

AN OPEN LETTER

From W. T. Blackwell & Co., for the Trade.

DURHAM, N. C., May 22, '82. Messrs. M. E. McDowell & Co. 43 River St., Chicago, Ill.

GENTS: We understand that nearly all the tobacco manufacturers are offering prices of various kinds of tobaccos which will specially push their goods.

Our principle always has been to make only the very best goods that money and skill can produce, and sell them at a fair price, believing that a discriminating public would appreciate the true merit of BLACKWELL'S BULL DURHAM STRONG TOBACCO AND CIGARETTES.

The success which has thus far attended our efforts has, we think, proved the correctness of our principles; and while we are grateful to the consumer for his generous support, and promise in the future to maintain the high grade which always characterizes our goods, we do not propose to be behind our competitors in remembering the salesman who pushes our manufactures. We therefore authorize you to PUBLICLY make the following offer:

Any salesman who will sell at the established price, and have his orders filled through his house during the period from June 1st, 1882, to terminating June 30th, 1882, not less than 25,000 Blackwell's Bull Durham Cigarettes, 25 pounds Blackwell's Bull Durham Long Cut No. 1, 25 pounds Durham Long Cut No. 2, 100 pounds Blackwell's Bull Durham, Granulated, we will pay $25 in cash.

We leave you to arrange the details of this offer as you deem best. Yours truly, W. T. BLACKWELL & Co.

43 River St., Chicago, June 1, '82. In accordance with the above instructions from Messrs. W. T. Blackwell & Co., any salesman who wishes to compete for this business, and who will send us his address through his house, will receive, express paid, a neat, handy case containing full line of samples and prices at which the goods are to be sold.

When the quantity of goods specified in Messrs. Blackwell & Co.'s letter have been sold by any salesman, and a certificate from his house stating that he has sold the required amount within the prescribed time, is sent to us, we will promptly forward to his address a draft for $25.00. M. E. McDowell & Co.

The Whoolmen.

National Associated Press. OMAHA, May 31.—Nearly all the whoolmen leave the city today for their homes. The whoolmen occupied the forenoon in examining marine bicycles in the basin, and taking a turn in the parks. The election of officers of the league resulted as follows:

President, W. H. Miller, of Columbia. Vice president, A. S. Hibbard, of Cambridge. Corresponding secretary, K. R. Putnam, of New York. Recording secretary, A. S. Hibbard, of Cambridge. Treasurer, Wm. V. Gilman, of Nashua, N. H.

Mr. Evans (Tex. C.) spoke ten minutes in favor of seating Mr. Dibble, followed by Mr. Dibble, who spoke in his own behalf.

Mr. Calkins closed with a ten minute speech, declaring in the fear of God and no man, if ever there was a fair case this was one, and in closing alluded to the purity of the ballot as the foundation upon which our government rests, and that it must be preserved above everything else.

At this Mr. Springer (Ills.) sprang up, excited, exclaiming, "But you did not say this in 1876, when you seated a fraudulent president." Immediately there were shouts of "order" from the republican side, and on the democratic side dozens of members were struggling to their feet and gathering about Springer.

The speaker rapped loudly for order and stated that the gentleman from Illinois was out of order, to which Springer replied, "I know it, and I now take my seat."

Mr. Robison demanded that the remarks of Springer be omitted from the Record. Mr. Springer—"Oh, well, you may be able to suppress them in the Record, but you can't in the press," pointing to the correspondents' gallery.

CONGRESS. SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—Senator Sewell (N. J.) reported favorably from the committee on military affairs on an amendment to the Fitz John Porter bill. Senator Logan offered a minority report.

Senator Logan reported the army appropriation bill, giving notice he would call it up to-morrow. Senator Bayard stated he would call up the whisky bill on Friday.

The Greek Orphan bill was discussed during the morning hour. Senator Sherman moved to indefinitely postpone. Lost, 20 to 26.

The Japanese indemnity fund bill came up as unfinished business. Senator Cameron moved to postpone it to go into executive session.

The senate resumed open session at 3:30 p. m., and the Japanese indemnity bill was taken up. Senator Morrill offered an amendment, to pay $785,000, the exact amount received from Japan.

Debate followed, and the senate adjourned at 5 p. m. The senate today made the following confessions: Samuel M. Jackson to be collector of internal revenue for the Twenty-third district, Pennsylvania, vice John M. Sullivan, removed; postmaster, Geo. K. Wheter, at Reading, Pa. The debate was lively on the Pennsylvania collectorship, but the negative vote was very light.

Without any dissenting motions, Mr. Atherton resumed his address on the Mackey-Dibble case. Mr. Ranney (Mass.) produced the copies of the reports of the testimony which the democrats had alleged had been changed by Mackey, and showed that all the changes and erasures were purely verbal in character, and made no change in the meaning, or else were corrections of errors made by the stenographer.

