THE CONTEST CONTINUES

The Workmen Still Hold Out for Right Against Might.

The Organization and Work Laid Out for To-day

Discharge of the Men Arrested for Rioting. The time set for the trial of the men arrested for participation in the labor troubles of Wednesday was 2 p. m., yesterday, at which hour the cases were called, the defendants being present and also their attorneys O'Brien and Bartlett and W. J. Connell, Esq. Neither counsel for the state nor city, nor witnesses for the prosecution came into court and the police judge therefore dismissed the cases. In the case of the man Patterson, for whom Benzon, the ice man and Andrews, the saw man, were bail, and who was the one whom Chief Engineer Galligan struck with a revolver, so much indignation was felt that the International labor union felt like taking it up and arresting Mr. Galligan for assault with a deadly weapon, in order to define the duties of a special policeman and the rights of a citizen generally. The I. L. A., was not at all satisfied to let the case drop as it is, but on advising with the attorneys named they concluded to let it drop this time, and in future hope the chief engineer will confine the exercise of his energy to the fire department. Yesterday morning at a quarter before seven o'clock about two hundred strikers assembled at the dump. They were quiet and orderly. Five or six men began to go to work, when the strikers induced them to give it up, but no violence, beyond a little dirt throwing, was attempted. During the forenoon Mr. Stephenson had a man arrested as being a leader in the disturbance and for speaking insultingly as the contractor passed him on the street. The man was taken to the police court, and after a brief examination he was discharged by Judge Bencke. YESTERDAY AFTERNOON MEETING. At the meeting of the strikers yesterday afternoon President Walsh accepted the chair. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and steps taken to insure their publication in different languages and distribution among the members of the association. The following executive committee were then chosen: W. A. Fonda, chairman; John Norton, Peter Boisen, Peter Peterson, Antone Gieger, Slavaky Tiazar, P. Roy and Barney Shannon. THE PROGRAMME OF THE DAY is to convene at the dumps in the morning and discourage any men who may have been induced to resume work. The meeting then adjourned until 2 o'clock to-day at Kuony's hall, if that place can be procured; and, if not, the meeting to be held in Jefferson square. This assemblage will doubtless be a very large one, as it is expected that many of the employees of the city will turn out to demonstrate their sympathy with the cause of the strikers. The committee will proceed with their duties. The executive committee hold a closed door meeting in Turner hall at 9 o'clock in the forenoon. After this meeting a sub-committee from the executive committee will wait upon Mr. Stephenson, the B. & M. officials and the Union Pacific officials, and apprise them of the position of the strikers, and endeavor to secure the figure upon which the strike is based. The result of these conferences will be reported to the general assemblage in the afternoon for consideration and action. REPORTS AND REMOVS. There are hundreds of reports and rumors in the air, some of which are true and some without foundation. The difficulty is to determine which are the former. It is very much like the pertinent question asked by the Quaker when told that he should not believe more than half the statements of a certain man, when he responded, "Yes, but which half?" One of the committee delegated to see the shop men and all other laborers working for the various industries in the city reported last evening that they had found the smelting works officials quite pleasantly disposed toward the movement and that the latter had expressed the intention to pay as much for labor as it should generally be considered worth. The officials requested that the committee refrain from talking with the men and this was complied with. According to the same authority proprietors of the lumber yards said they would pay $1.75 if they couldn't keep the men at work for less. The same committee stated that they met a decided rebuff from Master Mechanic Congdon at the Union Pacific shops. He was reported as stating that if the men didn't wish to work at the present prices they needn't, and he had nothing to say on the subject. After failing to get a very satisfactory reception from Mr. Congdon the committee claim to have talked with forty or more laborers and all indicated their intention of joining in the strike. At the sewer work on Tenth street the boss was seen and he expressed his desire to employ the best men and pay the highest wages. The contractors, as a whole, were considered as favorable to the movement. The prices at the smelting works at present for unskilled labor are $1.50 and $1.60. At the shops it is stated that the pay for unskilled labor reaches $1.80, and ranges between $1.50 and that figure. To-day the committee will visit the distillery, the packing houses and the mill works. CHANGE OF BASE. It was stated last evening that the Burlington & Missouri company had determined to start their work themselves on Monday, and would put up men at $1.50 per day. They have asked for and obtained the promise of the mayor that twenty-five policemen shall be sworn in to guard the dump,

WINSOIT'S WICKEDNESS.

