

Weather Report
The following observations are taken at various points at the present moment of time at the standard time.

Table with columns for Station, Barometer, Thermometer, Wind, and Remarks. Includes data for Omaha, Des Moines, and other locations.

LOCAL BREWITTES.

Oscar Wilde lectures at Boyd's tomorrow night. Street cars all stop now before going over a railroad crossing. The fair for the benefit of St. Joseph's hospital begins April 10th.

A PEACEFUL SABBATH.

The Militia Officers Visit the Government Barracks and the Fort. The Limit of the Military Occupation Still a Question of Doubt.

The Question of the Hour is Treated from the Pulpit.

The Workmen Hold a Meeting at Kessler's To-Night.

A damp day, in which a cold east wind and a chilling rain were the most noticeable features, made yesterday an uneventful day among the various parties interested in the military occupation of Omaha. The stars and stripes floated above the old church as they did above the military headquarters.

England. He felt he had only done his duty, and he had nothing to fear. The mayor and sheriff and others had been trying to intimidate them, but they must not be intimidated.

Resolved, That all members of this union leave their work as expeditious and find other boarding places.

OTHERS STILL FIRM.

At the dump Saturday everything was quiet. The soldiers were gathered in squads and the dangerous looking pickets promoting their several beats. The free passage of people to and from the works was evidently not interfered with, as people were passing over all parts of the grounds without molestation.

for the protection of social order and public safety. Labor and capital ought to be friends, not enemies, as they are mutually and equally dependent upon each other.

Selfish capital will cut down the price of labor to the lowest possible figure when times are close and hard, but will always raise it again when times get better and provisions and other necessities of life are higher.

As a matter of natural consequence the cities will become more densely populated and the country more thickly settled.

The grand trouble of the times exists in the impatience of labor. Nor is it to be wondered at. But it cannot be done at once. It takes ages to accomplish great social revolutions. Much has thus far been said to the workmen, because they are the ones disaffected. Competition suits the employer. He wants no change, but he must remember that competition must inevitably yield to co-operation.

Wish to inform the citizens of Omaha that the lathers of this city are not on a strike as has been erroneously supposed. About two weeks ago they organized a union and asked the mayor to give them three cents per yard for lathing which they readily and cheerfully did, and which is gratefully appreciated by the lathers.

Wish to return my sincere thanks to my many friends for their kindness shown me in my recent bereavement, especially to those who acted as pallbearers, Messrs. Goodell, Mullen, Rudge and Sevey; also to Mr. George Howser, secretary T. M. C. A.

A Good Housewife. A good housewife, when she is giving her house its spring renovation, should bear in that the dear inmates of her house are more precious than many houses, and that their systems need cleansing by purifying the blood, regulating the stomach and bowels to prevent and cure the diseases arising from spring malaria and miasma.
