Weather Report.

(The following observations are taken at the same moment of time at all the stations named.)

Table with columns: STATIONS, Barometer, Thermometer, Direction of Wind, Force of Wind, State of Weather.

River 15 feet 9 inches below high water mark at Omaha and 6 feet 6 inches at Yankton.

LOCAL BEVITIES.

Yesterday was dull as only Sunday can be. The county board of equalization meets today. The weather is much cooler yesterday, with a brisk breeze. The cases of the T. & N. at depot demands are continued to the 20th inst. The river is up, the channel is deep and the wind blows steady and strong. Two extra trains with thirty-two cars of teapass through the city yesterday. The North Star society picnic held at Prio's Lake yesterday, and had a delightful time. Another case of partial sunstroke occurred Saturday, a Papillion lady who had driven into the city being the victim. An excursion party to Salt Lake, from Illinois, will pass through Omaha about the 26th of July. It will number some 150 persons. The Star base ball club has been reorganized and played a picked nine yesterday on the river bottom, just north of the U. P. bridge. The adjourned meeting of the Omaha board of trade will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. All members going on the Montana excursion should be present. The Kansas Pacific pay car No. 5, in charge of Paymaster Archie Powell, went out attached to the K. C. train last evening to pay off the boys on that division of the U. P. The Pleasant Hours club gave a party Saturday evening in honor of A. E. Touzalin. About seventy persons were present and a fine time was had. The committee was Messrs. A. E. Touzalin, J. S. Collins, Major Furey and C. E. Squires. The Eighteenth street M. E. church folks have made arrangements with the B. & M. railroad for a picnic excursion to Flatmouth on the Fourth of July. They have chartered a special train, and expect that between three and four hundred persons will go on the excursion. There will be a women's suffrage meeting at the Unitarian church this evening, to be addressed by E. M. Correll, president of the N. W. S. A.; Mrs. Belle G. Bledsoe, secretary; Miss Rachel T. Foster, of Philadelphia and W. M. Wooster of Michigan. The incoming Rock Island train yesterday was late, delaying the departure of U. P. train No. 3 about thirty minutes. The cyclone caused the delay and a number of the passengers told harrowing stories of what they saw on the route. The two college buildings at Genesee were burning as the train passed through. In the district court Saturday, John Powers indicted for robbery, Carr Kendall for grand larceny; Thomas Donahue for housebreaking, and Michael O'Brien for grand larceny, were arraigned. All pleaded not guilty except the boy O'Brien. The criminal calendar will be taken up in the district court today. First on the docket is the trial of Koster on the indictment for the murder of Hamner. Isaac Brown, a second hand dealer on Douglas street, was arrested Saturday night for disturbing the peace. It seems that he undertook to resent a fancied insult to his wife, by attacking Mrs. Goldsman, the wife of a rival dealer. Mrs. G.

ST. BARNABAS SCHOOL

The Exercises at the Close of the School Year.

Prizes and Medals Awarded to the Most Proficient Pupils.

Friday afternoon the St. Barnabas parish school celebrated the close of the school year by its usual programme of exercises and conferring the medals and prizes. There was a good attendance of parents and friends of the pupils, and each number of the excellent programme was well rendered. The programme was as follows: Chorus—"Mowing, Mill May"; School Recitation—"Weighing the Baby"; Mary P. Popperton; Recitation—"Tiny Tittens"; Montie Kennard; Reading—"Len"; Alise Donahue; Chorus—"Katy Did"; School Recitation—"Long Time Ago"; Herman Komars; Reading—"An April Girl"; Minnie Elwell; Reading—"Which Shall It Be"; Recitation—"Who Sets the Fashion"; Nat Field; Song—"Liquid Genes"; Belle Gwinner; Recitation—"Where Did You Come From?"; Sarah Colman; Recitation—"Reply of Fabricus to King Pyrrhus"; Chas. Labagh; Dialogue—"Mvrick Rheem, Will White and Bessie Donahue"; Chorus—"Farmers' Song"; Essay—"Education"; Earl Gaunett; Essay—"Integrity of Character"; Will Br; The report of John Williams, conferred the medals and prizes as follows: Prize for Writing—Mary Moore. Prize for Catechism—Mary Popperton. Prize for Music—Belle Gwinner. First Prize for Drawing—Earl Gaunett.

Second Prize for Drawing—Mary Moore. Primary Department—Louise Woodman Medal for deportment, Mary Moore; Rector's Medal for deportment and scholarship, Sarah Colman. Advanced Department—Mead Corburo for scholarship and deportment, Will Brown; Rector's Medal for deportment, Mertie Hall.

Bishop Clarkson Medal for Christian courtesy, Charles Kountze. The number of pupils during the year have been about 70, which is an average attendance of 55. The next school year begins September 4. Miss Garstine, one of the instructors, leaves the school this term and her place will be filled by a teacher to be secured by the rector, Rev. Mr. Williams, while east. Miss Silver, of the primary department, remains with the school.