Mr. Ranney (Mass) followed in a long argument in favor of the majority report, after which Mr. Calkins announced, he would call the previous question as soon as he could get the floor.

Mr. Jones (Tex.) greenbacker, argued in favor of the majority report seating Mackey. Mr. Randall moved to recommit the report to the committee, with directions to take testimony as to the alleged frauds and alterations. Voted down, 142 to 64.

The previous question was then ordered by 151 to 21. Mr. Evans (S. C.) spoke ten minutes in favor of seating Mr. Dibble, followed by Mr. Dibble, who spoke in his own behalf.

Mr. Calkins closed with a ten minute speech, declaring in the fear of God and no man, if ever there was a fair case this was one, and in closing alluded to the purity of the ballot as the foundation upon which our government rests, and that it must be preserved above everything else.

adopted by 150 yeas and 3 nays, the democrats, excepting Messrs. Morse, Phelps and Hardeburg refraining from voting.

Mr. Mackey was conducted to the speaker's desk, where the oath was administered. Mr. McLane rose to a question of privilege, and sent to the clerk's desk to be read a resolution reciting the rulings of the speaker on Monday, in refusing to entertain Mr. Springer's motions and appeals, and closed with a resolution that said "decisions and rulings of the speaker were arbitrary, and are hereby condemned and censured by this house."

As soon as the reading had finished Mr. Reed moved the resolutions be laid on the table. Mr. McLane claimed the floor to speak on the resolutions.

Mr. Hiseck made the point that it was not a question of privilege. Mr. Speaker stated that McLane had stated to him privately before offering the resolutions that it was not personal to the speaker, though relating to the proceedings of last Monday, and had the speaker understood them to be personal to himself, he would have left the chair before it was presented.

By this time the house was in a state of intense excitement. Members were in every part of the hall shouting "Order," for recognition by the chair, and to prevent the other side from getting in any motion.

Mr. Cox (N. Y.) getting the floor, suggested in response to the speaker's remark that he would have left the chair if he had known the question was personal to him, that the speaker might leave the chair now.

To this the speaker replied that he never vacated his post of duty when under fire. The confusion continued. Mr. Cox again tried to address the chair.

Mr. Miller, republican, from the other side, shouted across to him, "Oh, sit down, Cox." To this Mr. Cox responded, "Well, you can't make me do it," and walking quickly across the space in front of the speaker's desk, shook his finger in Miller's face and walked back to the democratic side.

Confusion grew more intense, members on both sides shouting "order," others trying to get the floor, in a parliamentary way, and others applauding Cox and Miller. The speaker was in the meantime pounding the desk for order. Finally, after the confusion had subsided, Mr. Reed's motion to lay the resolution on the table was put.

After a long discussion as to Mr. McLane's right to debate his resolution, a point was made by Mr. Aldrich that as Mr. McLane had gotten the floor by false pretences he was not entitled to it. The motion was carried—142 to 88—and Mr. McLane's resolutions were laid on the table.

Mr. Ranney then moved to take up the case of Beebe against Finley. Mr. Randall raised the question of consideration. The roll being called all democrats except two abstained from voting, but the republicans had a quorum and by a vote of 149 to 2 decided to take up the case.

Ranney was then recognized, and at 8:39 the house adjourned, having been in session nine and one-half hours. CAPITAL NOTES. DEW'S HOUR. WASHINGTON, May 31.—Gen. Drum has returned from a western tour. The Little Concert. The reappearance of Mile Litta in Omaha after a three years' absence from the city, attracted a large audience at a Boyd's opera house Tuesday. The concert was in many respects the best given this season, and all who were fortunate enough to be present came away delighted, and have talked enthusiastically of the entertainment ever since.

Litta was in this city about three years ago, at the Academy of Music, and appeared under the management of Max Strakosch. At that time she was not "starrying," but even as one in the bright constellation she attracted attention by her charming voice, and it was predicted that she would yet take the highest rank in her profession. The result has confirmed the expectations of her friends, and after a series of tours through the principal cities of the east, she returns to Omaha to win renewed admiration.

She was certainly greeted in a most flattering manner, and she responded to the good will and genuine enthusiasm of the audience by several delightful scores. The remainder of the company was composed of excellent artists, and while it is impossible to speak of them in detail as they deserve, it may be said that all were exceptionally good, and that when they return to Omaha they will receive another ovation not less hearty than that of Tuesday night.

GOODWIN'S FROLIQUES. Tickets go on sale this morning for the entertainment to be given by Nat. C. Goodwin's Froliques, on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening next. The company has made an immense hit this season and will draw a big house here.

earnest from that point, and is going down at the rate of about one mile per day. In track-laying they use Moore's improved patent track-laying apparatus which consists simply of a trough or sided track in which are many rollers, over which ties and rails are sent to the front. This is attached to one side of the flat-cars, so that ties and rails can be placed on the rollers, and then shoved along rapidly by men either on the flats or walking by the side on the ground. At the front end of the train, this track or chute extends forward quite a distance, being supported by a crane. As fast as the ties are sent to the front they are taken by men and put in place; then the rails are dropped and spiked, and the train pushed over the rails just laid, so as to be ready for the next length. The engine is at the opposite end of the train, and pushes the car back as fast as the rails are laid, until the twenty or thirty cars are unloaded. This machinery saves hauling the ties ahead by teams, and is economical in work, especially as there are many places along the road where teams could not reach the line of grade.

