List of the Teachers for the Incoming Year.

The Enrollment of Scholars Greatly Increased.

Who the Newly Elected Superintendent Is.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Education last evening, there were present Messrs. Anderson, Conroy, Ferguson, Long, McShane and Points.

Mr. McShane moved to dispense with the reading of the minutes. Carried.

The city treasurer reported a balance on hand in the treasury of $39,177.25.

J. P. Smith called the attention of the board to a patent lightning conductor. Referred.

The committee on claims made a report on several bills, which was adopted, and the secretary and president were authorized to draw warrants.

The same committee reported on the amount due the men employed in grading the high school grounds. Disposed of as above.

The committee on teachers and text books reported the following names of assistant teachers and principals recommended for the ensuing year:

HIGH SCHOOL. Chas. D. Hine, principal. Lena L. Hill, assistant.

CENTRAL SCHOOL. Chas. D. Hine, principal. Nelson Learned, assistant.

NORTH SCHOOL. J. M. K. B. user, principal. Emma Wilbur, Mary G. Van Kuren.

WEST STREET SCHOOL. A. M. Williams, principal. Dora P. Clay, Elizabeth J. Schaller.

EAST SCHOOL. Anna P. Foster, principal. Fannie B. Egan, Anna F. Wilson.

SOUTH SCHOOL. Hettie L. Standard, principal. Frank M. Briggs, Anna E. Truland.

The board next proceeded to ballot for the election of superintendent, the first ballot resulting:

FIRST BALLOT. Geo. B. Lane... 3. E. A. Fitzpatrick... 2. Black... 1. No election.

SECOND BALLOT. Lane... 3. Fitzpatrick... 3. THIRD BALLOT. Lane... 3. Fitzpatrick... 3. FOURTH BALLOT. Fitzpatrick... 3. Lane... 2.

Mr. Lane said that unless he had the support of the board he did not desire to continue in his work. He had worked hard and thought he had elevated the schools. He thought this a good place, and yet, had no wish to enter for such a place, and take it without the support of the board. He had refused a fine offer and felt that this was a cut such as he had never received before.

Omaha public schools is at present superintendent of the Lawrence public schools, which position he has filled for several years, while he has gained a constantly increased vote in the school board and a steady raise of salary. He was an applicant for this position two years ago, but was defeated by Superintendent Lane at that time, and also in last year's contest. He is a young, married man, and is said to be the best superintendent west of the Mississippi river.

THE POOR YE HAVE ALWAYS WITH YOU.

Report of City Mission Work for Third Quarter, 1882, by Mrs. H. B. Fuller.

In the last two months I have worked about seven hours a day and distributed some ninety articles of clothing, there having been less call for this than usual. Mrs. Fry.

AN OLD LADY several times referred to, who, while in the county house, heard from a son whom she had lost during the war and supposed to be dead, and went to him, he since the last report gone to his final home. From a long life of trial and suffering she has passed to an endless life, where "there is no more sorrow and all tears are wiped away from every eye." Several months ago.

A LITTLE BOY who was spoken of, who had been for years a sufferer from scrofula, and living in a home miserably poor—a mere apology for a shelter. After a few months of comparative freedom from pain, he is again suffering terribly. He is now nine years old, has lain in bed nearly all the time for three years. It is sad to hear him say in his pathetic, weary way, "Oh! I wish God would make me well." On one of his best days I asked him if his limbs pained him any. "Oh, yes, they ache some always, and sometimes."

As he lay there a year ago he would look over and over the few pictures which had been given him, and know by heart the stories he had heard read. Can some of the children burdened with toys, which are always in mother's way, divide with him? And have they some pennies to spend for fruit or other dainties for this little one, so shut in from all the sports of childhood, and deprived of all the luxuries and many of the comforts which are around them? In May I took

A NICE LITTLE GIRL of two years old to a home beyond Columbus. We hope the home will be made brighter and better by the girl's presence, as she will be made better by its fostering love and care, and so she may give as well as receive a blessing.

A LADY DYING in the hospital left an interesting little daughter of eleven years, who has been sent to a good home in Illinois. In a chaotic down on the river boat a mother died a few weeks ago—a baby of five months having gone just before. I found the father sick, with no care but that of a little boy, seven years old, for whom he

WISHES TO FIND A HOME. The father is an intelligent man, and the boy a bright, nice child, where there is a home open for him. There are prisons ready to receive him, and a very brief training in our streets and saloons will fit him for them. Who bids for the child? Poverty and woe, crime and

ETERNAL DEATH are bidding. Is there not some Christian home—some home perhaps where childish voices have been hushed, and the light is gone out, which can bid against these in the name of

THE MASTER. Is he not saying to some father and mother, "Take this child away, and nurse it for me and I will give you wages?" Who bids for the child? We wait for the bid.

