FOREIGN NEWS.

SKOBELIEFF IS DEAD.

MOSCOW, July 7.—General Skobeleff died suddenly in this city at 7 o'clock this morning.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 7.—The consternation caused by the sudden death of Skobeleff is intensified by the tragic suicide of the director of the department of marine this morning.

VIENNA, July 7.—Anti-Jewish outbreaks in Hungary are increasing.

PARIS, July 7.—The French fleet has left Toulon to reinforce the squadron at Alexandria.

FRANCE REFUSES TO JOIN.

LONDON, July 7.—France refuses to join the hostile operations at Alexandria. French opinion disbelieves England will act.

ARABI AND THE NATIONALS.

The Times correspondent, at Alexandria, writes that the Arabi and the Egyptian national party are identical and says suppression of the reign of terror will show that all honest, respectable, wealthy natives oppose Arabi as much as the Europeans, and that the military party is composed of men convicted of fraud, speculation, etc., and that the real national party, composed of patriotic men, is compelled to use Arabi's authority until other authority arrives to maintain order.

ALEXANDRIA, July 7.—The British consulate has been removed outside the harbor; also all Europeans have been removed beyond, leaving the harbor in the sole possession of the fleet.

FORGING THE FIGHT.

ALEXANDRIA, July 7.—The English consul general, speaking of the reply of Ragheb Pasha to Seymour's ultimatum, says it is unsatisfactory. All consuls except the English are to-day endeavoring to induce Ragheb to give a more conciliatory reply.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 7.—The identical note of the conference to the Porte advises the armed intervention of Turkey, limited to three months, and guarantee of future good government and indemnity for losses by massacre in Alexandria, and Abdurrahman Pasha, Turkish prime minister, resigns.

FRANCE AND EGYPT.

PARIS, July 7.—The Voltaire says the French cabinet decided Wednesday that should England remain faithful to the decision of the conference for a joint occupation of Egypt, France would co-operate with her. Should England invite France to co-operate independently, France would decline. Should England attempt to settle the Egyptian question alone, France assuredly would intervene in the interest of Europe.

SEYMOUR DELAYS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 7.—Foreign consuls asked Admiral Seymour to defer bombardment, offering to use friendly offices with the Egyptian government. Seymour advised the consuls to apply to the leaders of the military party, and to prove the loyalty of their protests by stopping the work on the fortifications surrounding Alexandria.

THE SOUTHERN INSURGENTS defeated the Egyptian army, under Jussuf Pasha. Two thousand are killed or missing. Six canoes were taken. The victors, under the false prophet, are marching on Sinaar.

THE REFLECTION BILL. In the house of commons this evening, the secretary for Ireland moved an amendment to the repression bill, giving up the right to search domiciles during the night unless secret societies are suspected of holding meetings. The conservatives opposed the amendment. Gladstone threatened to resign unless the amendment was adopted. On a division the government was beaten by 13 votes, amid conservative cheers.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 7.—Chas. Langbehn, immortalized by Dickens in American Notes, was arrested this afternoon for theft the thirtieth time. He has lived forty years out of seventy in the penitentiary. When last released a month ago, philanthropists arranged to provide for him for life. The prisoner says he is bound to steal as long as he lives.

CHICAGO, July 7.—At the Jersey landing near Alton, last night, Edward O'Hare shot John Carroll in the back, fatally wounding him. He then rushed home and fired two shots at his wife, inflicting severe wounds. He was finally overpowered and jailed. Cause, jealousy.

AN OFFICER SHOT DEAD. FARGO, Dakota, July 7.—Policeman Aldeman attempted to enter the house of Mrs. Burke last night in search of an escaped prisoner. Mrs. Burke mistook the officer for a tramp and shot him dead.

BAD MINISTER SHOT. CINCINNATI, July 7.—Rev. M. M. Garry, pastor of the Second Baptist church (colored), was shot and badly wounded while prowling in the yard of Roger Pearson. It is said he had been visiting a woman near the place.

SAVED FROM THE GALLOWES. CINCINNATI, July 7.—W. Belcham, who had been hanged on Friday, had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

AMERICAN STYLE. NEW YORK, July 7.—The Egyptian complications and fears of closing the Suez canal are expected to have the effect of devastating Australian and Asiatic traffic for Europe to the route across this continent, and the Pacific Mail steamship company cable to-day to agents in Australia, China and Japan to advance rates on freight.

