-The fifty dollars paid in at THE BEE office by Mr. Hascall, and by his order turned over to the president of the Plasterers' Union, has been turned back by them to a good purpose, into the hands of the managers of St. Mary's hospital. This was done in pursuance of a resolution null and void, and that title could not adopted at the meeting on Wednesday night.

-The Henry Brown case was compromised between the husband and wife by the former agreeing to allow the latter to take her children and leave town peaceably to stay one year. At the end of that period she agrees if he behaves himself and becomes a sober and steady man to return and live with. This was a sensible arrangement under the circumstances.

-The ball to be given at the Masonic hall next Thursday evening is the second annual ball of the "Irish American band." The statement that it was the O. L. L. Association was an error caused by the letters at the head of the ticket being to highly ornamented as to be unintelligible and the raised stamp on the tickets be ng taken as a guide. The "I. A. B." will have a big ball any way, and no mistake.

-Manager Nugent of the new variety secure a stock company with which to open May 13th at the Academy of Music. He will add twelve to the force of eleven already here making a large company. The carpenters begun work yesterday on the inside. Six new boxes will be put in, making ten private boxes in all. Mr. Nugent will return next Wednesday.

-The many friends of Mrs. E. L. Armstrong, will regret to learn of her serious illness. She has been in delicate health for some time, but was up and about on Tuesday morning when she was suddenly seized with a fainting spell and fell across the stove, cutting a severe gash in her head and otherwise injuring herself. For a time it was feared that she would not recover, and she is still very weak, but the physician thinks with proper care she will come out all right.

A COMPLEX CASE.

Three Parties, Claim Title to Some Valuable City Lots.

The Purchasing Agent of the Credit Mobilier Comes Out Ahead.

An important case was decided yes terday in United States circuit court, now in session in this city, being that of Martin Spitly, complainant, vs. Geo. W. Frost, et al., respondents. The bill in this case alleges that in 1866 Geo. W. Frost was in the employ of the Credit Mobilier of America, and that he entered into an agreement with its president, Thos. C. Durant, whereby lots 3 and 4, block 52, in the city of Omaha, were purchased by said corporation, and the title taken in the name of Thomas C. Durant, as trustee. The corporation was to erect on lot 4, a dwelling house for the use of the said Geo. W. Frost and his family, with the understand-ing that at the expiration of his term as purchasing agent of the Credit Mobilier said house was to be deeded to him by Durant.

In November, 1870, the Credit Mobelier having failed to carry out this agreement to deed the property to Frost, the latter entered into an agreement with John I. Redick to begin a suit against Durant, the Union Pacific railway company and the Credit Mobelier and procure for Frost the title to said property. The contract between Frost and Redick was that the latter, in case he succeeded, was to have the sum of $2,500 as his fee in the case, and if he failed he was to have a reasonable fee anyway. Suit was begun, and the distric court judge found that on the final accounting between Frost and the Credit Mobilier affairs were not all settled up, but that on the payment of $302.11 to said Durant, the latter should make out a deed to Frost for his property.

The bill says that Frost, to evade the payment of the $2,560 to his attorney, refused to pay the $302.11 which were necessary to get the deed, but made a secret arrangement with Durant by which a deed was to be sent to a third party to be held for him. In July, 1877, Redick begun a suit by attachment against Geo. W. Frost in the United States court and at tached the property on the ground that Frost was a non-resident, he being at the time in Montana, as an Indian agent. The suit was tried and a judgment for $2,388 obtained. In August, 1878, the same property was sold to satisfy this judgment and Redick became the purchaser at the sale. Frost appeared at the time of the motion to confirm the sale and opposed confirmation, alleging that the property was his homestead, and not subject to judicial sale. But the court confirmed the order and sale, and the United States marshal gave essary to get a deed from him. —There will be a grand sacred concert by the full Musical Union Orchestra at Matter Support of Martin Spitly, and he begun the present suit, setting up the above facts, and asking that the title be quieted in him. To this bill Frost filed an answer denying the regularity of the proceed ings up to the time of the sale in the attachment suit. In addition to this Frost and his wife, by leave of the court filed a cross bill setting up substantially that at the time of the sale to Redick, that they occupied the property as their homestead, that it praying that the title be quieted in Thos. C. Bryant, by leave of the court, filed a cross bill making both Frost and Spitly respondents and setting up the payment of $5,000 taxes on the property by reason of the deeds he held for said taxes, claiming ownership against both parties, and praying that the title be quieted in

The court held in substance that judicial sale, as the homestead of the Frosts; that said sale was null and void, and should be set aside; that the property was, however, liable for the sum paid to comply with the conditions of the state court decree; therefore, that the title could not be the tax deeds held by Bryant were be quieted in him; that cross com plainants, George W. and Abbie Frost were entitled as against complainant Spitly, and cross complainant Bryant to the relief prayed for in the cross The attorneys in the case were Groff and Montgomery for Bryant, E. Estabrook and John L. Webster for Frost, and Redick & Redick for Spitly. The property is on Chicago street, and is now worth fully $15, 000, and an attachment was put on the property for the $2,500 due Redick on his judgment within fifteen minutes after the ruling of the court.

