MINOR MENTIONS.

Fancy goods at cost at Herzman's. Call at Bill's and see the satin panel for hand-painting. Something new. Goods fresh at low prices, Herzman. Officer Casick, yesterday, arrested a man named Chester for being too drunk to be on the streets, and locked him up for a hearing this morning.

Closing out sale at Herzman's. Joseph Reiter makes suits in the latest styles at 310 Broadway. The grand jury yesterday returned an indictment against Billy Griffith, alias Cranky Bill, for stealing a grip-sack full of valuables, the property of George Ferguson, of the Pacific house. Herzman is surprising everybody. Take your ice from the Blue Wagon Orders taken at J. T. Oliver's and at Jones Bros. Grocery, Mulholland & Co., Successors to D. F. Eicher.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Patton desire to return their thanks to the friends and neighbors for sympathy shown in their bereavement both by act and word which were greatly appreciated by them. When you want millinery and ladies' neckwear, go where you can have a large assortment to select from; there you will get low prices and choice goods. The largest stock in the city is at Bill's.

The gap in the St. Paul railway has been completed, so that now there is a stretch of forty miles of the new road running east from this city. The new road will be in active operation by the 1st of August. Tom Ryan was found dead drunk on the street and carted to the cooler. Yesterday he was sober enough to appear in court, and was assessed $5 and costs, which he concluded to work out.

J. Hogan was registered at the Hotel de France as "the Irishman." He yesterday began on a contract with the city to work out $7 worth of fine and costs. Fourteen prairie schooners loaded with emigrants, men, women and children, passed through this city yesterday, forming quite a procession. They hailed from Missouri and stated that they were en route for Idaho.

Patrick Rogan was picked up by Officers Sterling and Barhyte, and cared for at the calaboose. It was not quite clear whether the fellow was drunk or crazy, or a little of each. Yesterday he was released, the balance of evidence being in favor of his mental imbecility, and transportation was furnished him out of the city. John Y. Stone was in the field as candidate for congress. John Chapman and Major Anderson took a trip down the road. John Y. Stone's declination immediately followed. Then it leaked out the plan was to have Stone withdraw and to be given as a sugar plum Anderson's old shoes as railway commissioner. When this was made public John Y. Stone hurriedly visits this city, for conference and consultation. Next.

It is understood that Mr. John Ahles has carefully prepared an address against the proposed prohibitory amendment, and those who have had the privilege of reading portions of it pronounce it as well worthy a large hearing. It is proposed that he shall deliver it at the court house at an early date. There has been little speech-making here on that side of the question, and there is no doubt but that the anti-prohibitionists will find in Mr. Ahles a strong advocate. By all means let the speech be brought out. David Mattaz is busy at work collecting the poll tax, and giving notices for all to pay within three days, the charge being $3 in cash, or two days' labor upon the streets under the supervision of the street commissioner. Many prefer to work, and already the sume ordered removed from Indian creek has been nearly taken away, and the bulk of the work has been done by men thus working out their poll tax. The collector avows that those who either refuse to work or pay will be prosecuted sharply and promptly.

Yesterday afternoon F. W. Hall, one of the most efficient and popular of the clerks in the Union Pacific employ, was married to Miss Maggie Merkel, the ceremony being performed at the residence of the bride's father in this city. Rev. B. F. Breece officiated, and the company there gathered was limited to the immediate relatives. The congratulations and well wishes will not be confined to these, however, and if the half hoped for by friends is realized, the future of the newly-wedded ones will indeed be a happy and prosperous one. Mr. and Mrs. Hall immediately after the ceremony started for a brief visit to Chicago, after which they will take up their residence in this city. The Bee office was remembered by a generous supply from the wedding feast.

HAD BURGLARS. They Rife a Hardware Store at Neola and Bag Many Goods, but Little Cash.

Sometime during Wednesday night the hardware store of Reichart Bros., of Neola, in this county, was entered by burglars and about three hundred dollars' worth of goods and fifty cents in money taken. The money was in pennies, being all that was left in the money drawer at night. The stolen goods consisted of about one hundred and seventy-five pocket knives, thirty-five or forty razors, set silver spoons, six small revolvers and four bull dog revolvers, forty-four calibre and other small articles. It seems they emptied a sack of seed to get a sack to carry off their plunder. The store was entered by a side window, and the burglars let themselves out at the back door. As yet no clue to robbers or goods has been obtained, but the matter is being investigated.

POLITICAL PLOTTERS

How the Military Wire Pullers are Being Baited in Their Plans.

