among the importing houses, with a view to some preliminary notions.

found indubitable proof that very large bonnets, and more monstrous round hats than any yet seen in America, are to be put before our women - and much I fear that these women will buy and wear them.

most exaggerated of the pokes have square, flat crowns, with grotesquely flaring fronts. These will be plenty of medium and small pokes and these, I hope, will be given the preference.

As for trimmings, flowers will be used lavishly. Every fashionable head will in the words of the doggerel, have "a flower garden on it." That will be the case by midsummer. In the meantime Easter bonnets will be less liberally garnished.

Small capotes will have wreaths of crushed roses in front; or a crown will be formed of rows of tiny rambuds, alternating with beads; or forget-me-nots will be interspersed with crystals for dewdrops. Once started in the flower line, our women will rush to a climax about the 1st of August, at which time look out for such a plenitude as will cover all the fashionable heads deep and wide with Flora's gayest productions.

The aesthetic worship of lilies and sunflowers is what is leading to that result. Here is a true little sample of the craze. It is no longer considered in delicate taste to wear under-garments made almost wholly of lace held together by bands of lustrous, or hitherto, the most elegant bridal outfits, are procurable for exquisite fineness of material combined with plainness. Well, a recent bride wore a chemise of that sort; but on the bosom of it, covered by her bodice, were two real, live sunflowers, sewed on the white material. Mustn't she have looked funny to the new husband.

Collecting a Dividend. In the early days of railroading in Missouri a six-foot stranger with a bad look in his eye, one day entered a station on the line of Blank & Dash Road, pulled out ten shares of stock in the company, and inquired of the station master if there were any dividends on the stock.

"Never heard of any," was the reply. "Didn't ever anybody try to collect dividends?" "If they did they didn't get anything."

"This stock ought to pay ten per cent," continued the stranger. Here's a $1,000 (Ten per cent a year would be $100. I've held these shares three months which would be $15. Pardner, I want my money."

"But I've nothing to do with it! You must go to St. Louis."

"Too far away! I'm going to collect here and save time! Pilgrim, count out my divy!"

The above peroration was followed by sight of a six-shooter and an expression which meant business, and the agent didn't consume three minutes counting out the money, which the stranger took and walked out, with the remark that he had never invested in any stock paying less than ten per cent, and didn't believe in cumulative dividends. This was the only dividend paid by that road for thirteen years, and the agent on a salary of $40 per month had to stand that.

How's the baby? "His croup is better this morning than it was. We gave him some of 'Brook's' Eucalypti Oil, as you advised, doctor, and shall give him some more in an hour or so." Next day the doctor pronounced the youngster cured.
