CONGRESS. SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Senator Davis was unavoidably absent, but sent a letter nominating Senator Ingalls president pro tem.

Senator Hoar moved that Senator Ingalls be so elected for one day.

Consideration of the Japanese indemnity bill occupied the day.

Adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

The Lowe-Wheeler case was resumed. The time up to 3 p. m. was occupied in argument, most of the time being occupied by Mr. Atherton, who produced nothing new.

He charged that the republicans had agreed to vote with the greenbackers if the latter would vote with them.

Mr. Jones (greenbacker) stoutly denied that any such understanding existed.

At 3:30 p. m. Mr. Wheeler took the floor in support of his own case. He reviewed the case, claiming that he was fairly elected, and that great unfairness had been shown by the other side, in taking of the testimony, etc.

Many of the witnesses showed that they themselves did not know for whom they voted.

At 4:30 p. m. the house adjourned with the understanding that Wheeler would have an hour to-morrow to finish his statement in the case.

CAPITAL NOTES.

THE STAR ROUTE TRIALS.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Mr. Bliss opened the case for the government in a long argument, describing the star route service and the nature of the crimes alleged.

After the conclusion of Mr. Bliss' argument to-day, the star route cases were adjourned to Monday.

DANENHOWER had a long consultation with Secretary Chandler to-day.

Secretary Chandler has assigned Lieut. Danenhower to special duty in the navy department. It is understood that he will at once enter upon preparation of a report of his travels and sufferings in the Arctic regions, in search of the north pole.

MAIL DELIVERY ON SUNDAY.

MR. RELINQUISH, of New York, to-day called on the postmaster general and urged an extension of the letter delivery service so that letters may be delivered in large cities once on each Sunday.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER.

The house committee on war claims have agreed to a bill giving $17,000 to Mrs. E. A. Garr, for rations furnished to her going south through New York during the rebellion.

A FRAUD.

A man named Carpenter was arrested at St. Louis engaged in issuing fraudulent land certificates of deposit.

THE ASSASSIN LOOSING FLUCK.

The Washington critic says: "Time and tide wait for no man." The condemned assassin realized that time is not waiting, and that every succeeding day hastens him nearer that time when the sentence of the law will be executed and he will be precipitated into eternity.

The cheerful demeanor and hopeful expressions which have characterized him throughout have vanished like sunshine before the gathering masses of a muttering thunder storm. The familiar air of bravado is gone, and in its stead the ash hue of terror has appeared. Reading and writing, once favorite occupations, are not now resorted to by the assassin. His earnest ponderings are rarely relieved when occasionally he paces the floor of his cell unmindful of the deaf watch, whose eyes are upon him, wringing his hands and talking in a most incoherent manner. A few nights since he retired to his prison cot about 10 o'clock, and in less than half an hour he awoke in the most startled manner, and looking wildly around; the weird moonlight pouring in through the grated window, exclaimed, "I see trembling with excitement, 'I see horrible phantoms before me. What shall I do? My poor brains reel. Oh, why did I assassinate him?' It took some time to pacify the assassin, and when he became quiet he calmly said: 'I don't mind what I said; I was dreaming. We all dream at times. I am no coward, nor am I afraid to die.' 'But,' he continued, 'it is not possible that President Arthur is going to permit them to hang me after what I did to redeem the republican party. No I do not believe he will. If he receives me or executes my sentence hoodlums will howl, but the respectable element of society will stand by him and indorse his action.'

Having relieved his mind on that score, he again retired to his cot, but only to find troubled rest. Perhaps the ghastly phantom again visited his bedside, a frightful reminder of the act and the near approach of the hour of vengeance, when from the Pacific to the Atlantic and the lakes to the gulf, the electric click will announce to an indignant people, 'Garfield is avenged.'

A gentleman who lately visited the assassin spoke of the near approach of the hanging day and desired him to make his peace with God. Turning with a half frightened look, the latter said: 'If man fails in this matter, if Charles Reed does not succeed and if President Arthur does not stretch out his hand and save me, there is One above who prompted me to take one life for a country's good and who protected me from the bullets of Mason and Jones, that will still protect me. The first hand that is laid upon me for the purpose of doing violence will be instantly withered. I fear not man's power. I am God's man, and He'll protect me.'