The "colonel," editor of the Nonpareil, and Major Anderson have thus far been planning and working as though there were none others in their political party who had any rights or voice. The "colonel" has set Anderson up as the most available candidate, whom "the colonel" could use as he desires to further some political scheme of his own. Having thus concluded to use Anderson, it becomes necessary to work up a boom for him if possible. The country editors were sent, and a few of them fell into the trap of using the laudatory notices which had been prepared for their columns, and these few being gathered up, have been printed and reprinted in the Nonpareil, together with editorial whoops of its own, to give the impression if possible that everything was for Anderson. The Nonpareil has sought to do all the making and it is safe to say that it could do all the electing, Anderson would be put into congress as an embodiment of John W. Chapman, to be used to advance his personal interests and the interests of all monopolies, both men being well known advocates of monopoly interests.

This pretty pair of political workers having thus worked up what they delight to call a boom, which is simply a boom on paper, try to carry the impression that there is a popular demand for Anderson's nomination, and that the children cry for it. They will have the public believe that Anderson is to be nominated by acclamation, that no convention is needed, only as a matter of form, to go through the motions. Right on the heels of such a boastful declaration they call for an early convention: Why is an early convention wanted by them? They say because they don't want politicians to have time to pull wires and put up jobs, which may thwart the will of the people. These twin wire-walkers are wonderfully afraid of the will of the people being thwarted! Nonsense! It takes no sage to see that they have put up a little job of their own, and are nervous for fear that the people will get posted on it, and knock it to pieces unless they can spring an early convention upon them. It remains to be seen whether the committee can do this easily hood-winked, and if so whether the delegates will stand such a scheme.

The election next fall is one month later than usual, and yet they want the convention called two months earlier than usual. Why? They think they have got their work in such a shape that it may stand until the 23d of June, but if the convention is later it will tumble down over their heads. Two men who can desire and have the brazenness to advocate such a scheme, shall be the last to bemoan the fact or express their fear that politicians will set up pins, and make any plans to stifle the unmusical cry for Anderson.

It is stated on good authority that Major Anderson and W. F. Sapp, with others, held a consultation the other day, in which the latter urged that the committee, whose duty it is to call the convention should meet and decide upon a date. Anderson naturally objected, probably because it was easier to go to them individually and tell them that the other members didn't object to an early convention, and thus get assent, one by one. At last Anderson urged that it might do to send notices to have the committee met here to-morrow. Mr. Sapp wanted it put off until next Tuesday, so that the members would have time to pack their grips; but no Anderson wouldn't consent. He said he didn't care whether the committee met or not. He had the consent of a majority of the committee, and could call the convention at any time to suit him.

Who is this Anderson who thus proposes to bar out all other candidates, to call a convention to suit himself, to gobble a nomination whether the people want it or not, who in politics shows that he was trained in the camp of monopoly long enough to learn not to respect the rights of others, or give fair play to any rivals? Who is he? And who is the man Chapman, who is behind him and manipulating him? If they are allowed to answer the question themselves they would answer as they have already answered, that Anderson is the only man for whom the people clamor, and Chapman the only man whom the people look to be told who to clamor for. The people fortunately think differently, and their little scheme to have a convention called at once will react on both of them with a dead thud which will make them sick at heart.

Aside from all considerations of fair play and a full hearing, there is another strong reason why a convention should not be called on the 23d of June. The prohibitory amendment is to be voted on upon the 27th of June. That date was fixed upon for the express purpose of keeping that issue aloof from any political struggles for office, and to divide the public mind, by forcing the congressional struggle, or to try to get snap judgment while the people are occupied with the consideration of the proposed amendment is only in keeping with the foolishness and unfairness of the whole scheme hatched in the Nonpareil office.

THE MURDER TRIAL. Patrick Rattigan Charged with Killing McKay.

In the district court yesterday the trial of Patrick Rattigan began. The chief witness for the state was Anderson, whose hired man, McKay, was the victim of the affray, in which the Rattigan brothers were participants. It appeared that the dispute arose between Michael Rattigan and McKay about the latter passing through a certain lane, and a fight ensued in which Michael got McKay down on the ground, and while choking him, Patrick pitched in, and, according to Anderson's statement, he kicked McKay in the head, and on the latter getting to his feet again he staggered off, fell and soon died. The coroner testified as to the wound found on the head. The burden of the defense seemed to be that during the fight Patrick Rattigan separated the two, and the deceased getting up, apparently unhurt, ran off and fell down in a rut, by which fall he received the fatal injuries. The arguments are to be made this morning.

VAUGHAN'S VEXATION.

He Finds Himself Called Upon to Shoulder Some of the Tournament Bills. In securing the firemen's tournament here last year, and in carrying it through to a success, there was considerable expense incurred, and the settling of some of the bills has caused some trouble, and especially so to ex-Mayor Vaughan, who was at the head of the city government at that time. In making the arrangements a large number of notes were secured for the accommodation of the crowds, and in the settlement for these a judgment has secured against Vaughan for $250, which he does not relish of course, as he claims that only about $60 of the promised donations were paid, so that the balance falls upon him.

