contribute. They recognize the mission as a factor for good in our city. They see that it is striving to make Christian homes by making Christian men and women of the children under its charge. They see it is striving to make "rough places smooth" and "crooked places straight," to cast some rays of light into dark homes, and, withal, to help bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.

IS IT PRACTICAL?

Let us see: a glance at its yearly report will show. Its officers and teachers are as follows:

President—Wm. A. Higgins.

Vice President—Jno. L. McCague.

Treasurer—Mrs. Du Bois.

Secretary—Alex. G. Charlton.

Trustees—J. B. Jardine, Howard Kennedy and N. W. Merrill.
