The following observations are taken at the same moment of time at all the stations named.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

County court begins a week from yesterday.

With the exception of the small pox the health of the city for the past month will show up quite good in the mortality report.

The only case of small pox in Lincoln terminated fatally this morning by the death of the patient. No other cases are reported.

A Sundon, a Swede, fell off a coal shed in the B. & M. yard yesterday and dislocated his shoulder. The damage was easily repaired.

The district court will convene on Monday next, February 6th. The docket is quite a heavy one, about five hundred and fifty cases being set down for trial already.

A partner is wanted in a well established daily newspaper, in a growing western city. For particulars apply at the office of C. C. Houzel, 317 South Thirtieth street.

The United club will give the last party of the present year on Wednesday evening, February 1st, at Standard hall. Holders of season tickets are requested to be present by 8 o'clock.

We have a special article of Maple Syrup which can not be purchased elsewhere in the city. We guarantee it pure and furnish at a little more than ordinary cost. FLEMING & CO., Grocers.

Mr. George Hough, formerly of Pleasant Lake, Ind., has leased the Omaha European Restaurant, No. 1106 Farnam street, and is refurbishing it throughout in an elegant manner, and will keep a first-class place in all respects.

The county treasurer is going for those who owe personal taxes, and all who know themselves to be delinquent had better attend to the matter at once. The law is very strict in this regard, and the treasurer proposes to enforce it without fear or favor.

A private masquerade party takes place at Masonic hall Thursday evening, February 9th. Invitations have been issued, the recipients of which alone will be admitted. C. C. Field is manager, and C. H. Osburn, W. J. Whitehouse, Mell Smith, Wm. Osburn, C. H. Pickett and S. H. Farnsworth, the executive committee.

Stanley was removed from the city to the county jail Sunday when Sheriff Miller went to search him he protested that he had already been searched several times. Notwithstanding this a knife was found concealed on his person and taken away from him. He notified the officers that he should "beat the jail" if he could, and they might count on that.

The ministers of the directing board and executive committee of the Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Mission Synod of the United States are holding the semi-annual conference at Omaha, and ministers of the same have been preaching from day to day. This will be the last evening, half-past seven o'clock, at the academy of music. All Scandinavians are invited.

It is stated on good authority that Mr. L. D. Collier, formerly in the U. P. freight auditor's office, has recently fallen heir to $6,000 by the death of an aunt living at his old home in the east. He received a letter Sunday notifying him of the fact, and soon after got a telegram requesting him to send a power of attorney. Instead of doing so he will leave for the east this week and look after his legacy in person. His many friends will rejoice at his good fortune.

Answer This. Did you ever know any person to be ill without inaction of the stomach, liver or kidneys, or did you ever know one was well when either was obstructed or inactive; and did you ever know or hear of any case of the kind that Hop Bitters would not cure? Ask your neighbor this same question.—Times

PERSONAL. John Baumer, county clerk, has gone to Lincoln on official business.

John L. Taylor has returned from an extended trip to St. Louis and other points east.

Rev. E. M. Bartlett, of the law firm of O'Brien & Bartlett, returned yesterday from a visit to Albany, N. Y., and Washington.

H. M. Wells, of the firm of Esawitz & Wells, returned from the east Sunday. From what we had heard we hardly expected to see him return alone.

U. S. Marshal Bierbower, who was recently dangerously ill from pneumonia, has almost entirely recovered, and is again able to assume his duties. He left for Lincoln yesterday to attend the United States Court.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED. In these times of quack medicine advertisements everywhere, it is truly gratifying to find one remedy that is worthy of praise, and which really does as recommended. Electric Bitters, we can vouch for as being a true and reliable remedy, and one that will do as recommended. They invariably cure stomach and liver complaints, diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary difficulties. We know whereof we speak, and can readily say, give them a trial. THE PAVING QUESTION.

The Small Proprietors Ask to be Heard in the Matter.

