PERSONALITIES.

Susan B. Anthony is a cousin of Senator Lapham. President Arthur's face has lost the gray look of last fall, and has a fresh, ruddy hue. Mrs. Scoville has one merit as a lecturer she speaks, inaudibly.—Cincinnati Commercial. John L. C'emm, "the drummer-boy of Chickamauga," has been appointed captain and assistant quartermaster. "Majah" Bickham rises to explain, in the Dayton Journal, that he "is as likely to be a candidate for congress as to be a bishop in the Church of England." It is 21 years since Mark Twain was a pilot on the Mississippi river, but an old hand at the wheel recognized him last week on his trip to New Orleans. Senator Howe says that when he shook his fist at Senator Rollins he was only fooling. The other distinguished Massachusetts man, Mr. Sullivan, doesn't do business that way. It is reported that when Miss Anna Dickinson heard of Dr. Mary Walker's good fortune in securing a Washington clerkship, she sadly sighed, "I wish I were in Mary's pantaloons." Jos. ph W. Coburn, who laid the cornerstone of Bunker Hill monument and built the first railroad in this country, (the wooden one from a granite quarry in Quincy, Mass., to tide-water,) is still living in Boston. The election of General Steedman to be chief of police in the city of Toledo should encourage young men who have chosen politics as a profession. They may reach an equal distinction by perseverance and good fortune. George Otto Trevelyan, Lord Frederick Cavendish's successor as chief secretary of Ireland, is the new member of the House of Commons, and a literary man of much cultivation. He has also had much experience in public affairs. When in Paris recently the Duchess of Edinburgh went about shopping a good deal. One evening she later she called at a milliner's shop which was just being closed, and was refused admittance, the milliner saying that her mistress had retired for the night. Next morning the London report-d that one "Madame d'Elbin-u" had called late and she had refused to admit her. "What," cried her mistress, "is the name of that young woman?" "That was the daughter of the czar of Russia and the wife of a son of the Queen of England," "Tiens!" exclaimed the other, "I am glad to see you, my dear, and I sent her off without taking a good look at her!"

POLITICAL NOTES.

