of land granted; the amount cleared; where located, etc. The following table gives the number of acres granted and the number patented or decided to the companies by the government, they having, in the opinion of the Interior Department, earned such portions by the construction of portions of their roads, which they have been given title to. The full amounts granted them in the land grants are not included in the report, the resolution of inquiry, only asking for those which have not earned the full amount of the grants. The following table shows the amount of land granted and the amount patented to the roads:

Table with columns: Road, Acres Granted by Act, Acres Patented. Rows include Northern Pacific, Atlantic & Pacific, Texas Pacific, Oregon Central, etc.

Mr. Carlisle closed his speech at 2.10, and was followed by Mr. Spear (Ga.), who opposed the bill, saying that the country and the people were suffering from the present tariff system, and should be relieved by the immediate action of congress, and not be delayed by the long action of the commission bill proposed. He devoted much time to denunciation of the revenue act, saying that its burdens were unnecessarily heavy in their requirements, and that this generation was bearing a burden properly belonging to that which is to follow. He referred, especially, to the effects of the revenue laws in the south, denouncing them as burdensome and unjust to the people of that section, alleging that most of the so-called capture of illicit distilleries in the south are founded on distorted statements of facts and in many cases were not made on the people concerned. The tariff bill went over and the house adjourned.

CAPITAL NOTES.

COUNTRY POSTMASTERS.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Postmaster General Howe has recommended to the house appropriation committee that postmasters of the fourth class be allowed to act as disbursing officers under certain restrictions. This will save money in printing and signing of warrants.

THE SENATE'S INSTRUCTIONS.

Referring to Trecoott's complaint of the premature publication of his correspondence, the Post of course will say editorially: "A gentleman who is entirely familiar with the Peru-Chili controversy and who takes great interest in South American affairs, declares that the instructions to Trecoott were made against the most earnest and repeated protests of Blaine; that the president had promised Blaine the instructions should not be made public and that he afterwards yielded to Frelinghuysen's demand for their publication; that Blaine told the president that premature publication would lead to failure of the mission and that Trecoott's last request before leaving was that no communication to him or from him should be given to the press until after his return from South America. Hence Trecoott's complaint to Frelinghuysen for violating the understanding under which he set out upon his mission. It is highly probable that the whole subject will be investigated by the house committee on foreign affairs."

NOT SO FRIGHTFULLY BAD

Statement Concerning the Floods by a Prominent Planter.

The Destitution is Not as General as People are Apt to Believe.

And the Planters Can and Are Getting Ready to Put in the Usual Crops.

A Good Deal of the Complaining is Done by the Chronic Croakers.

And They are Going Back to Their Wives' Relatives in the States.

National Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, March 29.—In an interview to-day Gen. D. H. Reynolds, a leading citizen and planter of Ohio county, said the condition of affairs there had been greatly exaggerated. There was a big overflow and much destitution but little that the citizens of the county could not relieve. The planting of crops has commenced and nearly as much land as usual will be cultivated. The waters are everywhere steadily receding and the spirits of the people are on the increase. He expects the entire county will be free from flood water very soon. Everybody is hopeful. Government aid was welcome, but all who now want to work can get it. Gen. Reynolds, who is well acquainted with the overflowed districts in this state, Mississippi and Louisiana, thinks the effects will not be as disastrous as represented. Capitalists from Boston and elsewhere are availing themselves of the opportunities to purchase lands in the overflowed districts at unusually low prices. Many small farmers in the flooded portions of St. Francis and other counties, having everything swept away, are preparing to return to the states they came from. If no further rise occurs Gen. Reynolds thinks this state will come out all right.

Murdered By a Drunken Man.

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—Alexander P. Wingate, of Lexington, Ky., was shot in the bowels and killed this morning, at 1.35, on an Ohio & Mississippi train, between Sharpville and Medina. His assassin was an unknown man who was crazed by drink and had no provocation for the shooting. After the tragedy the man jumped from the train while it was going at a rate of forty miles an hour, landed safely, walked half a mile to a creek, stripped himself naked, and jumped into the stream, where his dead body was found this morning. The clothes were found hanging on a bridge and contained $90 in cash, a gold watch, and express receipts for $400, sent from El Paso, Texas, to New Salem, Ohio, and a quart bottle of ginger brandy about half full. Both bodies were brought to this city and an inquest will be held to-morrow.

Accident to the Flying Dutchman.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 29.—The express train on the Minnesota & St. Louis road, commonly called the "Flying Dutchman," had an extreme narrow escape from catastrophe at a late hour last night. On entering a cut a short distance this side of Hastings she ran into a boulder weighing a ton which had accidentally detached itself from the overhanging cliff, and lay across the track. The boulder was partially pushed aside by the cow catcher, but the engine was badly used up, the journals of every car broken, and the baggage car derailed. Brakeman Esterlump jumped from the train and was bruised. No one else was hurt. The escape from a plunge into the river bordered on the miraculous. Passengers were delayed three hours.