And Favor Letting Posterity do Its Part.

To the Editor of The Omaha Bee.

Your sensible and suggestive article on the bond question in the paving problem is opportune. In the meetings at the board of trade it has been studiously given out by nearly all the speakers that a large proportion of the paving was to be done by bonds, it would be defeated at the polls. In conversation, however, with ordinary people outside, I find them of a very different opinion. They don't want to pay everything as they go; they want to leave part to be paid by posterity, and they want the present payments to be so moderate that every street of any importance could participate in the benefits of these bonds.

In fact, they endorse your proposition of seventy-five per cent bonds and twenty-five per cent for proprietors, and I believe if a public meeting of the citizens was called, that plan would be endorsed. It is quite clear that it is to the interest of the owners of valuable property to pay for the paving themselves with as little in bonds as possible, as their frontage in proportion to value is exceedingly small, compared with other portions of the city. The gentleman from Sixteenth street who spoke at the last meeting was the first to open the writer's eyes to this fact, and a public meeting ought to be called to give the bulk of the people (the small proprietors) a chance to express their opinion.

The interest on five hundred thousand or even one million dollars in bonds would press extremely light on individuals, and the rental value of their property would be wonderfully increased, and we would get the city paved quickly and well. In the best regulated communities, it is held that the streets belong entirely to the public; that the property owners have no right whatever to them, and cannot make any use of them more than the ordinary public, and are liable to a fine if they use them at any time so as to make the slightest obstruction; under these circumstances it would seem that if the public own the streets the public should pave them, and if the who a city could be paved at once it would be fair that all should be paid with bonds. But as all cannot be paved at once, let those proprietors who get an immediate advantage by having their street paved first pay 25 per cent. This would act as a check on comparatively unimportant streets insisting on being paved, and as they have to pay entirely for the curbing and guttering (a pretty expensive affair) it would be a strong check.

The outlying streets that were not immediately paved could well afford to pay the very small additional amount per annum those bonds would add to their taxation, as every additional street paved would add to the value of the whole city. The truth of this is seen very plain on Tenth street, the paving of which is of such importance to the whole city that it was proposed at a meeting of the board of trade to pave it by subscription, and large amounts were offered by parties who live somewhere near it. Let us hear now from some of the ordinary proprietors, Mr. Editor, and publish their letters, and we will get nearer public opinion than half a dozen speakers at the board of trade can get for us. Yours respectfully, A. G. CRIVAN.

P. S.—It is also very important to note that if the money is raised on bonds it will bring capital into the city, while if paid entirely by the population, it will only serve to embarrass them, and prevent the much needed and desired improvement of their property. Money is none too plenty now to meet the wants of the rapidly increasing business and population of the city. It is well known that there is not nearly sufficient house accommodation for the population, and it is only want of money that prevents improvement in that direction.

Mr. Farrington Says. Don't take any of the quack nostrums, as they are regimental to the human system; but put your trust in Hop Bitters, which will cure general indigestion, costive habits and all comic diseases. They saved Isaac from a severe extract of typhoid fever. They are the ne plus unum of medicines.—Boston Globe. f-1-15

THE GERMAN THEATRE.

First Appearance in Omaha of the New York Actor, Franz Reinan, in "Intrigue and Love."

Sunday quite a large concourse of people assembled in the German theater to witness the first performance in Omaha of the celebrated and gifted comedian, Herr Franz Reinan, and at the close of the drama it was unanimously agreed by all present that they had been amply compensated for braving the inclemency of the weather and attending the performance.

Mr. Franz Reinan is unquestionably a very young man, and although still quite a young man has traveled in nearly all the leading theaters in Germany and in several in Austria; he has also visited England and has everywhere met with a very fine reception.

