MINOR MENTIONS.

Joseph Reiter makes suits up to the latest styles at 310 Broadway. April 14.

Arrangements are being made for another game of base ball next Saturday afternoon between the Council Bluffs nine and a picked nine of old players.

Take your ice from the Blue Wagons. Orders taken at J. T. Oliver's and at Jones Bros' grocery. Mulholland & Co., successors to D. F. Eicher. April 29th.

J. M. Enourine and T. H. Millard were yesterday arrested by Marshal Jackson for frequenting a house of ill-fame, and on pleading guilty were fined each $5 and costs.

N. Dressler, known and booked at the police station as "Dutch George," was in the superior court yesterday for being drunk, and was given the lowest fine possible, $3 and costs.

A lively row has broken out between two women, living neighbors on Vine street. One charges the other with placing filth on her front doorstep during the night, for the purpose of annoying her.

W. F. Lewis and William Warner were before the superior court yesterday, charged with malicious mischief. The latter was discharged, and the former held in $50 bail to await the action of the grand jury.

The probability is that the light guards will not hereafter receive the donation of $15 per month heretofore allowed them by the city, the aldermen seeming inclined to cut down expenses so far as possible and doing away with luxuries.

The names of those whose assessments have been raised by the board of equalization have been placed at the entrance of the postoffice and of the city building, notifying them to appear, if they have anything to say, at the meeting for final action which will be held on the 11th inst., in the council chamber.

An emigrant wagon was at an early hour yesterday morning successfully tipped over on Broadway by another wagon backing against the wheel. There was a stove in the wagon and a fire in it, breakfast being prepared, when the spill took place. The contents of the wagon were scattered badly but luckily none of the family were injured.

Yesterday we had the pleasure of examining some furniture made by the mute boys in the carpenter shop of the deaf and dumb institution, which compares very favorably with the work of our best mechanics. The boys are honest, intelligent and capable, and under the instructions of Mr. Stendish are acquiring a high degree of skill.

While all were rejoicing in the fact that Council Bluffs is to have a new government building, it is a special cause of congratulation that the city is under no obligation to J. W. Chapman and J. C. Morgan for securing the same. It John and Jacob had made their little picnic scheme work they might have had an excuse to howl, as usual, "We've killed the bear," but even this was not given them. If it had been, no bear would probably have been killed, as the only show to get the bill passed was to keep them away. It was a little humiliating for them to have to come back after starting out on such a journey, but it was for the public's good.

Yesterday afternoon there was a happy wedding at the residence of Mr. Andrew Hawk, on State street, his oldest daughter, Miss Wilhelmina, being given in marriage to John Frost, who is extensively engaged in mining at Leadville. Justice Baird performed the ceremony in the presence of a large company of friends, who were given all the hospitality due to such an event. The newly wedded ones started last evening for their new home in Leadville, accompanied by the well wishes of many friends.

Miss Nellie McMillan, employed at the Metropolitan, who was knocked down by a runaway horse Monday night, does not prove to be very badly injured after all, there being no bones broken and no serious injuries. The horse belonged to John Johnson, and was driven to the depot by Mr. Marcy, who let the horse hitched and in charge of a boy, while helping his wife upon the cars. While the boy was not looking, a drunken man unaided the steed, and the horse started on a mild trot toward home, but was enlivened by some dogs jumping and barking at him on Bancroft street, causing him to run. The horse and rig reached home without damage, except to the girl.

Every township in the county that has not already done so is requested to hold a meeting at the earliest possible day and appoint a township prohibitory amendment committee of three, the names of which should be reported to L. W. Tulley, secretary of the executive committee, Council Bluffs.

The friends of temperance are requested to act promptly and send in these names at once.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

TOO TIMID.

The Aldermen Seem Fearful of Expressing Themselves on the License Question.

Thirty Days For the Public to Talk Over the Pros and Cons.

It was naturally expected that the city council would at its last meeting express its opinion at least on what the license should be fixed at for the coming year. A new ordinance was introduced providing that the license should be granted as now, under certain restrictions; six adjacent residents being needed for the petition, bonds being $1,000 and penalties being from $10 to $50 for violations. The amount of license was left blank, the council to fill this with whatever amount they should deem best. This blank being filled, it was planned to lay the ordinance over until the first meeting in June before final action, and in the meantime it could be discussed, and the question of the amount of license could be thoroughly canvassed.

