- The case of the State vs. Allen Ross is to come up in the supreme court this afternoon, but it is generally understood that Ross will be let loose, the girl who was outraged being caused to disappear. Ross would do well to leave town, if he gets free again, as there is much feeling against him.

He found it yesterday morning near the depot, broken open and its contents scattered about, but no article of value lost. He caused the arrest of a young German hailing from Denver, who was moneyless and hunting for work, and who also spent the night at the depot. ## SHIFTING THE SCHEME.

The New Mode of Collecting Licenses Under a Prohibitory Ordinance.

The License Now to be in the Form of a Forfeited Bond.

There seems to be much difficulty experienced by the aldermen and city officials in arranging so as to collect in licenses of saloons in view of the fact that the prohibitory amendment has carried and the council has passed a strictly prohibitory ordinance, and a penalty of $25 for each and every violation. It was thought that when this ordinance was passed, the saloonists would agree to plead guilty once a month and pay $25, but they would not do so as the plea would be used against them in the state courts. Then it was decided to have them pay $25 into the treasury and get a simple receipt therefor, saying nothing about what the money was received for, it being understood, however, that the city would let those alone who paid, and would prosecute those who did not pay.

After this plan was shown up in this Bee, there were many objections to it on all sides. The saloonists looked upon it as a sort of blackmailing process, the ordinance being the club with which they were threatened unless they slipped $25 into the treasury. The prohibitionists, on the other hand, howled because the city council took this underhanded way of granting licenses, after pretending to pass a prohibitory ordinance.

Still another change has been made in the hope of doing away with the objections raised. It is proposed to file complaints against every saloon man, and fix the bonds for appearance at $25 each, if they fail to appear, and of course the bonds will be forfeited, thus securing the license of $20 a month.

Yesterday three such cases were begun, they being against Sam Ford, D. J. Frazier and Marvin White. Each deposited $25 to appear to-morrow for trial. It is safe to say they will not appear, and the $25 each will be forfeited and go into the treasury.

Thus it is thought that licenses can be collected and at the same time a strictly prohibitory ordinance kept in force. The great object of such action on the part of the council seems to be to secure cash for the police fund. It is estimated that fully sixty saloons will thus pay $25 a month or $300 a year, making the handsome sum of $18,000 for the police fund. There have already forty-two saloon men paid in the $25 each, and it is expected the number will soon swell to at least sixty.

DUNLAP DOINGS.

The Sinners Robbing Cars and the Saints Building Churches.

Correspondence of THE BEE.

DUNLAP, Ia., July 10.—This pleasant town is now in a suitable "stew" over the detection and arrest of some young bloods who for some time past have been to very good personal profit, engaged in the highly respectable business of car breaking and robbery. Two have been arrested and are now in jail. They are Bayard Christy, son of Dr. Christy, notorious in local circles, Bayard is about 18 years of age, and was about a year and a half ago guilty of breaking into the store of Mr. Ettinger in Dunlap, and opening the safe, the combination of which he had previously obtained. He received about $150, but was caught within an hour, and the money was recovered. In the hope that he would reform, his trial for this offence and has been deferred, and he was out on bail. The other bird who has been caged, is named Burdick, and is about 22 years old. He has been working on a farm, and is well connected. A third character, Ned Hickox, is not yet caught. It seems that getting wind of trouble the boys all skipped, but while Christy and Burdick took the train for Chicago, Hickox was sharp enough to start by land and thus has curved his tracks. The boys were in the habit of marking the cars loaded with plundering at a convenient point between Grand Junction and Missouri Valley. Besides the three persons named, it is understood that certain other parties are "spotted" as accomplices, and may presently find themselves "notorious."

On Sunday last, July 9th, the new Methodist church in Dunlap, was dedicated. Rev. P. F. Breece, of Council Bluffs, preached the sermon, and conducted the services, being assisted by Rev. Fletcher Brown, the present pastor of the church, Rev. James Lisle, late pastor, but now of Glenwood, Iowa, Rev. H. S. Mills, of the Congregational church, and Rev. Mr. Delane, of the Baptist church, Dunlap. The morning was rainy and unpromising, yet the houses were well filled. After the sermon, Mr. M. S. Bowman, treasurer of the church, presented a statement, showing that the entire property has cost $5,150, of which sum $350 remained to be provided for. Within half an hour the congregation had subscribed $1,016, making the work a complete success. This church was begun about two years ago, during the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Lisle. The building is of brick, 47x60 feet, with a basement room 30x40. The style of the building is quite peculiar, being modeled after the old Roman basilicas, giving the largest possible seating capacity. When the gallery is built the house will seat from 450 to 475 persons. Though the church is so far advanced that it can be used it is not yet finished. The basement is not completed, the tower is not built, nor is the gallery put in. When finished this will be one of the best churches in western Iowa, probably the very best, outside of Council Bluffs. In undertaking the building of such a house the Methodists of Dunlap have shown an almost boundless "faith," not only in God, but in the generosity of the public, and their work has been so carefully and satisfactorily managed that the confidence of the public has been maintained throughout, and there is a bright future before the First Methodist Episcopal church of Dunlap. OBSERVER.

STILL AHEAD.

J. Mueller is still sole agent for the Celebrated Chickering Pianos, and they can only be got through him. He sold a very fine one to an Omaha party only yesterday.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

The Doings of the City Fathers in Council Assembled.

At the adjourned meeting of the city council, held Monday night, Aldermen Shugart, Siedentopf, Goulden, and Kicher were present, and Mayor Bowman presided.

A number of bills were presented, amounting to about $300. They were referred to the chairman of the fire, the finance, and the street committees, with power to allow the same, the committees to meet for that purpose yesterday morning.