The piece represented Sunday, "Intrigue and Love," is a very thrilling drama by Schiller, and there are some very beautiful ideas in it, clothed in exquisite language. The role which Mr. Reinan sustained so ably, is a very long and difficult one; in fact it was generally conceded that never since the German theater in Omaha has been in existence was there such a feast for true lovers of the drama. If the manager of our German theater can always be fortunate enough to secure brilliant actors like Franz Reinan, the fame of Omaha's German

BEFORE BENEKE.

A Well Attended Levee Held by the Judge Yesterday.

Willie Lewis, the Young Tramp, Sent Home at Last.

The police court room was more crowded than usual yesterday, although the proceedings included nothing of unusual interest, unless it be the trial of Adam Porter, who was arrested several days ago on the charge of cruelty to animals.

The Scotch terrier belonging to engine company No. 3, and such a great favorite with everybody. This case did not come up until the last on the docket, when it was discovered that the complaint was defective, and a new one was filed by Jerome Pentzel. It was noon before the papers were got into shape, and consequently nothing was accomplished in the way of hearing testimony during the forenoon session. Three drunks were arraigned and fined the usual amount. One paid and two were committed.

Willie Lewis, the boy who created a sensation in Council Bluffs by the story of his wanderings, and who was sent over from there to Omaha on Saturday, was run in Saturday night by Officer Black. He is a diminutive specimen, not over eight years of age, but his unwashed face, unkempt hair and exceedingly dirty hands all mark him as the genuine vagrant. Willie ran away from his grandmother, who lives near the fair grounds, several weeks ago and has since that time tramped over Eastern Nebraska and Western Iowa. The search instituted for him by his grandmother was unavailing until the boy was captured here when he was at once notified of the fact. The young runaway found himself confined to a hard crowd in our city jail. The sight of men with handcuffs on, locked up in cells and not allowed to come out to the fire, the hard language made by several drunks, terrorized the boy and he begged Officer McElroy yesterday to allow him to go, promising to return home at once and never run away again. He was kept until yesterday and brought into court with the other prisoners. He affected indifference for a time but finally went up to the judge and with many tears begged to be allowed to go home, promising to be a good boy in future. He was allowed to go, and started off up Sixteenth street at a lively pace. Whether he will go home or not is doubtful, but the officers think his experience of Sunday has thoroughly frightened his tramping propensities out of him. He is a bright boy, and if unmanageable at home, should be sent to the reform school.

BURNT BY BENZINE.

A Young Lady Teacher Narrowly Escapes a Horrible Fate.

On Saturday last Miss Clay, a young lady who teaches in the Omaha public schools, met with an accident which came near resulting most seriously to her. She was in the act of cleaning a pair of gloves with benzine, both gloves being on her hands, and had poured a quantity of the fluid into a wash bowl, having saturated the gloves, she stood by the stove rubbing them together when they suddenly took fire. Turning to the wash bowl, and thinking in the hurry of the moment that it contained water, she plunged both hands in. The result was an explosion, and the flames leaped up, covering her head and breast and setting her clothes on fire. With great presence of mind she seized her dress and threw it about her, smothering the flames almost instantly.

Miss Clay escapes with a burn on both arms and a burned dress, and was able to go to her class room yesterday as usual. She rooms at M. A. Pettigill's, on Chicago street, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets and boards at Gen. Estabrook's, the accident occurring at the former place.

ALMOST CRAZY.

How often do we see the hard-working father straining every nerve and muscle, and doing his utmost to support his family. Imagine his feelings when returning home from a hard day's labor, to find his family prostrate with disease, conscious of unpaid doctors' bills and debts on every hand. It must be enough to drive one almost crazy. All this unhappiness could be avoided by using Electric Bitters, which expel every disease from the system, bringing joy and happiness to thousands. FRANZ ROUSEK.

Imposing Funeral Cortage—The Third Victim of the Colfax County Murders.

