ANDERSON'S RECORD.

The "Claims" of a Man Who Wants to Be an Iowa Congressman.

Correspondence of The Bee.

NISHNA VALLEY, Mills county, Iowa, May 18.—The people of this congressional district will soon be called upon to place in nomination a candidate to represent this district in congress. Mills county evidently has in the person of J. Y. Stone the ablest man in the district for the position, and the republicans of Mills county would be pleased to see their fellow-citizen carry off the honor at the coming congressional convention. But it seems that Mr. Stone declines to be a candidate, and the contest for the position is narrowed down to two candidates, Col. W. F. Sapp and Major A. R. Anderson. The last named gentleman is very popular with the politicians of this county, but not with the masses of the republican farmers and business men. This county will oppose Anderson's nomination for the reason that the question of regulating inter-state commerce will come before the next congress, and Major Anderson's past record is such as to convince the Mills county citizens that his sympathies are with the railroads and not the people, and in proof of this assertion will present the following facts. Major Anderson was prosecuting attorney for this judicial district for four years, and during all this time he did not make any effort to prosecute the three railroad companies running from Council Bluffs to Chicago, for pooling their earnings. Section 1297 code of Iowa provides that "it shall be unlawful for any railway company to make any contract or to enter into any speculation with any other company running in the same general direction, by which either company shall directly or indirectly agree to divide in any manner or proportion the joint earnings upon the whole or any part of the freight transported over such roads, and any violation of this provision shall render the railway company violating the same liable to a penalty of $5,000 for each month for which such earnings are divided, to be recovered for the permanent use of the school fund in the name of the state."

It is a fact that during all the four years that he was state attorney he did not institute proceedings to recover about $300,000 that the pool lines had, by the violation of section 1297, forfeited to the state for the use of the permanent school school fund; that these companies did violate this law is known to every reader of a daily paper in Iowa and Nebraska, and was known to Major Anderson These companies did not only pool from Council Bluffs to Chicago, but but pool from Council Bluffs to Indianola, Knoxville, Des Moines and other points in Iowa, and the officers of this company have boasted of their being able to harmonize differences by pooling their earnings.

During the last session of the Iowa legislature, Lewis, of this county, offered a resolution in the house demanding that a committee be appointed to investigate the pooling of these railroad companies, and report to the house the result of such investigation. The resolution was referred to the railroad commissioners, of which Anderson is a member, and we have looked in vain for the commissioners report and have not yet seen it and never will.

A bill was offered in the house to prevent officers of the state and counties from receiving from railroad companies free passes. This bill was referred to the railroad commissioner of which Major Anderson was a member, and after examining it returned to the house a laughing, ridiculing report, which was unfavorable to the passage of the bill, and this same beard of railroad commissioners, of which Anderson is a member, in a report ridiculed and criticised a speech made by Senator J. F. Wilson at Davenport. This speech was in opposition to railroad monopolies, and was full of kind words for the people. Anderson has long been the attorney for the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad company, and on the west bank of the Botany river, seven miles north of Sidney, stands a town that was named by the that company Anderson, in honor of their faithful servant, Major Anderson, and no doubt Anderson would, in the face and eyes of all these facts, be glad if he could convince the republicans of Mills county that he is opposed to the iron grasp of railroad monopolies. That will be hard to do. Had he used as much diligence in performing the duties of the offices of district attorney and railroad commissioner as he did in his efforts to procure these offices, the people of this county might be encouraged to help him into congress. We think him fully able to ride over this congressional district on his free pass, or in his special car, working with his admiring politicians to procure the office, but if we are to judge his future by the past, he is not able to represent us in congress.

Maj. Anderson was a good soldier and deserves some consideration for the services he rendered his country during the late war. But it is a fact that we have in Mills county 100 soldiers working in the broiling sun every day to obtain a living for their families who are entitled to as much consideration as Maj. Anderson, who have been and are ground down by the iron heel of railroad monopolies that Anderson has feared and will continue to fear if sent to congress. As to the record of Col. Sapp we have not made an examination, but will say that if it does not bear any better investigation than Anderson's we think the republicans of this district had better look for another man to present to the people for their suffrage.

CONSERVATIVE.

MINDEN, IA.

A Prosperous Railroad Town of Pottawattamie County.

Correspondence of The Bee.

MINDEN, Iowa, May 10.—Minden is a prosperous railroad town of about four hundred inhabitants, is pleasantly located on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, twenty-six miles east of Council Bluffs. Six years ago the spot where Minden now exists showed no visible mark of a building. The skillful hand of the carpenter has been at work, and the result is a number of fine residences with a number of fine substantial business houses, all of which are doing a thriving business. The German Lutherans have a new church going up which, when finished, will be a comfortable church edifice. The building is located in the north part of town on a high plateau with a commanding view of the country. You can see farms all around, which are under a high state of cultivation, and beautiful groves, young and thrifty orchards, which in a few short years will produce fruit sufficient to supply our home demand.

Quite a number of our first settlers in this county took their departure from Johnson county eight or ten years ago, and others from the same place have continued to immigrate until our county has become thickly settled and are industrious and successful farmers and in such circumstances that their remaining days can be spent in comfort and ease.

This spring has been a more favorable one for farmers for putting in their crops than this locality has enjoyed for many years and they are nobly improving their time in putting in the largest acreage of corn ever known in this county. Wheat is growing nicely. The copious rain on last Sabbath has much revived all vegetation. If the season continues as favorable it will be but reasonable to expect one of the largest wheat crops the coming fall that Pottowattamie county has ever experienced.

"I Don't Want That Stuff."

Is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack, therefore, it was administered to her with such good results, that she continued its use until cured, and made so enthusiastic in its praise, that she induced twenty-two of the best families in her circle to adopt it as their regular family medicine. That "stuff" is Hop Bitters.—[Standard. tf

Neola News.

NEOLA, Iowa, May 20, 1882.

To the Editor of the Bee.

Our farmers in this vicinity are better pleased over the crop prospects than they were a few weeks ago, although the weather has been very cool, and spring seemingly backward the corn that was planted early is not materially injured, owing to the dryness of the ground, and since it has turned warmer, the recent rains have made the cereals fairly shoot up. Corn planting is through with, and most of it up, with a splendid stand, and the acreage this year is greatly increased. The wheat acreage has not increased, but is about the same as last year. Altogether the prospects for a heavy crop were never better here than they are this year.

The prohibition amendment has gained some favor in this locality since the opening of the campaign; the whiskey organ, the Nonpareil, is doing all in its power in opposition of temperance, and to defeat the amendment.

That little game of honest (?) John's to call a congressional convention for June 22, is heartily disapproved by the majority of voters in this vicinity, and the shystery trick of trying to make it appear that the voice of the people of the district demand this early convention is severely denounced. The fact is, the people don't propose to be hoodwinked in a manner by a couple of corrupt political tricksters.

Neola puts on its dress of city government with becoming grace. Although but one month has elaped since its officers were elected, a good set of ordinances have been adopted, the grade for the streets and sidewalks is being established and a cooler is now in course of construction.

THE BEE receives many compliments from its patrons here for its fearless manner of standing up for the right without favor or partiality.
