OCCIDENTAL JOTTINGS.

CALIFORNIA.

Almost trees in Sutter and Yuba counties are in full bloom.

Oakland took in $1,000 from twenty-seven Chinamen in one haul—the tariff for gambling on Sunday.

A Kern county firm are so pleased with their experiments in cotton growing that they will devote 600 acres to it the present season.

The farmers in the southern part of the State have been saved from threatened famine by late rains, which penetrated eleven inches of soil.

Miss Florence Crisp, living near Tehama, who achieved newspaper mention not long ago by challenging a married man to kiss her after which her mother had him fined $7.50 for the act, has eloped.

The track-walker on the Central Pacific railroad, who has his head from Cape Horn, was driven from his station on Tuesday evening last by three large California lions. The beasts came down from the mountain side, and were evidently hungry, but the man declined to furnish a meal.

The mica mines in the northern hills are being worked on a large scale than ever. One company shipped last week $1,000 worth of mica to Chicago.

It is predicted that more gold will be taken from the Deadwood creek in the next five years to come than has been taken up to the present date.

Three wheat growers near Bismark finished their wheat February 15th, expecting to gain two weeks' growing time by so taking time by the forelock.

A vein of ore six feet wide, which assays from five hundred to eight hundred ounces of gold, has been discovered in the Hatler mine shaft at the carbonate camp.

A long continued dry spell is interfering considerably with the mining business of the hills. The mill at Lead has been compelled to hang up stamps owing to the scarcity of water.

A grist mill and elevator has been erected at Nordland, Kingsbury county, at a cost of $2,000, which is the only concern of the kind on the line of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad in Dakota.

Water was found at the depth of one hundred and eighteen feet in the artesian well at Rapid City, which immediately after it was discovered when the sides of the hole caved in and operations were suspended.

The Richland county court house is completed and occupied by the county officials. The building is a handsome, substantial one, and was built and furnished with three hundred dollars less than the original $15,000 appropriation.

NEVADA.

At Hallel Station the thermometer marked 41 degrees below zero on the 15th ult.

Frost on the Comstock has penetrated mining shafts 700 feet, freezing dripping water at that depth from the surface.

The Reno Journal says it has reason to believe that the net profits of the Central Pacific on its Nevada business last year were not less than $3,000,000. The report of the company states, and the secretary of state gives no information whatever on the subject.

The Catholic church at Reno was robbed of $400 last Thursday night. The money had been collected towards building a parsonage, and was deposited in a small iron safe, which was taken from the building and cut open. After abstracting the coin, the safe was taken back to its place.

Helena has decided to light up with electricity.

Mecher county is to have a stone court house 40x60 feet in dimensions and two stories high.

It is said that half of the silver half-dollars in circulation in Montana are bogus. They are made by Chinese in San Francisco. The filling is base metal.

A large gang of men on the N. P. grade at Belford were informed that a reduction of wages was decided upon—from $2 to $1.75 a day of eleven hours. A squad called on the superintendent at midnight, and gave him a few minutes to get up from his bed, put on his clothes, and leave camp. They spoke in such a manner as leave no doubt as to what would be the consequence of a refusal to obey their orders promptly, and he got up and walked.

WYOMING.

The Laramie rolling mill is working full time these days.

There are three murderers in the Laramie jail awaiting trial.

The Union Pacific is putting down an artesian well at Harper station.

The Hartville mines in the Platte canyon are panning out favorably.

The supreme court convened last Monday, with only four new cases on the docket.

A young man named Pratt was killed Wednesday in one of the numerous tie camps near Tie Siding, by a tree falling on him.

Charles Hutton, who has six sections of land under fence on the Laramie plains, and $3,000 tons of hay last summer and a profit of eight dollars per ton.

Four young children were badly poisoned in Cheyenne by eating boiled meat covered with strychnine, which some person hung on a fence to catch a dog or two. The children are recovering.

The legislative excursionists purchased an elegant gold chain, mounted with native quartz, which they presented to Robt. Law, superintendent of the mountain division of the U. P. Ry., as a token of their appreciation.

A new stage line from Laramie to Douglas Creek will soon be established. The route is a good one, and as the spring boom will bring hosts of prospectors, miners and laborers to these camps, a line of that kind will pay well.

The members of the legislature and friends were given an excursion to Denver and other points in Colorado by the U. P. company, last week. The elixir of Com and the refined air of Leadville, was too much for the legislative stomach, and mineral water failed to ease their humors. The natural consequence was that several members threw up their boots out of the car window in one of the picturesque canyons on the return.

Considerable wealth from the Cummins city mines is coming into Laramie. Six sacks of ore taken from the Golden Eagle mine went, by actual mill run, $551.28 to the ton in gold. The vein is said to be over four feet wide and well defined. From the Blossom mine four sacks were milled, and it ran $400.22 to the ton. From the Silver mountain thirty pounds were tested and it went $1,512 to the ton. From the Millet, eleven pounds were tested and it ran $497 to the ton, and assays from the same mine $1,323 in gold and $135 in silver to the ton.

Balm in Gilead.

There is balm in Gilead to heal each gaping wound;

In Thomas' Electric Oil, the remedy is found.

For internal and for outward use, you can't do better than apply it;

For all pain and inflammation, you should not fail to try it.

It only costs a trifle, 'tis worth its weight in gold;

And by every dealer in the land this remedy is sold. Mar-74-1w

St. Louis Republican.

John W. Foster, ex-minister to St. Petersburg, has given shape to his views and impressions of Russia in a lecture before the Young Men's Hebrew association of New York. Showing the diverse and often antagonistic elements of this great empire, he says the Bible has been translated into 119 different languages by the Greek church, to meet the needs of the czar's subjects. Aside from the great variety of races there are also many religions as the Roman Catholic, Protestant, Jew, Mussulman, Buddhist, and Fire Worshipper, all mingled with a multitude of unbelievers of different stripes. The government, really wonderful in spite of all its defects, which has been evolved from this discordant mass, has for its centre the great body of 60,000,000 Slavonic Russians. The border around this central nucleus is made up of the Finns and Lapps on the north; the Tartars and Kalmycks on the east; Caucasians and Mussulmans on the south, and the other Slav races on the south-west. After a brief sketch of the manner in which the yoke of the Tartars was thrown off, and the firm dominion of the czar established, the lecturer discussed the great variety of races, there are also many religions as the Roman Catholic, Protestant, Jew, Mussulman, Buddhist, and Fire Worshipper, all mingled with a multitude of unbelievers of different stripes. The government, really wonderful in spite of all its defects, which has been evolved from this discordant mass, has for its centre the great body of 60,000,000 Slavonic Russians. The border around this central nucleus is made up of the Finns and Lapps on the north; the Tartars and Kalmycks on the east; Caucasians and Mussulmans on the south, and the other Slav races on the south-west. After a brief sketch of the manner in which the yoke of the Tartars was thrown off, and the firm dominion of the czar established, the lecturer discussed the great variety of races, there are also many religions as the Roman Catholic, Protestant, Jew, Mussulman, Buddhist, and Fire Worshipper, all mingled with a multitude of unbelievers of different stripes.