A FATAL FALL. WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., July 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bird was thrown from a carriage returning from a funeral to-day, and Mrs. Bird was fatally injured.

AN ARMED GUARD. BOSTON, Mass., July 7.—In addition to the $15,000 claims previously reported, the Globe company has been sued for $200,000 by Alfred Berney, in behalf of the Economic Fuel company, for damages for use of the latter company's patents. A deputy sheriff went to make an attachment under the new claim, and found the Globe company's building guarded by armed men and torpedoes.

THE DUELERS. ATLANTA, Ga., July 7.—Ho well and second have arrived. Lamar has asked a new place be fixed for the duel. Howell has not yet replied.

MORE MORMON RECRUITS. Arrival of Nearly a Thousand Converts—All Anxious to Reach Utah. NEW YORK, July 7.—The steamship Nevada of the Guton line, which arrived from Liverpool yesterday, brought the largest party of Mormon immigrants which has come to this country in a number of years. The party, which is under the charge of Missionary Irvine, numbers 922 persons, including children. Of these 659 are Scandinavians, 2 Hollanders, 34 returning missionaries and 191 natives of Great Britain and Ireland. There are a few others, one of whom came out as a visitor. Among the returning missionaries is Dr. Ormsby, a prominent Mormon. The Mormons send out as missionaries their doctors, lawyers, farmers and mechanics—whoever seems best suited for the work. The converts who arrived yesterday looked well and seemed fully as intelligent as the ordinary immigrants. Some of the returning missionaries were fine looking men. Missionary Irvine said that the members of his party were nearly all provided with funds, although none of them were rich. Most of them were young and in the prime of life, and they were earnest believers in the religion which they had recently embraced. All were anxious to reach Utah as speedily as possible, as it was one of the features of their belief that they should dwell together. The number of males and females were about equal. Nearly all of them belonged to families. There were some single young men and also a number of young single men. No attempt had been made to secure a larger number of women than men. They had taken care, however, to bring no papers nor any person who would be likely to become such. The immigrants in this party were thirty people, and would probably do well in Utah. The Scandinavians were mostly farmers, but a few of them were fishermen or mechanics. Those from Great Britain were nearly all mechanics, but a few were farmers. There were about 100 children, who were about evenly divided between the sexes. The immigrants were all in good health on their arrival. One child, 3 years of age, died during the passage, and an old man, who was something of an invalid, fell on his hip so badly that he will have to go to a hospital. The party will pass through Castle Garden this morning, and will start for the West during the day. They will go by the Chicago & Northwestern route. Another party of Mormon immigrants will arrive here on one of the Guton steamers early in September. It will be much smaller, however, than the one which arrived yesterday.

A NEW SECT IN RUSSIA. One of the most appalling products of the fanaticism of the untamed masses in Russia, the English Churchman points out, is the extraordinary shape taken by Russian sectarianism. From time to time a newspaper correspondent in St. Petersburg or Moscow sends a description of a new sect which has appeared in Russia. The apostrophe of the sect is a fanaticism of fanaticism, for the most part, to be a species of religious complement to the political and social tenets of the nihilists. "Perhaps the most original and startling of these eccentric phenomena in the ecclesiastical atmosphere of Russia is the sect of Ne-Naschi ('Not our own') or Mottachimki ('Silent People'). The former title seems to be that which the members of this sect give to themselves, while the latter is conferred upon them by their neighbors, owing to the habit of the secretaries to refuse to answer questions put to them by outsiders. The Ne-Naschi will allow neither their hair nor beard to be cut. They drink no intoxicating liquors; they will not smoke; they refuse to honor the sacred images of the saints. Like other Quakers, they address everyone as 'thou,' and will not call even the czar by his customary titles. In all points but one, they are severe ascetics. They profess to aim at pure idealism in their daily speech. Hence they will not speak of 'tea,' but of 'Chinese leaves.' There wives are spoken of as 'the-companions,' a family is called 'family root,' and the children 'family twigs.' The Ne-Naschi deny that there is any life after the death of the body. Like the Positivists, they contend that man can only enjoy immortality in the persons of his children. Strangely enough, although they believe that there is no hereafter for those who die, they believe that a fearful day of judgment is approaching, on which all the living will be tried, and that the good will then be rewarded, and the wicked be punished. This punishment of the latter will be effected in a curious manner, the conception of which is not without a sort of dramatic justice. After the final judgment the two divisions of the human race will organize themselves into two separate societies. The society of the good will convert the earth into a paradise. The society of the wicked will occupy their whole time and energy in fighting among themselves, which will result in driving a certain portion into repentance and application for admission into the fellowship of the good, while the remainder of the wicked will go on with their contentions until they are reduced to two men, who will slaughter one another."

