several of the prisoners in police court Saturday, and will probably have a salutary effect upon some of them, and it is hoped it will be left standing and have its effect upon the numerous tramps and vagabonds who are to be hauled within the next ten feet. Long live the 3-7-77.

JENNIE AND THE JEWELS. Both of Which Were Carried Off by an Enterprising Collector.

A few days ago a little commotion vas created in a ladies boarding house in close proximity to this office by the sudden disappearance of a charming young boarder named Jennie Leo. It appears that the damsel in question became enamored of a certain lively descendant of the Israelites and he persuaded her to borrow some iewelry of the other lady boarders. and on Thursday the young couple skipped to the very far west, forgetting in their hasty departure to return the borrowed jewels. The exact value of the jewels is not known, but they are esumated at from $450 to $500. The lady was a most agreeable fello " boarder, and general regret is expressed at her unexpected and sudden departure.

The picnic which was gotten up by the Omaha Laborer's Protective Union proved a grand success, both financially and socially. At an early hour the wagons began unloading their freight of pleasure seekers and before noon Hascall's park contained nearly three thousand picnickers. Every arrangement that could be made to conduce to the comfort of the visitors, and two excellent bands were specially engaged. Mr. Siefan, the well known caterer, supplied the refreshments, which were much appreciated. The day was passed in dancing, interspersed with a few games. These was a great preponderance of the fair sex, which enhanced the pleasure of the affair.

Although there was such a vast concourse of people, everything was so well managed that nothing occurred to in any way mar the pleas-antness of the picnic.

OMAHA, June 17.

Can I, through the columns of your paper, get definite knowledge of the Nebraska Sunday liquor law? I happened to be out walking last Sunday in the vicinity of Bauman's brewery, in the alley-way, and noticed that beer was being sold very freely to visitors. Now as I am not acquainted with the Sunday laws of Nebraska, especially the Sunday law for city regulation. I humbly ask some one to please explain the same. Brilliant Performances at the Summer Garden Theatre Last

Notwithstanding the numerous attractions in the way of picnics, special church services, &c , last evening the German summer heatre was crowded to overflowing to witness the artistic performances of Miss Emily Ahl-Puls and Mr. Edward Schmitz. There were two plays represented, "The White Othello" and "Something Behind the Stove." In the first piece Mr. Schmitz, in the character of Mohr Rentier, evoked bursts of laughter, and Miss Buschman as Clarinda was too charming for any-
