

The Daily Bee. COUNCIL BLUFFS. Wednesday Morning, July 26. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By Carrier, 20 cents per week; By Mail, $1.00 per Year.

MINOR MENTIONS. -Sheridan makes photographs. -For SALE.-A fresh milk cow with calf. L. W. TULLERS.

-There have been 233 marriage licenses issued since the 1st of January. -There are now twenty-one prisoners in jail, seven of whom are from other counties, however.

-Hermann is bound to close out. -A nice line of sun and garden hats at Bliss'. -A great little wedding occurred last evening, in which Fritz Fruiger and Miss Truffer were made one.

-Just received, a nice line of sun and garden hats at Bliss'. -R. Herzman has sold his real estate interests in Council Bluffs to Howe & Son, and intends to move to New York in the course of two weeks.

-A large invoice of ladies' neckwear just opened at Bliss'. -Furniture repaired. Howe & Son, 214 Broadway. -The teachers instituting in progress at the Bloomer school building seems to be exciting much interest.

-A combination musician, embodying five grand aggregations of shows in one, playing two drums, an accordion, cymbals, etc., paraded the streets yesterday morning forgetting the collection of nickles. -On account of having disposed of my real estate in this city with the view of removing to New York, I request all persons having bills against me to present them, and those owing me to settle forthwith.

-A very desirable piece of property for sale, on south side Sixth street, in the block opposite the new Opera House, on Broadway. Front twenty feet. Price three thousand dollars. Enquire at Bliss office. -There is much complaint about a body of water which is allowed to stand near Eighth street and Eleventh avenue. It is understood that the premises was long since made that it should be removed but still it stands, breeding disease and a stench.

-There will be a sociable at the residence of Rev. J. G. Lamon, the second house north of the northeast corner of Fourth street and Ninth avenue to-morrow evening, to which all are invited. Refreshments will be served and a good time promised all who attend. -Leave to be wed yesterday given to William Henry Brice, of L. Gasport and Mary Arabelle Hastings, of Council Bluffs; to J. W. Sale and Emma Lake, of Windsor; and to F. P. Duhig and Augusta Ditson, of Council Bluffs.

-John Hammer was yesterday given the contract for building the McManis block between Shugart's block and the postoffice. It is to be three stories, and made uniform with the Shugart building. -Justice Abbott tied two matrimonial knots last evening. One of the bridegrooms insisted on not having his name published, lest he should lose his job on the railroad. Why that should necessarily follow is difficult to see.

-Leonard, the milk man, had one of his wagons smashed yesterday. The team was allowed to stand in an alleyway while he was attending to some customers, and improved the chance to run the length of the block, causing much spilt milk and a badly wrecked wagon. H. HERZMAN. -The market reports as received daily by telegram by J. Y. Fuller, are placed upon the blackboard in the board of trade rooms so that all interested can have the advantage of them. This seems to be appreciated by many, and the number of callers at the rooms is on the increase. -The committee appointed by the prohibitionists to go to Des Moines to attend the convention next Thursday will be changed somewhat. Rev. George Perkins, of Avoca, is to go in place of L. E. Worth, who is unable to attend. J. F. Burke, of this city, will serve as a substitute for Hon. B. F. Clayton. John P. Burke, of Walnut, also writes that he will not be able to leave his business, and Mr. James Crow, of Minden, will probably serve in his place. -Our well-known citizen, John Hammer, had a rather exciting experience on Sunday last. He drove back to his old friend Myntest's, and after a visit there was presented with some fine fish which he put in his buggy, and started on for a further drive. His happy meditation over the prospect of a big feast of fish, was suddenly broken into by seeing a tent close to him, and a sign "small per." He wheeled about his buggy as soon as possible and started away from the field of pestilence, and yet his misfortunes were not ended. In making good his escape the buggy tipped over, and in the confusion he lost his fish, and did not miss it until he had resumed his journey and yet some distance on the road. -A meeting of the Young Men's Christian association was held Monday night in Everett's block. A few new members were received. It was decided to rent two rooms in DeVal's new block on North Main street, the rooms chosen being the middle front rooms on the second floor. Now that rooms are decided upon, the next move should be to secure some efficient and practical man who is experienced in the work, and who will be paid a salary for attending to the business. Otherwise the organization promises to do but little beyond keeping up, perhaps, a prayer meeting for church folks who would attend prayer meetings in their own places of worship anyway. -Unless Frigid. To worry about any Liver, Kidney or Urinary Trouble, especially Bright's Disease or Diabetes, as Hop Bitters never fails of a cure where a cure is possible. We know this.

