LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

'Fun on the Bristol' Friday night. The new moon was visible for the first time Tuesday night. There were "no end" of sleighs on the street yesterday. Lot, $100 each, $5 down and $5 per month. Bemis, agent. Supper and sociable at the 8th street M. E. church Thursday evening. The G. A. R. boys are preparing for a grand rendition of the "Union Spy". The snow is disappearing rapidly before the hot rays of the midwinter sun. There will be a reception entertainment at the First M. E. church to-night. The postoffice, government headquarters and U. P. headquarters observed Washington's birthday by keeping Sunday hours. Havey's "Strategists" are among the big shows looming up for the Lenten season. They will be at Boyd's Monday night. The fine weather yesterday promises a speedy return of papose summer. The ice men and coal dealers will once more go into mourning. Some of the railroad employes of the eastern roads have been arrested for stealing coal from the companies yards near the transfer depots. The young ladies of Brownell Hall attended services at Trinity yesterday in style. The procession attracted considerable attention en route. John Flood, of Waterloo, indicted by the grand jury for selling liquor without a license, has skipped the country and left his business in charge of his wife. Mr. Park, the foreman of the Western Newspaper Union, who was recently married, was presented Tuesday with a fine rocking chair by the employes of the office. Merchants of Omaha handling furnished goods will look to work through the spring stock now open of Shreve, Jarvis & Co., Millard's new block, Harvey street. An improvement in the running of the dummy trains could be made by making better time between the Omaha depot and the transfer depot and then allowing more at the latter point. The Dodge County Agricultural society will hold the Tenth Annual Dodge county fair at Fremont on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 6th, 7th, and 8th days of September, 1882. The thermometer at Max Meyer & Bro. from 12 m. yesterday until 2 p. m. today indicated the following: 12 m. 11; 2 p. m. 1; 7 p. m. 9; 9 p. m. 8; 7 a. m. 3 below; 10 a. m. 10; 12 m. 12; 2 p. m. 11. The Omaha Golf Club cleared $100 over and above all expenses by the concert of Monday evening. If it had been a fine night it might as well have been $1,000. We are glad the boys got out so well. The Swedish Library association will give a grand masquerade party at Turner hall on March 4th. The society is composed of about 150 members, and it is intended to make the event one of unsurpassed jollity and fun. For sale at a bargain, the stock and fixtures of the Michigan Tobacco Store, 117 Douglas street, Omaha. Business first class, location good, rent low, satisfactory reasons for selling. Apply a store. 120-van-wet-rom-to-duk-ct-f Pioneer Hook and Ladder company No. 1, attention. All members of said company are hereby requested to meet February 22d, 1882, at 8 o'clock p. m., at Firemen's hall, to arrange for the funeral ceremonies of our late member, Ed Lucas. By order of Phil Dorr, president. The benefit for Manager Marsh Friday evening will be the best entertainment of the season. The grand old "Fun on the Bristol" party will be on deck and the travesty on the "Two Orphans" which will be introduced by Sheridan for the first time will also be worth the price of admission. A lively horse, owned by Abraham & Lewis, the well known Douglas street furniture men, took a lively notion on Tenth street yesterday and made a sharp run for several blocks. He was finally pulled down by Mr. Lewis, who was driving, and no damage resulted except to the sleigh. An individual who got a little off in honor of Washington's birthday, was discharged yesterday, the parties with whom he raised the disturbance not appearing against him. There was no other arrest Tuesday and Judge Benke observed the legal holiday by locking up his court room for the day. A novel sight was witnessed on lower Farnam street yesterday. An enterprising purchaser of one of the B. & M. houses put it on runners, hitched a double team to it and took it up street. As a brick block had got up and walked across the street it would not have attracted more attention.

MANNERBOR MASQUERADE.

The Most Brilliant Event of An Unusually Brilliant Season.