Short Breasts. O. Bortle, Manchester, N. Y., was troubled with asthma for eleven years. Had been obliged to sit up sometimes ten or twelve nights in succession. Found immediate relief from Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and is now entirely cured. [13-11v

HANDS UP. A Highwayman Laid Low by a Puckey Citizen—An Order from the 3-7-77.

Last Thursday night about 12 o'clock, as Mr. Fred M. Snow was coming home from a party he had been attending in North Omaha, he was accosted on Tenth street, near the bridge, by a rough-looking individual, who demanded fifty cents, adding that if he would not give it to him, he would take it from him. Mr. Snow at once put his hands on his hip pocket and pulled out his revolver, and the man at the same time making a grab for him. Mr. Snow hauled back and struck the fellow square in the face, knocking him down the bank. Mr. Snow then made tracks for home, and the next morning he went around to see if he could see anything of the would-be thief, but none of his remains were visible to the naked eye. In view of the many burglaries, robberies, and highway attacks like the above, the following, which was seen pasted up in front of the desk of the city judge in the police court room Saturday, was deemed extremely appropriate, and the reporter has taken a copy of it that it may be read by as many as possible, and the news extensively circulated throughout the city. It was in the shape of a large poster, and the warning printed in immense black letters, reads as follows: 3-7-77. WARNING. To burglars, thieves, bummers tramps and all able bodied men and boys soliciting aid from door to door. You are hereby ordered to leave this city and vicinity without further notice or take the consequences. Families throughout the city and vicinity are requested to refuse alms to any able bodied tramps who may apply to them for the same. By order of the executive committee. 3-7-77. This attracted the attention of several of the prisoners in police court Saturday, and will probably have a salutary effect upon some of them, and it is hoped it will be long standing and have its effect upon the numerous tramps and vagabonds who are to be hauled within the next ten days and two weeks, from which they will probably learn a lesson from it to shake the dust from Omaha off their feet. Long live the 3-7-77.

JENNIE AND THE JEWELS. Both of Which Were Carried Off by an Enterprising Collector. A few days ago a little commotion was created in a ladies boarding house in close proximity to this office by the sudden disappearance of a charming young boarder named Jennie Leo. It appears that the damsel in question became enamored of a certain lively descendant of the Israelites and he persuaded her to borrow some jewelry of the other lady boarders, and on Thursday the young couple shipped to the very far west, forgetting in their hasty departure to return the borrowed jewels. The exact value of the jewels is not known, but they are estimated at from $450 to $500. The lady was a most agreeable fellow boarder, and general regret is expressed at her unexpected and sudden departure.

The Grand Army. The national encampment of the grand army of the republic, assembled at Baltimore on Wednesday, June 21st. Gen. Stimson, department commander of Colorado, accompanied by a number of delegates from Colorado, Utah and California, passed through the city Saturday evening enroute to the meeting.

The Nebraska delegates to the National Encampment are F. E. Brown, B. P. Cook, Paul Vandervoort, J. O. West, H. G. Townsend, S. J. Alexander, L. W. Osborne, J. C. Bonnell, J. S. Miller, J. H. Calkins and S. B. Jones. The most of these delegates have already gone, and Mr. J. O. West, of Grand Island, left last evening, going by the C. B. & Q. and P., F. W. & G. Denver will try to secure the next national encampment.

AN OVATION. Which was Tendered Mrs. Clark at Boyd's Last Night. Last evening Boyd's opera house was crowded with a large and fashionable audience, which had gathered together to hear Mrs. Clark's singing, and also to show her that they would give her a hearty reception. She sang two solos, "The Better Land" and "The Evening Prayer." Mrs. Clark has two great qualifications which insure for her a brilliant success, a beautiful voice and a thorough knowledge of vocal music. It must be very gratifying to her to receive such a splendid ovation on her return to the Gate City.

During the evening Mr. Hoybrook and Mrs. Faunett gave a very fine duet, in which the choir took part, which had a very pleasing effect. Rev. Dr. Stelling preached a very stirring sermon from the 55th chapter of Isaiah and the 2d verse. "Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread?"

DIED. SELIE JOHNSTON—At 2 o'clock p. m. June 17th, Selie Johnston, infant daughter of John and Margaret Park, Age 11 months and 15 days. Burial at 3 o'clock p. m., June 18th, from residence at head of St. Mary's avenue.

THE ALLEN PRINTING CO.

New Feature in the Printing and Publishing Business.

Which is in Keeping with the Growth and Improvement of Omaha and Nebraska.

The Mortimer printing establishment was sold last week to W. C. B. Allen, editor and proprietor of "Rural Nebraska—The American Cattle Journal"—of this city. The office has been thoroughly refitted and remodelled into a first-class job printing and publishing house. Mr. Allen is well known throughout the west, having been for nearly five years secretary of the Board of Trade, and has been connected with various business enterprises, during that time aside from the active management of the "Journal." As the live stock interest of the west is fast becoming an important feature, this branch of business has made it necessary to establish in Omaha, in connection with this paper, an office where this class of work can be done under his immediate supervision. A specialty will be made of live stock cuts and illustrations for catalogues and pamphlet work which has heretofore been sent to eastern cities. The establishment will be known as the "Allen Printing Company," and will be under the management of Mr. H. S. Smith, who has been connected with the printing and publishing business in Omaha for the past three years, and has a large and valuable acquaintance among the business men of Omaha and throughout the state. With enlarged facilities, new type and material, the office is well equipped for this character of business. Particular attention will be given to commercial work and first-class job printing of all kinds, together with lithographing and engraving. The "Allen Printing Company" is located at Nos. 218 and 220, 14th street, between Farnam and Douglas, and occupies two floors, 4x6 foot each, with elevator and other conveniences.

