Whisky Crooked Usurps the Place of Whisky Straight and License.

Council Bluffs Consales Herself by Getting at Omaha Breweries.

The Anti's Overwhelmed. Special Dispatch to THE BEE.

Des Moines, June 27.—Of over four hundred towns in the state heard from a ten o'clock less than thirty give majorities against the amendment, aggregating less than 1200. Wapello county's majority against the amendment is estimated at 800. The city of Des Moines gives 1300 majority for the amendment. The county will give nearly 2,000. Present indications are that the state will give 30,000 majority. The anti prohibitionists admit an overwhelming defeat.

Another Account. Voting on the amendments prohibiting the sale of liquors progressed quietly, a full vote being polled. At Sioux City two bands of music played at the polls and a procession of children paraded the streets. Business was at a stand still. Great interest was manifested.

Hope for the Anti's. Des Moines, Ia., June 27.—Midnight returns from various parts of the state show nothing as yet definite as to the result of the election. Both sides polled a full vote. The country districts generally went overwhelmingly in favor of the amendment, while the larger towns may be counted on nearly, if not quite, indicate the influence of this vote.

Council Bluffs. For the amendment, 733; against, 1,540; majority against, 807. Total vote cast, 2,273.

Harlan. Harlan township, Shelby county, cast 598 votes for the amendment, 108 against. The county will vote a majority.

The Freight Handlers Strike. JERSEY CITY, June 27.—The freight handlers on a strike number 1,200, all united and orderly. Nothing new in situation. The truckmen of Matt, Baasen & Wiechers, and Havemeyer & Co., numbering 51, struck for $13 instead of $12 per week, and for overtime. Coal trimmers of Morris canal between Jersey City and Newark, to the number of 200, have joined the freight handlers. CAPITAL NOTES. National Associated Press. A FISH STORY.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The president and party caught fifty bass Saturday and Monday at Point of Rocks. The president used a fly. Senator Vest caught nearly as many with bait. The president spent Sunday at World's park reading magazines. He returned much tanned.

THE ASSASSIN. John Guitau laid all facts in his possession as to his brother's insanity before the president this afternoon, the president listening entirely. He made no request, but merely stated that he thought he would be derelict in duty if he did not present all the facts he knew. The president said all should be considered. John says he fully expects the execution to take place Friday. He has not seen his brother yet. He denies Mrs. Scoville is insane. He says she is overwrought. The family will not take charge of Guitau's remains, preferring that the government should protect them from body-snatchers.

Guitau sent for Rev. Mr. Hicks this evening, notwithstanding he had seen him twice to-day. Hicks said he seemed to want nothing except some one to talk to. He is growing more nervous.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—Guitau has prepared a characteristic speech to be delivered from the gallows, with manifold copy for the press. He is not sorry he shot Garfield as he was inspired to do it. He expects God to save him yet by a miracle. He has no hope of human help, and expects his future life to be happy. Hicks thinks Guitau perfectly sane.

Pennsylvania Democrats. National Associated Press. HARRISBURG, Pa., June 27, midnight.—The indications regarding the democratic state convention to-morrow are that it will be one of the largest conventions that has been held in the state for years. Nothing definite can be said as to the probable course of the convention. Among those most prominently mentioned for the head of the ticket are Paterson, Hopkins, Coxe, Wolvorton, Irwin, Lewis. The race for lieutenant governor is closely followed by Chauncey, Black and York. The convention will meet at 10 o'clock. No one is silly enough to imagine that the business will be completed before late Thursday. That the convention will be lively is an assured fact. Clubs from Allentown and Philadelphia arrived to-night. The hotels are overcrowded.

Calling Davitt a Traitor. National Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 27.—A Herald special says O'Connor Power was interviewed about Davitt's statement. Power says Davitt is a coward and the real traitor of the Irish cause. After attempting to undermine Parnell, he is now trying to distract attention from his treason by attacking others and posing as the apostle of humanity, being in reality an agent of disunion, having one cause to-day, and another to-morrow.