That we deem the unconditional release of the "suspects" as a triumphant vindication of their acts, and while we entertain the greatest con-tempt for Gladstone and his ministry, who exhausted the 'resources of civilization" in the incarceration of those apostles of liberty, we cannot express to them and to the world our admiration of their patriotism, self-sacrifice regeneration, promising them, as did John F. Finnerty, speaking for the Chicago convention, that we will go as turther as they propose to go.

That we thank the President of the United States and the eloquent speakers of Congress who have denounced the course pursued by Minister Lowell, and have insisted upon his resignation. A MAY PARTY.

With Irawal of Two of the Members.

The board of education met again and perseverance. And we exhort last evening, all the members being them to enter anew into the work of present. Mr. Connoyer was elected temporary secretary. Mr. McShane protested against Connoyer acting as far as they have gone and as much temporary or any other secretary, as he (McShane) claimed to have been day evening by a vote of 4 to 2.

> Mr. Points moved to reconsider that ballot, which was carried.

The next business was to ballot for permanent secretary. Anderson refused to vote, as he claimed the privsome extracts from a parliamentary manual on the duties of a president. The Land League propose holding He was called to order once or twice, and finally sat down. The ballot for secretary resulted three for Connoyer and one for McShane, there being no election, as four votes are necessary to an election.

Anderson rose to a question of privilege, and criticised the action of the president, who he claimed had shut him off in debate. President Long called him to order. and said that he had made a statement which was incorrect, and told him to sit down.

Anderson said that he ought not to do it, out of respect to himself, but he finally concluded to do so. Points introduced a resolution that Points introduced a resolution that McShane be instructed to turn over to the board any books and records in his possession belonging to the board to Connoyer. This was carried.

Anderson begged to be excused from the meeting, and his petition was granted. McShane followed suit, and started to go out, when President Long halted him and gave him an order to turn over books and papers. McShane became very angry and said: "I can stand enough of dirt, but of days on which rain or snow fell 16. I can't have it rubbed in, when I am

A GOOD MOVE

The Street Sprinklers Now Go Clear Out to the Driving Park.

The favorite drive for Omaha people who possess horses and vehicles of their own, and there is no city of the same size which boasts of a larger number of fine equipages than this, is Sixteenth street and Sherman elected permanent secretary on Mon- Avenue, the dividing point being, as is well known, the Sixteenth street bridge.

Since the dusty season began the street sprinklers have been run up on the principal business streets of Omaha including Sixteenth streets which was wetted down thoroughly, including Sixteenth streets regard of his solemn duty, and hope ilege of speaking on the previous mo- with the exception of one that it will present for all time a re- tion, and he maintained that he had or two little sections, but no water been shut off by the president in his had been sprinkled on the street, debate. He thereupon proceeded to west of the Sixteenth street bridge lecture the president and read to him until yesterday, when by the enterprise of a few of our public spirited citizens a regular system of laying the dust for the entire length of Sherman avenue as far west the state fair grounds or Driving Park was began. This will be continued every day from now until fall, and will add to the pleasure of a drive out that way. It will be a lively drive from now on.

WITHDRAWAL OF HOTEL CARS

New Dining Cars on the Fort Wayne & Pennsylvania Line

So far as the Pennsylvania lines are concerned, they especially desire that the public shall know that there will be no withdrawal of the Limited trains either east or west bound. The only change which has been made, and the one which started the rumor of withdrawal, is that the Western ed to return to-day to take up their Express, which left New York at 6 p. m., instead of reaching Chicago at 6:30 next night, will arrive in Chicago at 6:30 second morning. The Limited trains are an assured success, and will continue to run on schedule time. Large sums of money have been spent recently in adding to these trains new and superior cars, and making their equipment not only perfect, but the best in the world, and the finest dining cars in existence will be put on between Chicago and New York about the 10th of May. In AD orrion to the Fast Limited Express, the Pennsylvania Line run to New York and all Eastern points THREE through trains with extra accommodations for which NO EXTRA FARE IS charged.