LIVELY LABORERS. They Have a Splendid Picnic in Hancock's Park. The picnic which was gotten up by the Omaha Laborer's Protective Union proved a grand success, both financially and socially. At an early hour the wagons began unloading their freight of pleasure seekers and before noon Hancock's park contained nearly three thousand picnickers. Every arrangement that could be made to conduce to the comfort of the visitors, and two excellent bands were specially engaged. Mr. Siefert, the well known caterer, supplied the refreshments, which were much appreciated. The day was passed in dancing, interspersed with a few games. There was a great preponderance of the fair sex, which enhanced the pleasure of the affair. Although there was such a vast concourse of people, everything was so well managed that nothing occurred to in any way mar the pleasantness of the picnic. Before purchasing elsewhere, you are invited to examine A. M. Clark's immense stock of wall paper, window shades, window curtains, poles, fine lampshades, and room molding of all the latest shades, patterns and styles, also a large stock of paints, oils and brushes, which offer at lowest cash prices. A. M. CLARK, m13-at-wen-14 105 15th street.

Ask Us Something Easy. OMAHA, June 17. To the Editor of the Bee: Can I, through the columns of your paper, get definite knowledge of the Nebraska Sunday liquor law? I happened to be out walking last Sunday in the vicinity of Bauman's brewery, in the alley-way, and noticed that beer was being sold very freely to visitors. Now as I am not acquainted with the Sunday laws of Nebraska, especially the Sunday law for city regulation, I humbly ask some one to please explain the same. And now Mr. Editor, don't you think, as well as the many moral readers, that the selling of beer and intoxicating drinks ought to be prohibited on at least one day out of the seven, and that liquor dealers ought to have some respect for God, who has told us again and again in different ways that the Sabbath must be used as a day of rest from all worldly employment and recreation? Being a stranger in town, I ask you to please publish this. I remain, waiting for KNOWLEDGE.

Caution. J. Hochstrasser and the Brunswick and Balke billiard table company send no agents, repairers or peddlers out through the state, and any one who travels with such pretensions is a fraud, and persons will do well to let him alone. Any parties wishing anything done in this line should send direct to Brunswick and Balke Co., 509 South Tenth street, or to J. Hochstrasser agent. Satisfaction guaranteed. may 22-1m

BASE BALL.

The Union Pacific Nine Defeats the Keystone, of Columbus.

A Good Game Between the Disciples of the Art Preservative.

Much interest was felt in the game announced to take place at the new grounds of the Athletic association on Saturday, between the Union Pacific nine and the Keystone's, of Columbus. The latter being the champions of interior Nebraska, it was expected that the game would be a close one, and some even trembled for the laurels of the railroad boys. The day was as fine as one as could have been asked and the attendance was unexpectedly large. This was largely due to the desire to see the new grounds inaugurated, and they certainly are greatly to be admired, being well and conveniently fitted up and in good shape for the first game. The new pitcher of the U. P. nine, Mr. Durr, proved a daisy and the entire club played well, while it was evident after the first inning that the Columbus boys were doomed to defeat. The entire nine innings were played, however, with the following result:

Table with columns: THE SCORE, UNION PACIFIC, KEYSTONE.

THE PRINTER'S GAME. Another very interesting game was played between a nine from The Bee office and one from the Western Newspaper Union, which resulted as follows:

Table with columns: NEWSPAPER UNION, BEE NINE.

THE GERMAN THEATRE. Brilliant Performances at the Summer Garden Theatre Last Evening.

Notwithstanding the numerous attractions in the way of picnics, special church services, &c., last evening the German summer theatre was crowded to overflowing to witness the artistic performances of Miss Emily Ahl-Puls and Mr. Edward Schmitz. There were two plays represented, "The White Otello" and "Something Behind the Stone." In the first piece Mr. Schmitz, in the character of Molir Renier, evoked bursts of laughter, and Miss Buchman as Clarinda was too charming for anything. Mr. Molchin as Zahrt was also very good, and Miss Thieszen as the cook was much applauded. In the other piece Mr. Schmitz sustained the role of Michel Quantner, an old country farmer, which he burlesqued in his usual happy style. Mr. Molchin played Lewis his undutiful son, who falls in love with and marries the hired girl Nandel Almerin, personated by Miss Ahl-Puls. Lord Siritz was allotted to Mr. Otto Puls, who did the "fa di da" as to the manner born, and received enthusiastic applause. During the evening Miss Ahl-Puls sang some lively German songs, which were received with genuine bursts of applause. She has a lovely voice and knows how to use it with great effect. The Musical Union orchestra, under the able direction of Prof. Steinhauer, furnished some excellent music.