There will be 225 delegates in the Ohio republicans. Mr. Kirkwood absolutely refuses to become a candidate for congress from Iowa. Congressman Springer, of Illinois, will have some contestants for the democratic nomination in this year. The effort to get up a boom in favor of Judge Wood of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts seems to have failed. Ex-Gov. William Irwin, of California, would like to be nominated by the democrats for congressman at large. Under the special act of congress, West Virginia will elect her four congressmen on the second Tuesday in October. The republican nomination for governor in Maine is thought to lie between Frederick Robie, of Gorham, and W. W. Thomas, Jr., of Portland. The fight between Congressman McKinley and Judge Laibie for the republican nomination in the new XVIIIth Ohio district is waxing warm. Judge William Lawrence, first Commissioner of the State, has written a letter declining to be a candidate for congress in Speaker Keifer's district. George D. Tillman, of South Carolina, about whose seat in congress there is a contest, is named as an available and popular candidate for the governorship of his state. The Peoria (Ill.) Transcript (rep) in making the authoritative announcement that General Green B. Raum has decided to withdraw his name frankly from the people of Illinois as a candidate for United States senator. Some of the youthful aspirants for congressional honors in the Dayton, Ohio, district have been mentioned by the statement that Robert C. Schenck considered himself young enough and well enough to reënter congress from that district. They will be reassured when they learn that Mr. Schenck himself says that he has no thought of running for congress this fall, or any other time. The strength of the independent movement in Texas is showing its alarming growth. They are looking anxiously about for a popular candidate for governor who can hold the party together solidly. The only man who, it is thought, is able to do this is Governor Roberts. As he has declined a re-nomination, an effort is making to get him to reconsider the decision. The drift of sentiment in Illinois is said to be in favor of a late state convention. Some time in the early part of August is thought to be soon enough. The only state officers to be elected are a treasurer and a public instruction. A public instruction full house and half of the members of the senate are also to be chosen. A three months canvass is considered long enough to have a referendum on a bill in the congressional canvasses. The Belfast (Me.) Ag., one of the most influential greenback papers in Maine, counsels the abandonment of a distinct party. It says that organization is a distinct party. The Age gives a table showing the falling off in the greenback vote since 1878 to prove the strength of its position. 70,000 opposed in 1878, 50,000 in 1880, 20,000 in 1881, and 10,000 in 1882. In Maine the political situation may be further complicated by the introduction of independent candidates into the field. In Bangor a number of well known republicans are expected to run for congress. B. Nealley to stand as a candidate for congress whether he receives the nomination from the state convention or not. Mr. Nealley is said to be popular, has served several years in the state legislature and was speaker of the house in 1877. It is an unusual proceeding for the governor of a state to introduce a bill in the legislature, but it seems to be authorized for such a proceeding in New York. The executive submitted a bill appropriating $50,000 for the purchase and fitting up of a camp ground for the National guard. It was the only time in the history of the state that a bill was so offered, and it will probably enjoy its singularity, for it was reported upon adversely. It is now announced "by authority" that John G. Thompson will not be a candidate for the democratic nomination to congress from the Columbus district. This leaves the field clear for George L. Converse for both the nomination and the election, as the democratic nomination last fall by 3,395 plurality. Mr. Converse was first elected to congress in 1878, and re-elected in 1880. Druggist's Testimony. H. F. McCarthy, druggist, Ottawa, Ont., states that he was afflicted with chronic bronchitis for some years, and was completely cured by the use of THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL. Wymore, Nebraska. Correspondence of THE BEE. Wymore, Neb., May 9.—Doubtless every reader of THE BEE knows of this rattling, bustling town situated in the richest and most productive county (Gage) in this wonderful state. Twelve months ago for the first time the iron horse bounded across these fertile prairies on its tireless journey to the golden peaks of Colorado, and left behind him the evidence of his prowess in the magic city he has caused to grow up here. One year ago, Wymore was not. Now she is a town of 1,300 inhabitants, containing more of the elements of a first-class town than any of her competitors in the state. She has already a round-house one-fourth completed, capable of sheltering fifteen locomotives. A machine shop 60x120, and ground is being prepared for another shop of like dimensions. A magnificent depot 40x100 is now under construction, and will be finished this season. Wymore having been selected as the grand point of the B. & M. Denver extension in Nebraska will become its most important center in the state. It is to be both freight and passenger division. It is arranged for a line from this point to Kansas City, Mo., which will, in all probability, be built this fall. When this is completed Wymore will be one of the most important railroad points in the state. Great improvements are going on in the city itself aside from railroad work. A magnificent two-story brick business house, 50x20, is now under process of erection on Niagara avenue. It is owned by the Winters' Bros. of Wapello, Iowa. Another equally good brick, 50x100, is being built on Nebraska avenue. This building is owned by Mr. R. Lurvey, formerly of Blue Spring. At the corner of Blue and Nebraska avenues, a splendid bank building is being erected. This building is nearly completed. It is to be ready for occupancy June 1. This bank (called the Blue Valley Bank) is to be very strong. Its capital stock is $50,000. Its president is Hon. J. J. Steinhilber, now postmaster, and for many years editor of The Creighton Daily Gazette. Its vice-president is Samuel Wymore for whom the city was named. An opera house is also to be erected the coming season, capable of seating 1,000 persons. Just now our leading citizens are organizing a street railway to run between this city and Blue Springs, a distance of one mile. The line is a town not incorporated, and in the midst of all these grand improvements which many an older town might covet. We cannot stop now to speak of the numberless dwellings that are daily springing up. It is truly wonderful the growth for this department. But best of all is the country around Wymore. Such soil! Why an Iowa farmer would scarce believe the difference between the soil of Gage county, Nebraska and that of Iowa. There the soil is deep, rich and light, not too light for successful farming, for it is here we get our largest crop of corn our wonderful wheat returns, and our fine fat market market cattle. One would think, to look at the soil, that it does not need such attention as the soil of Iowa or Illinois. And certainly it does not, for the most beautiful returns are realized on little capital and a small per cent. of work. Horace Greeley once said of the Neosho valley in Kansas, "It can raise wheat enough to feed the world." He hadn't seen this locality when he made that observation; much less had he seen one of our corn crops, with its average of eighty bushels to the acre, our great wheat crops that furnish bread for our sister states. There is no finer country on earth than the valley of the Blue, watered by that magnificent river from which it derives its name. Land may be purchased within five miles of Wymore for $10 and $12 per acre, and well improved farms with large and substantial dwellings, and farms are to be found for $20 per acre. One great advantage of this whole valley is the abundance and accessibility of water. Stock feeders have no difficulty in securing good water at twenty feet.

We had nearly forgotten to mention two important factors that conspire to make Wymore a substantial town. One is the water privileges it enjoys, being touched on the east by the Big Blue and on the south by Indian creek. Both these streams afford excellent mill sites near town. Another factor is the abundance and excellence of stone. Within one mile of this place stone is quarried for building purposes and when laid in the wall cost less than $2 a perch. A fine quantity of brick is made here and retailed at modest figures, as yet. We must close this letter it is too lengthy already, but before doing so only write to add a word. "Come and see." If you are desirous to find a home you can not go to a more auspicious point than this, nor can you find a finer country under the sun. J. W. McCULLOCH, Room 4, Creighton Block, Fifteenth Street.

Woman's True Friend. A friend in need, especially when assistance is rendered when one is sorely afflicted with disease, more particularly those complaints and weaknesses so common to the female population. Every woman should know that Electric Bitters is a woman's true friend, and will positively restore her to health, even when all other remedies fail. A single trial always proves our assertion. They are pleasant to the taste, and only cost fifty cents a bottle. Sold by C. F. Goodman. NOTICE.