THE FREIGHT BLOCKADE. NEW YORK, July 7.—Conking and other lawyers yesterday applied to Attorney General Russell to consent to postponement of the case of the merchants trying to compel railroad companies to forward freight. The delay in consequence of the freight strikes, and when the case was called to-day in the supreme court counsel for the railroads moved a postponement till July 17th. The motion, not being opposed, was granted. The workmen claim the delay is purely in the interest of the railroads, which will be able to forward within ten days the freights now delayed.

BUSINESS FAILURES. NEW YORK, July 7.—United States failures the past week, 109; east 11, West 37, south 23, middle 21, Pacific 13, New York City 4.

THE BANKERS' CONVENTION. NEW YORK, July 7.—The executive committee of the American Bankers' association extended the time for sending in papers to the convention at Saratoga two weeks further, and a large southern delegation is expected as the questions for debate deeply affect that section.

WOMAN'S WRONGS RIGHTED. PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—Jan. G. Hill, a prominent politician of West Philadelphia, was convicted to-day by Mrs. C. P. Jones, a handsome young woman, for writing her an obscene note. She had been hunting for him day and night since Monday.

UTAH COURTS. SALT LAKE, Utah, July 7.—A couple of agents from the department of justice, Washington, are here investigating the affairs of the third district court, with special reference to the conduct of Chief Justice Hunter and his clerk, Col. Averill. Both have been extremely unpopular with the bar, and the judges' decisions were frequently criticized sharply by both lawyers and press. It is not known what formal charges have been preferred against Hunter and Averill, and as the special agent refuses to talk, it is impossible to learn the exact nature of the investigation, but it is understood to be in connection with a year ago that the court was interested in mining matters here.

TAX THIEVES. PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—A partial report was presented by the city finance committee to-day. It shows that several thousand dollars of taxes collected by the sheriff's officials from 1877 to 1879 were not returned to the city treasury.

SUCCESSFUL STRIKES. BOSTON, Mass., July 7.—The long-strewn employees by the Norfolk & Baltimore line struck to-day for an increase from 30 to 40 cents per hour, night work, and the company yielded. Notices of a similar strike were given to the Savannah and Philadelphia companies.

THE IRON STRIKE IN CHICAGO. SOUTH CHICAGO, July 7.—Bradley & Ferrance, of the Columet iron and steel company, do not consider they will be at all affected by the reported compromise at Bay View and some of the Pittsburgh mills. They will not grant any increase and are making all preparations to do away with puddlers by reconverting the mills as to make steel instead of puddling. Many of the strikers have left as the prospects of a resumption of work with the union men appears to be very small.

CAPITAL NOTES. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS. BANK STATEMENTS. WASHINGTON, July 7.—The comptroller of currency has called for a statement from national banks showing their condition July 1st.

JOHN A. J. CRAWFORD is to be appointed counsel of the Geneva award commission.

MINING CLAIMS. In the case of "Galch," "Maid of Athens" and "Independent" mill sites vs. the townsite of Rico, Col., Secretary Teller reverses the decision of the land commissioners of 1879, that the land was not mineral, and takes the ground that the questions of prior location must be settled by local courts, not by the department. The same decision will be rendered in the Tombstone case.

DORSEY'S ROUTE. In the star route trial, Joseph Pennington of Billings, M.T., testified that he was employed by John W. Dorsey to carry mail on the route from Billings to Ft. Keoch. He said Randall asked him to get up a petition to extend the service, which was to be signed only by men employed by the contractor. There was no settlement from which a petition would actually come. The petition was not drawn.

SEVERAL REPUBLICAN SENATORS in caucus advocated the removal of the tax on capital and deposits. Without action the caucus adjourned.

THE TARIFF COMMISSION. At the meeting of the tariff commissioners this afternoon the only business transacted was the election of James L. Arden, of the District of Columbia, stenographer.

THE IMMIGRATION BILL. At the meeting of the house commerce committee to-day, Chandler offered a resolution sustaining the Secretary of the Interior in the house on the immigration bill, speaking of him in the most complimentary terms. The resolution severely denounces (without naming) a member from New York for his conduct in the matter. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

SECRETARY TELLER DENIES that he will grant immunity to Payne for his raids in the Indian territory.

