Superintendent Clark and His Work for the Next Year.

The Burnington's Action in Regard to the Colorado Pool.

Mr. S. S. Merrill, general manager of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, informed a Chicago Tribune representative Tuesday that Mr. J. T. Clark, the newly appointed general superintendent of his road will assume the duties of the position about May 15th, and that he will have full charge of the operations of the road. Mr. Merrill feels rather elated because he has been able to secure the sevices of so able and experienced an operating man as Mr. Clark.

Mr. Merrill also stated that no new will be commenced this year, but the work begun last season will be pushed to a speedy completion. The lines on which work is now progressing and done, and while the workmen were which will be finished this year are as

General Manager Potter, d ofee Burlington, submitted a written stat ment to the effect that his company was induced to give notice of with drawal because its percentage in the Colorado pool was insufficient, and that his road was entitled to a larger share of the business. It would reconsider its notice of withdrawal if it was given a larger percentage in the Northern Division and a share of the business in the Southern Divisien, as by the construction of a new line to Denver it has not only increased facilities from Chicago, but has also a good and direct line from St. Louis. Owing to the absence of the represen-tatives of the St. Louis & San Fran cisco it was not possible to take any action regarding the demand for a share of the business in the Southern Division, and consequently the con-sideration of the whole matter was deferred until this morning at ten o'clock, when it is expected that a representative of the St. Louis & San Francisco road will be present. The Burlington, it is claimed, cannot well afford to engage in a war on Colorado business against all other lines, because it would bring about a combination between the other roads in the association and the Union Pacific and Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, and this would enable them to meet any rates made on Colorado business by the Burlington. Besides a war on Colorado business would greatly embarrass the affairs of the Southwestern and Iowa associations, and the Burlington cannot desire any such result.

> FIGHTING FOR PASSAGE. The Denver Tribune of yesterday

"About fifteen minutes to 7 o'clock last night, two hundred workmen and a heavy force of teams simultaneously appeared at the Denver Gas Works, at Wewatta and Nineteenth streets, having come from different directions. The men had walked up Nineteenth street, from the lower Chicago & Burlington ington railroad grade. The teams, with their loads of ties and rails, had come alongside the railroad track at the Gas house from Seventeenth street. Five minutes later three hundred feet of track had been laid through the street, between the Rio Grande track and the main building of the Gas works. The balance of the night the night workmen stood guard over the new property. The new track practically lets the road through Wewatta street to the Union depot, and only lacks a few feet at the Colorado Central "Y" to be connected.

The cause for the mysterious and rapid work can be briefly explained; The road had obtained a right of way through Wewatta street to the depot. The line had been constructed to the Nineteenth street crossing, from which point it was thought the road could be built to the depot without fear of contest or molestation. Recently it became the expressed intention of the Gas company, that the Burlington people should not be allowed to build through the narrow road between the Rio Grande track and the building. It was feared that an injunction, re straining further work would be issued from the court, and, to protect their right of way, the company took the construction of branches or extensions precaution to build before legal interference had been made. Now they have the road, and it is their claim that they can hold it.

An hour after the work had been keeping sentinel pace by the track, Colonel Archer, of the gas company, arrived upon the scene, and inspected

The new Council Bluffs extension from Marion, O., to Council Bluffs.

Dangerous Men in the City Taken.

They Are Identified as the Men Who Garroted Adolph Siefkin.

Other Important Criminal News

A few weeks ago the residence John Little was robbed of several hundred dollars' worth of valuables by robbers, who entered through the window. On Saturday night last Mr. Adolph Siefkin, the cigar box manufacturer, was garroted and robbed by two men at the gate of his residence on Davenport street, at the early hour of 9 p. m., when many of the residents in that vicinity were passing in and out of their houses. Mr. Siefkin was very roughly used, although he lost but little money, and wanted his men brought to justice. He gave the officers a description as nearly as he could, believing he could recognize the man who held him down, if he saw him Officer Frank Kasper had been at work on the Little case, and having several pointers, had his eyes on several parties. On hearing the de-scription of Mr. Siefkin's assistants, he at once thought he recognized in them the same men he suspected of robbing Little's house. He worked the matter up quietly, and learned that the two men were stopping in a little red house near Seventh and Jones street and not far from Metz's brewery. One of these men was Jim Murphy, a character feared by all the residents in that part of town. Kasper had learned that he was at the Slaven house, from which he was fired out, about 11 o'clock on the night of the garroting, and that he afterward spent money enough to get very drunk, at a 10th street saloon. At 4 o'clock on the morning of the Little robbery Kasper met the same man on the corner of 15th and Farnam and consequently had him down The other man was described as having a fair complexion, heavy set, etc., the description answering to William Kirtland, a notorious offender against the law and a pal of Murphy's. Kasper arranged to have Mr. Siefkin go down and get a sight at the men before making the arrests, and