Accessory to a Mail Robbery.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 29.—W. W. Day, of Janesville, Wis., was brought to this city by the postal authorities, charged with being accessory to the mail robbery committed by Austin Tobdell on the 7th inst., on the route between Janesville and Alena City. Day was sub-contractor of the route, and knew Tobdell out the pouch. He took money from Tobdell, keeping it in his possession twenty-four hours before reporting the same, thus allowing the latter to escape. Day waived an examination, and in default of $1,000 bail was committed to jail to await the next turn of the district court.

A Crazy Woman.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., March 29.—Mrs. Ballard, of Lincoln, Lincoln county, after a row with her husband, took their children, seven and eleven

The Missouri Train Robbers.

KANSAS CITY, March 29.—Dick Little, one of the leaders of the James gang of robbers, has been in the hands of the officers here for some time and the past operations of the whole gang are known. They were all engaged in the Winston robbery of the Rock Island train and it was Jesse James who killed Conductor Westfall. They were also engaged in the robbery of the Chicago & Alton train at Blue Cut, September 7th. Since then it is believed Jesse James has killed Wood Hite, brother of Jeff Hite, who was recently sent to the penitentiary for participation in the Winston robbery. Full particulars cannot now be given. John Land, who is now in jail in Independence, gives the names of the following parties as participants in the Blue Cut robbery: Jesse and Frank James, Jim Cummings, Ed Miller, and Dick Little, of the old James boys' gang; John and Wm. Bulger, Fred Chapman, Frank Armstrong, Charles Danford and John Motte, all of the Cracker Neck neighborhood in this county. John Motte was the telegraph operator at Gladland. The trial of Motte, the Bulger brothers and Fred Chapman will begin at Independence to-morrow if a jury is secured. John Land is the principal witness for the prosecution.

He had a flask of whisky with him and became intoxicated. In that condition he quarrelled with Edgington and attempted to shoot the latter, but was prevented by the daughter. The father procured a pistol, put Edgington out of the house and fired at him. Edgington was heard to exclaim: "I am shot," but ran away. The next morning his body was found lying in the road where he had died.

Accident of an Old Peck.

WASHTON, Ohio, March 29.—Jasper last evening Gilbert Shophire shot and instantly killed John Ryder and his son George and put a bullet through the arm of Dave, another of Ryder's sons. Great bitterness has grown out of the trial of the case in court.

Deaths Caused by the Blizzard.

ST. PAUL, March 29.—The recent blizzard was very severe on the Wisconsin coast. It is estimated that about 200 people died in the vicinity of Washburn, Redfield and Ordway, are just coming to light. Many lives were doubtless lost on the prairies which are not known. The following is definite information: A lieutenant, name unknown, from Fort Sisseton, Dak., on his way home to Germany on a furlough, started in company with a stage driver named Howard to take the cars at Watertown, both perished. A Mrs. Long and son Albert, aged 19, living near Krausberg, started with a team to visit a sick neighbor on the prairie; both were found dead three miles northwest of Goodwin, Dak. On Monday twelve land explorers, riding ponies, left Aberdeen for Watertown, and have not since been heard from, but two of their ponies have been found. If these latter do not appear at Indianapolis the Quaha will go to Boston, and there meet the famous Chickasaws, and determine the championship of the south and the country.

Bronze Guns for Monument.

Congress began to enact laws twelve or fifteen years ago giving condemned bronze or iron cannon to various associations, to be used in the erection of soldiers' monuments or in casting statues in honor of distinguished generals of the civil war. A large number of bills which gave away cannon have been introduced on the calendar. A bill of this sort in behalf of a monument to President Garfield was introduced, but the committee decided to give a sum of money instead of the guns. Congressmen and the people who urge them to introduce such bills ought to know the real condition of the supply of useless cannon. The government has now only 281 condemned bronze guns, of which 217 are in the arsenals and 64 in the forts. There are, however, 646 other bronze guns, so valuable but obsolete. An of these bronze guns can be used in manufactures of the ordnance department. They are worth 16 cents a pound, or about $136,000. They are also 774 cast-iron guns, which are either unobscured or of obsolete model, and 98 guns of steel or wrought iron in the same condition. That cannot be utilized in manufacture by the ordnance department. The iron guns are worth 1 1/2 cents a pound, or about $65,000, and the wrought iron and steel guns 10 cents a pound, or $10,000. Sixteen laws were enacted in 1870, and many others since that time, providing for the contribution

His Testimony Fully Corroborated at the Investigation.

TRERONT, March 29.—When the railroad's Jersey City water front bill came up in the assembly this afternoon, Assemlyman Shinn made charges of bribery, saying he was called out by John J. Cramer, keeper of the Arlington house at Cape May, and handed $500 by a stranger and promised $500 more after his vote had been cast in favor of the bill, the party saying the ruling figure for votes was $500, and the bill had already cost a good deal of money. Shinn turned the money over to the committee appointed to investigate the matter, and at the session this evening testified to the matter, and several witnesses corroborated Shinn, and showed that money is being used to influence votes, so as to override the governor's veto, the bill having already passed the senate.