RESPONSIBILITY OF BANKS. First comptroller of the currency rendered an opinion to-day, holding that public depositories are responsible for the payment of all moneys to the rightful parties, and if such custodian pays moneys to parties on forged checks they are responsible and the loss must fall on them.

CUSTODIAN HICKS. Hicks called on the attorney general this afternoon in reference to Attorney Corkhill's interference with Guiteau's body. Hicks holds that he is the legal custodian of the body, and that Corkhill has nothing to do with it.

CONFIRMATIONS. The senate in executive session confirmed John Davis, assistant secretary of state; John F. France, of New York, minister resident and consul general to Portugal; Eugene Schuyler, minister resident and consul general to Roumania, Servia and Greece.

THE REV. HICKS writes Dr. Lamb this evening that he need not be worried by District Attorney Corkhill or Corkhill's doctors; that Corkhill has no authority, and that he (Hicks) is fully satisfied with Dr. Lamb's report.

DRS. HARTIGAN AND SOMERS publish a card in reply to Rev. Hick's letters to Dr. Lamb, in which they say Hicks asked them while standing under the gallows on the day of Guiteau's execution, to conduct the autopsy in connection with Lamb.

CONGRESS. SENATE PROCEEDINGS. WASHINGTON, July 7.—The senate resumed consideration of the river and harbor bill, debate being on the Hennepin canal amendment.

Senator Logan advocated the construction of the canal. Senator Vest opposed it, on the ground that the canal was limited to one state and ought to be undertaken as a private enterprise.

Senator Windom supported and Senator Sherman opposed the amendment. The latter taking the ground that the appropriation was simply the entering wedge of the enterprise, and the expenses growing out of it finally cost millions. Railroad facilities render canals unprofitable. Adjourned at 6:20 p. m.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS. The house resumed consideration of the Sundry civil appropriation bill. Mr. Butterworth replied to Boyne's attack yesterday on Arthur's administration, showing that Garfield in four months made 266 appointments, 51 removals; Arthur in ten months, 879 appointments, 403 removals.

The house spent the afternoon on the Sundry civil appropriation bill, without action.

Mr. Cox introduced a resolution inquiring whether any changes had been made in the agreement with the French Cable company, regarding the rate to be charged, the consolidation, etc., since the landing of the cable on United States soil.

A republican caucus was announced for Saturday evening at 8 p. m. recess till 7:30 p. m., the evening session to be for pension bills only.

BOATS RECOVERED. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS. MISSED JUNCTION, July 7.—The following boats have been recovered from the wrecked Sciotto: Wm. Ewing, Wallace, John Christy, Miss Shields, John Thompson and a boy (unknown). Divers are at work. The list is now estimated at 100.

SOUTHERN UTES IN REBELLION. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS. PUERTO, Col., July 7.—It is reported that the Indians at the Southern Ute agency are in a state of rebellion, caused by the killing of one of their number by an Indian policeman. Settlers at Ft. Lewis and other places have been warned of the danger by Agent Patton. Particulars cannot be learned, as the telegraph operator has fled from the agency.

INDICATORS. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8, 1 a. m.—For the upper Mississippi and Missouri valley, fair weather, followed by increasing cloudiness and local rains, variable winds, shifting to warmer southerly, stationary or lower pressure.

DIED FROM HYDROPHOBIA. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS. CHICAGO, July 7.—Little Ernest Rosenthal, 5 years of age, died in horrible agony last night from hydrophobia, caused by the bite of a dog two months ago.

NOMINATED FOR GOVERNOR. NATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS. LITTLE ROCK, July 7.—The republican state convention unanimously nominated Col. W. P. Stock for governor.

The Hastings (Neb.) nine will play with the Union Pacifics some time the latter part of July. The St. Louis Browns will play a match game of ball with the Union Pacifics some time next month.

Foley, the new third baseman of the Union Pacifics, was catcher for the Cincinnati league club for two seasons.

The following is the schedule of games for the Union Pacifics so far announced: Glenwoods, at Omaha, July 8; Leavenworths, at Omaha, July 22; B. & M.'s, August 5.

The grand stand will be extended forty feet, making it one hundred feet in length.

The Dreadnaught boys acknowledge that the Union Pacifics are one of the best clubs they ever tackled. Still they are not satisfied with Tuesday's game, and are anxious for another game. We understand it is very probable the opportunity will be afforded them, and the next game will very likely be played in this city some time in September.