More of It Coming to Light About the Bold Contractor—He Didn't Like His Ride to Omaha.

RATHER ROUGH.

A Witness in the Packing House Arson Case Who Complains Bitterly. William Winsoit, the contractor recently arrested in Pueblo, turns out to be really named Winscott, the "Winscott" being another of his numerous aliases under which he traveled in Omaha. The particulars of his arrest in Pueblo by Sheriff Hyers, of Plattsmouth, are quite interesting. When accosted by the sheriff he denied his identity with the Winscott of Omaha, and stated that he had never been here. He would not confess to his identity until he arrived within one hundred miles of the city, when he admitted it. Upon reaching the street after his arrest Winscott asked to go home and inform his wife. This was agreed to by the officer. When Winscott was at dinner, at home, and the officer was in an adjoining room, Mrs. Winscott approached the latter with the question, "How did they get on to it that we were here?" The officer drew her out and she said: "They must have had a detective; for they didn't know I was here, I am sure." When arrested Winscott was making an arrangement at an architect's office to go into the construction of a large block on a principal street in Pueblo in company with a well known contractor of that city. On the way in over the U. P., Winscott seemed to feel very badly at times and then would endeavor to get away from the sheriff by making various excuses. It was thought best on that account to shackle him, which was done. When he reached Omaha Winscott grew taciturn and did not speak to the officer or those who met him. At Plattsmouth, he was still more unwilling to talk and went to jail without seeing any one. Mr. Driscoll stated yesterday that more of Winscott's casuistry had cropped out to the surface since his arrest and that enough has been learned to make it hot for him in several directions. THE FATAL PLAGUE. Death Takes Another Victim of the Small Pox. Another death from small pox occurred yesterday, not at the hospital but in the city. The victim was the little daughter of the German Lutheran pastor, who resided on Jackson street opposite the residence of Wm. Brown, from whose family the disease was probably received. The remains of the little one were interred in Prospect hill at midnight last night by Mr. Houck. The first small pox patient who has recovered and returned to the world since the outbreak of the disease in this city, John J. Donnelly, was discharged from quarantine yesterday and came into the city a free man and a well man. He is one of the patients taken out from the Slaven house. Two more will be sent out as convalescents in the next two days, which will leave but two at the hospital, one of the two being the woman who was taken out from the Emmet House. All those remaining are now doing well, though Preston, who was taken up while wandering about near Bell's 10th street drug store, had a slight set back from inflammatory rheumatism. One new patient will be taken to the hospital on Monday night, being too bad for immediate removal. This is the party taken sick in the vicinity of the gas house, and still being cared for down there. There are at present at the pest house, beside the patients, Col. Houck, the steward, the two Francis sisters and one male assistant to Col. Houck. The warm spell is rapidly lightening their labors and it is hoped that there will be no new cases whatever. THEODORE THOMAS and many others of the BEST MUSICIANS say that the "WIGG" combines all the qualities of a "thoroughly perfect piano." Omaha musicians, who know them, endorse the same. They are the best and purest medicine in the world, and also cost fifty cents. Sold by Ish & McShane. (4) G. A. THE LITTLE DUKE.

Second Evening of the Alice Oates Company.

"The Little Duke" drew a large audience to Boyd's opera house last night, and was very well presented by the Oates Opera Bouffe company. Alice Oates took the part of the "Duc de Raoul de Parthenay" to the utmost satisfaction of all, and her performance in part compensated for the shortcomings of other members of the company. Such incongruities as are so glaringly apparent when one sees an artist of Miss Oates' ability surrounded by a company of only moderate calibre are very annoying, but these, perhaps, may be for the sake of the contrast. The audience were not overly enthusiastic, and were not stirred to real applause but two or three times during the entire evening. To-night "La Mascotte" is announced, and at the matinee this afternoon "Girofle-Girofla" will be played. PERSONAL. W. C. Drake, of Lincoln, is in the city.
