CORPORATION CITIZENS.

Who Resolve Upon "Anything to Beat the Workingmen's Ticket."

The political part is beginning to boil in several ways, and the coming municipal election promises to present a middle which the most intelligent voter will be at a loss to clear.

The active interest taken by the working people this spring in the coming election has evidently greatly frightened the railroad corporations and private corporations who have axes to grind in the next council, and the strength displayed by the workingmen's movement of late has driven these individuals into "paroxysms of the wild-cat alarm."

To avert this coming disaster to corporate and monopoly control, for some time the corporation papers, Republican and Herald, which are nominally the "staunch" standbys of republicanism and democracy in this city and such few corners of the state in which they find dead head readers, have shaken the horn of combination.

To this end they have urged the abandonment of party lines and the union of business people to prevent what they imagine will be a calamity—an untrammelled workingmen's representation in the council.

In accordance with this hoodoo tonic of alarm, "secret" steps have been taken, which have developed something like a movement. A "secret" meeting was called on Monday evening by the political managers of the corporations in the board of trade rooms. The object of selecting this place for the meeting was evidently for the purpose of fooling somebody with the appearance of a business men's meeting. In order to gather material for this meeting, Frank Walters, whose position as a Union Pacific henchman is growing more important with each additional local election, made an active canvass among business men in the name of the powers, that he, and indeed about forty, attend.

When these "forty" who should not be confounded with the "forty thieves" or Bill Nye's "forty liars"—finally gathered and were huddled under the corporation wing, it was somewhat remarkable only such members of the board of trade and business men as are known to wear brass collars or to have heavy shipments to make are present. The reason why the palatable enough—none others had been invited. The meeting was called to order and presided over by Caspar E. Yost of the Republican.

At this preliminary meeting there was "heav talk." The main idea advanced was that it was desirable to get the republican and democratic primaries recalled and to have a conglomerate ticket put up which should ostensibly be in opposition to the workingmen's movement, but which should also be pledged in the interests of the corporations. The only business done was to appoint a committee to confer with the chairman of the republican and democratic central committees to request a withdrawal of the calls for regular primaries. After this action the meeting adjourned until last evening.

When the time for the meeting came last evening about the same number, and with some additions, the same class of men were present. A permanent organization was effected by the nomination of B. E. Kenney as chairman, and Thomas Gibney as secretary. The report of the committee appointed to confer with the chairman of the central committees was made, but it was not very satisfactory, being to the effect that these committees were composed of men who were not to be influenced, and in the language of the report, with whom there was little use of wasting time.

After this more "heav talk" ensued. It was proposed, and partly agreed upon, that the thing should be "divvied" as it were, giving the First, Second and Third wards to the democrats and the other wards to the republicans when the nominations should be made. A committee of six, half republicans and half democrats, was appointed from each ward, and these committees were instructed to bring in the names of six nominees for the council. These committees will report this evening, when another meeting will be held. When these nominations are made then the circus will probably begin.

THE LIQUOR MEN. Another element in local politics is coming to the front. This is none other than the merchants and manufacturers union, which held a closed door meeting Monday night. There was a full attendance and a large amount of money was raised. What other action was taken has not yet leaked out.

BARRELS REMOVED. Rumors were afloat on the street yesterday that certain dissensions had arisen in the labor union, which pointed toward the division of that organization. A prominent member of the union stated last evening that such rumors were baseless. He said it was true that some disagreement had arisen over certain proposed nominations, but as no nominations had been agreed upon definitely there was no ground for the report of a split. On the other hand he said that the labor union was stronger and more united than ever, and would make such nominations when the time came as would meet the approval of all fair minded and honest voters.

NOTICE TO WEARERS OF SPECIFIC TAILORS. Our attention has been called to the fact that others are representing to the public that they are selling the Star Tinted Spectacles. This is an unmitigated fraud.

The celebrated protectors to that valuable organ, sight, can only be had at the leading jewelry establishment of EDHOLM & ERICKSON, opposite the postoffice, they being the sole agents in this section. They to those who are suffering with smarting, tired and watering eyes, throw away your glasses at once, as they are only injuring your sight, and repair at once to leading jewelers and secure a pair of those genuine Star Tinted Glasses and see the immediate relief.

EDHOLM & ERICKSON, the popular jewelers, opposite the Postoffice. M154.

T. J. EVANS, Agent, Crystal Mills Corn Mill Bluff.
