MINOR MENTIONS.

Go to Herzman's for big bargains. Sherraden makes photographs. The city council meets next Monday night. Sherraden is the best photographer. Closing out of entire stock at Herzman's. Visitors always welcome at Maurer & Craigs. The outgoing train this afternoon is over the Chicago & Northwestern railway. Joseph Reiter makes suits in the latest styles at 810 Broadway. apri14-4f. Mayne & Co. want all the white corn they can get at the highest market price. Go to Herzman's closing out sale. Charles Thies and Lizzie Whalan, both of Avoca, were granted right-of-way into the state of matrimony. Don't forget to call at the new ice cream parlors of Mrs. J. A. Gray, over 605 Broadway. may22-4f. Herzman is bound to close out. George Blaxinn is to build a new two-story brick store on lower Main street, its dimensions being 22 by 60 feet. Railroad tickets bought and sold. Bushnell, five doors north of Postoffice. Can save you money on tickets. After the engines had completed their work at the Main street fire yesterday they put in a half day filling the cisterns on Broadway. Joseph Roa, of 615 Upper Broadway, Council Bluffs, makes the best better tubes in the west and sells them at the lowest cash price. ap22-4f. Robert Hyde, the young man charged with stealing a violin from a colored musician, was yesterday found guilty and sentenced to ten days in jail. Two disturbers of the peace, A. Wright and Hugh McDonald, were yesterday fined $5 and costs each, and two drunks, John Cummings and Nels Bergman, $3 each. Rev. P. F. Breece will preach at Broadway church to-morrow. Subject at 10:30 a. m., "The Privileges of Stewardship;" at 8 p. m., "Casting out the Bum Devil." Sunday at 11 a. m. The police found five vagrants housed in a car near the Chicago & Rock Island depot yesterday and safely caged them, it being suspected that one or more of them were concerned in some of the thieving done here lately. Two lunatics in charge of an official arrived here Thursday night from Deadwood, and left yesterday for Yankton, where they are to be cared for. One of them was so violent that he was kept shackled all of the time. Sam Morrison got his left hand caught in the cogs on the fire engine yesterday and lost the tip of one finger, which the doctor had to finish off by amputating it at the first joint. Sam's only consolation is that he has so much less to be bothered with the rheumatism. J. M. Phillips' horse and buggy took a little whirl on Broadway Thursday evening. His daughter had just alighted from the buggy, a tug having become unloosed, when the horse became frightened and ran west on Broadway to Bancroft, and from thence home, doing, however, little damage. On Bancroft street, Mr. Tinton, the attorney, had a narrow escape, he having just driven up to the side of the walk, and taken his children out of the buggy, just as the runaway came dashing along. It barely skipped the buggy. I. D. Chamberlain, of THE OMAHA BEE, was in town, looking after the interests of his paper, this week. He is a pleasant and well-informed gentleman. THE BEE is the people's paper. It is taking the place of THE Nonpareil at the Bluffs and through the county, for the reason that the editor of THE Nonpareil is a politician, and a seeker for paltry places, got by lying, intrigue, deceit, bribery, and the most villainous treachery that ever yet caused the devil to blush for shame, while the editor of THE BEE opposes monopoly and corruption in any form and in all parties.—Walnut News.

BRISK BLAZES.

An Early Morning Fire on Main Street Destroys the Bigga House.

Two Adjoining Buildings of Lesser Value are Swept Away.

About 4 o'clock yesterday morning the alarm of fire was tapped out lively, caused by the discovery of flames in a little wooden building on the east side of Main street, just below its junction with Pearl street. The building was occupied by Mr. Lewis as a saloon. The flames were hot and speedily swept away that building, and spread quickly to the Bigga house, standing just north of it, and to a meat market standing south of the saloon. The fire department went to work with a will, but a nozzle which did not fit the hose caused much delay, and gave the flames such headway that they could not be stayed until all three buildings were wrecked.

The hotel was owned by Mr. Bigga, whose name it bore, and was leased to Mr. B. M. Smith. The building was insured for $1,000 and the furniture for $500. Much of the furniture was saved, but the building is a total wreck, and causes a heavy loss to fall upon the owner beyond his insurance. The saloon building and meat market building were owned by John Merger, and were insured for $300 each, about half of the value. The stock and fixtures of Lewis' saloon, where the fire originated, was covered by about $1,200. Some of the contents were saved, including one of the three billiard tables, the two others being burned. The meat market was that of Schull & Fox, who had no insurance. The fire is supposed to have originated from a kerosene lamp in Lewis' saloon. The speed with which the flames did their work caused the escape of sleeping guests at the Bigga house to be lively and in several instances ludicrous, and the intensity and brightness of the blaze made the scene an exciting one, but brief.

The following committee on legislation was appointed: Dr. Guilbert, of Dubuque; Dr. Dickinson, of Des Moines; and Dr. Stillman, of Council Bluffs.

The following were named as the chairmen of the several bureaus for the coming year: Medical Education—Dr. Banton, Waterloo. Eye and Ear—Dr. S. E. Nixon, Burlington. Obstetrics, etc.—Dr. E. A. Guilbert, Dubuque. Clinical Experience—Dr. F. B. House, Keats. Surgery—Dr. P. J. Montgomery, Council Bluffs. Medical Electricity—Dr. J. E. King, Eldora. Materia Medica—Dr. J. W. Williams, Marshalltown.

Some other business matters of minor interest to the public were transacted, after which adjournment was taken to meet next year in Dubuque.

The session thus proved one of great success. Nineteen new members have been added, making the present enrollment between 130 and 140. The association was organized first in 1862, but the war times caused an interruption, and it was reorganized in 1870, since which time there has been a steady growth in numbers and in interest.

Mr. John L. has, 61 Degrav street, S. Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: For quite a long time I have been suffering from rheumatic pain, which increased in spite of all remedies that I tried. Having heard very high praise of St. Jacobs Oil, I concluded to try it. My left arm being too painful to endure a severe rubbing, I took a piece of flannel, soaked it with the St. Jacobs Oil and put it around my arm as tightly as I could bear it. After the first night of this trial, I commenced to experience relief, and after two days all pain vanished, leaving a permanent cure.

After the first night of this trial, I commenced to experience relief, and after two days all pain vanished, leaving a permanent cure.

Mr. John L. has, 61 Degrav street, S. Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: For quite a long time I have been suffering from rheumatic pain, which increased in spite of all remedies that I tried. Having heard very high praise of St. Jacobs Oil, I concluded to try it. My left arm being too painful to endure a severe rubbing, I took a piece of flannel, soaked it with the St. Jacobs Oil and put it around my arm as tightly as I could bear it. After the first night of this trial, I commenced to experience relief, and after two days all pain vanished, leaving a permanent cure.