On Saturday last Franz Rousek died in Bohemian town at the age of fifty years. Rousek was the husband of the woman who was killed by Heracleky, in Colfax county, a few months ago. Heracleky was Rousek's son-in-law, and killed his own wife at the same time, being now in the penitentiary serving a life term for his double murder.

Rousek was in feeble health at the time, and this broke him all up, so that he has been sick ever since and died from the effects of the tragedy, thus making Heracleky a triple murderer.

The funeral took place Sunday

THE STAR ROUTERS.

They are Making a Desperate Fight for Postponement.

The cases of Corbin, Iddings and Clary, the indicted star route men and Sidney postmaster, are exciting a great deal of interest in the United States court at Lincoln. The defendants are ably represented by counsel, and they are making a desperate fight for postponement or abandonment of their cases. Every technicality is being taken advantage of. It appears that the indictment against Corbin arraigned "Edward Corbin." The defendant by that name comes into court and pleads that he isn't the fellow, as his name is Edwin.

The object of securing a continuance of the cases is claimed by the United States to be to save the trials until something turns up to furnish a pretty plausible defense or until some of the witnesses for the prosecution die or get out of the country. A number of witnesses have been subpoenaed from New York city, Philadelphia and Washington, and all of these are much vexed at the delay which compels them to stay at Lincoln and away from their business. It is stated that one of the witnesses for the government goes out in the rear of the Commercial every morning and swears until the sulphur produced thereby drives all of the people out of the block. A hot time is expected when the cases do finally come up for trial.

Well Attended Services—Rev. Mr. Shank's Reference to the Association.

The services at the Young Men's Christian association Sunday were well attended. At the meeting in the afternoon Rev. Mr. Harsha spoke of some of the historical customs referred to in Paul's letters to the Corinthians—showing that some of those things "hard to be understood" were not so hard after all, when these customs are known. Next Sabbath afternoon he will take up Paul's second letter to the Corinthians. The evening service for men only was well attended, and short addresses were made by Messrs. Meyers, Reynolds and Boardman on the text, "What shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?"

At the Eighteenth Street M. E. Church, on the evening service, the pastor, Rev. J. W. Shank spoke very encouragingly to the congregation of the Y. M. C. A. and its work, and expressed himself as being in full sympathy with it, and asked his people as far as possible to encourage it and sustain the enterprise. He spoke feelingly of the loneliness of men away from home, and the temptations and allurements to which they were subjected, and referred to the association with its open doors and social benefits as a place where young men could find friends and not be driven into places of sin and prostitution. It is interests should be in the heart of every father, mother and friend of young men.

A COLORED MAN'S PLEA.

He Thinks the Labor Union Does not Give all a Fair Show.

The politicians are beginning to set the pot a boiling already and it behooves us to organize at once for the approaching campaign. We should not wait until the fight begins, but act at once as a united people. This is the time to look out for our own interests as citizens of this country, work our zeal should not be confined to National affairs, but extended to State, county and municipal matters as well.

The spring election, close at hand, and the fall election following it will result in many changes in the city council, school board, etc., in which we ought to have something to say. This should be done with regard to color or nationality, and the men who represent the Republican party and Republican principles will best represent us. Such men will give all who are capable of holding office a chance.

Perhaps everyone is not aware that there is a society known as the Labor union among machinists, a union among themselves to deprive colored men that have a trade of all chance to secure work. No matter how good he may be in his trade he cannot get work on account of this union. We have a few machinists among us who are the equal of any one. We must beware that none of these union men are hoisted upon the ticket to be supported by us. Our own interests must be looked after in this matter, and I hope that the president of the Garfield club will aid in uniting the colored men on the subject. Let every man come out and enroll his name in this club and work for a common aim. E. S. C.

WORTHY OF PRAISE.

As a rule we do not recommend patent medicines, but when we know of one that really is a public benefactor, and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty to impart that information to all. Electric Bitters is truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend to all.—[Ex. Sold at 50 cents a bottle. Iah & McMahon. (7)