No doubts is expressed but that the court in banc will overrule Reed's new motion for a new hearing in the Guitau case, made to-day. The only point made is that the record is false in that Guitau was found guilty as indicted, whereas several counts alleged the death of Gen. Garfield in Washington, and Reed urged that in these counts the verdict should have been rendered guilty. A decision will be rendered to-morrow.

It is reported to-night that ex-Senator Harlan, of Iowa, will be a member of the tariff commission.

CRIMINAL NEWS.

A NECK-TIE.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 2.—James E. Harvey and William L. Moon were sentenced to hang to-day at Carrollton. Harvey was to hang for the murder of Arthur McMullen in July last. He was executed in the presence of a large crowd at 1:10 p. m. Moon murdered J. B. Ward a little over a year ago. He attempted suicide in his cell by taking poison this morning, and was kept by Gov. Colquhoun until to-morrow. He was restored to consciousness at two o'clock this afternoon, and will be hanged to-morrow between the usual hours, the sheriff having received a dispatch from the governor this afternoon to execute Moon to-morrow.

The Malley Trial.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 2.—Juror Lovejoy was attacked with violent erysipelas, the doctor pronouncing danger of going to the brain and proving fatal. Lovejoy is 72 years old. Court adjourned until Tuesday, June 13th. In case of Lovejoy's death, this case will be retired. The state attorney says in that event the prisoners will not be admitted to bail.

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., June 2.—George Ellis, one of the three Ashland murderers convicted, was this morning sentenced to imprisonment for life.

No Pardon Offered Frank James.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 2.—Gov. Crittenden denies having offered a pardon to Frank James or of entertaining any proposition for executive clemency in any shape.

Fires.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Wm. Shaffer's piano factory, West Thirty-fourth street, was damaged $1,000 by fire this evening; fully insured. The fire broke out in the factory of the American Paper Bag company. Loss, $5,000.

QUEBEC, June 1.—The Grand Trunk Railway depot, at South Quebec, burned this evening, with the emigrant sheds and a large three-story house. The depot was situated at the edge of the St. Lawrence river, on wharves built out into the stream as a landing place for all Allen Line steamers on their arrival from Europe. The depot consisted of four three-story buildings, 200 by 60 feet, and worth $20,000 each. In one was the office of the United States consul. A number of cars containing freight were destroyed on the track, also a quantity of freight in the sheds. The loss falls principally on the Grand Trunk railway and the Dominion and Ontario governments, and is estimated at $400,000.

Indications.

WASHINGTON, June 3, 1 a. m.—For the upper lake region, the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, slight rains followed by clearing weather, northeast to northwest winds, higher barometer, stationary or light fall in temperature.

Central Illinois Crops.

CHICAGO, June 2.—A special from Clinton, Ill., says there has not been so fine a prospect for good crops in Central Illinois for ten years as at the present time. The chilly and wet weather has been the making of the wheat crop. Rye and oats are also growing finely. Corn planting is about finished.

A Grand Opening.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., June 2.—Five hundred citizens of this city went to Oskaloosa on the Leavenworth, Topeka & Southwestern railroad to-day, to celebrate the opening of the road to that point, which is half way between this city and Topeka. The excursion was accompanied by the Barry Cadets and Creator's band, and were received and entertained in a very agreeable manner by the citizens of the town.

THE LABOR OUTLOOK.

An Early Settlement of the Iron Strike Expected.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WINONA, Minn., June 2.—All lumber mills here are shut down because of the strike of the sawyers, who demand an increase of 25 cents a day. Five hundred men are out.

CHICAGO, June 2.—The striking tanners in this city failed to accomplish their object, and are asking to be reinstated. A few are being taken back.

