THE SEAT OF WAR.

NO RELIABLE INTELLIGENCE. ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—The night passed quietly. No attack was made by Arabi's forces.

BRITISH TROOPS. Two British regiments arrived this morning, and were successfully landed at Ramleh palace and are now stationed there.

TURKEY WANTS TROOP SHIPS. The Turkish government is endeavoring to charter troop ships, and has offered twenty shillings a ton to ship owners, who generally refuse to rent unless security is given.

WHAT ARABI CAN GET. NEW YORK, July 17.—Rev. F. S. DeHaas, for two years American consul at Jerusalem, and an Oriental traveler of experience, in a sermon last night, said if true Arabi was in league with Elmeheled, the prophet, he would have 200,000 fierce, determined people at his back.

REINFORCING ARABI. ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Port Said is crowded with refugees—women, children and old men.

THE FORCES OF ARABI SEEM TO BE WELL DISCIPLINED and provided for fighting. Strong earthworks are being erected and great preparations are being made for a military movement of some kind, believed to be offensive.

SEYMOUR HAS ISSUED A PROCLAMATION which states he has undertaken the restoration with Egyptian forces' consent. He orders all incendiaries caught in the act to be shot without arrest, and all pillagers imprisoned.

AT AN INFORMAL COUNCIL, Seymour and his officers discussed the situation. All admitted the situation more serious than ever, owing to the uncertainty of the whereabouts of Arabi and the continual discovery of his troops in localities unexpected.

ARABI HAS A FORCE AT ROSSETTA, commanding the mouth of the west bank of the Nile. The indication is that he is planting troops all over north Egypt for offensive and defensive purposes.

OPINION OF A NATIVE TURK. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 17.—Rev. Mangener Mangerson, a native Turk, preaching at Bethany Presbyterian church last night, declared the Arabs goaded to opposition by English persecution.

HE SAID ARABI IS A PATRIOT and on his forming a junction with Elmeheled, the prophet, which will surely occur soon, 2,000,000 Arabs will spring to arms.

ROBINSON TO THE RESCUE. WASHINGTON, July 17.—Robinson, of New York, to-day introduced resolutions of inquiry into American imprisonment abroad, during which he stigmatized Lowell as Granville's detective; also calling on Secretary Frelinghuysen for information regarding American sailors doing police duty under the British admiral at Alexandria; also in reference to the injustice of closing the Suez canal.

QUESTIONING THE CABINET. LONDON, July 17.—In the house of commons this evening, an effort was made to compel the government to state how far the action of Seymour was endorsed by other powers in the conference Saturday. Dilke said that while the government had no written approval of his action toward Egypt, he was not willing to avow that Dilke's statement was correct.

THE QUESTION WAS REPEATED to Dilke and he was asked to answer categorically. In the answer he said Austria expressed approval; so far Germany had not. This produced a sensation. Dilke explained further by saying Austria's declaration was plain, strong and unmistakable; that Austria used the words "Perfectly legitimate" in describing the bombardment. Gort, conservative, gave notice he would move a vote of censure on the government's failure to take steps to avert pillage.

GLADSTONE ASSERTED that Seymour never anticipated the Egyptian army would make the stand they did. During the session Bright explained his reasons for resigning from the cabinet. He could not conscientiously keep his place. He believed the policy was a violation of moral international law.

RECRUITING. ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Arabi's lieutenants have arrived at Cairo, and are recruiting. Arabi's officers are organizing forces all over Egypt. The army is entrenched at Kafr. General Stone claims he rode six miles out of the city of Alexandria without seeing any of Arabi's soldiers. The British say the American marines are the best fire fighters.

FRENCH TROOPS. LONDON, July 18.—Eight thousand French troops, with transports, are concentrated at Toulon for Egypt, should the port be declared intervention.

THE ITALIAN PAPERS are unanimous in attributing the configuration of Alexandria to the English and ask the sultan to demand that England shall pay indemnity.

The Nimble Englishman Proves Too Lively for the Champion.

Who Falls to Knock Him Out in Four Rounds.

A Challenge for a Prize Fight The Races at Chicago.

At a Public Reception.

NEW YORK, July 17.—The glove match between Sullivan and Tug Wilson at Madison Square garden to-night was probably the most extraordinary affair of the kind that ever took place in this country.

There were less than ten thousand people present and the excitement was so intense that the police had to be called in to keep them in order. Betting ran high, Sullivan having the call at the rate of one hundred to eighty.

All western sporting men at one time offered to bet $500 to $100 on Sullivan. It was rumored about town that the fight was not as fair as it might have been, and Sullivan was said to have been tampered with by Sullivan's manager.

Wilson forced the fighting from the beginning. He entered the ring at 100 pounds, though many present thought he was lighter. Sullivan weighed 190 pounds. Wilson's tactics were to keep close to his man and to drop to avoid punishment.

There was not a square knock-down during the contest, though Wilson went down at every opportunity. So far as sparring was concerned he showed more skill than Sullivan.

The second round was a mere repetition of the first. In the third round both men did some clever work, but Sullivan's attempts to get in his sledge-hammer blows were rendered futile by the cat-like activity with which his opponent dodged.

In the fourth round the wind and rain came on a regular slogging match, in which Wilson held his own. When time was called he was not knocked out, and the referee, Harry Hill, so decided. Arthur Chambers and George Holden acted for Wilson and Joe Goss and Billy Madden took care of Sullivan. The receipts were $16,000, of which Wilson got $8,000 and Sullivan $7,000, out of which he will have to pay the expenses.

Richard K. Fox has issued to-night a challenge to Sullivan on behalf of Wilson to fight four months from acceptance, according to the London rules for $2,500 a side. Should Sullivan decline Wilson will claim the championship. It is also announced to-night that Sullivan and Wilson will appear in Philadelphia at an exhibition sparring match within a week.