THE CROPS. That were not injured by the hail are looking better than ever before. No county ever had a grander prospect for corn crop. The county never was in so good a financial condition. The good crops of last year, with the high prices, has set most of our farmers up out of the reach of those who loan money at 3 per cent a month, and one of our M. D.'s was heard to say that for a year it had been distressingly healthy in Polk county. Hence you

DODGE COUNTY. Correspondence of THE BEE.

FREMONT, Neb., June 26.—So far this part of the state has escaped violent and destructive storms. Crops promise abundance. The small grain acreage is large and prospects splendid. Corn is coming out in good shape. The acreage is large, and a vast crop is expected.

Prairie breaking is the rage this season. Never before in one season has our county had so much of its native sod turned. This will give a vastly greater acreage of farm land in the future.

Fremont is still on the boom. All kinds of improvements are very active. Building materials, especially brick, is scarce. Laborers find ready and steady work at good wages.

No railroad excitement, at present, was well off in that line, but could stand one or two more eastern connections.

POLITICAL. The political kettle is beginning to simmer, puppet agents are visible in all parts of our county. Dodge county expects congressmen. Dodge county must have governor. Dodge county has the state treasury—proposed, and without doubt prominent Dodge candidates for other state or national offices will appear in the political arena before the contest ends.

Hon. J. E. Burns, formerly and principally from California, but for the present state senator, father of the congressional district bill, and general host of the New York hotel, is to make a leap for Val's shoes, missing them he is sure to take charge of our state exchequer at Lincoln. That is pretty good for Dodge county generally, but Burns is especially. How does it suit the state? But no matter as to that Dodge county (Burns) first, Nebraska afterwards.

Dorsey discovered Burns, created him, made him senator, and now must take a back seat. This is an inspiration incubated by two hours' sitting on one of the New York hotel chairs in presence of the imaginative host.

Our next engagement is for next Saturday noon, at same place and circumstances, when the brassy pillars of our soil congregate for their noonday meal. We will bend every energy to be present and post your readers.

An anti-monopoly organization was formed in our city last Saturday evening, with J. E. Frick president and C. E. Man secretary. A thorough working organization is likely to be developed soon in this city and county which is in a fair way of working great change by doing much good in political matters. QUIT.

POLK COUNTY. Correspondence of THE BEE.

OSCEOLA, June 26.—The Sunday morning storm is the subject of general conversation on our streets to-day. At 5 o'clock the storm first made its appearance approaching directly from the west. The main body of the cloud was of blackish green skirted and fringed with purple and white, and while it was awfully grand in its appearance, it at once impressed the beholder with the fact that the cellar was the safest place about the house. However, before the cloud reached town it parted, going north and south of it. In a moment the hail was upon us, and the hail was large hail had begun falling, only a few however fell in Osceola, doing but little damage. Some were picked up which measured 7 1/2 inches in circumference. Two miles north of Osceola the hail destroyed all vegetation in its course, which was about half a mile in width. Swinging to the south it passed west of Shelby in this county, and grew more terrific as it advanced, killing chickens, hogs and cattle that were unprotected. In the southeastern part of the county hail stones as large as a pint cup fell, and in several instances went through shingle roofed dwellings.

South of Osceola the storm entirely demolished the loral hall in the fair grounds, but done little other damage. We hear that in the western part of the county, near the Platte river, the hail was even worse in its destruction of grain. But little wind accompanied the cloud and no dwellings were destroyed that we have heard of, the greatest loss to dwellings being window lights. As many as sixty are reported having been broken from one house.

THE CROPS. That were not injured by the hail are looking better than ever before. No county ever had a grander prospect for corn crop. The county never was in so good a financial condition. The good crops of last year, with the high prices, has set most of our farmers up out of the reach of those who loan money at 3 per cent a month, and one of our M. D.'s was heard to say that for a year it had been distressingly healthy in Polk county. Hence you see, friendly BEE, we are growing healthy, wealthy and wise. Contrary to our expectations, the commissioners have accepted. THE NEW COUNTY NOTES.

The officers have moved in, and Polk county has the reputation of having the best court house in the district. And it is paid for.