The aldermen hesitated about filling this blank. Some thought it would be better to wait until a full board was present, although Alderman Shurtzart was the only one absent. Others urged that the blank should be filled so as to indicate what the council thought was right, and that would cut out all sides during the next thirty days. The plan was agreed upon to start with $1,000, and vote on each amount less than that until some sum could be agreed upon. The motion to fix the license at $1,000 was lost. The motion to fix it at $600 received no second. One to fix it at $250 received no second. The aldermen thus fussed about the matter, and finally dropped it where it started, and the public is as much in doubt now as before as to what the real sentiment of the council is. It is to be regretted that the aldermen did not have frankness and nerve enough to agree upon some amount, giving the citizens their best judgment on what the license should be. Then the next thirty days would develop some expression of the people which would amount to something. As it is, all is as much in the dark as before.

One of the difficulties in settling the matter is not generally understood, and it changes the question of high license here from its aspect in cities of other states. In this state the sale of spirituous liquors is prohibited by law, and the city can only give license to sell beer and wine. Many who would otherwise be in favor of a very high license, claim that if it is put too high the saloon men will not take out licenses at all, but will confine themselves to the sale of whisky and other liquors, and defy the law. It is well known that cases brought for whisky selling under the state law are seldom successfully prosecuted, and that they will cost the county hundreds of dollars for every fine imposed. In cities in other states saloon men who are made to pay very high licenses naturally help ferret out and prosecute competitors who have no license, but here as they all sell whisky in violation of the state law, the unlicensed, if prosecuted, would turn about and have the licensed ones prosecuted also for violation of the state law. It is understood that Alderman Siedentopf is in a favor of a thousand dollar license if it could be made to cover as in other places the sale of whisky as well as malt and vinous liquors, but under the circumstances favors a lower license as more practical. Others are of like opinion. It is well to understand these peculiar circumstances in deciding upon the question of license, but there should be open, frank, nerve work in handling it, and no hesitancy in officials in fixing the sum and enforcing the ordinances.

Do not forget the sale of short-horns, to be held at the Driving Park in Council Bluffs on Friday next at 2 p. m. See advertisement.

WILD SHOOTING.

Bullets Flying About Harry Hatch's Saloon but no Blood Shed.

About 3 o'clock yesterday morning there was a reckless row in and about Harry Hatch's saloon. The participants are said to have been the "Blue Jay" saloon man, two of his pet friends of like reputation, and Ed. McCarthy, and the two have come to blows several times. They met in Harry Hatch's and it is said that "Blue Jay" relying on his friends to help him out proposed to thrash McCarthy. The latter ran out of the saloon, and pulling his revolver fired several shots, two bullets passing through the front window, but not hitting anyone. The officers hearing the shots run to the place, but the parties had scattered and no arrests were made. Yesterday a warrant was issued for the arrest of McCarthy for reckless shooting. Complaint was also filed against Hatch for keeping open at that hour of the night. He pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs. All concerned are keeping very "mum" about the details of the affair.

LIGHTING BY LIGHTNING.

A Move to Use the Electric Light For the Streets of Council Bluffs.

Arranging to Have an Exhibition of its Powers.

The talk concerning the electric light in this city for driving the darkness out of the streets at night-time has ripened into some little action. At the council meeting Monday night the fire committee was authorized to communicate with an electric light company now exhibiting in Burlington, and get them to make a similar showing here. The company has offered to come to this city and give an exhibition for thirty days, which will be ample time for the citizens to see its workings. The company offers to light the same area as is now lighted and to give fifty per cent more light than is now furnished, and to charge the city no more than it is now paying for gas.

It is understood that if the electric light company will thus give a satisfactory test a contract will be entered into for lighting the city. The Burlington Hawkeye of last Friday thus speaks of the test of the light being made there by the company: "Another very satisfactory illumination by means of the electric light was given in Burlington last evening by Messrs. Beers and Webb, who are here in the interest of the Metropolitan company. This was the third illumination that has been made, and the test will be continued each evening throughout the week."