The Festival of Fun at Metz's and Turner Halls. Tuesday was the great torchlight event of the season. Both Metz and Turner halls were thrown open for the eleventh annual ball of the pioneer German singing society—the Mannerchor—and as much more room could have been used to great advantage. Both halls were decorated with evergreen and bunting, and everything arranged in shape for Germania's great event in Omaha. In Metz hall the orchestra of the Omaha Musical union was stationed, and in Turner hall Irvine's orchestra, so that by this arrangement dancing was kept up continuously. When one set was resting the other was in the midst of the giddy whirl, and vice versa, so that those who desired could dance continuously the whole night through. As early as nine o'clock the halls commenced to fill with maskers, and at half past nine Steinhauser's orchestra struck up a beautiful waltz which opened the ball. The dancing continued coming, and by 11 o'clock both halls were crowded so densely that a large share of those on masque had to content themselves with looking on. The galleries and entrance ways were crowded by spectators who came early to gaze on the gay vortex of frolicsome fun. The costumes were multifarious, and for the most part grotesque, but several of the most elegant habits ever seen on a ball floor in this city. Aside from the dancing the ball committee arranged for some very interesting specialties. About ten o'clock Steinhauser's orchestra cleared the stage to make room for the presenting of a series of stereopticon views which were a success and gave great satisfaction to the dancers while resting. These exhibitions were given at intervals through the night. Another novel feature of the evening was the Vienna Ladies' orchestra, composed of members of the Mannerchor society uniformly and playing on mimic band instruments. Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter, were delightfully represented. Among the characters personated were several good caricatures of priests, jockeys, military officers, minstrels, shepherds, shepherdeses and many others. Several nations were duly represented, to-wit: China, France, low and high German, etc. The Mannerchor contributed to the evening's enjoyment by giving some beautiful and spirited choruses. The festivities were continued until daylight, when the crowd remaining at that time was enough to fill both halls. Great credit is due to the management of the Mannerchor society for the manner in which the whole programme was conducted.

B UN'S BREAK

He Tackles a Rival Billiard Table Man on General Principles.

And Now the Latter is After Him for Slender.

Last evening a gentleman whose name is Bruns and who represents a Chicago billiard table firm ran across Mr. Hochstrasser, the representative of the Brunswick & Balke company and tackled him on the relative merits of their respective firms, the quality of their goods and their prices, claiming that his firm could discount the Balke company in every respect. Mr. Hochstrasser is one man to take water for anybody and he went for the stranger with vigorous facts and figures pointedly put. Bruns claimed during the controversy that Mrs. Jahn had told him of an overcharge made against her by the Brunswick & Balke agent, and that he had heard of it and spoken of it several times during the day. This charge was denied by Mr. Hochstrasser, who offered to produce his original bill and his statement to the company as well. Affidavits were freely offered on both sides, but at length the dispute settled down apparently to a square proposition to fill an order for Mr. D. L. McGuckin for cloth for one table, the cloth to be of second quality of Simoni, both to put it in at the same price, but the one furnishing an inferior article to forfeit cloth and price to Mr. McGuckin. The two agents also put up a ten dollar note on prices, when each produced his printed list and developed the fact that Bruns was carrying a price list for two different houses, which differed considerably and might presumably be used alternately, according to circumstances. Bruns denied that he made this use of the two lists, but the discussion waxed warm, and at length the money was taken down, and Mr. Bruns, putting his case of sample balls under his arm, departed without saying so much as good night. To-day Mr. Hochstrasser has been hauling him to show up the bills and receipts concerning the Jahn matter, which shows that that lady paid $2.50 instead of over $20, for having one set of billiard balls colored. Mr. H. says if he can find Bruns he will have him arrested for slander, but up to last accounts he had not met the rival agent, whose claims he demolished entirely last night.

THE TELEPHONE

A Reconstruction of the System in the Omaha Exchange.

The Omaha Electric company is always up with the times and generally ahead. They have recently procured two new switch boards and begun the work of making a radical change in the system heretofore used in this city. The new system is that used in St. Louis and other large cities, and is thought to be better than the present one. Each subscriber, and there are now about 400 in Omaha, will be designated by a number, and calls are given and answers returned without any of the "hello" business. The caller gives the number of the subscriber he desires to talk with and his own number immediately after, which is at once repeated by the central office, where another operator makes the connection called for. The operators are to be divided into two sets, each set having its own work to do without moving from their posts. The only instances where the operators themselves will be required to do the calling of a receiving subscriber is where there are several subscribers on one line, but there are very few of these circuits. Another innovation which will greatly aid the operators and facilitate telephoning is the introduction of a water motor into the central office, which will relieve the operator from turning the cranks by hand when calling.

PERSONAL

THE LEGAL HOLIDAY.

Which was More or Less Patrioticly Observed.

Yesterday, the anniversary of the birth of the father of his country, was observed in a fitting manner by those who could afford to honor the date. Such were not newspaper men, for all the dailies came out just as if George had never been born. The bank clerks, post-office and railroad employes, all got a rest, and will go to work to-day wishing that President Washington had been born again. The pupils of Miss McCheane's class in the Central school, gave a very pleasant exhibition Tuesday, their recitation of the board of education, Superintendent Lane, Dr. Denize and other gentlemen. Exhibitions were also given in the Cass street, East, South and several other schools. The pupils of the West school, under the direction of Miss Harney and Mrs. Gibb, gave an exhibition yesterday with the following PROGRAMME: Reading—"Life of Washington"; Recitation—"Arthur Montrose";