Quite a lobby was created last week at the session of the board of county commissioners while qualifying the assessments. The Osceola lobby was composed of as not proper, listing their property for assessment. It was not claimed that they had failed to list any part or all of their property, but in deducting their deposits. They deducted from the total amount of assessments instead of from their bills receivable as it is claimed. The statute demands. The difference in the grand total is said to be $18,000. After considering the matter carefully, the board decided to leave the assessments as originally made. There is a section of law that needs the attention of our law makers. It should not be left in a doubtful condition as to whether it meant what it says or something else.

PLATTING. are beginning to summer and soon will be boiling, according to the custom of past years. This county is to furnish the senator for Butler and Polk counties. Several prominent lawyers are spoken of. The old plan of caucus balloting will, however, hardly win this year, as the alliance men are determined to be represented in both branches of the legislature at the coming session. And when the issues are fully before the people there will such music in the air as was never heard in Polk county politics before.

LEON. SAUNDERS COUNTY. Correspondence of THE BEE.

WAHOO, June 26.—The storm of yesterday morning seems to have taken a direct easterly course from Central City, touching Osceola, Rising City, David City, Brainard, Wahoo, and down to Omaha, its destructive part being about from five to twelve miles wide. Corn will vary largely in some places it seems to be left out root and stalk. The small grains are entirely destroyed in the center of the storm, and farmers have begun to plow up the fields. Wheat and rye look as though the cattle had chewed on the stalks and dropped them before swallowing. Half fell all along the way, somewhat regular, and in places the stalks were cut in two. Sometimes as high as a man's two fists. Reliable men tell of measuring some three, four, and even seven inches long. They broke through the sides of houses, into the rooms, and crested through the roofs of houses, and took off large limbs of trees. The bark is all off from the west side of some groves of timber. At Rising City a large log broken by the falling of a chimney. A house was moved 102 feet up a side hill, and the family were not disturbed much, being in bed. At David City the flex house was blown on to the track. Barker's house was partly blown away, the kitchen part being scattered into the fields, corn cobs destroyed and houses moved. Six miles southeast the house of Peter Adreana was blown down, and two children killed, and himself and wife not expected to live. North of Wahoo one or two were killed. At Wahoo houses were blown down, and fronts and much property destroyed. Northwest of Wahoo the new church was blown to atoms. BUCKEYE.

OAKLAND ITEMS. Correspondence of THE BEE.

OAKLAND, Iowa, June 26.—This town has been visited by heavy showers and storms, but no damage was done by wind. Fields have been badly flooded, the lowlands are inundated and people say they never witnessed such heavy rain fall before. Lightning struck the house of L. B. Shepard, and the bolt knocked Miss Lotie, only daughter, to the floor, and stunned others. None are fatally hurt.

A. L. McElvain, while working on a small building this forenoon fell to the ground and was picked up unconscious. Dr. Stewart was summoned and pronounced it a stroke of apoplexy. He is an old man and at this hour no one can tell whether he will survive.

Corn is growing very fast and looks fine. Mr. Toothaker, of the firm of Toothaker & Folkum, our noted druggist, has just returned from a trip eastward, with his better half, a new partner in the firm. THE BEE finds a warm friend in the above named reader.

Morton & Bryant are still doing a good business, guided by the assistance of THE BEE. S. S. Rust is still buying corn and says he likes THE BEE. JINGO.

ENGLAND AND EGYPT. LONDON, June 27.—Despite the delay in the house of commons to-day of any intended biligerent movements on the part of England, it is reported this evening that the government has increased a note to the powers asking their consent for the landing of a British force to protect the Suez canal. Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood has received orders to hold himself in readiness to proceed to Alexandria. A simultaneous movement of troops from India westward is also contemplated.

THE IMPRESSION PREVAILS in army circles that the present military activity is a prelude of a strong advance movement of England with a view to protection of British interests at all hazards. A special from Alexandria indicates a continually increasing state of excitement there.

EXPECTATION OF WAR is great, and troops under Arabi Bey are making hasty preparations with a view to repelling British assault by either sea or land. Attempts are being made to render the harbors impregnable by use of torpedoes. During the past two weeks Chatham dock yards have been unusually busy, and a very large force of mechanics and smiths have been employed. It is an open secret that all necessary preparations in navy matters have been ordered with a view to pending complications in the east.