The light on last evening burned steadily, and only confirmed the good opinion which has been previously entertained by those who had seen it on the two preceding evenings.

It is but uttering the simple truth to say that this light has won the unqualified and hearty endorsement of every business man and citizen of Burlington, who has given its merits the attention they deserve, and many of them are outspoken in their praise.

It may be proper to state right here, in order to illustrate the difficulties which Messrs. Beers and Webb have had to combat, that the generator, now located at Derby's elevator, on Third street, is the first one made by the former gentleman under this patent, and is devoid of many of the later improvements which add much to the usefulness and utility of the machine as they are built to-day.

The light has met with favor here, mainly on account of its uniform steadiness, as in this particular it eclipses all other electric lights now manufactured.

Mayor John Zeiser visited the elevator where the generator was running last evening, and admired the simplicity of its workings, and said the lights were "splendid."

Conductor Loyd, of the C. B. & Q., says that the lights on exhibition here beat anything of the kind in use in Chicago.

On Wednesday evening Mr. A. T. Hay stated that, for steadiness and uniformity, the light was unquestionably the best he ever saw.

Mrs. John D. Mason, of Chicago, who is here on a visit with friends, has seen a great many electric lights up there, and pronounces them vastly superior to any of them. A number of commercial travelers at the Barret house, who watched the light last evening, pronounced it the best of the kind that had come under their observation.

NID, NOD, NID.

A Large Audience at Dohany's Have a Peep at Dream Land.

Last evening there was a large audience gathered at Dohany's at the entertainment offered by the Robert Parkes club of the Baptist Sunday school. The entertainment proved an excellent one and reflected great credit on those who planned it, and secured its success, as well as to the participants. The stage was pleasingly adorned with floral stands and other decorations, and the programme was a varied one and full of merit.

A double quartette from the Omaha Glee club was present and gave some excellent choruses, calling forth hearty applause, and some excellent solo work was done also by its members. The Glee club is ever listened to eagerly, and this representative eight did honor to the organization and furnished a very acceptable portion of the evening's entertainment.

The juvenile band discoursed some rare music for so youthful players, and gathered new honors for themselves. An amusing little recitation and picture of childhood in real life was given by little May Seaman and Lottie Fryer, under the title of the "Light Infantry."

Another amusing feature was the chorus of the Schmoker family, who appeared in costume and made much merriment. The family consisted of Mrs. P. M. Pryor and Misses Kittie Whitney, Ida Tasterin and Lulu Smith.

Some statutory tableaux were also given with good effect. The most fascinating part of the entertainment was the operetta entitled "The Land of Nod," portraying the visit of six little sleepy-heads to the king of that land, and the wonders they saw at his court. It represented six little children in their beds, and the dreams, fairies, etc., which are supposed to be about them during their sleep. The following were the participants:

King—Dr. A. P. Hardett. Cabinet Ministers—The Sand Man, Gail Hamilton and Jack O'Deans, Mr. Boone. Royal Pages—Herbert Brooks, and Tioe Rockefeller. Dream Sprites—Misses Julia Walker, Minnie Cole, Lucie Stinson, Lucie McKensie, Cora Kenner, Ida Lutz, Cora Woodbury, Georgia Bennett. Dream Goblins—Poly Hatcher. Sleepy Head—May Seaman, Victor Boone, Harry Lange, Ed. Lange, Charles Seaman, Marie Rockless. Standard Bearer—George Laucha. The Dreams—"The Dream Pioneer."

TOO UTTERLY UTTER!

Charles Laucha; "My Lady Fortune," Mrs. Boone; "Old Master Goose," Mrs. Mallory; "John Can and Mint," Fredie Hogan; "Seen in the Dollies," Minnie Walls; "Dream Princess," Irene Desmond.

The costumes were very pleasing, and the music most excellent. Miss Effie Warren, the accompanist of the evening, showed rare good skill and taste at the piano forte, and to her is due more than the passing word which can now be given. Much more depends upon an accompanist than is generally realized, and the responsible position she filled so well last evening as to add much to the enjoyment and smoothness of the entertainment.