CHICAGO, June 2.—There is no material change in the situation at Ironville this morning. All the men are still out. President Jarrett has not arrived, and a telegram has been received stating that he will not come on an expected Corresponding Secretary Pat Carmady, of the Iron Makers' association here, has just received the following dispatch from President Jarrett at Pittsburg: 'My instructions being advisory, you are at liberty to stop, provided that they all stop;' and Mr. Carmady has also received the following telegram from Vice President J. C. Rullock:

'BAY VIEW, MILWAUKEE, June 1.—Do not work unless they sign the scale. We are out, and will stop out until they all sign. The indications now are that the men will stick out till the manufacturers give in.'

The men claim that they have half a million dollars in the treasury at Pittsburg. The men also claim that the steel and rail men will come to their financial aid when they need it. About 1,000 men are out of employment here.

CINCINNATI, June 2.—The result of the great iron strike this morning is that the men are out, and will stop out until they all sign. The indications now are that the men will stick out till the manufacturers give in.'

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—State Senator John Stewart, independent candidate for governor, had a conference to-day with several leaders, during which the outline of a vigorous campaign was discussed. State Senator William J. Sewell, one of Cameron's lieutenants, said publicly to-day that if the indications later in the campaign pointed to the success of the independents, the regular republicans would turn in and vote the democratic ticket.

Mr. Thompson Discusses Ohio Politics.

Washington special to Cincinnati Commercial.

Colonel Jno. G. Thompson, who has been confined to his room for some time past by illness, is able to be about again, and will leave for Columbus this week if possible.

'There is no authority for the statement recently made that I am to be a candidate for congress against Mr. Converse,' said the Colonel to-night, 'for I am by no means certain that I will be. I do not know that I will be now at least. I can tell more about those things when I return to Ohio. Our country congressional convention will be held July 25, I believe, and the state convention not before the 1st of August, so that matters will not be in shape for me to say what I shall do for some time.'

'What is there in this talk about Ex-Senator Thurman running for secretary of state on the democratic ticket this fall?'

'Nothing. There is nothing in such an office as that to induce Mr. Thurman to re-enter public life. Had the republican legislature failed to re-elect the state and left a congressman-at-large to be elected, I think the pressure which would have been brought to bear on Mr. Thurman to accept this nomination would have been irresistible. He would then, in case of his election, have gone back to the house with some prestige. He would have occupied the same position towards the democrats as Mr. Clay did towards the Whigs. He would have doubtless been the democratic candidate for speaker; but the secretaryship of state is quite another matter. When it comes to choose a governor next year I think Mr. Thurman will again be called upon, but he will not consent to enter the race this year.'

'What do Mr. Pendleton's friends have united in bringing forward Mr. Thurman?'

'I think they would have done so this fall gladly. Mr. Pendleton's friends regard him simply as a candidate for re-election to his own seat in the senate. Mr. Pendleton himself desires nothing more. As well as I know Mr. Pendleton, the question of his being a candidate for the presidency has never been mentioned. He is devoting himself strictly to his senatorial duties, and desires nothing more than his re-election to that office. All this talk about a literary bureau which gets into the newspapers is trash.'

A GOOD COUNTRY TO AVOID.

California Degenerates from a Paradise to Pauperdom.

A Richer and More Profitable Field East of the Rockies.

To the Editor of the Bee.

I lately received a communication from G. B. Merriam, of San Francisco, Cal., requesting me to have published in the paper that had the largest circulation an article describing the labor market in California, speaking from my own experience and his knowledge, hoping that it might deter some from going there to better their condition, which would certainly result in their disaster. He says: 'Business of all kinds is dull, wages are down to starvation point, with no brightening outlook. The young men do not take into themselves wives, for employment is too precarious, and when it can be obtained, the compensation is too meagre to support comfortably the person who receives it. This is, indeed, a sad, but alas! too true a picture.'

'Fifteen young men arrived here in April from Wisconsin and stayed just four days, when disheartened by the rebuffs they received, shook the dust of the 'Golden state' from off their feet, jumped aboard the train and returned to their homes in the north-west.'