PLUGGED AND PLUCKED

A Ruralist While Boozed Knocked Down and Robbed.

A man named J. Newton, who lives a few miles out in the country, was here Monday night, and succeeded in getting pretty well under the influence of the anti-amentment. While in this condition, and proceeding along Eighth street, near A. W. Street's residence, claims that he was set upon by two fellows, who knocked him down and robbed him of about $50. Late in the night a young man named James Hendershott was arrested as one of the assailants. There was only $5 found upon him, but Newton seemed sure he was one of the men who assaulted him. Both Newton and Hendershott were locked up, the farmer as a witness and to sober up. Yesterday the case was called, but continued until this afternoon. Newton being released, and Hendershott being taken to jail.

A PECK OF TROUBLE

Two of His Sons Charged With Having Killed a Playmate at School.

Yesterday the examination of the Peck boys began before Justice Abbott. The charge against them is a most serious one, it being that of murder. Both of them are mere boys, the eldest 14 perhaps, and both sons of a respected and prominent citizen of Walnut, P. M. Dattler, of Walnut, and Maj. Lyman, of this city, appeared as attorneys for the prosecution, while for the defendants appeared Messrs. John Baldwin, of this city, and M. B. Darnell, of Walnut.

The cause of the present ugly charge being brought was the death of a little fellow named Charles Bartlett, aged about 7 years. It is claimed by the prosecution that on the 11th of last May this Bartlett boy, while coming from school, was set upon by the Peck boys and severely thumped, the affair being thought at the time, however, to be only a schoolboyish row. This was on Thursday. The following day he was able to attend school. On Saturday he was ailing, and was in bed part of the time, but his injuries were thought to be serious by the old lady, his grandmother, with whom he lived. Tuesday morning she examined his injuries, but that day he went to school. After that, however, he was confined to his bed, and lingered along until the 11th of June, when he died. It is claimed from the injuries received at the hands of the Peck boys.

The examination was only fairly started on yesterday, and will hardly be completed to-day, as every foot of the way in the progress of the case is being contested closely. There has seemed to be quite a difference of opinion among the residents of Walnut, who are familiar with the details, and it was expected that when the coroner held the inquest sure decision would be reached, but the verdict of the jury there was rather unsatisfactory, it being "about half and half" in its finding. The case has since been brought, and the full facts will probably now be brought out.

Insurance for stock.

There was a meeting of gentlemen in this city this week in the interest of a new enterprise that has lately located in Council Bluffs, and one that has a brilliant future, if one may judge by its success thus far. We refer to the Iowa Stock Insurance company, the first and only company in this state that insures live stock of all kinds against accidental loss from theft, disease, or any other casualty whatever. Mr. A. Beery, the former secretary, who has been connected with the company since its organization, being called on in an important business to Ohio, was reluctantly compelled to resign the office he has filled with satisfaction to all parties interested. The officers and directors consisting of S. M. Crook, of Clarida, president; J. R. Beery, of Council Bluffs, F. M. Galt, of Council Bluffs, N. B. Easton, of Shenandoah, K. A. Powers, of Shenandoah, and K. A. Powers, of Shenandoah, elected N. B. Easton, secretary, in place of Mr. Beery resigned. We are assured by the gentlemen connected with this institution that it is the intention to push it with energy, and that the company has the ability and integrity to deal squarely with every member, and with all who may hereafter become members. The depository of the company is the Citizens' bank, of this city, one of the first in financial standing of any in this part of the state.