From Granger it is 149 miles to Soda Springs, upon which the grade has been completed, eighty-two miles of track laid and many of the bridges put in place. From Soda Springs to Portneue, where the line crosses the Utah & Northern, it is sixty-six miles, making a total of 215 miles from Granger. On this gap between Soda Springs and Portneue graders are now at work and a portion is completed. West of the Utah and Northern the track is laid sixteen miles, and in about three weeks will be completed to American Falls, six miles further. The track west of the Utah & Northern is laid with broad gages and rails placed to accommodate narrow gauge rolling stock, and when the line is completed from Granger to Portneue the track westward will be widened to standard gauge.

West of Snake river graders are strung out for a distance of fifty miles, and between 700 and 800 teams are at work. This portion of the road is over the desert, there being a stretch of eighty miles between American Falls and Little Wood river having no water, and hence no teams have to be supplied by hauling water from these two rivers. At present the contractors, Messrs. Collins & Stevens, have about 2,000 teams and 3,000 men employed, and are anxious to get all the men and teams they can for pushing their work.

Orders have been issued by the management to push the grading through to Baker City as rapidly as possible, and this will be done. The engineers are locating the line, keeping all the time far ahead of the graders, and there is now an entry shown by the company unsurpassed by any former period.

Scip Dundy Married. Mr. and Mrs. Judge Elmer S. Dundy and their many friends throughout the state, were somewhat surprised to hear that Mr. Elmer S. Dundy is no longer a single man. Last Tuesday night he married at the Palmer House, it is said, in Chicago, Miss Mamie Sutton, a niece to Mrs. Carl Fanke. The young lady left Lincoln last Monday for her home in Newark, Ohio, for the purpose of attending at the bedside of her mother, who is sick.

Scip Dundy accompanied her, going over the Burlington to Chicago. He returned here Thursday and on the same day went to Omaha, but is at present in Lincoln. Miss Sutton, it is supposed, continued on to Ohio after the vows were spoken.

Dundy is 21, his wife about two years younger. They evidently intended to keep their escapade a perfect secret, but an enterprising reporter of the Chicago Times published the marriage notice in Friday's paper, which struck like a thunderbolt. Lincoln yesterday afternoon, Miss Sutton was a vivacious and popular member of Lincoln's best society during her visit this past winter. "Scip" has been known here for years.

The event is one of the most startling to capital society that has happened in a long time, and will be the talk for many days. [State Journal.]

The French and English Fleets Remain Inactive in Egyptian Waters.

The Situation Full of Peril—The Flight of Foreigners Continues.

A Powerful Conference Proposed—Profitable Work in the East.

AFFAIRS IN EGYPT. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS. CONSTANTINOPLE, May 31.—Nearly all of the Mediterranean fleet has gone to Alexandria. The porte is now indisposed to act in the Egyptian embroglio, unless the allied French and English fleets leave Egyptian waters, but as their withdrawal at this moment would be taken by the national party as proof that they were to have their own way and foreign powers would not venture to interfere with them, the retreat of the fleets is not to be thought of and the situation is more and more critical.

A petition is now being circulated in Cairo, and signatures obtained for it under threats of military violence, demanding a reconstruction of the ministry, rejection of the English and French notes, the recall of the English and French fleets, and recognition of the military movement as a legitimate act. If the khedive should refuse to accede to these demands, his deposition will speedily follow. Nobody believes the restoration of order is possible until the Turkish troops arrive, and the present attitude of the port indicates that they will not be sent. Thus a deadlock has arisen, and the situation is full of peril.

ADVISE GREATLY. LONDON, May 31.—The official joint verbal communication of Lord Dufferin, British ambassador at Constantinople, and Marquis De Noailles, French ambassador at the same city, to the Porte, on the 29th of May, was to the effect that the Sultan could issue a declaration of his policy towards Egypt in the present difficulties. The first clause advised that he should be in favor of the khedive; the second to state that the khedive had accorded according to the Sultan's wishes, and that third he should suspend Arabi Bey and other military leaders to Constantinople to appear before the Sultan and defend their conduct in the attempted deposition of the khedive. All other European ambassadors advised the Sultan to comply with wishes of the English and French ambassadors.

HAUTEWORKS. CAIRO, May 31.—There has been a very rapid rise of earthworks and batteries at Alexandria. All of the natives—men, women and children—have volunteered their services and are working at them.