Still another suit has been brought, the result of which would naturally disgust the little ex-mayor with tournaments, and cool down his enthusiasm for enterprises to benefit or advertise the city. In preparing for the tournament it was proposed that the city shall secure the presence of a number of prominent firemen from elsewhere, and should secure from them not only such information as might prove of value concerning the fire departments, fire alarms, etc., but to add to the interest of the occasion, draw others, and show the city to representatives of other cities as an advertisement. It was proposed that the city appropriate $250 for meeting the expenses of showing these guests around, and caring for them. Four of the old council voted for it, they being Aldermen Spelman, Fonda, Phillips and Churchill, and four voted against it. It was a tie, and although the mayor had not the right to a vote, still he voted for the appropriation and declared it carried. An order was drawn for the amount, $250, and it was cashed at a discount, so that only $225 cash was realized. These prominent firemen were shown around in carriages, and other hospitalities bestowed upon them, and a wind-up supper was served to them and others, including representatives of the press. This cost about $90. Of the original amount there was $44 left unexpended, and instead of following the usual custom of expending a full appropriation, the ex-mayor had the startling audacity to turn back this $44 into the city treasury. There has been a kick about the $250 appropriation, and C. R. Scott in behalf of the city began a suit against Vaughan, and the aldermen who voted for it, to compel them to turn back the $250 into the treasury, as having been illegally appropriated. The suit has been continued one term, and was on the docket for trial this term, but yesterday a settlement was agreed to by which Vaughan and the aldermen concerned are to pay $150 and the costs.

If all the money which has thus been illegally appropriated by different councils is to be recovered by suit, there will be numerous chances for lawyers to get in their work. There is hardly a year passes but what, technically at least, money is illegally appropriated. Here is a mine which will put money into the treasury, which needs it so badly. Consistency demands that other suits be begun now.

PERSONAL

David Doctor, of New York, was registered at the Ogden yesterday. John Y. Stone, of Glenwood, was at the Ogden yesterday for a short time. Harry C. Nathan, of New York city, was here yesterday looking after the preliminary business. Conductor D. J. Crawford, of Western, was here yesterday, it being the first trip since he took himself a wife. Henry Birkinbine, who has charge of the water works construction, has returned from Philadelphia, with his family. L. E. Williams, state lecturer of the Farmer's Alliance of Iowa, was in the city yesterday, looking over the field with a view of holding a convention at some early date. In the interests of anti-monopoly. President W. F. King, of Cornell College, of Mt. Vernon, Iowa, was in the city yesterday looking after the interests of that institution. The date of the commencement week at this college has been changed so that it now stands June 20th to 26th, instead of from June 24th to 30th, which change the friends and alumni should bear in mind.

DIED IN THE TENT.

One of the Small Pox Cases Proves Fatal—The Others Recovering. Of the four cases of small pox now being cared for in the tent on the county poor farm, one yesterday terminated fatally. He was a young man named Wm. Jones, who was taken ill at John Norman's house, and who was removed from thence to the tent last Monday night. He has grown rapidly worse until yesterday death came to him. He was a young man without family, and came here, it is said, from Chicago. His friends live in Pennsylvania.

The three other cases now being cared for at the tent are reported as getting along nicely. Two of them will be ready probably for discharge as cured by next Sunday or Monday, and the other soon after. It is thought that no further cases will arise from any exposure caused by these cases. No Humbugging the American People. You can't humbug the American people, when they find a remedy that suits them; they use it and recommend it to their friends. Just exactly the case with Springs Blisters. They have become a household word all over the United States. Price 50 cents, trial bottles 10 cents.

Had a Good Thing.

From the Well Street News. A stranger who seemed to be from Connecticut was strolling through Battery park the other day, when he was accosted by a match peddler, and asked to make a purchase.

"No, thanks. I don't smoke, chew, play cards or drink whisky, and I don't need them," was the reply. "I am very poor," pleaded the match man. "Ah! then you put it on the ground of charity, eh? Very well. Now, my friend, how much do you make on a box of matches?" "Three cents." "And how old are you?" "Thirty-five." "Just so. You have fifteen years of active life before you. In fifteen years there are 320 months, 1,320 weeks, or 9,240 days. Knock off the Sundays and we have 7,940 days on which you can sell matches. You ought to sell fifteen boxes per day. That is an income of 45 cents; 7,940 days multiplied by 45 gives 357,820 cents, which is $3,577.20, and don't you forget it. No, sir, I can't buy on the grounds of charity. You've got a good thing. All you've got to do is to preserve your money in an old stocking, and at 50 retire from business and invest in 7 per cent securities. Pass on, sir."

A Vexed Clergyman. Even the patience of Job would become exhausted were he a preacher and endeavoring to interest his audience while they were keeping up an incessant coughing making it impossible for him to be heard. Yet, how very easy can all this be avoided by simply using Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Trial Bottles given away at C. F. Goodman's drug store.
