An Emblem of Purity Philadelphia's Centennial-Goat Hairs-

White Gloves.

A Free Mason ought always to appear properly clothed, bodh in the lodge and on all public occasions wearing, beside his apron, the jewel proper to his Masonic rank and white gloves. In some lodges the wearing of white gloves is not always insisted upon, although on public occasions they are never dispensed with. The ancient rule, however, ought always to be enforced, not only because this peculiarity of clothing visibly connects Free Masonry of the present day with that of former centuries, and that of our country with that of other countries, but because the white gloves, like the white apron, must be regarded as symbolic. As the white apron suggests the purity of heart, so the white gloves symbolize the cleanliness of hands; and thus, by his clothing, the Free Mason is ever reminded of that important lesson so often repeated, with wonderful variety of expression in the Holy Scriptures. He may fitly call to remembrance, for example, the words will be held at Tecumsch, June 5th, 6th of the twenty-fourth Psalm: "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? and who shall stand in His holy place? He that hath clean hands and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soal unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully."

The connection between cleanliness of hand and purity of heart is most intricate, for out of the heart are the issues of life. The tree must be good that its fruit may be good. The same fountain cannot send forth sweet waters and bitter. All that is praiseworty in moral conduct is required of the Free Mason: "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are of good report." He is bound by the most solemn obligations strictly to observe the moral law. But it is impossible for any man to really do this—or, in figurative language, to keep his hands always clean—who neglects the keeping of his heart, the cultivation of Faith, Hope and Char-ity, who does not cherish within his own breast the virtues of temperance, fortitude, prudence and justice. It is nothing better than vile mockery for a Mason to wear white gloves while consoious of any iniquity in his life; of any dishonesty in his worldly affairs; of any deceit or cruelty in his conduct toward the wives or daughters toward the wife of his own bosom, do this-or, in figurative language, to

The dedication of the new Presbyterian church of Millerboro brought out a grawd numbering from 350 to 400 persons. The house is a very fine one, built of wood 28x44 feet. When furnished it will have cost $2,000.

THE QUIET CAPITAL. The Appointment of Regent Tendered Gere.

The Colored Carver The Similia Similibustors On to Denver

pecial Correspondence of The Bee. LINCOLN, May 26.-From the lethargy into which this town has sunk it would be hard to tell that there ever had been so exciting an event as a legislative session here. The various questions of interest that arose at that time have not left even a ripple on the placid current of Lincoln's dreamy municipal life.. Even the papers do not take the trouble to discuss the issues that were made by the body of statesmen who adjourned so creditably.

It is understood that Mr. Gere has accepted the position of university regent, although the governor has not yet announced the appointment. The tender was made Mr. Gere imme-diately after Carson's resignation, and has been held under advisement by him ever since. Contrary to a preva-lent suspicion on the subject, Gere is said to be sound on the main ques-tion; that is, he is satisfied that the triumvirate—Fairfield, Bullock and Miller—have reigned long enough. Whether he will be disposed to see the evicted members of the faculty reinstated is a matter of less moment. No trace has yet been found of the coon Matthews, who carved a brother shadow up in such an artistic fashion. It is sagely surmised by the vigilant police force of this place that he has gone to Omaha; which place, in the eyes of the Lincolnite, is a sort of catchall for the scum of other towns. The State Homeopathic society held session here yesterday. The records show that there are eighty-five physicians of this school in the state at present. A highly interesting lecture was delivered by Dr. Cowperthwaite on the virtues of the sugar bolus and the millionth dilution. Railroad circles are interested over the completion of the new Denver line. Many Lincolnites will take advantage of the opportunity furnished to visit the Colorado metropolis as soon as through trains are put on. ARGUS.

"I Don't Want That Stuff." Is what a lady of Boston said to her husband when he brought home some medicine to cure her of sick headache and neuralgia which had made her miserable for fourteen years. At the first attack, therefore, it was administered to her with such good results, that she continued its use until cured, and made so enthusiastic in its praise as their regular family medicine. Indiana Masons.

The grand lodge of Indiana met last week at Indianapolis in semi-annual conclave, with all the grand officers and three hundred delegates present, O. W. Prather being grand master. The triennial session of the grand lodge has resulted in a saving of $10,000, and the order will soon be free f.om debt in Indiana. The grand master recommended that this grand lodge adopt suitable resolutions granting any subordinate lodge in any ad-joining jurisdiction the privilege of receiving the petition and conferring the first three degrees of Masonry upon citizens of this state who reside upon citizens of this state who reside nearer such lodge than to any lodge in this state, provided the same privi-lege be extended to the lodges in this state by the laws of such adjoining jurisdiction. Chester Fisher, grand treasurer, reported the total receipts for the year ending May 23, 1882, as $31,962; balance in the treas-ury May 24, 1881, $2,408; total re-ceipts for the year, including balance $34,371; total disbursements for the year ending May 23, 1882, $19,182. year ending May 23. 1882, $19,182.