'California has for years and years ceased to be the poor man's paradise and has now become his pandemonium.'

My experience dates back to 1874-6. At this time wages were generally good compared to eastern prices. Brickmasons received $5 per day and carpenters $4 for work on the Palace hotel, but when that was finished work was scarce at any price.

Common work was hard to get, though wages were ordinarily fair. Many and many a time I applied to the shops, mills and factories for work, but was always a little too late. Call again, better luck next time, soon became the expected answer, and as a last resort I went to work on the horse cars, an occupation regarded by some as intermediate between honest employment and the state prison. When I returned east I was out of every thing except a year and a half of experience. And from this I would advise every one who has not a full purse to stay away from California, for they will surely be disappointed.

Going there we met train after train of returning emigrants all cursing the country. We thought they had not caught on just right, and hoped we would be more fortunate, but we were not.

Stay where you are acquainted; but if you must go do not go to San Francisco unless you have the cash; if you have, go; as there is no place where a person can enjoy life more than in San Francisco. Everything that goes to make up the sum of man's enjoyment can be procured there for money. With money I would live in San Francisco; without it I will remain in the Republican valley.

The Apaches Again.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS.

AUSTIN, Tex., June 2.—Adjutant General King is in receipt of information that the Apache Indians, deputed in New Mexico, are gathering in large numbers in the Gaudaloupe mountains, and indications are that they intend to raid into Texas. Much uneasiness is felt on the northwest border, and as soon as practicable four companies of rangers, now distributed along the frontier, will be concentrated and Gen. King, taking command in person, will proceed to the Gaudaloupe mountains and endeavor to prevent the movement into Texas.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE BEE.

CHICAGO, June 2.—A cable dispatch from Rome at midnight, says: Gen. Garibaldi's fatal illness was of short duration. It was occasioned by a long existing asthmatic complaint, which developed suddenly into a sharp attack of bronchitis, which was further increased by the great debility of the patient, and he rapidly succumbed to the attack. News of his critical condition reached different members of his family, residing in Rome and Genoa this morning, and they all immediately started for Capri, but failed to arrive in time to see the general alive, death having taken place some hours previous. The government on learning of his serious illness, sent Dr. Albanese, of Rome to his bedside, but the doctor could offer him no relief. Gen. Garibaldi died when in struggle, but was conscious until near the end.

YOU OFTEN

want just a little smoke—not enough for a pipe or cigar, and at such times nothing answers the purpose so well as a cigarette. But even if it is only to be a little smoke you want it to be a good one.

To secure the BEST and PUREST you should use BLACKWELL'S BULL DURHAM CIGARETTES, which are the result of long experience, careful study and thorough experimenting.

Very many other kinds contain opium, valerian and other poisonous drugs, and are covered with paper made from old rags, etc.

It is these impurities that have made cigarette smoking so injurious that leading physicians and scientific men are frightened at the consequences. Blackwell & Co., are trying the experiment of making an absolutely pure cigarette, using only the finest and purest leaf tobacco that money can buy, and omitting the usual addition of drugs and deleterious flavoring matter, and covering all their cigarettes, with the genuine uninjured imported rice paper, and so far the demand for these cigarettes supports their belief that the smoking public appreciate a good article.

You can't afford to run the risk incurred in smoking other kinds, beside you of course want the BEST. The purity and quality of BLACKWELL'S BULL DURHAM CIGARETTES makes them "a novelty." You can tell the genuine by the trade mark of the BULL on the package.

Ask for BLACKWELL'S BULL DURHAM CIGARETTES, INSIST on having them, and don't take any other. Don't be put off with the claim that "these are just as good" (that is, pay a better profit), but try the genuine and judge for yourself.

BLACKWELL'S BULL DURHAM LONG CUT No. 1 tobacco is pre-eminently the gentleman's tobacco and is the FINEST made.

DURHAM LONG CUT No. 2 is a cheaper tobacco, but is the best 10c LONG CUT and BLACKWELL'S BULL DURHAM GRANULATED—well if you ever smoked a pipe you know that it has no equal in the world.
