Proclamation by the Governor Convening the Legislature.

WHEREAS, The constitution of the state of Nebraska provides that the governor may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the legislature by proclamation...

First. To apportion the state into three congressional districts and to provide for the election of representatives therefrom.

Second. To amend an act approved March 1st, 1881, entitled "An act to incorporate cities of the first class and regulation of their duties, powers and government."

Third. To assign the county of Custer to some judicial district in the state.

Fourth. To amend section 69, chapter 14, of the compiled statutes of Nebraska entitled "Cities of the second class and villages."

Fifth. To provide for the expenses incurred in suppressing the recent riots at Omaha and protecting citizens of the state from domestic violence.

Sixth. To give the assent of the state to the provision of an act of congress to extend the northern boundary of the state of Nebraska.

Seventh. To provide for the payment of the ordinary and contingent expenses of the legislature incurred during the special session hereby convened.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the state of Nebraska, at Omaha, this 20th day of April, A. D. 1882, the sixteenth year of the state, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and sixth.

By the governor, ALBINO NANCE, S. J. ALEXANDER, Sec. of State.

The problem of the hour among Omaha attorneys—Who is the coming man for city attorney?

That ingenious plot to blow up two millionaires has been exploded. Even Vanderbilt and Cyrus W. Field regard it as a hoax.

There is a heavy demand for political lightning rods in Nebraska this spring. Nearly every member of the present legislature expects to be struck next fall with a state office or a seat in congress.

Just as soon as the soldiers took up their march from Fort Washakie toward Arizona, a bloody Indian uprising was threatened by the post sutler and his wife.

THE ex-Rev. George Washington Frost who, according to his own veracious account before the American Board of Home Missions, has served for sixteen long years as missionary among the Indians, still holds fast to the Omaha mansion which was built for him by the Credit Mobilier on certain nameless conditions.

DE LA MATYB, the pious fraud, is up again as an anti-monopoly candidate for congress from the Indianapolis district. Let him come back to Nebraska once, where he played capper and tool for the monopolies, and was rewarded with a $6000 set of silver for his services, on behalf of the railroads and banks, in helping to defeat the anti-monopoly constitution of 1871, and he will sing very low as an anti-monopoly champion.

The people of St. Paul at their city election last Tuesday voted $200,000 toward a second wagon bridge across the Mississippi. Omaha is still waiting for her first wagon bridge, and if she depends on the Union Pacific to carry out the provisions of the bridge charter she will remain without a wagon bridge until doomsday.

THE Republican asserts that THE BEE has taken advertising at rates that they would not accept. That may possibly be true where some party ordered an advertisement in both papers without inquiring about rates and when they came to settle with THE BEE were charged at our regular rates, while the Republican took advantage of them in the absence of a contract and charged them two prices. We don't pretend to regulate our rates by the Republican. We have one rate for all patrons and they charge one man a dollar and another man ten cents for the same advertisement.

The people who own lots around Jefferson square are very anxious to have Mr. Webster Snyder's proposition for a market house and city hall on a fifty years lease accepted by the city council instanter.

We all want a market somewhere in Omaha, and we are willing to see the market located in Jefferson square. But we want a market that will be as nearly free to all people that desire to make use of the stalls as we can reasonably afford to make them.

Give us cheaper living and you can have cheaper labor, that will put Omaha in a position to erect solid business blocks and compete with eastern cities in their manufactures.

If Mr. Webster Snyder and his eastern capitalists decline to put up a $30,000 market house on a fifteen or even a twelve year's lease, let the owners of property around Jefferson Square show their enterprise by subscribing and planking the market for a cheap and commodious market house.

The commissioners of emigration have been playing a bold game of bluff in threatening to close up Castle Garden unless the New York legislature would vote them $250,000 forthwith, to defray their expenses for the next fiscal year.

It is true that The Republican makes a showing of liberal patronage, but that is by no means a proof that the paper stands high as an advertising medium.

It is a disgrace to Nebraska journalism, but nevertheless a fact, that the business men in Omaha and foreign advertisers have been systematically imposed on by a set of unprincipled confidence men.

Meanwhile Castle Garden remains open and is just as lively as it ever has been since it was opened for European immigrants.

The first move to dislodge the land grant robbers has begun in congress. The house judiciary committee has decided to report at once in favor of the forfeiture of land granted by the government to those railroads which have not as yet begun the construction of their roads.

FACE THE MUSIC.

The recognized position of THE BEE as the most widely circulated newspaper in this city and state has not been called in question for years. We have sought no controversy with local contemporaries concerning circulations because they have long since ceased to be rivals in the newspaper business.

As a matter of business THE BEE met these statements with an exhibit of its circulation backed by affidavits by the lessee of its city circulation and its business manager.

Incidentally, THE BEE also offered to pay one hundred dollars to the manager of THE Omaha Republican for a sworn exhibit of the circulation of that paper, let it be what it may, and an additional hundred dollars to St. Joseph's hospital, if the exhibit made under oath for The Omaha Republican would show a general circulation equal to one-sixth of the general circulation of THE BEE.

This was an offer THE Republican could hardly afford to ignore in view of their pretended catching up with THE BEE. They had our statement before them and they could certainly tell by their books whether they could make a showing that would entitle them to the money.

How is it with the other Omaha dailies? Dare they face the music? Dare they allow anybody to inspect their books or to stand at their presses when their papers are printed to verify the claims they make by actual count? Why is it that they have refused to make any statement sworn or unsworn when proposals were invited for city advertising? How is it that they did not even dare to come forward and contest with THE BEE when the Sloucum law went into effect and each paper was requested to file a sworn statement of circulation? If these imposters dare to face the music they may have to refund a good deal of money that they have exacted from their patrons under false pretenses.

papers, THE BEE has seventeen carriers in the city of Omaha alone, and eleven carriers in Council Bluffs, while the Republican has only five carriers in Omaha and the Herald six carriers, and neither of them circulate by carrier or otherwise in Council Bluffs.

The newspaper presses of THE BEE are capable of turning out as many papers in one hour as the presses of the Republican will turn out in half a day, and the presses of THE BEE are taxed to their utmost capacity night and day.

The charge is also made that THE WEEKLY BEE must carry many thousands of delinquents, because premium receipts were only issued to 14,000 subscribers who prepaid for the year 1882.

As a matter of fact no sample copies of THE DAILY BEE have been sent out since last September, except a few, perhaps not more than a hundred each week, that are apiled for by advertising patrons and parties desiring to become subscribers.

WHAT to do with Douglas county, is the question that will bother the next legislature. Poor Douglas! No-body wants her in their hands!

Ten years hence poor Douglas will have a congressman of her own. Meantime, however, she is not as dangerous as the political Venora seem to predicate.

SECRETARY CHANDLER reports to congress that thirty of our war vessels are unfit for use, and it will take four millions to put them in serviceable condition.