Another Flap

The Nonpareil in commenting upon the recent change of freight rates, said: "As will be seen by a glance the new state of affairs in reference to rates will not prove detrimental to Council Bluffs, but will prove a benefit." In its very next issue it says: "It is a direct stab at our commercial interests. It is a discrimination so palpably unjust that The Nonpareil is constrained to believe that it will never be allowed to go into effect." Why doth The Nonpareil so suddenly flip? Its first position was taken in order to please the railways, of which it is a meek servant. Then comes a delegation of responsible Council Bluffs citizens, who told The Nonpareil editor that if that paper was to support this change of rates, which they deemed so unjust to Council Bluffs, they would make open war on the paper as well as the railways. The Nonpareil weakened and promised to retract. Hence the flap. Now that they have taken both sides of the matter, no one should complain. The Nonpareil will show its first editorial to its railway bosses, and the second editorial to the indignant people. It is hard not to be able to hold to one opinion for two issues of a paper, but such seems to be the case with The Nonpareil.

With Diamond Dyes any lady can get as good results as the best practical dye. Every dye warranted true to name and sample.

BEFORE THE BAR

Those Who Attracted Attention in the Superior Court Yesterday.

There was the promise of a lively day in the superior court yesterday, there being a number of cases booked, but the bottom seemed to fall out from under them one after another, leaving a few unseasonable events. Marshal Jackson led two out of the calaboose to go up stairs and be tried. His attention was called by another prisoner, and the two prisoners occupied themselves with talking to the chief and others who were standing in the office. When Jackson got ready to go up stairs with the prisoners he found only one of them there, the other one, James McCarthy, charged with being drunk, having marched off right before the officers' faces, and skipped beyond reach. The other one was Frank Mitchell, a colored porter at the Ogden, who had been on a lit-apree. He faced the music, pleaded guilty, and was fined $7.00.

Yesterday morning the notorious dandy known as "Texas," was being abut at the police headquarters, a little full, and very loud in his talk. He tried the officers out, and Jackson shut him up in the back room to get him out of the way. He was soon after found fast asleep, standing up in the corner where the marshal had set him. Fred Barkhart, arrested for stealing a $2.50 saw rim Race & McMillan, was before the court. He is a carpenter by trade and worked for the complaining witnesses, who have been missing tools before. They at last found that Barkhart had taken away a saw, and had him arrested. He did not deny taking the saw, but explained his motive by saying that it was left with some other tools at dinner time, where some work was being done, and seeing a colored fellow hanging about there, and having a suspicious look, he feared he was bent on stealing it. To prevent this he took the saw himself, intending to bring it back when he returned, but he stopped into several places to drink, and must have laid the saw down and forgotten it. His head was not very clear, owing to a sunstroke he received a few years ago. The fellow's statement seemed rather glib, and he was taken from before the bar to be held the bar.

Ella Harris, who has been lying in jail on account of a shooting scrape she got into at Streetville, has been released by Judge Aylesworth on her own recognizance, on recommendation of the prosecuting attorney. She sniffed free air with great gratification. When first committed she seemed perfectly willing to go to jail for what she had done, but now she seemed still more willing to get out, having evidently had enough of it to take the mad out of her. E. J. Harrington was arrested for beating the Western house out of $7 worth of board. He and the landlord patched the case up. J. O'Brien was complained of by Charles Lindman for assault. The complaint was dropped, it becoming apparent that if pressed both might be equally charged with disturbing the peace, the difficulty being a mutual one.

There was a slight row at a saloon on lower Broadway Monday, and complaint was made against Charles P. Doherty, John A. Smith and George Gerspecher for disturbing the peace. The matter was examined into yesterday by Judge Aylesworth, and while the evidence showed there was a row, it failed to show that Doherty or Smith were engaged in it, and they were discharged. The other one had his case continued until to-day. A stockman was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Brooks, charged with being drunk. The fellow when asked for his name, said: "None of your business," and was booked under that name. He was placed in the cooler, where numerous persons, including George Fairman, Constable Rosecrans and John Brown, were called in to identify him. None of them recognized his countenance. He will be kept on ice until this morning.

High Collyer was among those who did not pay the $25 license for keeping a saloon, claiming that he was going out of the business. It is now charged that he has been selling right along and a complaint has been entered against him.

PERSONAL

Constable Walter McFadden has returned from his trip, but threatens to take another soon. Rev. B. P. McMenomy is in Davenport on official business. He spent the past week at Colfax Springs. His health improved so much while there, that he intends visiting them again to stay the coming week, after which he will return home. Occasionally a stray copy of The Herald, published at Albuquerque, N. M., reaches this city, and is passed about among the friends of its editor, W. S. Burke, son of Auditor Burke. Many here know the editor well, he having lived here long, and being the starter of The Daily Nonpareil.