TO FARMERS OF NEBRASKA.—Thirty thousand choice fence (hardwood, set on foot) posts cheap. Ex-Mayor Vaughn, Council Bluffs, Iowa. je29-31.

Where are the dry goods clerks with the early closing movement, that they do not protest against certain houses breaking faith and keeping open every evening during the warmest weather we have in the year? Clerks, as a rule, find it very difficult to stand it during the hot summer days, but to work in a store which is heated by gas these warm nights until 9 p. m. seems out of all reason. No other city with the same population as Bombing the Irish. National Associated Press.

LONDON, July 3.—The scenes in the house of commons to-day were so many counterparts of the latter exhibitions which have characterized the last few days of debate on the repression bill. The small remnant of the Irish party which the government has been gracious enough not to suspend, stood up manfully but heroically for their constituents and constitutional rights. To-day's session was taken up by a long and acrimonious controversy between the government and Irish members on the justice and constitutionality of the suspension of Parnell and colleagues. The speaker still maintained the validity of the action of the majority, but his remarks were composed of DISRESPECTFUL ASSERTIONS rather than of well considered arguments. He did not strengthen the position of the government in the mind of any unprejudiced listener. The Irish members replied to some of them with considerable energy and force of expression, but all their efforts were unavailing. While the debate was at fever heat the house in a state of intense excitement, Gladstone moved that O'Donnell be suspended for a period of fourteen days. O'Donnell declared the action of the committee of the whole in naming him an infamously base and cowardly act, and was therefore FULLY NAMED. Gladstone's motion aroused the Irish members to a pitch of anger not often witnessed in the house and a harsh ill-natured debate was the only result. The Irish members boldly asserted if the sense of the English beyond the walls of the house of parliament could be obtained it would overwhelmingly sustain O'Donnell in all he had said and done in defense of his right as member of the house.

THE MOTION CARRIED. The efforts put forth in O'Donnell's behalf was futile, and Gladstone's motion was carried by 187 to 31. Gladstone's motion that urgency was required for final stages of the repression bill was carried, 259 to 31.

WAR INEVITABLE. LONDON, July 3.—The mobilization committee has just concluded a very important sitting of several hours at the war office. It was decided to make arrangements for calling out the reserves in view of the urgency of the situation in the east. The shipment of troops to Alexandria and Malta is going on uninterruptedly, and within a week considerably more will be available for duty in Egypt. War is now considered almost inevitable. The impression received here from reports of the conference is that its action is not calculated to allay the prevailing excitement.

AFFAIRS IN EGYPT. ALEXANDRIA, July 3.—Arabi Bey to-day conversed with officers of the army and consulted them regarding the measures. He asked them what their course would be if the sultan sent his troops to Egypt. The majority of the officers answered that they would not fight against the army of the sultan. A proclamation has been issued by the governor of Alexandria, forbidding groups to assemble in the streets at the late of the sultan. All ships in the harbor displayed colors and gave salutes.

BONDS CALLED. A bond call for fifteen million 6's will probably be issued Wednesday. Secretary Folger says the proposed two per cent. issue will materially offset the plans of redemption. Mrs. Scoville left to-night for Chicago.

A SENSATIONAL STORY was all set here this afternoon. Mrs. Christianity, seeing her husband passing the house, rushed out and throwing herself into his arms begged with tears to be forgiven and reinstated as wife. Friends of both deny any such scene, but admit that a brief interview took place on the street. Mr. Christianity denies that the conversation was at all of a tender nature or that there is any intention of reconciliation. Attorneys of both sides say there is nothing in the talk of reconciliation. It seems probable Mrs. Christianity did in some degree give away to emotion, and indicate a desire for reconciliation. Many believe that the result may be a termination of the divorce proceedings.

NEW YORK POLITICIANS here are said to have arranged a state ticket with Secretary Folger for governor and Governor-elect for Brooklyn, for lieutenant governor.

SOME COMMENT WAS CAUSED HERE today by the nomination of John Davis as assistant secretary of state, vice Bancroft Davis. John Davis is a son-in-law of Secretary Frelinghuysen, and was, it will be remembered, talked of as the probable private secretary of President Arthur.

CAPITAL NOTES. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS. THE ASSASSIN'S BRAIN. WASHINGTON, July 3.—The report of the physician who examined Guiteau's brain has been prepared. It bristles with technicalities, which show that the brain was in a normal condition and not diseased. The membranes of the brain were slightly inflamed, but this does not indicate insanity. The report will contain an elaborate account of the brain. But for a disagreement among the doctors as to who should sign the report the latter would have been given to the press Saturday; now it will not be made public before Wednesday, if then. The fight among the doctors as to who should sign is as bitter and disgraceful as the quarrel over the management of Garfield.