Marshal Turley, N. H. White and W. J. Raymond signified their readiness to accept the amount allowed by the jury in the condemnation of their property for the extension of Bluff street.

City Attorney Mayne reported that the condemnation of the property for an alley between Bancroft and Main streets would not be completed before to-morrow.

Hon. George F. Wright requested the council to instruct the engineer to give the Milwaukee & St. Paul road its grade, so that it could run its line, etc. The city engineer was so instructed.

Alderman Siedentopf presented a resolution that the auditor draw an order for $1,100, and place in the sheriff's hands in payment of the condemnation of the Knabe property for the extension of Washington avenue. Adopted.

The same alderman moved that the council meet as a committee of the whole Wednesday morning to confer with Conrad Gates with a view of extending Washington avenue through his property. Adopted.

Alderman Siedentopf moved that a special committee be appointed to examine into the advisability of finishing Union avenue and putting the street from Union avenue to the Union Pacific in passable condition.

Alderman Shugart did not think it necessary as most of the council had examined the condition of affairs, and it had been concluded that there was no money to complete the work, all that could be done was to plan out the lines and throw up the dirt and scrapers, so as to make it a passable road.

The resolution was withdrawn, it being agreed that the committee on streets would do this as soon as possible.

City Attorney Mayne called attention to the fact that the city engineer wanted the council to take action in regard to condemning land for the right of way for the river levee. He thought it would not do to condemn enough for the whole line, as that would leave no money to build the levee with. He suggested that a mile only be condemned at present.

Ald. Shugart thought that a strip fifty feet wide would be enough instead of one a hundred feet wide. He moved that the city engineer be instructed to proceed to condemn each width for a mile, and that the city council could take its choice. Adopted.

Ald. Siedentopf, of the special committee, reported that they had decided it best to put an arched stone culvert across the creek at Market street, and that the committee thought that bids would be ready to present probably Wednesday night.

Alderman Siedentopf moved that the council meet Wednesday morning to confer with Peter Bechtel in regard to a market place. Adopted.

Alderman Shugart called attention to the fact that the poll tax collector could get no satisfaction of those in and about the transfer, they claiming to be residents of Omaha, and giving him evasive answers. Referred to city attorney to devise some way to enforce the collection.

Alderman Siedentopf reported that Park Policeman Jackson at the park wanted some tool for trimming trees. Ordered. He also stated that Jackson complained of having to be on duty far into the night sometimes, and that he wanted privilege for his son to keep a ramona stand there. Some objection was raised to such a precedent, and the matter deferred until the next meeting.

The city engineer reported in regard to raising the tracks and the bridge at the Chicago & Northwestern railway, and also in regard to the waterways at the C. B. & Q.

An ordinance was presented fixing the dog tax at one dollar, and providing for the impounding of stray dogs, and killing them after five days, the tax to be paid before August 1st. The ordinance was passed to a second reading, and referred to the judiciary committee.

Alderman Kicher informed the council that the city weighmaster complained because wood vendors did not stand on the lots assigned for a market place, near the court house. He could not dance all over town to measure the wood. Referred to police committee.

Adjournment was then taken until Wednesday night.

Not Over-Enthusiastic.
Even among the papers who profess to acquiesce in the nomination of Major Anderson there seems no great amount of enthusiasm. The Avoca Delta, for instance, feebly hoists his name and right under gives the following faint-hearted and plaintive appeal:

We have met the enemy and we are theirs by a majority. As the majority held their grip firmly and Maj. Anderson was nominated for congress in this district we hoist his name at the head of our columns—only preferring the gentle request that the boys be easy on us and explain some things that to the uninformed may appear unnecessary. The majority's majority will probably not be over 2,000.
The Atlanta Telegraph hoists his name and then proceeds to thump him in the columns beneath.

The Nonpareil has not got up enough enthusiasm yet to hoist it at all.

The Audubon Times more generously devotes a column and a half to sounding his praises, but perhaps the explanation is found in the local columns where it is noted that E. H. Kimball, the editor, has secured a $1,200 portion in Washington.

TAKING IT EASY.
The Prohibitionists Having Won a Victory Seemed Inclined to Rest.

The attempts to get up a ratification and jubilee meeting over the results of the amendment election do not seem to meet with great success. One such meeting was called for the Fourth of July night, but was not as largely attended or as enthusiastic as was desired, and adjournment was taken until last Monday evening.

There was then assembled in Bloom & Nixon's hall not to exceed sixty persons, and many among these were many from the opposition camp, drawn thither by curiosity. The meeting was very late in getting called to order, and in fact there was more of the bounding enthusiasm which characterized the work done during the campaign.

It appeared that the prohibitionists had become satisfied with the hard work they had done and the glorious victory they had won. Rev. Mr. Breece presided at this meeting, and addresses were made by himself, Rev. Mr. Lemen and Captain Price. These speeches were earnest, and firm in the expressions of the determination to see that the prohibitory amendment was made of practical effect.

The city council was severely criticized for its action in passing a prohibitory ordinance, and then providing a sly scheme for allowing saloons to run on the payment of $25 each.

A financial exhibit of the expenses of the local campaign was made, showing that about $1,000 had been expended, and the receipts had not been sufficient by about $100. Among the expenses was $257.74 for publishing a temperance paper. Plans were talked over for raising the amount necessary to cover this deficiency.

The executive committee reported in favor of holding a convention here next Tuesday, for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the state convention to be held at Des Moines on the 27th inst. The report was adopted.

The temperance workers were invited to meet Rev. Mr. Lemen at his study in the Baptist church next Friday evening.

Adjournment was then taken.