A battle with Desperadoes. Albuquerque, N. M., Special int. patch. Arizona vigilantes are again at work, and last week Bill Mulcahy, Jack Kingsbury and Nevada Jim, who killed two Mexicans and mortally wounded Americans at Calabasas, were pursued by an organized party of fifteen. The pursuit was kept up with vigor during Monday, and at 4 p. m. the fleeing murderers were sighted in the distance, the animals they rode being nearly fagged out, heading for a precipitous peak. With a yell the pursuers spurred their horses onward. The doomed desperadoes succeeded by a superhuman effort in reaching the goal of their hope, where they dismounted and a light refuge in the recesses of its rocky sides. As the pursuers approached they were received with a volley from the Winchester with which the fugitives were armed, and one of their number, named Hennessy, was wounded in the shoulder. The avengers then withdrew and held hasty consultation, determining to kill or capture the villains at all hazards. The party dismounted and cautiously advanced, keeping as much as possible under cover, until the base of the rocky elevation was reached, when, with a shout of defiance and a volley from their six-shooters, a rush was made. With the coolness of desperation the murderers awaited the onset, and once more the Winchester were brought into requisition. The battle lasted but a few minutes. The ambush cut throats fought with the fury born of despair. Two of them were quickly killed, and the third, Nevada Jim, was brought down by a shot through the thighs. The vigilantes spared his life till a rope could be procured to hang him. He suddenly seized a revolver belonging to one of his dead comrades, which was lying near, and fired at Fallony, who fell, pierced through the lungs. Laughing derisively, he then sent a bullet crashing through his own brain. The citizens generally approve of the vigilantes' course.

Bluffs of Newspaper Reporters. A case involving the rights of newspaper reporters in before the Ohio supreme court. The Cincinnati board of education having decided to go into secret session, two reporters were excluded from the room. They, however, mounted a ladder, and from the roof were enabled to hear the proceedings, which did not reflect credit upon the board. In consequence a resolution was passed excluding the two reporters from all future meetings of the board, and at a subsequent meeting one of them in his attempts to enter was forcibly ejected by the sergeant-at-arms. The latter was prosecuted for assault, and found guilty in the police court. The case was then taken to the supreme court, where it is not yet decided.

Deaf as a Post

Mrs. W. J. Lang, Bethany, Ont., states that for fifteen months she was troubled with a disease in the ear, causing entire deafness. In ten minutes after using THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL, she found relief, and in a short time she was entirely cured and her hearing restored. July 5th 1881

Trade Letter. Brockton, Mass., July 13, 1882. Z. T. Lindsey & Co., Council Bluffs, Ia:

Dear Sirs:-Replying to your esteemed favor of the 5th inst., will say that it is a fact that the advance in the price of Calf Skins, Sole Leather, and most every kind of Shoe Stock, taken in connection with the advance for labor we have been obliged to concede to workmen, has increased in no small degree the cost of manufacturing. Notwithstanding which fact we are pleased to say your order, given us early in the season, will be filled at the old prices; and we hope, by being diligently alive to the requirements of the demand for a really first-class article, to supply you with a BETTER line of goods than we have ever given you heretofore. Our purchase of both French and domestic Calf Skins, as well as a large supply of O k-tanned Sole Leather, were made very early in the season which, being bought at former prices, relieves us in a great degree of the increased cost of production that many manufacturers are obliged to sustain in filling their orders taken early. Your whole order for the coming fall season is well in hand, and will be shipped at an early date. We desire to call the attention of those who use our goods, through the medium of your house, to our new styles in both Hand and Machine Sewed work. Our French, Medium French and London Toe goods are all made on entirely new lasts and new patterns, which we feel sure will meet with a just appreciation and the approbation of your customers. With the improvement we have made to furnish a more nearly perfect fitting shoe than ever before. We assure you, gentlemen, that we will endeavor to give all your order our prompt and careful attention, and with these assurances we trust to merit the continuance of the many favors you have been pleased to bestow upon us, and awaiting your further commands, we are Respectfully yours,
